CANNING NOW MEANS HEALTH NEXT WINTER

"Right now is the time to fill the shelves of the storage cellar with fruits and vegetables for next winter," says Miss Ulrich, extension specialist in home economics at the University of Minnesota College of Agriculture. "Let the chicken feed and vegetables to can, and a few days a time all during the season as each product comes in its prime and you will have a delightful variety for the winter months.

"If you have not figured out what you can during the following one-person budget will prove helpful in estimating for your family. This budget allows for the canning of ½ cup each of vegetables each day from October 1 to May 31, the non-producing months of most of our Minnesota gardens. It is based on the fact that each person may have grown three times a week any one vegetable or canned tomatoes every day, thus providing the essential vitamines in the dietary.

Greens	8½ qts.
Cabbage and celery	16 lbs.
Carrots, beets and rutabagas	4 qts. 14 lbs.
Onions	2 qts. 12 lbs.
Soup Mixture	3 qts.
Dried vegetables—peas and beans	3 qts. 5 lbs.

"By estimate for the family multiply these figures by the number of folks who will eat at your table as a regular thing all winter.

"Be sure to can either by hot pack or cold pack method of canning to insure safe results. Directions may be secured from the Boys' and Girls' club Office, Extension Division, University Farm.

THIEF IN A SEAT BANGER IN PICTURES

The danger of crowding front seats in automobiles, recognized by traffic officers, is given official recognition at the model traffic school now being conducted by the League of Minnesota Municipalities. The confidence is being confirmed by the council in Thief River Falls and many other cities and villages in Minnesota.

One contest of the new ordinance provides that it shall be prima facie evidence of careless driving—

When there are more than two besides the driver in the driver's seat.

When the driver has anyone in his lap, or is seated in the lap of another person while he car is in motion.

When the driver has his arm around another person or when another person has an arm around the driver, while the car is in motion.

Accidents due to crowded front seats are all too common. In a large proportion of fatal accidents, overcrowding was at least partly responsible.

SPINACH QUICKLY COOKED IS FINE

Overcooking Injures Food Value of Green Food.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

When all of one in the family seems to like spinach the cooks may be interested to know that bright green color, pleasing texture, and fine flavor are developed too long, spinach takes on a dark olive hue, develops a strong flavor, and becomes tough like pulp. People can hardly be blamed for not liking such spinach. Overcooking also injures the food value of spinach. The best boiling drives out the iron, calcium and other minerals, and destroys the vitamins. Try your family with properly cooked spinach. Wash thoroughly in just the water that clings to the leaves after you have drained off the rest. Then just as it begins to be tender, chop it very fine and season with plenty of butter or better still cream. Instead in Washington is becoming famous for its "special" boiled dressing, which is combined with just enough cream to moisten it and give a rich flavor.

When you think you have found the way to success, the next thing is to locate the luck.

List of Auto Tax Delinquents Received by Clerk

A total of 20 automobile owners in Pennington county failed to apply for their 1927 auto licenses and warrants for the tax collection and delinquency will be given Sheriff O. Ness, the county clerk has announced.

It is expected that nearly all of these delinquencies will be cleared up shortly, the owner in most cases having failed to report wrecking or sale of the car or removal out of the state.

The list received by Mr. Eklund must be held by him for 15 days, after which warrants will be made out and given to the sheriff for collection.

Sheriff Ness has announced that he will levy on any personal property owned by each delinquent tax payer in an effort to collect the delinquent auto taxes. He can also attach the automobile and offer it for sale to the highest bidder and apply this amount on the tax.

More than 20 persons, each in a carefully located place in villages, have been designated by the secretary of state to receive applications for licenses for the operations of new motor vehicles during the period when the owners are waiting for their license plates. This is being done under a law passed by the 1927 legislature. Additional agents will be named from time to time, as needed, it is stated. The person designated is the chief of police.

This law was intended to do away with the necessity for the use of "Applied for" signs and other temporary markers. At this time of the year, license plates are usually mailed out the day the application is received, but many buyers of new cars did not want to wait even that short time before the could be put to use of the unauthorized tags.

If all of the "applied for" tags had been done fide, their use would not be very serious, according to one half the regular rate. In this manner the state would receive their just share to the state fund for better highways.—

5 PENNINGTON FARMS VISITED ON STUDY TOUR

ping turkeys, altho all of the fowl so shipped were not actually raised in this immediate vicinity.

The weed question is the biggest one in agriculture to be solved today, said Mr. Buit, special assistant to J. Holmberg, commissioner of agriculture for Minnesota, who claimed that this state has as good a weed law as any in the whole country. It is a matter of enforcement thereof. Mr. Buit said, as did several other speakers, local weed inspectors being afraid to offend their neighbors when it comes to cutting of the weeds.

Weed Problem Important

Over one thousand samples of seed were sent to the state for examination during the months of January and February, the speaker stated, and reports sent in to the farmers who had sent in the samples fairly startling, many of them when they learned of the great amount of foul seed there is. A pound of clover seed sent in by one farmer over 15,000 dodder seeds were found, reducing the value of the seed from about 24 cents per pound to only four cents for the sheaves. Pennington county has a small amount of this obnoxious weed, which is a real wire twining itself about the clover plant, having but few leaves if any, and finally killing the clover and ruining the seed.

Foul seed alone in Minnesota is costing farmers about $700,000 yearly, according to Prof. Bull, while in four states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana over $2,000,000 is being raised yearly, also by the farmers thru freight charges, on obnoxious weed seed in the regular seed being shipped. This waste would be saved from 11,000 to 60,000 pounds exactly.

The time has come when the success of farming is legislative laws, and this will be more apparent as time goes by, according to A. C. Anderson of Ada. He stated that farmers must look to the tools of the trade, same as the banker and the business man does. It was quite noticeable that the tools of the farmers were much more prosperous looking than others, and a close examination of the methods used will tell the story of their success.

Several farmers on only 160 acres in this section of the Red River valley have cleared over $2,000 a year which, according to Rasmus Qun, successful farmer of Halmarken, is more than many a man in the city is able to make in a year. He has been a farm-their land scientifically, not by guesswork.

Valley Outlook Promising

"Pennington county soil is rich enough to grow sow thistle," said Mr. Wilkins. The same is controlled here by the method of farming used.

Mr. McNeely stated that the best farming country seen on the trip was between Thief River Falls. "It is a wonderful future for the Red River valley," he said. Mr. McNeely owns a farm at Melntosh.

Other members of the party included: O. G. Sorlie, Baxter, N.D., E. Hokman, F. P. Weber, and J. Kilndt, Lockhart; Dr. J. T. Sheeland, Adam Nickstad, Jens Landro, Martin Lee, and A. H. Gerdes, Hendrum; Mr. Hoven and Mrs. and Mrs. P. B. Hansen and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Granese, Borup; C. A. Gresbrod, Knut Iverson, Ole Sarick, Climax; P. J. Shea, C. N. Borton, and I. J. Barnes, Gardena.

N. Dak. Men Also Here

On account of heavy rains last Thursday only a few cars came down from Ramsey and Walsh counties, North Dakota in the first tour conducted by Mr. Willard arriving here from Kittson county Thursday evening. They stopped over night in the city and after being escorted by Mr. McCann to the Kingsteel, Fordson and Latzes farms left Friday at 10 a. m. for Warren and the Grand Forks State fair.

Heading the information bureau with Mr. Willard was Mr. Grimm, superintendent of the agricultural college at Park River, N. Dak. He expressed himself as well pleased with the farm outlook here, saying the crops of the two tours was the same.

We are endeavoring to arouse interest in dairying and sheep raising so as to get away from the one-crop system", Mr. Willard stated. Pennington county has made splendid progress in the past few years in their methods of farming."

Edwin Traynor of Shakwenather was a member of the party.

Three more similar tours will be conducted by Mr. Willard in the next three weeks.

BANK GETS MANY INQUIRIES REGARDING BREEDING EWES

Many inquiries are being received by the First National bank of this city from farmers in this territory who want to buy sheep, according to Vice President Thos M. Thronson. Efforts are being made to meet the demand with sheep from local sellers, as it is generally conceded that sheep from being out of the country at long as three years supply here. Inquiries from farmers who intend to start a flock this year are among those received, it was stated. Others intend to enlarge their flocks, the continued farmers' meetings tending to increase interest in sheep raising.

Pennington county is ideal for people—think, but—its chief use is to keep most of us from thinking.

TO BUYING CONVENTION

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Olson, buyers for the Oen Mercantile company, will leave Sunday for St. Louis, Mo., to attend a buying convention of the Hearst-Brisbane syndicate stores. They intend to return to Thief River Falls about August 16.

"STEER TO WHEAT" HIGHWAY

Trees resolve will be instrumental in the following directions, the Cook County Herald published by C. F. Peterson:

A press report from Grand Rapids is to effect that the road from Togo west to Effie in northern Itasca county, will open to travel about August 1, it was getting a mere street made from the northeastern part of the state, into the Red River valley. Three years ago, the Herald editor, as chairman of the Good Roads committee of the St. Louis County Club, suggested the construction of a state highway running west from Cook to Bear River, Togo, Effie, Northome to Thief River Falls. The project was endorsed by the St. Louis County Club the towns commercial bodies, and by the commercial clubs in the several counties traversed by this proposed highway. The law does not permit the state adding to the present trunk highway mileage until 75 per cent of it has been completed, and in accordance with the several county boards we suggested the advisability of said and west roads over the cobblestone proposed "steer to Wheat" highway, with the intention at ultimately adding it to the state trunk to the highway system. The suggestion met with unanimous approval, and during the past three years the several county boards have been gradually completing the said and west roads until the final connecting link—in Itasca county—is about completed. It is estimated that 26 to fourteen miles of road is the state highway under favorable conditions. If stranger are to be treated as if they were lepers, we may as well tear down the welcome signs and close up the tourist camps.

Signs attending a welcome to strangers are the most expensive things a community can have if the welcome is not manifest when the stranger gets a cold shoulder at every turn.

A stranger visited Warren business places a few days prior to the opening of the Marshall county fair and solicited advertising for a program that was to be distributed at the fair entrance. He collected for the space in advance ordered his programs from the office of the Warren Sheaf but was not called for them when he called for them for distribution. He called in a share in and The Sheaf and business men of Warren held the sack. It would be impossible for the local newspaper to "pull" such a stunt—but people will trust the street attache.

LORENZ WRITES ABOUT VISITING CONSTANTINOPLE

ATHENS FILLED WITH REFUGEES FROM ARMENIA

Observes Much Evidence of Lower Form of Civilization in Balkan Countries

Rev. E. H. Lorenz, on board the S. S. Lotus, lying in the harbor of Smyrna, Turkey, writes as follows, the letter being dated June 25th.

Dear Home-folks:—

Not only am I getting further from home, but this letter was delayed because I had no paper and I had difficulty finding a paper shop where I could buy some. This morning I chanced by a printing shop and after much gesticulation I finally got the size I wanted.

I finished my last letter sitting in my hotel room at Naples. And if I remember correctly I was sitting in a little blue and lonely. I think I felt even worse the next day when I went to the place where I expected to go to Athens. The suggestion was made that they claimed some Paris mail would be at three last summer I felt that it was not to be for me. And so while waiting and waiting for the mail forth, or from home, I had to make up my mind that I could not hear from home until I got to Constantinople. And in many ways that proved to be a very fortunate thing for me. I am sure of it. I had a very satisfactory time in Athens. But the majority of my time was spent in sightseeing. I visited four weeks without a scratch on my body. I can assure you that travel includes sacrifices as well as its pleasures.

Cooke, under whose management I am making this trip, routed such an itinerary that I saw the most beautiful parts of the country. Of course, I could not see everything. Koschinberg, Koln, Koblenz and Bellstein and Twenlingston counties in Thief River Falls. This route I passed through a part of the state that have railroad facilities, besides giving me access to some of the most beautiful mountains. This road will be greatly appreciated by the farmers of northern Itasca and southern Koochiching counties as it will give direct access to the range markets.

The opening of this route will give Thief River Falls direct connection with the Red River valley besides a second route to International Falls, Via Bemidji and Big Falls.

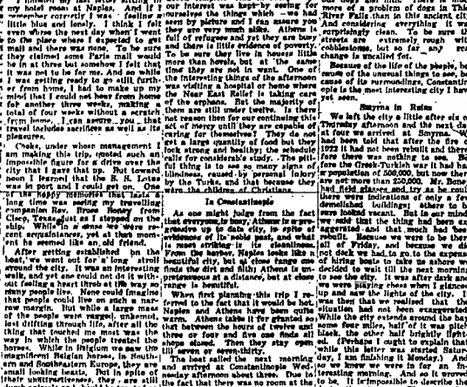
FRIENDLY COMMUNITIES

Communities that do not display large signs welcoming strangers within their gates are usually looked upon as not of much importance. Such signs to make a community friendly.

The automobile tourists have frequently gone into communities with the expectation of finding a welcome and a willingness on the part of everyone to make their stay pleasant. They obtained that idea from the actual experience was that the people were as cold as icebergs.

It was not beneficial to a community then a well fitted tourist camp, is a friendly spirit on the part of the people towards strangers passing through with a few months' stay.

A modern tourist camp is essential if the average community wishes to attract any considerable number of this class are fast growing in number—but the thing that looms largest in the memory of a tourist is the friendly reception that people with whom he came in contact.



A tourist recently informed us that the incident that he remembers best about a long trip he took, was the courtesy of a policeman in one city through which he passed. The policeman recognized him as a stranger and piloted him through the city so that he could avoid the heavy traffic and a town and thus save nearly an hour delay.

But the responsibility can't all be placed on the shoulders of the officers of the law, nor upon the officials of civic organizations. It is a responsibility of citizenship and a sign of good breeding for one to be courteous to strangers and give them a friendly welcome.

The touring season is here and thousands of motorists will be passing through the summer. Many of them will stop here if they get the right sort of reception. Most of them will be our guests and will patronize our place of business if we show that we want to be hospitable.

There is only one way to be friendly, and that is to loosen up and act human when a stranger asks for information. If strangers are to be treated as if they were lepers, we may as well tear down the welcome signs and close up the tourist camps.

Signs attending a welcome to strangers are the most expensive things a community can have if the welcome is not manifest when the stranger gets a cold shoulder at every turn.

INVADING STATE IN HATTERED FLIVVERS

One of the biggest harvests in the history of Minnesota now is on, according to information gathered from all sections of the state during the past week by J. H. Jones, executive secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, at St. Paul.

An army of harvest hands from the winter wheat belt to the south now is beginning to move into Minnesota, making its initial appearance at an early date, instead of riding freight trains as was the custom of former years.

This army of harvest hands is keeping to the state highways and is avoiding the big cities. This means fatal invasion of the state unless an ample supply of farm labor for August in all sections of the state.

Although not attracting the attention that is given to Minnesota's annual tourist traffic, there thousands of farm hands will put money in circulation in every village and town in the state just as fast as they are paid their weekly wages.

TOO BUSY TO THINK

The majority of men do not think. The majority of men do not want to. The majority of men do not need to. The majority of men are too busy with the details of making a living to think. The majority of men think that making the task of the social reformer a difficult one. The majority of men are hard. This is what brings to those who first raise their voices in behalf of a principle the name of the perverted, and the curses of the rabble, and the jeers of the world, and the crown of martyrdom.—Henry George.

OBEY TRAFFIC LAW; PREVENT ACCIDENTS

How To Make Left Turns

Left turns, wrongly made, are probably the cause of more accidents and traffic confusion than anywhere else. A newspaper story is the title given to this subject by both confusion and congestion and safety to accidents. Failure to signal before turning left also leads to accidents. Glad Freeze-ine.

"Turning left is safe and simple if the rule in the state law is followed. That is, approach the intersection to the center of the roadway. Then make give a signal by extending the left hand and arm horizontally. Drive slowly, unless to drivers to the rear. Having signaled, make your turn to the left, and after completing the turn proceed in the same direction you have just signaled, keeping to the right, and slowly.

A driver turning left must give way to vehicles coming in the opposite direction. If they have already entered the intersection, but not yet passed the intersection, they must give way to vehicles coming in the opposite direction. I heartily recommend Iso-Vis to any one seeking an efficient and economical motor oil.

Respectfully,

Begging Rides Forbidden

"No person shall stand in the travelled portion of any highway for the purpose of or while soliciting a ride from the driver of any vehicle other than a common carrier," the state law says.

The common practice of standing in the street or road begging for rides results in two types of accidents. Often the ride beggars are hit. At other times the driver, turning out to avoid hitting the ride beggar, collides with another vehicle.

The law does not prohibit standing outside the traveled roadway and flagging for rides, but drivers motorists and more refusing to stop for ride beggars. While most motorists are glad to give a lift to deserving people there is a certain risk in picking up strangers. Many are just "bumming their way" and occasionally the stranger may turn out to be a criminal.

Good times are those in which we stretch the credit so badly needed in hard times.

LEWIS FARMER PLEASED WITH NEW TRENCH SILO

"That trench silo is a blessing to me," declared Lewis Farmer, Rt. 1, Thief River Falls, after two years of experience with the trench silo in the south part of the county.

Mr. Hansen became interested in trench silos the first year the County Agent Irving J. Comerius, who had been instrumental in putting a large number of farmers in Benson county in the trench silo class, had left the county for Minnesota. Mr. Hansen decided to see what a trench silo was and how it was built. He visited the farm of Mr. Comerius and was convinced of its merits.

Mr. Hansen came to North Dakota to grow wheat in 1899. "I learned the wheat raising business all right," he says, "but the time came when it was necessary to change our mode of farming and grow more feed and crops and livestock.

"We have had of farming presents many good problems to the fellow who would like to make a living on the land, and the services of the county extension agent have been mighty valuable to me," he said.

Corn silage prepared in the trench silo has been fed to my dairy cows, according to Mr. Hansen's experience, "I have been feeding silage in winter and the cows have done just fine," he reports. "They have produced lots of milk and they are just as fat as butter at the present time."

Mr. Hansen's butterfat test has averaged $125 per cow over feed cost. He leaves just where to sell his cream, as he has been keeping records for three years in cooperation with the county agent.

District Court Upheld in McEnelly Check Case

Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren presiding, the case of Ole Paulson, A. McInelly vs. First & Peoples State bank of Thief River Falls case was decided in favor of the latter by the Minnesota supreme court last week. Judgment was entered in the sum of $2322 and interest and costs was ordered paid by the defendant following the case in Pennington county district court in February, 1926. An appeal was entered by the defendant.

Commissioner Taylor in giving the decision of the court's opinion says that where a bank has become the agent of another bank for the collection of commercial paper, such bank cannot, ultimately and without notice refuse to pay a check for collection for credit wanted to it by the other bank, and is liable for any resulting from failure to present it for payment.

The litigation involved a check of $852 issued October 27, 1925, by the Farmers & Merchants State bank of Thief River Falls to Dave Sabo. The check was sent to a St. Paul bank and in the course of collecting the Farmers & Merchants bank closed. Judge Grindeland dismissed action against the American National bank of St. Paul in an amended decision.

Attorneys in the case were McEnelly and F. W. Mabey and H. O. Chommie represented the bank.

DAIRY OUTLOOK GOOD, FARMERS TOLD AT PICNIC

$1,857,000, according to F. Erdmann, secretary. This amount was paid for 5,371,000 pounds of butter, the cream delivered during the quarter century weighing 18,506,000 pounds. Mr. Erdmann had prepared an interesting summary of the association's business since its inception.

The highest price ever paid for butterfat was 81 cents a pounds, in 1919 while the low-point was reached in 1904 when it was down to 17.56 cents. During the first year of its operation, in 1906, the creamery's output was only 74,700 pounds of butter, as compared with 1,182,000 pounds in 1926, increasing volume this year. The output has shown rapid advance since 1920 when it totaled 192,000 pounds.

The first creamery was erected at a cost of $2,000, made possible by the sale of 75 shares and a $1,000 loan.

Bulls Now Creamed

In 1921 the present fine structure, equipped with the most modern machinery, was built at a cost of $22,000. It has been designed as a Land O'Lakes creamery, a large percentage of butter scoring butter being turned out by Manager Gunstyn Berglund, who is highly praised by officers of the association.

Officers of the association are: Felix Grandbois, president; E. D. Jensen, vice president; F. J. Erdmann, secretary; and P. F. Wilson, treasurer. Emil Larsen, director.

A. N. Olerud, who still resides at St. Hillaire, was the first president of the organization, Mr. Olerud later moved away some years ago, the first creamery at Goodridge, now at Thief River Falls, the first secretary. County Commissioner J. R. Roy was also a member of the board. Mr. Roy was N. R. Anderson of this city, who was secretary for a number of years. To these sturdy pioneers is much credit for the success of the enterprise. The cooperative creamery has contributed much to the prosperity of Marshall county, in the opinion of the community.

A. B. Wincher was the first buttermaker.

Dairy Prospects Good

Mr. Roy, in his usual optimistic manner, predicted a bright outlook for—dairying—figures—were cited showing that the new population is not keeping up with the increase in the human family of the country, and that there is no danger of dairy overproduction. There is much room for increasing the consumption of milk, butter, and cheese, he said, the average consumption per American being very low. The increasing farm to city movement also helps to keep up the demand, it was declared.

A turn to smaller farms, more thorough cultivation and better methods was predicted by Mr. Hay.

Dairymen must recognize that as producers they must also use proper merchandising methods, Mr. Hay said. Brandt in reviewing the work of the Land O'Lakes association of 125 cooperative creameries in development, new channels for marketing. "We are now handling 85 per cent of the butter the country instead of dumping the butter in two or three points as we used to," he said. "We aim to give the consumer what he wants when they want it. The first three years the association worked on improving the quality and standardizing the product.

Must Create Desire

Advertising was emphasized as essential to the future prosperity of dairying. "The future for selling products must be created by the producers," he said in urging the appropriature of more money for advertising L. Pl. butter. "The success of dairy culture depends on its ability to merchandise. Agriculture will receive itself less peasantry unless it is organized to meet the sales and buying forces of industry."

Mr. Brandt is a forceful speaker and held his audience in rapt attention. He was introduced by Stuart McLeod, Goodridge, president of the district creamery association.

Thursday noon Mr. Brandt addressed the Thief River Falls Rotary club.

At Clearbrook Picnic

Mr. Hay and Mr. Brandt came to Thief River Falls Wednesday evening from Clearbrook, where Mr. Brandt was one of the principal speakers at the big creamery and community picnic attended by approximately 1,000 persons. Senator Henrik Shipstead also spoke, stressing the fact that the fight for national farm legislation has gotten well under way and that results may be expected in the near future. The senator spoke with more than ordinary enthusiasm having attended the Northwest Agricultural Conference at St. Paul Monday and Tuesday that same week.

In commenting upon the Paul conference Mr. Shipstead said that it was a most representative meeting and demonstrated the thought and time that is being put on the problem of the farmer. "I cannot say that any concrete proposition was agreed upon but there was a unanimity of opinion as to the need of remedial legislation," Mr. Shipstead said.

DAM AT CLEARWATER DYNAMITED

Gates of the Clearwater river dam at Clearwater lake, blown up in a dynamiting Friday night, were repaired yesterday by farmers dissatisfied with the flooding of their meadows. The gates were repaired late Saturday by a construction crew from Clearbrook. Clearwater county officials and power company officials are investigating the blast. Low water conditions have been reported flooded by the water which is said to have lowered to a depth of two feet. No damage is reported in the southeastern part of Pennington county, the river dam being built 45 years ago to facilitate logging.

All in the Day's Work

Service is a word whose honesty has been doubted by recent peculiarity. Because it sounds well, it has been used lightly as a catchword to mean anything and everything—and nothing at all.

The torch of service has been adopted by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as its symbol and the word Service has been taken as its creed because the whole purpose of this organization is summed up in that one word.

Used by this Company, the word has a very definite meaning, standing for the highest standard of strength. The dictionary defines service as "any work performed for the benefit of another."

To the employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service is a word full of genuine meaning because it is a word actually performed for the benefit of the people of the Middle West.

There is no mention of remuneration in their definition of service—the thought of doing as much work to get as much pay. They know that in this Company the rewards of work are fair.

Employees of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are interested in their jobs—happy to be doing helpful work—proud of their part in the modern busy scheme of things.

Motorists are aware of this attitude. It is one of the reasons they watch for the familiar signs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) on the highways of the Middle West.

They know that wherever they see one of those signs they will receive the attention of a man who is interested in satisfying their needs to the best of his ability.

Evidences that employes of this Company have an earnest desire to be helpful are vividly presented in appreciative letters from these servants. Stories of unusual service are frequently brought to light. Dr. W. G. Westerlund, of the Veterans' Bureau, Minot, North Dakota, recently reported an extraordinary incident.

Because he was a physician and in need of his car at any minute of the twenty-four hours, Mr. E. E. Long, Field Representative and Mr. John Withers, Lubrication Engineer for the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) at Minot, volunteered the use for the car by him in an emergency and worked all night, changing the job at 6:15 A. M.!

But for the Doctor's letter, the home office might never have heard of the incident. In an emergency situation these men agree to the request. It was "all in the day's work." Not required of them—or expected—simply a chance to put the creed of service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) into action.

Numerous travel—in many of the ten states of the Middle West—will find the same spirit with that state—men of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) who are ready to render the Service—finding daily satisfaction in performing work for the benefit of others—real service.

Gennes, 27 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Gennes of Fosmidal, and eighth grade instructor in the Central school of this city the last two years, drowned while swimming off the Middle Point bathing beach. The tragedy which saddened later evening occurred at about 8:30 o'clock but the body was not found until 2:30 this morning after a constant dragging of the river where no one was seen going under.

Young Gennes had been bathing at the beach for about an hour when he and Henry Wold, 24 years old, a fosmidal friend and schoolmate who is employed at the Peoples Oil company service station during the summer months, swam across the river, the current, take them down a ways from the river. After a short rest on the opposite shore, they started to swim back. When about 50 feet from the north bank Gennes suddenly declared that he was stiffening and both called to Wold for help. Something of the glamour of Long Ago and Far Away attaches itself to man's early attempts to conquer the air with the flimsy balloon. It was a daring gesture, but the needs of mankind are served better by the giant airship with its far-reaching possibilities of service.

Twenty-five years ago the J. C. Penney Company had only a small country store. Its ideals of helpfulness and service lived only in the efforts of one man, and affected at best, but a handful of customers. Today it has soared upward to a giant institution of 885 Stores, stretching from coast to coast.

Like the airship, it has grown in order that it may better serve the needs of a nation.

INTERESTING REPORT BY CITY LIBRARIAN

Greater Number of Books Loaned During Year, But Not as Many Borrowers

Although the local Carnegie library had fewer borrowers during the year just closed, the number of books loaned out increased more than 1,000, according to the annual statistical report issued by Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, librarian. The report is full of interesting information, which throws light on the work the public makes of one of the city's finest and most useful institutions.

During the last year 239 new patrons were added to the list of book borrowers, making a total of 2,403, actually divided between the adults and children, there being 1,215 of the former and 1,225 of the latter. However, the new patrons added last year showed a greater increase among the youth than among the older people—141 to 98. The borrowers in 1926 totalled 2,818, with an increase of 272 during that year.

The percentage of registered borrowers is 16.191, which is considered as given as 41 per cent, a cruelly interesting showing, it is thought.

The 2,403 borrowers withdrew 23,-141 books during the year, as compared to 22,136 in 1925-26. The number of fiction books, 18,920, remains about the same as for the previous year, but the non-fiction total made a gain from 3,216 to 4,221. Three separate books have been increased interest in travel during the months because the number of books loaned in adults increased from 1,000 to 1,200, and in juveniles increased 11,125, a drop from 12,110 the year before. Cards are held by 2,310 country people.

The library has shown 33% days of service during the year, including 79 Sundays, on which the average number of readers was 30. Seventeen magazines and periodicals and six newspapers are received currently.

Receipts of the library during the year were derived as follows: $1,501.-00 from taxation levy for the year, and sale of publications, which with fines and receipts, totalled $1,641.-41, and a cash on hand at the beginning of the year of $167.57 means a total of $3,309.11 cash handled. Expenditures totalled $2,470.60, leaving a balance of $338.51 at the close of the fiscal year.

The maintenance expenditure of the library is nearly negligible when it is considered that as a delegate to the 92 annual convention, at 2 cents per capita, while the expenditure per volume of circulation is 10 cents, the latter is the very lowest placed at 2.5 mills last year on an assessed valuation in the city of $1,401,925.

The following women comprise the library board: Mrs. O. F. Melby, Mrs. A. L. Brumund, Mrs. Della Zeh, Mrs. Ida Divers, Mrs. F. W. Halsey, Mrs. Daniel Shea, Mrs. A. M. Hegsen, and Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, with President Alfred Bredeson of the board as ex-officio member. Mrs. Halgrim is assisted by Miss Jennie Moen.

Improvements made to the library during the year include redecoration of the basement, painting of all outside trim, screen and storm windows, and adding 15 new shelves to the storage room in the basement.

Nutrition Project Leaders To Hold Final Meeting Soon

Leaders of the 22 local units in the nutrition project conducted by Pennington county by the extension division of the university will hold their fourth and final meeting with Miss Irene Hebert, university nutrition specialist, at Hazel, August 11, and in Thief River Falls August 12 and 13, at that time the date for Achievement Day will be decided upon, likely some time in October.

The committees in charge promise an extensive program for the closing event, when the general public will be given an opportunity to learn much about the work carried on by the various home clubs during the four-lesson course.

"Meals for all" is the topic for the August leaders' conference. Type posters, after which demonstrations.

An interesting exhibit at the county fair next week will be that of the health unit, of which Mrs. V. C. Noper and Mrs. F. Allen are in charge. It will depict in a striking manner the foods "houses" for good and poor health, and the way to good health thru proper foods and feeding habits will be displayed.

It is emphasized that nutrition refers not only to children but to adults.

The Valhall unit held its regular meeting Friday with Mrs. O. B. Gunderson and Mrs. S. E. Hunt in charge as leaders. The first stichting was "The soldier for discussion at this meeting was "Youth to Old Age." Achievement Day will be held in charge of the local unit, of which Mrs. Noper is chairman. Postures were discussed, and a good deal of improvement was noticeable as there were also talks on "Clothes" and "Health" that around 40 commenwers had been benefited thereby.

Guests present were Mrs. Axel Engelstad and Mrs. Albert Larson.

Thief River Falls citizens and their neighbors will again be given opportunity to display their interest in the development of what is destined to become one of Minnesota's chief playgrounds and to enjoy an outing which will be long remembered. We refer to the Red Lake Community Tour and Picnic scheduled for next Sunday. It is safe to predict that the tours of the Narrows that day will exceed any previous gathering.

Much has already been done in improving the resort property which will be traversed by the tour, but still more is needed, and the tour will direct the attention of those who have built there to the necessity. There is an encouraging increase in the number of livestock on Pennington county farms, judging by the assessors' report, which has been compiled this year, while the number of pure bred bulls gained from 31 in 1926 to 66 in 1927. Hickory township leads in the county in pure bred cattle, having 52 cows and 17 bulls. Next to it in pure bred cows and pure bred bulls is Smiley township.

Work on City's New Power House Progressing Rapidly

Engineer Bert F. Umland and assistants Saturday started surveying the by-pass from the first street crossing Lateral avenues for the installation of the heavy power wires which the city will string for transmission power from the dam to the new power house.

Concrete for the power house was poured last week, and if nothing unforseen happens the building will soon be under cover, with the new water wheels and equipment installed. The only 502 head of sheep listed, this year, is the biggest total in the county.

The dogs appear to have kept pace with the increase of the livestock for there are 500 now compared with last year's 347.

The grain in sheep, however, is the most startling. Sheep losses months and ever numbered 5,540 last year and 6,000 this year, the assessment total show, a gain of more than 2,000. Nothing special is known for the cause of the spring. Anyway, firearms in Thief River Falls are given a total assessed valuation of $140, which is 33 and one-third per cent of the full valuation.

Other strange things are to be noted in a perusal of the assessment roll.

Interesting Sidelights

For instance—sewing machines, washing machines and similar appliances used in the home, are listed in Nereshell, Highland, Huntsville, Norden, Reiner, Silverton, Star, and Wyandotte townships have no washers and clocks, according to the assessor.

Norden, Reiner, and Star townships are minus pianos; Highlanding, Smiley and Star have no horses under 1 year; Reiner has no horses over 10 years, and Star township has no poultry, judging by the records.

Assessors Put Property Value Below '26 Total

The biggest decrease was 60 per cent, on three-month old hogs in Nereson township.

Valuations on dogs were raised in 16 units of the county, increases being up to 680 per cent.

Twenty changes were made in the city of Thief River Falls. The following increases were imposed: Sewing and washing machines, fair value, 25 per cent; watches and clocks, 50 per cent; pianos, 50 per cent; horses, 2 to 5 years, 33 and one third per cent; grade cattle under 1 year, 50 per cent; pure bred cattle between 1 and 2 yrs., 100 per cent; grade cows, 10 per cent; pure bred cows, 1 and over, 50 per cent; dogs, $50 per cent; tractors, portable engines, threshers and motors not used in agricultural pursuit, 100 per cent. Only one reduction was made, that being on grade cattle, between 2 and 3 years, 10 per cent.

There is an encouraging increase in the number of livestock on Pennington county farms, judging by the assessment rolls. Pure bred cows this year numbered 591, as compared with 396 last year, while the number of pure bred bulls gained from 31 in 1926 to 66 in 1927. Hickory township leads in the county in pure bred cattle, having 52 cows and 17 bulls. Next to it in pure bred cows and pure bred bulls is Smiley.

More Cows in County

The grade cow population also shows an increase—from 6,026 in 1926 to 7,347.

The rain in sheep, however, is the most startling. Sheep losses months and ever numbered 5,540 last year and 6,000 this year, the assessment total show, a gain of more than 2,000. Nothing special is known for the cause of the spring. Anyway, firearms in Thief River Falls are given a total assessed valuation of $140, which is 33 and one-third per cent of the full valuation.

New Steamboat Recently Launched on Red Lakes

This picture shows the new steamboat, "Jay-Jay-Kay", recently launched on the Red lakes by Mark L. Burns, superintendent of the Red Lake Indian Agency, and A. C. Goddard, foreman at the sawmill and old-time Red Lake steamboat man. It is reported that the new boat will be at the harbor ten Sunday to provide excursions for the many resort visitors. A. G. "Doc" Rutledge in last week's issue of the Herald-Sentinel told about the christening of the boat by Catherine Bailly, the nine-year-old girl whose picture appears in the insert.

It was entirely constructed at the Red Lake sawmill, the lumber having been sawed there and the work done by native Indians. The boat is a sidewheeler, equipped with all necessary machinery for towing. There are two twenty-foot cabins equipped with sleeping bunks, power boiler, spools and drums, and 1,500 feet of three-quarter inch steel cable. It has six large cabins, a dining room, and a kitchen and other accessories making a complete boat.

Locals and Red Lake Falls Tie in Kittenball Contest

An interesting game of kittenball was played last Thursday evening when the Red Lake Falls All-stars came here to clash with a 10 to 7 Thief River Falls team at the Eastside ball park, plenty of playing results being in a 6-6 tie. Two extra periods were played but darkness prevented further playing to break the tie. Red Lake Falls was defeated on its home diamond the previous week.

Thief River Falls got a head start, Red Lake Falls equalizing five runs in the first inning, but after that the local players played real ball, making three runs in each of the second and third periods and allowing Red Lake Falls only one more run in the fifth. The tie will be played off in another game.

Thief River Falls will play the Leinbach's team of Crookston today at 7 p. m. at the Eastside park. The Leinbach outfit played for the championship of Crookston last year, but lost by one score. They have beaten the strong East Grand Forks Elgins and Sunday defeated Red Lake Falls 10-9.

"This will be a bet battle and anyone here tonight will get some better baseball than they've been getting," says Manager Olson of the Thief River Falls team. "We're ready to take all comers," he adds.

Following are lineups in last Thursday's game:

Red Lake Falls—G. Paschynski, 2b; Vanderwick, c; M. Paschynski, ss; Blair, ss; Cornell, 1b; Pinsenschaft, 2b; Healy, 3b; Davis, cf; Cardinal, rf; Paschynski, lf; Bonga, p.

Runs were made by the following: Thief River Falls—Erde, 11; Murphy, 2; Postal, 2; Holte, 1. Red Lake Falls—Cornell, 2; Cardinal, 1; Blair, 1; Davis, 1; M. Paschynski, 1.

SHOULD USE BEACH

Residents in the Heron shoe district entered complaint to the city council Tuesday night that buyers were using that part of the river for a swimming hole. They said more room for the bathing beach. Mayor W. W. Prichard, Jr., took the matter under consideration, with a view of having the police department stop the practice, while the health department was asked to inspect "No Swimming" signs at the place of trouble.

OFFER FREE COAL

This may be rather warm weather to be thinking about coal, but it will not be quite so hot next winter. The Oen Mercantile company has an announcement in this issue of The Times offering free coal. Reason now for the cold days that are coming by-looking up the offer on another page.

Club Workers Will Vie For Free Trips

Twenty Pennington boys and girls are to be selected from those whose petition is looked for.

The champion in the poultry division, which has 32 members here, will also be sent to the Junior Livestock Show. There are not enough members in the pig club as yet to justify sending one to the State Fair.

Free trips are also offered in connection with the dairy judging contest which has been started in the county club workers are enrolled.

The Pennington county Holstein Breeders association again offers a pure bred bull to the boy or girl taking first honors in the Holstein calf club. This is a highly coveted prize among the juniors.

H. A. Pfaghoeft of the Northwest School, Crookston, district juniors work manager, has been secured as judge of the boys and girls exhibits.

County Agent J. J. McCann reports the omission of four names in the report recently published list of Pennington county club workers, namely Theodore and Clarence Wedgewood, baby beef club, and James and Alta Wedgewood, sheep club.

The county fair is considered an especially good opportunity for the summer vacationist girls who have participated for the first time to get some valuable ideas as to what is done in the different projects, Mr. McCann points out.

A total of 29,000 Minnesota boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H club work this year. Winners in the county contests will compete for nearly $10,000 in prizes at the State Fair and Junior Livestock Show.

SELECTED FOR FREE TRIPS TO STATE FAIR BOYS' CAMP

Ward Thompson, Oakridge, and Clarence Swanson, Hazel, have been picked as Pennington county's representatives in the boys' camp at the Minnesota State Fair September 2-10, according to announcement by County Agent J. J. McCann. Ward gets a free trip for his record in the dairy calf club and Clarence for his work in the baby beef project.

LORENZ VISITS SEAT OF EARLY CIVILIZATION

HEAT IS INTENSE FOR NORTHERN MINNESOTAN

Meets Family of Foreign Missionary Who was in Thief River Falls in 1902-3

Times readers are given interesting information regarding some of the centers of early civilization in another letter from Rev. E. H. Lorenz, local Presbyterian pastor who is traveling thru the Holy Land.

The following letter was written from Beirut, 30 at the Grand Hotel de Palmyre in the Baalbek, Grand Liban:

Dear Home-Folks:—

Carrying out my promise I am writing on the scheduled day. And as I anticipated even though such a short time has passed sufficient has happened to make an interesting letter, though perhaps not as long as some have been.

Monday afternoon we reached the port of Larnaca on the island of Cyprus. My real desire in coming here was that I might buy some stamps in Cyprus and Mr. Boney very kindly agreed to go with me. We drove there in a Ford automobile a distance of about 15 miles. The roads were rather large clumsy sail boats. It had been my intent to go over on boat so we were not surprised to find that it was even worse on shore. Landing at three, it was the hottest time of the day. The postoffice was about the only place open where we could get stamps until we had money exchanged and that was impossible for us. As far as seeing buildings or ruins or anything that nature our coming to town had been in the full heat of the day there was nothing in the city. Yet the surroundings were very different from anything we had yet seen. The buildings were all white and copied after the style of Belgium. They were built together. Perhaps the most interesting feature was the enormous amount of transportation around the city. We saw carts pulled by men and boys; we saw others pulled by donkeys; and others pulled by small teams of cows. It was here that we caught sight of our first camels. And then to addition, we saw others pulled by two horses and an occasional automobile.

Many Kinds of Money

I have mentioned the exchange of money. We have had all kinds and with different values. In Belgium 100 centimes made one franc and a franc was worth three cents. In Holland 100 cents made 1 Gulden which was worth 40c. In Germany 100 pfennig made one mark which was worth 25c. In Italy 100 centimes made 1 Lire worth 6c. I Greece 100 Lepta made 1 drachma which was worth 1 and one-third cents, worth 5c in Cyprus 40 Para made 1 Piastre and so because of that fact and because we had since been in Thief River, I was eager to see him. Dr. Harris very kindly took me down to their home. Unfortunately Mrs. Harris was out at home, but I had the pleasure of meeting his wife. From her I found that they had been in our city about 1902-3. As a matter of fact she had been there just a month in a bride. The only member of the church she could remember was Mrs. Olson, but no doubt Mr. Shaw, Mr. Pritchard and some of the other old-timers remember when they were there. I regretted greatly that I did not get to see Mr. Nicol, but it certainly was a happy coincidence that I got to see his wife.

The interest of Thief River lies in the fact that on its banks are a number of inscriptions which indicate the ancient and even modern forces which have fought over this part of the earth, and there are statues of Ramses the first and second.

Tuesday night we had been pleasantly cool during the day, but after dark, the breeze went down and it was very hot. We were informed, however, that we were more than ready to leave Cyprus for the heat would increase until the middle of August. I don't know whether the majority of you will be interested in this or not, but considering about five miles on the train we came in sight of snow-capped mountains. We did know what it was, but Herman had snow on it, but after the intense heat of the plain, it was unbelievable that snow could withstand it. I will not try to write the feeling of letter with the perspiration rolling down me, I almost have to pinch myself to know if me is a mortal. Only five miles to its top where there was snow. At 2:22 this morning the Baalbek was wonderful. During the night there had been a slight rain and descended some 3500 feet. One can not do that without seeing beautiful sights. It quite reminded me of Switzerland for the mountains there are solid rock with a great mixture of quite accustomed to seeing it. We with our walk and were glad for a chance to get out.

Our schedule called for a drive out to the Dog River in the afternoon and we asked our guide whether we might not include a visit at the American Mission at Sidon. Unfortunately it was not possible. It was certainly disappointing to us. It was two contracts that were worth while: one was passing through a country of interest to you people of Thief River Falls and to the members of the Adams Presbyterian church.

Meets Classmate

Mr. Boney made a request that we see the fruit of the faculty of the college that were from America. In going to Sidon we discovered a classmate of mine who is a doctor. A little search revealed that he was in the city of Beirut and after a few minutes we were together. It was a great pleasure to see him and his family are in the mountains for the summer. We had just happened to be there at that time. In our conversation, he asked where I was now and when I told him Thief River Falls, Minnesota, he burst out, "Why of course, I should have remembered that. For when I saw the addresses of our class, I was astonished to again see that name. For it so happened that a predecessor of yours is living in the city. Nicol by name."

We in America know a great deal about the ruins of Rome and Athens. In this place they are located in acres large tract of land. In size they are greater than all of the temples to be found on the Acropolis in Athens. In the cases of Rome and Athens, the ruin came through the destruction by men in wars. But in this case it came through earthquakes. The temples were built in the second century. There are small parts that are standing in almost perfect condition. The amazing thing is that such massive work could have been done at a time when there was little or no machinery. The stones are very large and weigh as much as 1,000 tons. Some are of limestone blocks—single. Others are of granite. The base of the columns are nine feet in diameter. Three of them make a column 100 feet high. It is estimated that some of the blocks weight 2000 tons. At the top of the columns are to be seen remnants of the roof which is most beautifully carved. It is believed that the carving was not done until the blocks were in place. And so I could go on probably giving you no better idea of what it is like than I already have. At any rate it is more than worth while seeing.

To Jerusalem

Tomorrow we go on to Damascus where we are to stay till Monday morning. Then we go to Lake Tiberias where we spend two nights, after which we go on to Jerusalem which we reach Wednesday and where we both expect to get our mail.

Tomorrow is the half way mark of our trip. It is just a month and a half since we left Thief River Falls and we hope to be back in another month and a half. The great sacrifice of a trip of this kind is separation from my wife, so that the time can not pass too rapidly till we are united again. And with that respect I will come again the thrill of taking up my work in Thief River Falls.

Cordially,
Edward H. Lorenz

Many Fishing Permits Issued

A total of 372 resident fishing licenses at 50 cents each, 55 family licenses at $1 each, and five non-resident licenses at $3 each have been issued in the Pennington county auditor's office so far this season, reports Auditor T. P. Anderson.

Every Week Safety Week

During the last two years drivers of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) vehicles crossed more than 88,000,000 railroad crossings without a single fatality.

That record is the result of continuous concentrated effort. The safety campaign of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been steady and persistent—carried on day after day and week after week and year after year.

The degree of unceasing effort and the splendid cooperation of all concerned, the impressive safety record of this company has been accomplished.

This realization of the responsibility involved is a necessary part of safety education. As motorists and pedestrians are made conscious that safety is their own daily responsibility, accidents will be reduced.

The situation is more serious than the average person realizes. Twenty-two thousand people are killed and 600,000 injured annually by automobiles, according to the News Tribune of Duluth. The quotation below is from an editorial of this paper for May 9th.

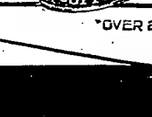
"There is still an imperative need of more systematic study of the causes of preventing or gradually reducing automobile accidents.

"It has been shown that only a small percentage of the accidents which happen are due to defects in the cars or, can rightly be called unavoidable. For that reason the situation is not hopeless nor beyond control.

"But it requires vigorous and effective work throughout the entire country and the cooperation of all drivers and all pedestrians, and all factors of our national life, including schools, civic and public organizations, parents and children."

The Duluth News Tribune has vividly presented the safety problem that confronts this country and has made a sensible suggestion for its solution.

Each week during safety week automobile accidents are far less numerous in the United States than they are during any other week of the year, according to the report of the National Safety Council.



This shows what can be done by making people "safety conscious." Every week must be made safety week. The cooperation of "all factors of our national life" must be enlisted. Industry can help.

The conscientious effort of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employes in keeping safety rules is not surprising, considering the fact that every day in their business they are trained to think of others.

This company is pledged to the promotion of safety by the very character of its organization.

This company exists to serve the people of the Middle West, and its active part in the humanitarian effort to reduce unnecessary loss of life is in accord with the spirit of the organization.

ROSEWOOD

Harvest to Begin

Harvest of the winter rye on the sandy ridges will commence this week. The crop is somewhat varied. We have been several exceptionally good fields where the land was well worked and rich, and on places where rye has been cropped for several years it is slight. The heads however are heavy, and the general yield will be a fair average. There is a small amount of the winter wheat also on some farms which is nearing ripeness, and the yield there also is considered good.

The annual school meeting of District No. 41, Rosebush, was held last Tuesday evening, with about 29 voters present. J. A. Helmgist was unanimously elected clerk to fill the Odd Fellows' picnic at Squaw Point Sunday.

St. Hilaire Defeats Middle River

St. Hilaire base ball team and fans returned Sunday from Middle River rejoicing over their victory from the Middle River team. The Game was a close one and was one of the best played this season resulting in a 5-4 victory. The battery for Middle River was Cassidy Cullen catcher and Ole Oreskovich pitcher. The St. Hilaire battery was L. Dahlheimer, catcher, and L. Gullickson, pitcher. During the ninth inning St. Hilaire's catcher, Lefty Gullickson was hit by a batted ball and was knocked out. He was unable to play for fifteen minutes and he had to call another substitute.

A game has been arranged with Middle River for the coming Sunday, and with keen rivalry between the two teams, a large crowd is expected to attend this game.

Thief River Alumni Reunion

Saturday evening at the Imperial Hall was held the Pri Alumni reunion of the St. Hilaire High School alumni association. Elaborate plans had been made by the committee members, but there was a marked decrease in the attendance as compared with last year due to the fact that most of the large number of members are employed elsewhere, and found it impossible to attend the reunion.

Much credit for the privilege of holding such a short business session was held, president over by Lloyd Bilden vice president, Dorothy Baker secretary, and Ruth Hickey president. Fred Bilsky was elected president for the coming year, Lloyd Bilden vice president, Bertha Bilsky will serve as secretary and treasurer. Following the reading a letter from Professor Supt. R. L. Johnson was read by the chairman.

Mr. Johnson regretted that he was unable to be present at the reunion.

Controlling Sow Thistle by Rotation of Crops and Keeping of Livestock

Pennington county farmers are given a fine boost in the following special article by a Grand Forks agricultural writer for the Grand Forks Herald, who is due for a terrific dose of the sow thistle himself next week says in part:

"It doesn't make so much difference what kind of a hat you wear, it's what you wear under your hat that counts."

We were at that time visiting the farm of Iden Anton near Thief River Falls, and Mr. Willard playfully removed Mr. Anton's hat to show it to the visiting farmers. "That's the kind of a hat that makes farming profitable," Mr. Willard said. "A hat with brains under it."

There were few thistles to be seen on the Anton farm, and what few showed in the fields were quickly being eaten by the cattle or choked out by alfalfa. Mr. Anton uses a system of rotation that keeps the weed well under control.

Pastures Sow Thistle Too Years

"I don't regard sow thistle as a dangerous pest. One year of pasturing won't kill it, however—it always comes back. Pasture it for two years. As soon as we see sow thistle coming in the pasture, we put it down with a grain crop. We've got 10 to 20 pounds of sweet clover, three to four pounds of timothy and one or more pounds of alsyke. We then pasture it for two or three years. The result is that our land is getting better and better every year.

"This pasture was in barley last year. We've had a lot of sow thistle on part of it so we seeded it down for pasture. Next year from now we will break it up, and plant either potatoes or corn on it. Next we will plant barley, then flaxseed, and then pasture it again. We never leave it longer than four years, then rotate it again in pasture."

Pays Cash for Everything

Mr. Anton went on to tell us about his farming methods which include paying cash for everything as he goes. "I well known fact in that part of the country that when Iden Anton goes over to buy anything—from a threshing machine to a wheelbarrow—he is always ready to pay cash for it. That's why he does it and how, in 14 years, he has handled a farm of Pennington county land so that he is wealthy and ready to retire from active farming as soon as he wishes. There is a moral in that for many."

Federal Farms Well

The farm of Halvor Fastad, about four miles southeast of Thief River Falls, was next visited. This another illustration of a well managed farm. Mr. Fastad manages his half-section in such fashion that his neighbors can't overstock with new blades. He has about a head of milking shorthorns, purebred that bring in a nice check each month. Mr. Fastad practices a good rotation, and keeps his farm clean. He summer fallows a good deal. The land is town with two grain crops, or potatoes and then raises on that two grain crops again. He has alfalfa fields ranging from four to 10 years of age. He seeds his alfalfa with the grain.

Mr. Fastad is one of the old settlers of Pennington county. He was not at home when he visited the farm, but Mr. J. McCann, who for the last nine years has given that county excellent service as agricultural agent accompanied us and told us about the farmer.

The Lutnes Family's Success

We next drove to the farm of Jens Lutnes, near Thief River Falls also. He was in his well kept stable we found three sturdy Ayrshire heifers, the property of Mr. Lutnes' two daughters and son who are in club work. One of the heifers was the winner of second honors in her class at the Minnesota state fair last year. She is now two years old and will be entered again this fall for competition at the fair. The Lutnes family was featured in all the projects carried on in the county by the Thief River Falls club, including dairy, poultry and pig club work. Mr. Lutnes is also a believer in the cattle his girls are raising that he plans to breed to his herd up to Ayrshire. He has at present, including the club calves, eight purebreds.

Pure Seed Half-section

Mr. Lutnes half-section is clean, rotation methods keeping out the sow thistle.

Swinging into Thief River Falls we met Mr. Anton on our southeastward return to the remarkable 650 acre farm of Peter Engelstad, one of the pioneers of Pennington county, to farm so as to eliminate worry.

Eliminating Worry

"No, sow thistle doesn't bother me, neither does any other weed. I have learned how to eliminate worry. Worry, Mr. Engelstad was standing with his hands behind him looking at a grove of pines and other shade trees, "is there were playing about some eight or nine years ago. The pine trees which he has 20 in all—He was just a little child. Now he had been doing a heavy day's work with his father and little field, we see it down with a grain crop. We've got 10 to 20 pounds of sweet clover, three to four pounds of timothy and one or more pounds of alsyke. We then pasture it for two or three years. The result is that our land is getting better and better every year.

who dragged the river with various implements until after three o'clock yesterday morning when he was covered with a grapple hook used by E. N. Rude and Pete Farentzen, only a few feet from where he went down. The river banks were lined with hundreds of people during the search last night. The body after being examined by Coroner H. W. Franklin was taken to Larson's Undertaking parlors.

The young teacher was a good swimmer and in good health, altho he said that he was tired after crossing the first time. Harry Engelstad, a Tindolph beach at previous occasions he was familiar with the river and would have been able to get back with little difficulty had he not suffered the cramp in his leg. He did not grab his companion, which might have resulted in a double tragedy. While in 20 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Gennes were notified of their son's drowning immediately and Mr. Gennes, accompanied by Joe Keeler and son, Irvin P., arrived yesterday morning by car. The body was taken to Bemidji Sunday afternoon to be held there Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Norwegian Lutheran church of which Rev. Jerdee is pastor. A number of friends in this city will attend the final rites, and the municipal band, of which he was a member, will play the Dead March in.

Edward H. Gennes attended the common schools here and graduated from the Bemidji high school in 1923. Two years later he completed a course in the Thief River Falls state normal school. He started in as a teacher in the Pennington Rock district one of the rural schools of this county, and was engaged to teach there again this fall. He was also to have taught history, civics, and hygiene, in the Thief River Falls high school. He expected to return here in the fall. He was director of the junior high boys' band here, and John Lahr, the bandmaster, according to present plans.

The Soo Line men outpolled a picked up team of local business and traveling men in a tug-of-war Saturday evening, August 6, when they won from a team of Sanders township farmers here next Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The Soo Line-Sanders contest will likely decide what team shall represent this county at the Pennington county fair next week against the Polk county organization from Fisher. A purse of $25 is offered to the winners of the county fair pull Friday evening, August 12.

Lester Foster has issued a challenge for the Sanders team and the Soo line men with the railroaders is causing considerable speculation as to the outcome.

26TH ANNUAL PENNINGTON FAIR NOW IN PROGRESS; THIEF RIVER FALLS CLOSES BUSINESS TODAY

HORSE RACES DRAW MANY FANS TODAY - TOMORROW

Spectacular Display of Fireworks Tonight; Exhibits are Interesting.

Pennington county's 26th annual fair opened yesterday with attendance and exhibits in all departments an average better than for the first day. Last night it is said that it was necessary to cancel the evening program in favor of the grandstand, but with favorable weather today and tomorrow, it is expected that the Pennington County fair will again take its place as the leading event of its kind in northwestern Minnesota.

Today is Thief River Falls Day and the stores and business places here can conveniently do so—are closing from 12 o'clock noon. Tomorrow is Farmers' Day and the merchants and clerks may attend the fair this afternoon. The stores will open for a short time at 6 o'clock to accommodate shoppers. The city is in holiday attire for the occasion.

Local Bands Play

Children were admitted free yesterday but the response from the youngsters, especially from the country, did not come up to expectations. Five hundred free tickets were available for distribution.

The free acts this year are declared to be among the best ever presented here. Music of high order is furnished by the Thief River Falls municipal band, directed by L. P. Tuleen. The boys band will also appear.

Blackstone's Flying Circus, which presented part of the program yesterday, is declared to be one of the most thrilling aerial acts ever staged in sight and tomorrow night, proved to be a thriller. At Blackstone's Aerial Acrobat, in his act does nine of the most difficult stunts ever pulled off by plane or suspended from the rope ladder. The most thrilling stunt is done in the standing loop, which had to be eliminated yesterday on account of the condition of the engine. The performer Blackstone will drive an Essex car in a mile race with the plane. His pilot, Mr. E. Freeburg of Minneapolis, takes up passengers during the day and many are getting the thrill of an aerial jaunt for the first time.

Horse Races Promising

An exceptionally interesting display of fireworks is put on by the Northern Fireworks company of Duluth is scheduled for the last two nights of the fair, Saturday night's display from New York to Paris and the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius.

Much interest is centered in the horse races which are being pulled off. About 40 horses, including some of the best runners in the northwest, are entered in competition. The free-for-all race is assured; says Ivey Lambert, superintendent. Dr. G. A. Feeney, accompanied by his wife and son, Jerome, arrived last night by Minneapolis to officiate as starter in the race program.

Practically all concession space is taken, reports John Cronkhite, and the grounds give the appearance of a miniature state fair.

HARVESTING RYE IS STARTED IN COUNTY

Prospects Favorable for Grains Seeded Early; Some Red Rust Reported

Harvesting of rye has been started this week by many farmers in this territory, and with favorable weather the cutting of barley will soon be under way. Last year harvest was late, following an intense heat wave a week ago, has given maturing grains opportunity to fill properly and good yields are expected.

Small grains, altho of less acreage than last year on account of the backward spring, are all in excellent condition, except those seeded late, according to County Agent A. J. McCann. There is considerable rust found on oats and wheat, but it is not believed that much damage will be done. Little black rust has been reported in Pennington fields.

Corn and potatoes are advancing nicely, the county agent says. Some are earing now both and the crop at the county fair this week.

Plenty of labor for harvesting is apparently on hand.

Band Concert Here Next Thursday Evening at 7:30

Excellent music is furnished at the Pennington county fair this week by the local municipal band, directed by L. P. Tuleen. The band's record of weekly concerts during August will be played next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the bandstand. It is announced. A delightful program has been arranged and it is expected that a large crowd will gather to enjoy the various numbers.

CUTS 175 ACRES ALFALFA

Peter Engelstad dairy farmer near the city, this week completed harvesting of the hay crop on 175 acres of alfalfa, which averaged about two tons an acre for the first cutting.

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF SWEDEN PLANNED

Organization of Local Chapter and Memorial Fund Drive Planned Friday

A group of local Swedish Americans met Friday in the office of Fred J. Lervelson, register of deeds. Friday night to consider the organization of a local chapter of the Sons and Daughters of Sweden society. A committee was named to draw up articles and out plans for the organization and to solicit the 100 charter members. Those present, H. Dan Bjorkman, A. E. Matteson, Dr. Lorentzen of Thief River Falls and Andrew P. Nelson of Gatzke.

Another committee was selected to canvass the community for John Morton Memorial memberships, which were thoroly explained by speakers at the recent Swedish picnic here. This committee includes W. H. Quist, Mr. Lodgren, Emil Johnson, Mr. Hattson, Andrew Nelson, and John Lahr, the band director.

All those present at Friday's meeting expressed their intensions of attending the Swedish picnic at Warren next Sunday.

Gustafson Observes Many Changes in Sweden Since Departure 44 Years Ago

C. Gustafson, local implement dealer, and Mrs. Gustafson, C. O. Gustafson, returned Saturday morning from a three months trip to the land of their birth, Sweden. They spent most of their time visiting a brother in Stockholm and also visited their birthplace in Vermeland, as well as other points of interest. It was a most enjoyable trip, both declare.

Charles left Sweden 44 years ago and says that the changes that had taken place since he could hardly be imagined. C. O. came to this country 34 years ago.

Economic conditions in Sweden are not very satisfactory, judging from the sentiment expressed by many of the people there, Mr. Gustafson says. However, the discontent is pretty much the same as heard in this country, he adds.

One of the most noticeable features of the farming over there is the way in which every inch of tillable soil is made to produce a crop, Mr. Gustafson comments. Intensive cultivation and scientific fertilization make this possible to obtain extraordinarily heavy yields.

JOHNS BENNES AGENCY

Paul B. Scanlan has associated himself with the E. M. Bennes insurance agency, having taken a preliminary course in life insurance underwriting. Paul, who is a young man of good character and pleasing personality, has resided in this city for 14 years, has attended Local high school and has been employed by Jack's Quality Store for the last three years, with the exception of six months when he was employed by the Thief River Falls Journal.

Heel Nearly Torn Off When Caught in Motorcycle Wheel

Anthony, the 18 year old son of Council Commissioner and Mrs. Isaac Wilson of Wyandotte township, while on his way to the Red Lake narrows to attend the picnic Sunday, met with an accident which may result in a permanent injury to the right foot, the heel of which was caught in the rear wheel of a motorcycle and nearly torn off. He was making the trip with his brother, the mishap occurring while they were traveling on the winding ridge trail about 16 miles west of Thief River Falls.

The young man was picked up in an auto and taken to the resort where he was given first aid by Dr. H. W. Froehlich, and in the evening Mrs. M. Thronson brought him back to this city. He is a patient at the Physicians hospital and is expected to remain at least this week.

SHORT HAY CROP IN SOME STATES, FARMERS ADVISED

"We have received reports indicating that there is a short hay crop in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois", says Mr. Thronson of the First National bank in advising farmers in this territory to get up at least some surplus hay, prospects being good for a fair price.

The hay crop here is exceptionally heavy this year and a big tonnage is expected.

Southerners Surprised at Minnesota Wonders

"We were amazed at the wonders of Minnesota — its natural beauty and what can be produced on its farms", W. A. Cook of Shreveport, La., who had just arrived here yesterday on his way to Winnipeg, accompanied by his wife and daughter.

The Cooks had spent Mr Petersen other when he visited Shreveport last winter on the Pine-to-Palm tour. Cook, who is now on a vacation trip north entirely as a result of what the Minnesota delegation of tourists told them while here.

"Many Southerners are making their first trip into the territory this year as a result of the Pine-to-Palm tour", Mr. Cook said. "They are learning about the great possibilities of your state and will return home to tell their friends, and we will be following next year or is following.

BAND COMING HERE AUG. 16 IS PRAISED

Luther College Band Directed by Dr. Sperati Well Received on Many Tours

Music lovers of Thief River Falls and vicinity are looking forward with a great deal of expectation to a concert by the Luther College band from Decorah, Iowa, which will appear in the auditorium here Tuesday evening, August 16. This organization has made a tour of the Pacific coast and Northwest, traveling for two months, and is meeting with enthusiastic receptions in every city visited. Music critics and the public in general hails it as a splendid orchestral band.

The band is directed by Dr. Carlo A. Sperati, who has been at Luther college since 1903 and is regarded as one of the best bandmasters in the country. He comes from a long list of musicians and has been at the head of high rank on many occasions. This is the first tour of the band, the first band tour, the band, the 52nd annual tour, and the 25th year.

Sperati's 53 white clad young instrumentalists were engaged for the International Music Festival and Music League convention in Seattle in June, two years ago they played at the Norse-American Centennial celebration in Minneapolis at which time a tour was made to Europe, and in 1915 the band played at the Panama Exposition in San Francisco.

This organization, which has played from coast to coast and abroad, is declared to be the finest band that has ever been heard in this section of the country.

The Democrat, Waverly, Iowa, says the band "exhibited a degree of several deal like a symphony orchestra and it was marvelous the way Director Sperati got all the effects of the pipe organ, cathedral chimes or any other instrument."

"This Luther College band is a wonder", says the Cedar Rapids Gazette Herald. "Just what miracle it is by which a leader can take a bunch of fellows from various walks of life and transform them into a musical organization of the quality of this one is something that passes comprehension. Rev. Sperati, a mild reverend looking priest son of the North (in spite of his Italian name) seems something that a Yost or Zuppke or his fellow countryman Knute Rockne might be glad to claim."

F. W. Ophelm, a scientist in the employ of the government for 1925, in charge of publicity for the conservation of the fertility of this one is declared to be the largest and finest band that ever played in the state. He knows that Rev. S. L. Tallakson played the bass drum and Attorney H. G. Thommes the 1908 band.

Anthony, the 18 year old son of Council Commissioner and Mrs. Isaac Wilson of Wyandotte township, while on his way to the Red Lake narrows to attend the picnic Sunday, met with an accident which may result in a permanent injury to the right foot, the heel of which was caught in the rear wheel of a motorcycle and nearly torn off. He was making the trip with his brother, the mishap occurring while they were traveling on the winding ridge trail about 16 miles west of Thief River Falls.

The young man was picked up in an auto and taken to the resort where he was given first aid by Dr. H. W. Froehlich, and in the evening Mrs. M. Thronson brought him back to this city. He is a patient at the Physicians hospital and is expected to remain at least this week.

SHORT HAY CROP IN SOME STATES, FARMERS ADVISED

"We have received reports indicating that there is a short hay crop in Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois", says Mr. Thronson of the First National bank in advising farmers in this territory to get up at least some surplus hay, prospects being good for a fair price.

The hay crop here is exceptionally heavy this year and a big tonnage is expected.

New Railway 29 Miles North from Grand Forks Estimated to Cost $500,000

Proposals for the establishment of a new, independent railway line to connect Grand Forks with the Soo railway line of the Soo railway approximately 29 miles to the north were laid before a group of Grand Forks businessmen Thursday, by E. H. Stebbins, president and H. T. Reimer superintendent of the Midland Continental railway.

The proposal was placed before the board of directors of the Grand Forks Commercial club Monday.

The plan is to construct a railway from Grand Forks in a northwesterly direction to Manville or a point near that town, and then to almost due north, reaching the Soo line at or near the station of Poland which is about 6 miles from Ardock and about four miles south of the Red River, making the total length of the proposed line approximately 30 miles.

It is estimated according to Mr. Stebbins, that such a road could be built and equipped at a cost of approximately $500,000. According to terms of the proposal, the road would be turned over to the Soo railway, under that merchants and clerks may attend the fair this afternoon. The stores will open for a short time at 6 o'clock to accommodate shoppers. The city is in holiday attire for the occasion.

Local Bands Play

Children were admitted free yesterday but the response from the youngsters, especially from the country, did not come up to expectations. Five hundred free tickets were available for distribution.

The free acts this year are declared to be among the best ever presented here. Music of high order is furnished by the Thief River Falls municipal band, directed by L. P. Tuleen. The boys band will also appear.

Blackstone's Flying Circus, which presented part of the program yesterday, is declared to be one of the most thrilling aerial acts ever staged in sight and tomorrow night, proved to be a thriller. At Blackstone's Aerial Acrobat, in his act does nine of the most difficult stunts ever pulled off by plane or suspended from the rope ladder. The most thrilling stunt is done in the standing loop, which had to be eliminated yesterday on account of the condition of the engine. The performer Blackstone will drive an Essex car in a mile race with the plane. His pilot, Mr. E. Freeburg of Minneapolis, takes up passengers during the day and many are getting the thrill of an aerial jaunt for the first time.

Horse Races Promising

An exceptionally interesting display of fireworks is put on by the Northwestern Fireworks company of Duluth is scheduled for the last two nights of the fair, Saturday night's display from New York to Paris and the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius.

Much interest is centered in the horse races which are being pulled off. About 40 horses, including some of the best runners in the northwest, are entered in competition. The free-for-all race is assured; says Ivey Lambert, superintendent. Dr. G. A. Feeney, accompanied by his wife and son, Jerome, arrived last night by Minneapolis to officiate as starter in the race program.

Practically all concession space is taken, reports John Cronkhite, and the grounds give the appearance of a miniature state fair.

WORTHY INTERVENTION

The assertion that the country is fast rapidly approaching our industrial limit is an remarkable as it is false. The history of agricultural products and livestock, in addition to the entertainment program that has been provided. There is no question about the industrial value of the automobile to the people, especially in a year when there are a record number of passenger cars and confidence that those who will look on the statistics of display will not fail to feel better for the time spent and more optimistic regarding the prospects for the nation of the whole. The county fair offers a splendid opportunity for study and amusement for young people as soon and disease consumer problems, get better acquainted and find out what can be done jointly for the betterment of the community in which they live.—Bemidji Pioneer.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?

When a man with a city watch hears that he pays no taxes, just put him down as one who is fooling no one but himself, for everyone pays taxes, if not directly, then indirectly.

In reality, the farmer pays a frightfully near talk of taxpayers and non-taxpayers, but a moment's reflection should convince anyone that there is no basis for any such distinction.

The taxes that the average person pays directly are but a drop in the bucket compared with the toll levied by government on the ultimate consumer. Even the lake in everyone Government earns no income. Every cent that it receives must be taken from someone who produced it or earned it.

Therefore government should be made to get along with as little as possible. Economy should be the leading possible cost means efficient government. Waste in any kind of a government in terms of their own pocketbook, will be more apt to practice economy and less waste. And they will think of it in this light when they vote for officials who say that they say they are going to retrench.

The campaign for shorter and snappier words goes merrily on. However, from the point of the egotist the less abridgers haven't found anything to take the place of "I."

Another way to get away from the world is to be a plant where the soil is too poor to grow them.

AMERICAN PROGRESS

The story of the advancement of the individual—the people of this line the genius of America, for in this land the better things of life are not restricted to a small minority, but are available to every person who has the will to acquire them.

It is to this respect that the United States differs from other countries of the world. The people are no insensitive articles which the majority of citizens of other countries look upon as luxuries, but are essentials in an age illustration. More than 22 millions of them are moving in our nation of about 100 million people. This is how these are many conveniences as the remainder of the world owns. Approximately eighteen million people in the United States own self the same story, as well as the thousands of dollars' worth of small luxuries that all of the people—the key laborers as well as the men with brains make convenience one of the most modern conveniences.

Figures recently announced by the National Bureau of Economic Research give further convincing proof of the progress that has been Americanized. They put the income of the American people in 1926 at nearly ninety billion dollars, or $770 each person of all ages. It is the most extraordinary income ever known—nothing approaching it in any country at any time.

CHANGING HAT INTO MONEY

The following editorial from the Grand Rapids Herald-Review applies to Pennington county as well as to Itasca:

The splendid hay crop of this year means ten of thousands of dollars to Itasca county in 1928.

Not that the hay crop will be worth that much, but there will be a use for another reason. The development of dairying in this section bids fair to become one of the stability of cleared acres to produce food for dairy animals. Cattle have been multiplied more rapidly than the ability to feed them. Last year was the lighter hay crop ever known. cows were sold. Some of the best cows were sold for meat. Many of the cows were sacrificed to the butcher. And the same conditions will have been present this year, but the hay and grain crops were good.

But the hay crop is good. The natural increase of the herds can be counted on. Dairying will increase and increase very rapidly as the ability of the section to raise food becomes known.

The neck of Itasca's cream can has been the hay and grain crop. And that neck is bigger this year than it has been before.

Hay's labor in terms of horsepower is worth one and a half cents an hour, showing that "mouths without a gray matter to direct it is useless.

Warren Editor Describes Visit to Black Hills Summer White House

J. P. Mattson, veteran publisher of the Warren Sheaf, is responsible for his recent tour to the Black Hills to which a party of editors attended the editorial association convention in Omaha, given his impressions of the Summer White House and the President as follows:

"Upper and Lower Red Lakes, which together form the Red River of the North, are the largest fresh water lakes in the state. Red Lake is the largest of the two, and is a beautiful sheet of water, with many islands and bays. Its shores are heavily timbered with pine, spruce and hardwoods. Red Lake is the home of the Red Lake Indians, who are the largest tribe of Indians in the state. They are the only Indians in the United States who still own their own land. The Indians are naturally lifted to the source of all goodness, beauty and truth.

GAUDS' NEWSPAPER

ADVERTISING

The J. C. Penney company this year will spend upward of $2,500,000 for advertising and fully 85 per cent of this sum will go to newspaper space, announces R. E. Whitman, advertising director of the company. This nationwide concern is dreaming of a great deal of its rapid growth to carefully planned advertising.

"The J. C. Penney company entertains no fear for the future of newspaper advertising," says Mr. Whitman "believing that its principle is fundamentally sound and that this principle will be more and more safeguarded as time goes on. We are all be sure that the American newspaper is a vital and growing force in the retailing world."

OUTING AT RED LAKE NARROWS ATTRACTS 1,000

town will received, as were vocal numbers by Mrs. Dunlop, Miss Goddard and Wilford Nelson.

The foreign attractions were a group of Finnish girls sent by a group of papers and banks from Minneapolis and Duluth, and dancers from the narrows. They were their colorful costumes of the occasion and presented the way, square, and moderne dances, much to the delight of the audience. A few of the girls in them just never seem to get such an exhibition before. Ella Chief Wind was in charge.

Upon invitation from the native Americans, Mr. Neset, Mr. Noper, and Dr. H. W. Froehlich joined them in the Indian dances, together with a party of other who had joined the town, walked the short distance in the summer White House to be received by President and Mrs. Coolidge. The couple were of many flattered with excitement and expectancy. Promptly at 1:30 President and Mrs. Coolidge appeared on the veranda, descended the steps and came across the road to the lawn. Forming in line one after another of our party shook hands with Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge in a friendly fashion. The hand clasp of both was warm and friendly. President Coolidge has the reputation of being somewhat reserved in meeting visitors, yet we got the impression that a warm, sympathetic heart beats within his bosom. That impression was brought home to us by his every act and that he meets the rest which he has the perfect surroundings do after, which was very apparent. He has been criticized for his lack of dress, but in conversation with the eyes of intellectuals and financiers in the east, but a summer's sojourn among the good people of the Black Hills and his open-air life evidently is most real westerners, and to study their problems, will no doubt be a benefit to the cares and troubles of his time, in case there has been any defect. President Coolidge is much like Charles XII of Sweden—a man of few words, keeps his own counsel, weighs matters carefully and acts he thinks best.

As to Mrs. Coolidge, she captured the hearts of everybody at first sight by her charming smile, her gracious manner, and her winning personality. If the editors of the N. E. A. had the power they would vote the presidency on the spot. At any rate, both President and Mrs. Coolidge are decidedly human and that is the best compliment we can pay them in the exalted position they occupy.

After the handshaking, the President and Mrs. Coolidge made a short address to the National Editorial association welcoming the editors to the romantic scenery surrounding the summer white house and wished the editors to tell their readers about the beauties and grandeur of the Black Hills. He said he felt especially at home with the association of business with Washington and the editors, as he was at one time a newspaper man, Philadelphia or Boston. He had not received news he said of the gathering of the editors in convention in Omaha, nor of the address delivered by Mrs. Coolidge over the radio, but he hoped much good would result for this country and for the world.

May the President and his wife spend an enjoyable summer in these enchanted "hills," we would like to call them mountains, because that is what they are, and visiting as they do, the Delectable Mountains of which Bunyan wrote so entertainingly in his Pilgrim's Progress and from which the pilgrims looked and saw, faintly and very far off, the gate and the glory of the Celestial City. With so much beauty all around, one's thoughts are naturally lifted to the source of all goodness, beauty and truth.

Shining Steps

Today the man who set Henry the end of the right of automobiles is the greatest benefactor of the world.—Edward Gil Company (Indiana).

Colonel Lindbergh started out on his ride of western history he opened the eyes of the world to the possibilities of aviation. With firm faith in his future he set forth to further the cause.

The results of his flight were far-fetched. Himself a new chapter in aviation history and he brought almost to a brief moment a world wide interest that had never before known.

For a short space the whole world was lifted up in a universal state of excited fascination and the Lone Eagle" winging his solitary way over the Atlantic.

A shining step indeed! The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) pays tribute to Colonel Lindbergh.

The spirit which makes of progress share is a spirit of appreciation—a searching after better things unbroken.

All the builders of our history have been—not dissatisfied—but unsatisfied men, with a vision like that of Piers the Plowman to "Do good, do better, do best."

It is this spirit which is felt throughout the vast organization of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), injecting zest and adventure into the most commonplace jobs of its employees.

In this Company there is no such thing as complete satisfaction, even though results are good. Satisfaction may mean stagnation.

Every employee of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gives to his job a little better today than yesterday. Each day offers fresh opportunities and no one can predict what the results will be.

Throughout the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is the unbounding spirit to kill—by the Golden Rule—the men who stupify the needs of satisfaction along the highways of the Middle West—by the edict of aggressiveness the greatest reservoir of knowledge, making new information and making it practicable.

Work in this Company is not a routine grind. It is an adventure in service—with always the possibility of improvement for just around the corner.

Sharing the spirit which animates all pioneers of progress, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is constructing the post—keeping up with the pioneers and looking to the future with the confidence of accumulated experience and momentum of 25 years of service in the Middle West.

GENNES FUNERAL IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Local Delegation ab Impressive Service in Bemidji Masonic ...al Service Here

Nearly 20 Thief River Falls citizens motored to Bemidji Saturday to attend funeral services for Edward H. Gennes, founder of the Central Drug store in this city for the last two years, who was drowned in the Red Lake river while swimming near Tenstrike, early Tuesday evening, July 26. Interment was in the Bemidji cemetery. Rev. S. L. Tallakson, pastor the Trinity Lutheran church, who took part in the services, and M. M. Burnham, secretary of the board; Morris Rye, superintendent of the city schools, and L. P. Tuhus, director of the municipal band. The latter of which Mr. Gennes was a valuable member during his stay in this city, were among those paying tribute to their fellow musician being. Dr. Opheim, Lawrence Eckland, Norman Pearson, Mr. Miller, I. A. Hermanson, Ed. Millard, Leonard Refsland and Ernest Johnson. Others in attendance besides the J. N. Gennes, Mrs. C. C. Hanson and son, Clifford and Grayce Nestus.

Back in attendance from a city more than 100 miles distant speaks very highly of the esteem in which the Bemidji young man was held in this community.

Services were held in the afternoon at the armory, the Norwegian Lutheran church being in use for the afternoon because the large attendance. Rev. Tallakson, former home here in Thief River Falls, had charge of the services and spoke on "Prepared to Meet God." Rev. Tallakson chose as his scripture reading the 103rd Psalm "Bless Jehovah, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits." Rev. Tallakson also chose as his theme, "Christ, Whose athletic Six Dr. Gennes was a member, as an ideal of fair play and consideration for others during and at all times by the departed.

Following the services the departed, and schoolmates of Mr. Gennes, interment was made in the Bemidji cemetery with Gennes at the time, of his death, Mr. Gennes himself nearly went under in the attempt to save a companion, John W. Horne of Bemidji, fellow member of the Bemidji school, and Royal Nester of Bemidji, who will succeed Mr. Gennes as musical instructor the coming term. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery at Bemidji.

The floral tributes were unusually profuse and beautiful and many came being held in the highest esteem by everyone who knew him, and he had a wide acquaintance.

Mr. Gennes' church here was nearly filled with friends from the various churches of the city with a large delegation from the Masonic fraternity present Sunday morning. The following chose as pall bearers: June 11, the story of Lazarus. He called attention to the character and retiring manner of young Gennes and the influence among the boys and girls of his city. He told of an example of conduct and brotherly affection. On one occasion Mr. Gennes was pointed to as evidenced in remarkable ways. Rosseau writes the unnecessary book of a pupil in which he expressed a fine philosophy of life and a wonderful appreciation of organization.

"This death summons is a call to the community, especially to the young people," Rev. Tallakson said. Selections by the senior and junior choirs added much to the occasion, the senior group singing "No Shadows Yonder" and the juniors, "The Homeland."

Headmaster Tuleen paid a fitting tribute to Mr. Gennes' memory at Tuesday's Rotary club meeting, and a resolution of condolence was passed to be sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Gennes of Bemidji.

COUNTRY SOCIAL LIFE IMPROVES, H. F. COFFEY

Dean W. C. Coffey of the University Department of Agriculture drew a striking picture of the changes which have taken place in farming, in an address which he gave before the annual meeting of the Minnesota Farm Society of Agricultural Engineers at University Farm.

"Agriculture is now a complex industry and farming is regarded as a commercial enterprise," he said. "The farmer has much more responsibility in directing labor, handling money, and marketing products than he used to have. The efficient modern farmer has a business mind, and American agriculture has evolved from a self-sufficient family enterprise to a business enterprise which carries the commercial spirit to a greater degree than all the agriculture of the earlier days."

Dean Coffey took an optimistic view of the situation, asserting that the standard of living is higher in the country than it once was, and that the social life of the people is improving. "The farmer of today is mingling with the town and city folks and working with them on common enterprises as never before," he said. "The cruiser centers which have developed throughout the city people are also being distributed to country districts."

Mr. and Mrs. Bengston were charter members of the Lutheran church at Newfolden.

RATS PROVE VALUE OF BUTTER IN DIET

Nutrition Project Exhibit at Fair Attracts Much Attention; Meetings Next Week

People who are attending the Pennington county fair below hold this week have been treated to a view of two rats, one a larger one and the other smaller, which are on display in the women's building there in co-operative of the Thief River Falls co-operative creamery, the Pennington county nutrition project, and the National Dairy Council of Chicago.

Over the case in which the two rats are living is this slogan "Butter Made the Difference". A study of the food which has been given the two rats shows very clearly what the lack of butter in the diet will do to both animals and people. This is of especial interest to people in this locality, since dairying is coming to be one of the principal money-makers for our farmers, and butter has always been one of the staples of diet for our people.

The rats are of the same age, the same sex, and same breeding. They have been placed side by side on a farm near Forest Lake, Minn., under the direction of Dr. L. H. Palmer of the University of Minnesota.

Butter Made The Difference

It is interesting to see how much difference there is in the growth of the two rats, in the strength of their muscles and bones, and how much more alive one looks than the other.

The big rat is the one which is fed on the small rat, which had no butter, is fed dried veal, and the bones are thin and they grow older, the rat without butter develops eye trouble and dies, while the animal fed butter develops rickets, with weak bones, so that it cannot walk, its feet are twisted and the glossiness leaves it. The keeper states that this exhibit is the result of scientific research by leading nutrition specialists, and does not in any sense as the basis for studying the effect of lack of butt-erfat in milk or butter in the human diet.

The nutrition booth, prepared by Mrs. V. C. Noyes, Mrs. Freeman Allen and Mrs. T. C. Orme, is the object of much observation by the visiting women, especially by the women. It includes the "House of Good Health" and the "House of Poor Health", cleverly constructed so as to bring out the foods that are beneficial and those that are not.

The "House of Good Health" is stocked with calcerin, has a carrot chimney, greens for roof and surrounding lawn, walks of whole-grain cereals, and pile of vegetables in the garden.

An entirely different combination is to be found in the materials making up the "House of Poor Health", the stucco is coffee, the chimney pickles; roof, pancakes; walks, stick candy, and bungs, lollypops.

Attractive posters effectively calling attention to the various objects of the nutrition project are hung on the walls.

The fourth and final meetings of the unit leaders of Pennington county health fair, council, university specialist, will be held next week, in Hillsdal Thursday and in Thief River Falls Friday and Saturday. "Meals for Health" announced as the topic for study and type meals will be outlined.

Plans for the county Acclevement Day will be made at these meetings, and effort is being made to arouse county-wide interest in the Achievement program, non-members to be especially invited to attend.

Northwest Shippers Find Conditions Are Favorable

The twentieth formal meeting of the Northwest Shippers Advisory Board was held at Valley City, N. D., August 26. The board, composed almost wholly of shippers in the area of operation—Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, was established in January 1923 for the purpose of assisting the railroads in this area to render a better service to shipping. This area now receives an almost perfect service from the railroads in freight handling—one of the most perfect services railroads have ever performed. This board has been a very constructive factor in bringing about this condition.

The Red River Valley section of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation is the chairman of the board—and has been since the organization.

Some 200 shippers were present at the meeting. There was also a large representation present from the railroads.

A survey made by the committees on the various districts, is to show something better than a normal harvest of small grain now approaching. The assurance of all the reports and assurance to the board that there would be no delay in transporting the crop to market; that already sufficient cars have been ordered and loss than sufficient extra power and equipment is available to move the crop without interruption or delay.

In view of the fact of the almost universal attention at the peak-of-the-load grain in this area that prevails, and observation by the members of the board, the present outlook would seem to fully justify the organization of "House of Poor Health" and the "House of Good Health" and the "House of Poor Health" and the "House of Good Health" and the "House of Poor Health" and the "House of Good Health" and the

RECKLESS DRIVING

For awhile some of the worst constitutional reckless driving, except in some of the more populous places, seems to be unpunishable. Some seem to be excessive in the middle-aged or old, men are reminded that they have to the fourth fall of adventure and the spirit of driving.

The law has endeavored to fix speed limits and we are expected to remain within the bounds of legal property in order to escape arrest. The average limit for driving in most sections is forty miles an hour. Some states have a lower limit, others higher.

But there are other forms of reckless driving. A driver may take unwarranted chances in passing another car; he may drive over roads though warned not to; he may turn without giving any signals; he may build out of a parking place without looking in the rear to see if another car is coming; he may load up with intoxicating liquor and lose possession of his faculties and control of his automobile; or at other things in which life and property may be endangered.

See Line Officials in City; Return From Seaside

A special train of seven cars, carrying a group of Soo Line railway officials and a delegation of 20 Minneapolis businessmen, stopped briefly in this city Saturday evening on the return to Minneapolis from Pembina, N. Dak., where a new half million dollar bridge across the Mouse river was dedicated Friday. Included in the party were C. T. Jaffray, Soo Line president; E. E. Walker, vice president and general manager, and F. R. Peavey, vice president in charge of traffic. Mr. Jaffray spoke at the dedication which was attended by several thousand persons.

The four-span bridge connecting the counties of McKenzie and Mountrail is 1,157 feet long and was built by the Minneapolis Bridge company, which is headquartered in this city until recently. A number of Thief River Falls men were employed on the project.

The Soo Line men report a favorable crop outlook in North Dakota, with some cases of rust in spots. Harvesting along the Wheat line will soon be in full swing and good yields are expected.

EARTHQUAKE IS EXPERIENCE NOT SOON FORGOTTEN

Rev. Loveys and Fellow Traveler Drowing in Jerusalem Hotel-Where Earth Trembled

VISITS MANY PLACES OF BIBLICAL MENTION

Ruins at Jerash Date Back to Second Century; Rides Camels, Donkeys in Egypt

Times readers will find this letter from Rev. E. H. Lovens, local Presbyterian pastor who is returning from a trip to the Holy Land, especially interesting. In it he describes some of the most fascinating places of a big world, and incidentally his experiences with the earthquake that recently shook Jerusalem.

The following letter is written on board the S. S. Argior on way to Marseilles, France, July 9, 1927.

Dear Home-folks:—

It has been almost two weeks since my last letter but because I am now traveling westward the chances are that this letter will reach you in a week later than the last one.

That letter was written in Jerusalem before we had done any real sight seeing. But it was that Thursday afternoon that we got a class visiting the Church of the Crucifixion, in which everything is supposed to be built on the very spot where Christ was crucified and buried. It is a curious mixture for one finds Greek, Catholic, Coptic, Syrian, Armenian, the Greek and the Roman Catholic ceremonies being done in close and near places. And yet there is much solemnity to be observed in the different churches that the Mohammedans have told two to the church. Another interesting feature is that one church is built on the crucifixion at one spot; the others at another spot, but what is most unacceptable to the student of these investigations is that the burial place is 1,157 feet long and was built by the Minneapolis Bridge company, which is headquartered in this city until recently. A number of Thief River Falls men were employed on the project.

The Soo Line men report a favorable crop outlook in North Dakota, with some cases of rust in spots. Harvesting along the Wheat line will soon be in full swing and good yields are expected.

Friday morning we took a two day trip to visit the ruins of Jerash and also included the scenes at the Jordan and the Dead Sea. The road took us over the hilly country that immediately surrounds Jerusalem. We passed through the town of Bethany and saw the house of Martha and Mary. What a beautiful location it has. The only difficulty was that it was so cool that morning we actually felt the need of a coat. But it was not long until we began going down into the valley of the Jordan. Jerusalem is some 2600 feet high whereas the Jordan is 1200 feet below sea level. It is just about 20 miles and it is amazing what a change makes in the temperature. By the time we had reached sea level it was plenty warm but by the time we were in Jericho it was positively stifling.

In crossing the Jordan one goes from Palestine into Trans-Jordon so we had the red tape of being registered and being searched by customs. Fortunately just as soon as we crossed the river we began to rise, and very soon we were once more too cool. It was a pride that I shall long remember. To be sure it was very much like the ride from Nazareth to Jerusalem for the hills are dry and parched looking. Occasionally one finds a very fertile valley where there are signs of green, but it is almost unbelievable how there can be any real vegetation. One of the things that we noticed most was the scarcity of villages. In some sixty miles we passed through just two small villages. The people of course make their living out in the fields, raising a few crops and tending their sheep, goats and cattle.

We were getting away from the Mohammedan country so that we saw few worn n that were veiled. But we were among a people who thought that taxicabs on the face of the globe even greatly enhanced their looks. It was a case of the survival of the fittest with the Ford. Every one of them was well enough that when I cannot call it a misnomer. Of course it was a thrilling bit again down in these depths so that now it is little better than a nightmare. But the time finally came when we started for Jerash at the River Jordan and at the Dead Sea. I do not think that I have ever suffered more terrifically than I did in the back of my head, the small of my back and my legs. Riding was a torture so that I could have screamed much of the time. But it had to be endured and endured I did. The road back to the Jordon was in excellent shape, but from that point to the place that is shown where John baptized Christ on to the Dead Sea and back to the main road was so rough a stretch as we could possibly pick out.

Of course it was a novel experience. I was just too miserable to get out of the car at the River Jordan to dip my hands in the salty water of the Dead Sea. It was at the Jordan that we were to have our picnic lunch, but I was much too sick to eat and you people know me well enough to know that when I am sick something is wrong.

Of course it was again down hill all the way so that now it is little better than a nightmare. But the time finally came when we started for Jerash and began to climb once more. Jerash is the ancient Gerasa and is probably as it is now experts to be, first and a horse race.

Friday afternoon we went out to Jerash. They are the ruins of the old Roman city dating back to the first century. In architecture it was very much like the ruins of Baalbec. There were the ruins of temples with their columns and the ruins of pillars on a street that was at least a quarter of a mile in length. There were the ruins of two theaters, one of which was very large. Many of the days when wild animals were a part of the exhibitions for there were the cages where they were kept. There were several large temples. None of them were complete in beauty with what we had seen at Baalbek. The pillars are very beautiful.

Of the interest of Jerash lies in the extent of the ruins.

After eating a cold lunch there, we drove over to Amaam to a rather decent hotel where we spent the night. We were right across the street from the ruins of an old amphitheatre that was supposed to seat 5,000 persons. During its control by the Romans they suffered terrifically. But only an eighth of it remains. Not a single seat remains in its entirety but the stairways are carved out of solid rock.

Too Sick To Be Sick

It was well that I was so rather tasty over the night of Friday for I was sick enough in the morning. Evidently the many modern changes in the menu were too much and I had a regular attack of grippe. The day's itinerary included not only the nearly 100 mile ride back to Jerusalem but also a stop is on the Job!

A sheriff's car leads a stormy life. Quick starts and sudden stops—long grueling drives—continuous speed! Lubrication is even more important to the sheriff than to the ordinary motorist, for everything depends on his car's response—and the car's response depends on lubrication.

The sheriff of Jackson County, Illinois, lubricates his two cars with Iso-Vis and it has given him such "perfect satisfaction" that he has voluntarily written the following letter to commend the Lubricating Department of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for furnishing this new motor oil.

Murphysboro, Ill.
March 4th, 1927

Mr. P. H. Wightman, Mgr.
Standard Oil Co.,
Murphysboro, Illinois.

Dear Sir:

I wish to compliment your Company on the completeness of your service and the cheerful courtesy with which it is given, as well as the quality of your products.

I especially want to commend your Lubricating Department for furnishing the motoring public with Iso-Vis.

We use Iso-Vis in both the Sheriff's Ford and Oakland cars, and have found the Ford and Oakland cars, especially, making long trips to the very limit of their speed. The drives were continuous upon a number of occasions. On a recent trip it was necessary to maintain a speed of 55 to 60 miles per hour for a distance of 85 miles and this on the beginning of a 300 mile trip. Iso-Vis stood the test, of this speed without a fault and when the crank case was drained after about 850 miles the oil showed no evidence of breaking down.

Our entire satisfaction is best shown by the fact that we use no other oil than Iso-Vis.

Very truly,
W. M. Flanigan,
Sheriff of Jackson County, Illinois.

WMF

Iso-Vis is able to meet the most severe demands—to stand the hardest tests—because it is a constant viscosity motor oil. Ordinary motor oil loses its viscosity at a rapid rate—statistics show that at 200 miles it has only one-third of its original body. Iso-Vis is different. It maintains its viscosity indefinitely. That's why Iso-Vis is always on the job in a crisis—standing up under every test.

People everywhere are praising Iso-Vis—taking the trouble to write letters to the Company about it—because the results they get from this new motor oil are so astonishingly satisfactory. Results count. Motorists also welcome the lowered cost of lubrication that Iso-Vis makes possible, for though it is a trifle more per quart—30c—Iso-Vis costs less per mile. Iso-Vis "F" for Fords.

ROSEWOOD

The autumn meetings at the Rosewood church and Sunday school were entertaining and well attended. Rev. Gunderson of Goodridge delivered the sermon Sunday afternoon. Engstrom from Warren spoke Monday in young people's meeting. Tuesday the ladies served. The next regular services will be held on Sunday evening Aug. 28. Rev. Warren of the Goodridge church and Rev. Warren a large audience was present. The next regular services will be held on Sunday evening Aug. 28. It is the plan of the pastorate to have a picnic Monday dinner for Sunday afternoon.

Sunday was the third berry picking day this season and scores of cars filled with hundreds of people from Rosewood, Thief River Falls and other points were in the berry fields. Most of the cars were from the Mud Lake, Rosewood and surrounding territory and a few from the Thief River Falls territory. Around the Lake, but we have not yet heard of anybody satisfied as it seems that the berry crop this year is very poorly estimated, and this in turn has drawn a severe criticism from the berry pickers who picked out everything that was worth picking. Many people who brought showers of rain further retarded and several cars found poor sledding on the dirt roads and had to turn back to the city.

The county board of equalization held at Warren on July 19-20, the following changes were made in the personal property assessments: Mrs. Ida Olson of New Solum Household, furniture, $100; Ole Stenslie Farm implements increase 10 per cent; horses and mules from three to four years old, increase 20 per cent; horses, two months old and over, increase 33 per cent; farm tools, implements and machinery, increase 10 per cent.

The Pennington county fair has been well patronized by local people during the past week. Most of those from this city motored to Thief River Falls on Thursday afternoon, while all day Friday and Saturday found many young people as well as others.

Swen Swenson was up from Newfolden on Tuesday with a truck to bring there some of his stock of hogs which have been purchased by Mr. Bergum since this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Strenberg and family and Mrs. Helmer Ostrom from Thief River Falls motored here on Saturday afternoon to visit at the Carl Stromberg home.

The Oscar Blomberg family from Crookston were here last Sunday to visit at the Hansen home.

Three Ess Elva arrivals were here on Saturday afternoon to look after certain drainage matters along the ditch west of Rosewood.

Olaf Northagen has been employed all the Carl Nelson farm the last week, summer fallowing with his tractor.

Gust and Olof Opseth has spent the last week at their home in this city, being employed all spring at carpenter work around Rosewood.

Mrs. Johanne Wyhus spent a few days this week attending with Ingri Nordhagen in Goodridge.

Lilly Nelson has returned from a visit with friends with the John Nelson Folks at Staffy.

Harvesting of the grains grown on the sand ridges is completed, and threshing may commence within a week.

Henry Johnson and Misses Josephine and Hattie Painter from Duluth were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Clave Bergum and latter left for their home where they will visit with other relatives. Henry is a brother to Mrs. Bergum.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gulforth returned on Saturday from Thief River Falls where they conducted a lunch stand at the fair grounds during the fair.

Mrs. John Seamon and daughter Veina left on Wednesday evening for Thief River Falls where they remained until Saturday visiting at the Hellickson home and attending the fair.

John Beahke from near Badger spent Sunday evening here to attend the services at the Swedish Mission church.

LEGISLATORS STUDY DRAINAGE PROBLEMS IN NORTH COUNTRY

Congressman Selvig, Senator Shipstead and Others Visit Lake of the Woods

Congressman C. G. Selvig was in Thief River Falls Saturday on his return to Crookston from Roseau county and the Lake of the Woods territory thru which a party of men from the state legislature have been touring. They were taken on a tour of inspection by a delegation from the Warroad Commercial club. Mr. Selvig was accompanied by A. H. Larson, registrar of the Northwest Experiment Farm at Crookston; Henrik Shipstead and Congressman Harold Knutson were members of the party.

The Lake of the Woods river was taken on board the Voyageur's steamer, the Resolute, Thursday morning at Warroad. During the day Congressman Selvig and Senator Shipstead were given an opportunity to study the effects of the international treaty involving the levels of Lake of the Woods. In stearing thru the lake various points of interest were explained by Paul Mercier, Baudette, former member of the state legislature, who was in charge of the trip, and Mayor Halvor Robberstad of Warroad.

Several points of historical significance were noted on the journey. At Garden Island it was explained that at this point the first experiment work in agriculture in Minnesota, it was said, was first timbered Mr. Marshall, that project was established at the mission for the cultivation of various grains and vegetables to the Indians.

Further on the Resolute passed the famous Massacre Island where in 1736 Jean de la Verendrye, Father Aulneau and a party of the French were killed by a war party of Sioux.

At Oak Island and Blackbird Island Fred Peterson, caretaker, was present, took charge of the party and explained the work connected with the fisheries which is an important industry in Lake of the Woods. The afternoon found the delegation at Flag Island at the Provincial summer resort, which was to be the stop for the night.

A short trip in the evening was made to American Point, which is the most northerly section of the United States and a part of the famous Northwest Angle. Landing was made and the party was taken to the location of Fort St. Charles, erected in 1732 by De la Verendrye. This was one of the chain of forts which formed the far trade route into the great Northwest and was one of the posts of Verendrye in his explorations that took him almost to the Rocky mountains. The location of Fort Charles was not until 1908 when papers found in Paris gave the information.

The return to Warroad was made Friday and during the afternoon delegations of farmers and others from Roseau and Kossuth counties appeared before Congressman Selvig and Senator Shipstead to appeal their case with data relative to the drainage problems of the Roseau river territory and the Lake of the Woods levels. Both of these projects involve international boards the very effects of international treaty involving the levels of Lake of the Woods. In steering thru the lake various points of interest were explained by Paul Mercier, Baudette, former member of the state legislature, who was in charge of the trip, and Mayor Halvor Robberstad of Warroad.

A Word of Warning

The Standard Oil Company [Indiana] feels in duty bound to warn its thousands of patrons in the Middle West to beware of "bootleg" gasoline.

Due to an overproduction of crude oil the market is flooded with unbranded gasoline sold at a cheap price. It is high at any price. It is neither uniform nor dependable.

When you buy gasoline you are buying transportation for yourself and your family. We suggest that you buy dependable transportation.

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline will give you a maximum of power, flexibility and speed. It costs a few cents more per gallon but it "knocks out that knock".

Our famous economy fuel, Red Crown Gasoline will give you a maximum of power at a minimum of cost.

Both products are sold everywhere in the Middle West and everywhere the same—at a price which is fair, just and equitable, consistent with quality, uniformity and dependability.

The running race Thursday was won by Mary Legs, entered by Thompson & Warner. The purse was $100.

A special Pennington county race was run Friday afternoon with no purses offered. This was won by Lambert's Miss Hagen. The other horses entered are Captain Ahl, owned and driven by Fred Peterson, and Seal Patch, owned by F. W. Roark.

Jay Lambert was superintendent of races and Dr. G. A. Peney of Minneapolis, veterinarian of this city, officiated as starter. Dr. Penney has served in that capacity at Pennington county fairs and race fans were pleased to see him back in the stand. Dr. Penney, accompanied by his wife and Carl Jordan, Wilmarsh music the trip from Minneapolis in Thief River Falls by car in seven hours and 10 minutes, which is considered record time.

Premium for Infertile Eggs

Infertile eggs are bringing a premium of one cent a dozen on the market, according to Manager R. O. Nordhagen of the cooperative poultry association, who reports that big buyers from this kind of eggs. Even a greater premium may be expected in the near future, he says, making it worthwhile for poultry raisers to rid their flocks of roosters.

About 400 delegates were present to celebrate the silver jubilee of the organization, for which a special program had been arranged, including a reception, band concerts, sight-seeing trips, and addresses by prominent men. Among the speakers are Congressman Frank Clague, Representative Oscar Swanson of St. Paul, Postoffice Inspector John S. Gleason, National Vice-president W. P. Braun, and Postmaster Chatfield, and J. Mr. Swanson was a delegate from the Northern Minnesota organization of John O. Ronning substituted during this absence.

"Mr. Swenson spoke on the proposed one cent gas tax and I believe it will be voted on in 1928 and if carried will mean that we will be able to improve our side roads," said Mr. Swanson. "Each county would get its share of this one cent gas tax and the money would be sent under the supervision of the county engineer. Mr. Swenson eagerly asked us to support this amendment and to give it the widest publicity in the rural districts."

The Lunds have been working on the construction of three off-take roads from the state road, one from Greenwood cemetery to Red Lake river, one to Rocksbury township and Rocksbury township. They are from one-half to three quarters of a mile in length. The latter is grading one mile from the cemetery to the Valhall.

2,934 STUDENTS ATTEND COUNTY SCHOOLS IN 1927

Annual Attendance Report from County School System Issued by Superintendent

2,768 ARE ENTITLED TO STATE APPORTIONMENT

Average Attendance Drops on Account of Adverse Weather Last Winter

A total of 2,934 pupils were enrolled in Pennington county's school districts during the 1926-27 term, according to figures contained in the annual report compiled by Supt. M. Gunderson, county superintendent of schools and to be filed with the state department of education. The enrollment for the previous year totaled 2982, making a decrease of 48. The rural schools lost five and the urban schools, 23.

This report contains all information relative to attendance figures in every school district in the county and is a compilation of facts and figures shown in the annual reports of rural school teachers and high and graded school superintendents. This information will be used by state officials in arriving at making recommendations for state legislation and to be used for data for facts concerning the schools in all counties of the state.

The total sum of the annual report to the state department will be completed shortly, and in that report will be found material relative to the financial matters of the 115 school districts. This report will be compiled by Mr. Gunderson from reports of the treasurers of the school districts of the county.

The average number of days attended by the 1,637 students in the Thief River Falls graded school, Goodridge schools during the last year was 167.2 days, the average being 168.1 days in 1925-26. The average attendance in the rural schools dropped from 110.8 days in 1925-26 to 109.2 days last year. This drop in average attendance is attributed to the bad weather conditions during the last winter. The average for the high and graded schools and 108.4 for the rural districts. Seventy-two pupils were enrolled in Marshall county for rural schools in commercial work as 118 days, 10 days up to 120 the preceding year.

The total attendance in days by all pupils of the county amounts to 327,001, which the average daily attendance in the schools is 2,473.

The report shows that there is but little difference in the number of boys and girls enrolled, there being 1,507 boys and 851 girls in the high and graded schools and 681 boys and 616 girls in the rural schools. The total number of girls attending high school in the county is 1,467 and in the city and villages.

Pupils in the county entitled to apportionment number 2768 out of 2934 enrolled, as compared with 2824 out of 2982 in 1925-26 and 2,768 out of 3218 in 1924-25. Of the 2768, a total of 1579 are in the rural schools and 1189 from the ungraded schools. There were 166 pupils enrolled in the apportionment but who failed to appear at the hearing and object if it so desires. Accordingly, the matter will be dropped by the interested property owners till next term of court early in 1928.

High-Graded	Rural
Primary 600	225
First 156	221
Second 140	160
Third 122	189
Fourth 103	172
Fifth 142	152
Sixth 107	170
Seventh 120	126
Eighth 104	161
Beyond eighth 225	13

A total of 39 pupils in the rural schools of the county completed the eighth grade this spring, as compared with 7 pupils last year, 101 in 1925, and 26 in 1924. Three graded schools graduated 101 eighth graders. A large percentage of these graduates are planning to enroll in high schools of the county next fall. The number entering school for the first time was the same in both groups—165.

With a total residence of 441 pupils, the Thief River Falls school system is by far the largest in Pennington county. Goodridge has 127 and St. Hilaire has 106. Those two schools with high enrollment are: No. 14, 26; No. 29, 24; No. 30, 21; No. 34, 27; No. 36, 28; No. 50, 28; No. 57, 24; No. 61, 21; No. 99, 28. Four rural schools had only four pupils, districts No. 13, 137, 702, and 2132, the other pupils on these districts made some transfer or Red Lake counties. District 13 has 4 pupils and No. 2132 has two.

The number of teachers in the city and village schools remains the same, 64, while the staff in the rural schools was increased from 64 in 1926-27 to 74 last year. Of the urban teachers 13 are men and 51 women, one less and than the previous year. Of the rural teachers seven are employed in the rural districts, the same as in 1926-27.

Twenty-one teachers in the graded schools taught in the same district three years or more and 11 two years. Teachers in the county are well trained, the statistics indicate. Sixty-eight hold state teachers' and first grade certificates, five had second grades, and one a limited.

ASK STREET VACATION

A petition for the vacation of the southern end of Duluth avenue from the Jefferson highway to Emil street—a half block in length—was presented to the city council Tuesday night, but City Attorney H. O. Chesmore stated that the same should be presented to the district court, as that body, according to a decision of the state supreme court, is the sole arbiter in such matters, the city council, however, having an opportunity to appear at the hearing and object if it so desires. Accordingly, the matter will be dropped by the interested property owners till next term of court early in 1928.

Big Yield From Sweet Clover Plowed Under

The advantages of intensive farming to eradicate the sow thistle nuisance has been well demonstrated this summer on the Wilbert Dunbahn farm in Reed township, Polk county, 19 miles west of this city.

Last year an eighty-acre stretch straight across the section Mr. Dunbahn planted a third to small grain, a third to corn and the other third to sweet clover. This spring it was well cultivated, ring plowed in both directions and the weeds kept down as much as possible.

This year the entire strip was put into oats and the comparative yields are worthy of more than passing notice. The part that was in small grain last year yielded 15 bushels to the acre, while two tons of sow thistle hay was cut from the land. The corn had been raised a year ago went 45 bushels to the acre. The land has been in a good state of repair was plowed under, and this portion of the field was in such excellent condition, being entirely free of sow thistle, that it yielded 65 to 70 bushels to the acre, and was of better quality.

NORTHERN LEAGUE HOLD FINAL MEETING

Cuticles Will Receive Attention Day to be Held at Thief Riverites Grounds.

The fifth and last circuit meetings in the nutrition project were held at the county court house at Thief River Falls Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, conducted by representatives of the state college.

Roll call was answered with reports telling how many cows, chickens, pigs, gardens, canning and sewing projects were in need of improvement.

A demonstration, Miss Inez Bowman, nutritionist, discussed diets of the underweight child, the lesson on diet for the adult and the diet for the overweight. She gave the diet of a child seven years old as an example and explained that the diet for a child of this age should be nearly the same as that for an adult. She also explained that the diet for the overweight person should be the same as that for the underweight person except that the former should eat less starchy foods, sugars and fats.

Miss Esther Peterson, nurse, took up the subject of the cuticles. She explained that the adult diet is typically as important as that of the child and that old age is happier and healthier if the adult is chosen with care. Good old age is not the years one has lived but the health of the individual physically. Careful supervision of diet and general health habits are needed to keep the cuticles of the body in good condition for every age. She explained the cuticles of the body and gave lesson discussed, which concluded the meeting.

The remainder of the time was devoted to detailed discussion of the project for achievement Day, to be held on the third week in October. On the following days the meetings were held:

Various committees had previously been appointed and these met and were fully discussed and many suggestions given for exhibits, stunts, etc. As soon as possible after the close of the circuit meetings the committees will confer by phone or otherwise and arrange a definite program. The public is cordially invited to attend these services and to visit the reading room.

Good Barns Make Better Farms

No use telling you about the troubles with an old-fashioned barn—extra work in cleaning up, insanitary conditions, inconvenient arrangement, cold quarters for stock in winter, constant fire risk, periodical repairs—you know them all.

What a contrast with the modern type of barn that saves and makes money for farmers; that is warm, sanitary, well ventilated and easy to clean. Its concrete foundation, properly built, lasts for ever; its sloping, reinforced concrete floor saves all the liquid manure so valuable as fertilizer; its inside arrangement, suited to your requirements, takes the curse off chores; its sturdy superstructure keeps down repair bills.

If you don't want to build a new barn now, we can tell you how to modernize your present one by jacking it up and replacing the old foundation, floor and lower walls with concrete for permanence.

Ford Dealer Rides on Ford Plane; New Model Keeps Public Guessing

W. H. Scheide, local Ford dealer, returned Tuesday from a motor trip to Detroit, Mich., and Ford, Mich., where he visited the Ford Motor Company's plants. Mr. Scheide was given an opportunity regarding the new model Ford and the report regarding the new model Ford that is being said to be capable of a speed of 65 miles an hour, still start Mr. Scheide. It is understood that there would not be quantity production before the first of the year, the factories are practically at a standstill now.

While in Detroit, Mr. Sandeen had the pleasure of making two half-hour trips in a Ford sedan over Ford airport in commercial carrying 12 passengers in addition to the pilot and co-pilot. He says the ride is as safe as if riding in an automobile except when the plane rises from an altitude of 2,200 feet above Lake Michigan. "I was thrilling ready to get out and swim when the corner of the plane was suddenly turned upward again", Mr. Sandeen said.

The Ford plane is all metal, standing 15 feet high, is 49 feet long; has a wing spread of 70 feet, and is propelled by three 2 horse power motors. The pilots told Mr. Sandeen that before Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic the number of passengers taken up at that field was only from 10 to 20 a day, while now up to as high as 600 a day, indicating the increased interest in flying. Henry Ford has a week had his first trip in the air, being taken up in the Spirit of St. Louis by Colonel Lindbergh, and later sat at the controls of one of his own planes.

PARIS, LONDON DESCRIBED BY LOCAL PASTOR

March of Interest in World Capitals; Impressed by Spirit of History

The following is the finals letter from Rev. E. H. Lovese in which he describes the last days of his journey thru Europe from the Holy Land. It was written August 4 at least the R. S. Central, three-fifteen at New York. The local pastor is expected to arrive here with Mr. Family from the Adirondacks today and will occupy his pulpit next Sunday morning, Sunday evening. Many reports of The Times will be anxious to greet the pastor, stories after enjoying his travelogues in town, came the last several days.

Dear Home-folks:—

I start my last letter on this trip with a little bit of satisfaction for it means that the trip is almost over and that after eleven weeks' separation I am to be with my family once more. It has been a wonderful trip but it will be even finer to get with my wife and kiddies. But I must hasten for I have more to cover than in my letter of the trip.

The last trip on the "Angkor"—fitly named by "Greek" Mr. Hillaire, the orphaned survivor of the Mont Mesaure at Martinique in the fifth century—August 20, 1862, is the tale of experiences in those early days.

LONE SURVIVOR OF INDIAN MASSACRE AT REUNION

A reunion of old settlers of Hennepin county and a gathering of old friends in honor of the early settlers took place at Rose au Sunday. An interesting program was given, including a talk by "Greek" Mr. Hillaire, the orphaned survivor of the Mont Mesaure at Martinique in the fifth century—August 20, 1862, is the tale of experiences in those early days.

I want to tell you they have good trains in Europe. It is 540 miles from Paris to Marseilles. We made only 3 stops and our running time was exactly 12 hours. That is better than the 600 or great Northern 64. But it is in England that one gets the really fast trains. In coming back from Coventry we were scheduled to make ninety miles in an hour and forty minutes. But we did not keep to that schedule. At the forty mile mark we had half-forty minutes to get in ten miles. I presume a little bit I felt the brakes with me although we had of course never met. That very moment gave me a warm heart for England.

Going over the channel in the boat we were placed in a room where there must have been forty beds. As the lights did not go off till 1:30 and we got up at 5:30 there was not a great deal of sleep. We left Victoria at Hampton and were in London by 9:15. While I had to wait to see if I could get a room in a certain 3-4-1 room hotel could not take me and I had quite a time finding a room. When I did succeed it was very small and very expensive.

At London Rotary Club

In the afternoon I went down to the London Rotary Club to get my mail and there I discovered the first things that the Club had been doing for seven years. Their business was not be overemphasized and we clubs of the United States have to go a long way to make a good comparison when the English come to Minneapolis. And they are coming because during the past summer they have made so many contacts. Well, that afternoon they had a box that took all Rotarians who were in town to a new garden where one can find all kinds of trees, shrubbery and flowers. They are beautiful of course, but the thing is tied up with historical interest so that we were told that among other places the room where Mary Queen of Scots died and for the delightful tea that they served us we were given Maids in Waiting (ones whose realm has been handed down from generation to generation by one family) from the Queen. Everything was provided for us free of charge by the Rotary Clubs of London and Richmond.

The next morning we were again taken by the London Club to the Tower of London and St. Paul's Cathedral. The Tower of London has many historical points most of which I was quite ignorant about. But one of the places was the Bloody Tower where two young princes were killed, where Raleigh was confined and where Anne Boleyn and other notables suffered a similar fate. I was disappointed in that of an impression of St. Paul's as the foundations are slipping and in the construction work the Dome is completely boarded over.

It was then lunch time and we were taken to the regular weekly luncheon of the London Club where we had a most interesting and inspiring meeting. It is a remarkable thing that British have taken Rotary into their bodies and are making it a vital part of their lives.

Many Places of Interest

On the morning trip I went in charge of Farmer Cole and heard him on the "Cathedral" and we made arrangements to see Westminster Abbey. On the way we made some inquiries and we met in with a man who knows the city of Westminster and he took us to all of the places of interest. The Canadian Embassy, that home of Lady Astor, the home of the Prince of Wales and finally Buckingham Palace where the King and Queen live.

This had taken us home and a half so we had just two hours for the Abbey. In the interior of this building are commemorative to the great people of England who have died and the several places of some of them. It is themselves a most interesting place. It would be two hours and then some of it we lost to hurry-up mode and in the end we did not get to study the thing as a whole.

Thursday morning we took the Canadian Pacific boat train for Liverpool and there we took the steamer "Britannic" for Queenstown. Our first stop was at Belfast, Ireland. Here I had a chance to see a little bit of Ireland. It is a beautiful country and the people are very friendly. I got back to the ship at 11:30 and the two Englishmen and I were up until 2:30 a. m. talking over the trip. What I have written is a terrible mess but I have got to get to bed and 6:00 a. m. coming a-calling.

Sincerely yours,
E. H. Lovese

Dear Home-folks:—

I want to tell you that I am sitting with a big bit of satisfaction for it means that the trip is almost over and that after eleven weeks' separation I am to be with my family once more. It has been a wonderful trip but it will be even finer to get with my wife and kiddies. But I must hasten for I have more to cover than in my letter of the trip.

The last trip on the "Angkor"—fitly named by "Greek" Mr. Hillaire, the orphaned survivor of the Mont Mesaure at Martinique in the fifth century—August 20, 1862, is the tale of experiences in those early days.

The Brand Is Your Insurance

THERE is an overproduction of crude oil. This has encouraged the opening of numerous small refineries. Many of these are operated by men unskilled in this work. The consequence is that in gasolines there is a wide variance in quality and performance.

Red Crown Ethyl is a new gasoline built upon an old, established brand. Red Crown Gasoline is the peer of any motor fuel made from pure petroleum. By adding Ethyl anti-knock compound to this splendid fuel, Red Crown Ethyl is produced.

Red Crown Ethyl does away with that annoying knock—the engine delivers a steady, smooth, flexible flow of power—it gives the car a snappy start; a quick pick-up, and enables it to attain any speed the machine is capable of developing.

It has made the high-compression engine possible—and it makes your engine perform better.

Take no chances with your car—fuel it with Red Crown Ethyl. The brand is your protection.

Remember carbon in your cylinders decreases the space in the firing chamber, and of course increases the compression. But to hold this compression, thus enabling the carbon to work for you, be sure that your valves are clean and are seated properly—then Red Crown Ethyl will sing you a song that will delight.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Zallmer and Mrs. Albert Klanderman arrived Monday from Minneapolis to visit Sunday at the H. B. Roemhildt and A. E. Zallmer. And the Frenchman was in fact studied my surroundings, the only convincing thing was the railroad car. It was a most interesting ride for we passed right from the Southern part of Europe where they get little or no rain-during the summer into the green fertile part and after 25 days of dreary, how-good the green did look!

Feed-Trains

I want to tell you they have good trains in Europe. It is 540 miles from Paris to Marseilles. We made only 3 stops and our running time was exactly 12 hours. That is better than the 600 or great Northern 64. But it is in England that one gets the really fast trains. In coming back from Coventry we were scheduled to make ninety miles in an hour and forty minutes. But we did not keep to that schedule. At the forty mile mark we had half-forty minutes to get in ten miles. I presume a little bit I felt the brakes with me although we had of course never met. That very moment gave me a warm heart for England.

Going over the channel in the boat we were placed in a room where there must have been forty beds. As the lights did not go off till 1:30 and we got up at 5:30 there was not a great deal of sleep. We left Victoria at Hampton and were in London by 9:15. While I had to wait to see if I could get a room in a certain 3-4-1 room hotel could not take me and I had quite a time finding a room. When I did succeed it was very small and very expensive.

At London Rotary Club

In the afternoon I went down to the London Rotary Club to get my mail and there I discovered the first things that the Club had been doing for seven years. Their business was not be overemphasized and we clubs of the United States have to go a long way to make a good comparison when the English come to Minneapolis. And they are coming because during the past summer they have made so many contacts. Well, that afternoon they had a box that took all Rotarians who were in town to a new garden where one can find all kinds of trees, shrubbery and flowers. They are beautiful of course, but the thing is tied up with historical interest so that we were told that among other places the room where Mary Queen of Scots died and for the delightful tea that they served us we were given Maids in Waiting (ones whose realm has been handed down from generation to generation by one family) from the Queen. ROSEWOOD

W. A. Camp No. 18697 organized at Rosewood.

District deputy C. H. Lindeen and organizer L. W. Johnson of Crookston were at Rosewood last Friday evening to help organize a local unit of the Modern Woodmen of America. Fifteen members received the certificates during the evening and the unit will be known as Rosewood Camp No. 18697. The following officers were elected: advisor, Sidney Voltness; clerk, Emil Andersen; banker, J. A. Hellquist; council, Harry Myrem; manager, Adolph Haugen, Olaf and John Hall; door police, Thor Myrom and Elmer Blomberg.

Regular meetings will be held on the 1st and 3rd Wednesday evenings each month. It was suggested that the unit confer with the local Farmers club and that the Farmers State Bank building in town be used as a meeting place for the coming year, provided same can be leased from the state banking department. Several members from Thief River Falls and the Warren camps were present and a minor initiation was staged for the newly elects. Regular initiation for the entire Marshall county will take place at Warren some time in September, but it is not necessary that all new members be present there.

Resolution declared passed.

ALFRED BIRKESON,
President of the Council.

RESOLUTION

At a regular meeting of the City Council held August 18, 1927, Alderman Christofferson introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

CITY POWER PLANT GOING UP RAPIDLY

Much Activity as Pouring of Concrete for New Power House is Started

A visit to the hydro-electric plant of the city will quickly demonstrate the fact that there is plenty of activity in the rebuilding of the power plant at the dam. The work of tearing out and are at work in various capacities, especially since the start of concrete pouring.

On Monday a crew of men were put to work at the mixer, a force was busy hoisting the stone, and a third outfit was seeing that the mass was filling the forms in the proper manner. Others were employed in the hoisting work, also, and spectators could not stand long in any one place for the laborers were everywhere.

As an indication of the enormous quantity of work might be mentioned the fact that the fourth carload of cement has already been used, while a rough estimate of the total amount of concrete that will be used before the work is completed would be 30,000 tons.

When the new power house was finished, after the completion of the old plant it was found that the sheet piling had been driven thru a concrete floor and then thru ten to fifteen feet of hardpan. This means that for all time there will be no chance of the gates being washed out from under it and also. The old concrete flooring will be extended down river for a few feet additional, below which will be placed two a wood flooring of heavy timbers several feet in length, possibly as much as the old power house at least.

The water in the river since the power plant at the dam was closed down three weeks ago today is down to the top of the concrete apron of the dam built 11 years ago this fall, only a small stream going over the top or down the old wooden structure on the east side of the river. At the present stage one can readily see that the east half of the dam was certainly in need of attention, and before long this will be taken to remedy the leak in that part of the dam.

The council a week ago decided to raise the north wall of the old power house with brick, thus making its appearance conform to the front of the new structure. Whether the east and south sides will also be faced with the same brick is a matter of conference as the aldermen are not desirous of expending too great a sum at this time. However, there will be erected on the east side a concrete wall, with at least a foot of nine inches, which will permit of two rows of brick facing later on if found desirable.

The pouring of concrete on the new power house will start shortly and then things will begin to assume shape quite rapidly. The forms for the concrete are ready, and only a little excavation to the north of the new power house is necessary before dirt having been dropped in there for the purpose of readier access to certain parts of the city property north of the two buildings.

LEGION AUXILIARY HONORS MRS. BISHOP AT ANNUAL MEETING

Reports Reflect Much Activity During Service of Thief River Falls Woman

Mrs. J. M. Bishop, re-elected president of the Minnesota American Legion Auxiliary at the state convention in Hibbing, returned last Thursday from the convention city, expecting to remain here until Saturday. She reports that the Hibbing meeting was exceptionally successful in every way, the iron range capital doing everything possible to accommodate and entertain the visitors.

The esteem in which Mrs. Bishop is held by the Auxiliary women of the state was demonstrating at the convention, when she was enthusiastically hailed at every session. She was presented with numerous tokens of appreciation, including a purse of money from the department and an Auxiliary pin set with a diamond from the Hibbing unit. Legionnaires showed their appreciation for her work in their behalf by prolonged applause at the joint opening session, the first ever held.

"The wonderful reports of her state committee chairmen and district presidents prove that Minnesota Auxiliary has a splendid leader in Manhattan," said The Legionnaire in its convention issue.

Mrs. Bishop is getting ready for the trip to the parle national convention, which will be held in September 3, as a delegate at large and head of the Minnesota Auxiliary delegation. The other delegates at large are Miss Blanche Scallen, secretary, and Mrs. C. O. Sarnes of Fergus Falls will represent the district, of which she is president.

Minnesota now has 260 units, 18 new since January 1, and 16,627 members, the fourth highest membership of any state in the union and approximately 1,000 more than a year ago.

"In our program I have stressed aid for needy ex-service men and their families which is most urgent because of business depression and scarcity of work," said Mrs. Bishop in her report.

In her annual address she said in part: "Right years since the war ended, and the radical tendencies of those who would raise the red flag in time of peace and the white flag in time of war have developed. Young people, in our schools and colleges, today are given as mental nourishment the principles of our government and the propaganda of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism in a false diet. These young people were touched only remotely by the war and have flourish a fertile field for communist and socialist alike.

"This is a situation and the fact that only half of our citizens vote, points to a broad field of activity for the American Legion and Auxiliary. The future of our ship f state is in their hands. Their primary interests pertain to stand on National Defense convinced by years service in the North American Review that "I didn't raise my boy to be a soldier," stands little chance of becoming the American National Anthem, and I am convinced that the Hibbing band of war heroes will not soon be removed from school text books as unselfish desire. These men fronted death for us—it remains for us to face life's problems just as fearlessly."

The new Minnesota Legion commander, H. E. Burnside of Fergus Falls, was a resident of Pelican Rapids when he served in the World war. He became associated in the law business with Leonard Eriksson of Fergus Falls, who addressed the Swedish picnic here recently. He took part in the St. Michel and Argonne drives as a corporal in the 60th field artillery. Mr. Burnside succeeds Rufus Rand of Minneapolis.

The Legion delegates at large to the Paris meeting are: Past Commander Rand, Commander Zumwinkle; Alex Luyce of Duluth, Gregory Gentling of Winchester, and Leonard Levorson of Brooten.

A resolution introduced by the convention committee, condemning the planning of northern Minnesota lakes on the Canadian-United States boundary, was passed by a virtually unanimous vote of the state Legion convention and also the Auxiliary.

Another resolution calls on the United States government to establish a nationwide program of training air pilots, and that congress appropriate not less than $25,000,000 for the work.

A plea was made to congress to enact laws which would provide education and care for the soldiers' children of former service men.

Extension of the time limit for renewal of war risk insurance was asked in another resolution.

Red Wing was awarded first prize in the drum corps contest, St. Paul Post No. 3 taking second, and Chisholm third. The Red Wing corps won first at the Third River Falls convention two years ago. The Bancroft post band from Minneapolis won first in the Hibbing band competition.

Stafford King, St. Paul, state legion officer, was elected grand chief of fare at the Forty & eight society, Hibbing being selected as the next convention city.

Dr. C. O. Gunderson of Warroad is grand chief de gare and Dr. Ole Lee of Crookston district chemist of that organization.

Officers elected in addition to Mrs. Bishop are: Mrs. L. C. Hamilton, Lamar, first vice president; Mrs. W. H. Judd, Hibbing, second vice president; Mrs. Ed Sperall, Hibbing, secretary; Mrs. Al Sonnenine, Warren, and Mrs. M. L. Spencer, Winona, alternate.

Mrs. C. O. Sarnes, the wife of a Minnesota senator and a former bride, will serve on the official interpreter for the Minnesota delegation to the Paris Auxiliary convention. Mrs. Blanche Scallen, executive secretary of the Minnesota Auxiliary, has been named chairman of pages for the convention to open May 30. Mrs. Cecile Wright Mackey of Menominee, Wis., national president, who attended the Hibbing meeting, and Mrs. Catlow, Willmar, was named as her assistant.

Paul V. McNutt of Indianapolis, dean of law of the Indiana university, of which Mrs. Bishop is a graduate, was a speaker at the convention. Senator Henrik Shipstead also stops.

Mrs. Bishop is reported considering making the Paris trip.

Lutther College Band Gives Musical Treat; Attendance at Concert Disappointing

It is difficult for anyone but a resident of a community to get an account of a program such as that given by the Concordia Luther College band of Decorah, Iowa, in the auditorium Tuesday night. The musician-ship of the organization is of the highest order, and the selections were so rendered that one does not think about it for the enjoyment of the production as a whole.

It is to be regretted that there was so small an audience to hear and be entertained some from coming. However, the attendance at the afternoon concert was hearty and the applause loud and prolonged. Many declared that they had never heard such band music before. The orchestral effect was especially noted. This has been highly developed by the veteran director, Prof. Christ Kopp, who has also brought worldwide fame to his band since he became its leader in 1905. He still displays the energy and enthusiasm of a youth and obtains a response that few leaders ever get.

The ability of the band was effectively displayed in such numbers as "Staatsstadt Overture" by Goldmark, Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite, No. 1," a medley from Wagner, selections from Beethoven, and Wagner's "Overture to Tannhauser." Leo Arnaud's "Bugle Call," Lowell Jacobsen, and Wilbur T. Ellington, cornet soloists, featured in "Triplets of the Finest" by Fred Weinberg. Other numbers included "The Wedding of the Rose" and "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Mr. Shilling as a Boss, "Boston Commandery", and "Castle Hills" in which Prof. Kopp's son, Arthur Kopp, and R. Sperall, a son of the director, were especially pleasing. Young Sperall directed the band thru two selections.

The band closes its 32nd tour next week, having returned from a trip to the Pacific coast. When the tour ends at Willmar August 29, the organization will have played more than 80 concerts since June 8. The members were entertained here by the Trinity Ladies aid, the congregation sponsoring the concert. They left yesterday afternoon for Crookston. Mrs. Sperall accompanies the band.

Director Sperall was released to meet Rev. S. L. Vallakson; H. G. Chamelin, and J. W. Odahlen, former Luther band members, in this city.

Miss Lorraine Will returned Saturday night to Minneapolis where she is employed, after having spent her two weeks' vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Will.

Kern Olson Plays Local Golf Course in Par—34

Kern Olson, traveling salesman for the Gamble Robinson company and local golf enthusiast, has the distinction of making the official course record for the Thief River Golf club. He negotiated the circuit of nine holes in par—34 a stroke—Sunday afternoon.

This play was made after the qualifying rounds for the club championship during the forenoon and is giving other championship contenders something to shoot at and strive for.

This is the first time that the local course has been played in par by official count, says Mr. Olson. Several 36's and some 35's have been turned in.

That it takes exceptional play-ing to make this record is easily realized when it is known that par for the final hole is five strokes, the hole, in fact, being four the following three, three, and the last two, four. Mr. Olson took a birdie, that is, one under par, on the seventh hole, but required one over on another hole, making a par for the entire course.

Mr. Olson is chairman of the entertainment committee for the Elks convention.

WELCOME SIGNS

Welcome signs along Thief River Falls streets in entering a southern direction on Minnesota Ellis avenue are completed this day in annual custom. The "welcome" signs are placed by the Commercial club every year here and take with pride in the appearance of our city and its residential districts.

The Ellis avenue entrance to the city by far a good thing. The entire road is of the cardinal principle—positive brotherly love, and fidelity."

ON TO SCHOOL

With summer vacations drawing to a close many of our schools and their parents should turn their minds to the important business of continuing youth's education.

The proud Flight of Lindbergh is an inspiring example of seeing the task through. Just as "Lindy" turned his plane East and set for Paris, so must the student keep his thoughts forward and steadfastly unfaltering with the determination, "On to School."

We should emulate as much determination, zeal and thoroughness in our schools as the aviator displayed. The days did in his flight to France. The happy combination of ingredients which he termed "spunk," flood controlled it and navigated it to success. We should note the spirit of search with the spirit of education. Just as "Lindy" set out for Paris, so must the student face his theorems forward and steadfastly unfaltering with the determination, "On to School."

Lindbergh did not make his trip alternative for any of his preparations. Neither must the former permit a single thoughtful factor to fail him. In mind and body, he did, and these are facts in education for the good of the nation and the cause of prosperity, as well as for the future welfare of each individual. It is not patriotic to give even substantial, for not of such enterprise systems the technological and executive growth depend. A hundred plans in addition are necessary to the "Lindy" class of achievement. A thousand adaptations from the achievements of aviation.

Pupils no less than aviators must prepare for their tasks. Preparation is necessary if we are to win with the aviation of the future in life and. He had best heed his every move in preparation for his final flight.

Parents have a duty in the matter, too. Let them see that the children have the necessary equipment and are not taken to a higher service.

Let us not forget that Lindbergh's success had no connection of luck or chance. Lindy and scientists by his success, he championed instead these to be the principles of success and should be established as the foundation for life.

It is timely that the schools of the school days are fast about to turn over their doors to the children of the nation. Let us not forget that the schools also need support.

Marshall County Reduces Expenditures on Roads

Fulfilling their pledge to cut down road expenditures in Marshall county the county board has let contracts for bridge fund on a sound financial basis, the Marshall county board of commissioners recently reduced the 1926 highway construction recommendations and approved only such projects as called for $37,000 for five suggested projects.

This road building program is a decrease of $43,000 from the estimates received for the 1927 construction program which totaled $80,000, and is a decrease of $63,000 from the budget as the board at their meeting held the latter part of May which sought to lower highway expenditures.

Although the budget for 1928 as passed by the board at this time is early in June calls for a levy of $100,000 for the road and bridge fund, the $63,000 difference will be used to reduce taxes and a sum will be also placed in a fund to help retire bonds on this fund, the first of which will come due in 1932.

The Marshall county board is also making a request from the state highway department for an additional appropriation of $5,000 in 1928 for the construction of a new steel and concrete approach span to the interstate bridge at Oslo.

The recommendations as presented by I. E. Quist, county highway engineer, include two projects in eastern Marshall county of interest here, namely: grading and graveling at railroad crossing on road D near Viking, estimated at $3,000, and graveling on Road E, west of Gryala to Road K, estimated at $5,000.

The store keeps close watch on the watch for new customers and there is steadily increasing numbers. This is due to an increase in business in business done by the J. C. Penny store, in the past six months over the same period last year. This increase is due to 17,627,000 and is the largest increase shown by any large store operating company.

New conveniences coming into every town in the country, brought by motor cars and buses are also helping over the counter at a greater pace than ever before and they are showing excellent judgment in their selection of materials and styles."

The constant migration of families by motor car, the influx of tourists and the general movement of the population of the country is also affecting the local merchants a rare opportunity for increasing sales volume.

"Advertising, co-operation with customers, attractive store fronts and the faculty of being wide awake to the new business conditions which modern transportation has created serves to make any well-organized community a better place in which to live and better than ever before."

The time is ripe for local business clubs and organizations to popularize their respective cities by furnishing attractions and conveniences which will bring the traveling population into the business districts."

MINNESOTA WOOL IS GETTING HIGH PRICE

Alex Huddleston, of Wabasha, president of the Minnesota Co-operative Wool Growers association, in an interview this week declared that wool receipts at his organization's warehouses in recent weeks had been exceptionally heavy.

"It now appears," said Mr. Huddleston, "that the volume of business handled by our organization this year will exceed that of the year 1926 by at least fifty per cent.

Give and Take

"Human labor, through all its forms, from the sharpening of a stake to the construction of a city or an epic, is the supreme illustration of the perfect composition of the universe.

"The absolute balance of Give and Take, the doctrine that everything has its price—and if that price is not paid, not that thing but something else is obtained, and that it is impossible to get anything without in turn giving something for it, a doctrine of a seller than in the budgets of states, in the laws of light and darkness, in all the action and reaction of nature."

The entire business structure of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is based on this law. The Company receives service to the people of the Middle West and is entitled to such payment for this service rendered. There is an "absolute balance of Give and Take."

The concern of the Company is with the "Give." It is the law of the universe that the "Take" will balance. Rewards increase in exact ratio to the service rendered.

The law of compensation makes possible and practicable the high ideals which this Company has held from the beginning.

Twenty-nine thousand men and women are able to devote the best that is in them to the doing of a work for the benefit of others because they are secure in the knowledge that their efforts will receive just compensation.

They are not harassed by uncertainty. They know that their needs will be supplied. Each day they are confronted by the duties of life by doing useful work that in itself is a satisfaction.

They need not worry about pay in an organization where the natural law of Give and Take functions perfectly. Employes of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are free to concentrate on the Giving—confident of just reward.

This means that the entire Company is devoting its energy to the giving of better service. Constant improvement in the realm of motor fuel excellence, greater skill of workmanship—better products—new products as they are needed. Prices kept at a reasonable figure by rigid economy and a strict guard against waste.

The people of the Middle West have helped the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to keep prices low by demanding its products in enormous quantities that make necessary mass production and permit greater economy.

The creed of service of this Company is far from a philanthropic affectation. It is an expression of a sound principle upon which business is built—an illustration of what Ralph Waldo Emerson calls one of the sublime laws of the universe in action.

CHOMMIE IS LOCAL GOLF CHAMP; TAKES COURSE RECORD--32

Defeats Barnard for Club Championship; Plays Around in 2 Under Par

An event which has aroused much more interest among local golfers this week than the national amateur championship at Minneapolis, is the first annual championship tournament of the Thief River Golfclub. The first official champion and winner of the silver loving cup is R. O. Chommie who defeated W. A. Barnard six up and five to go in the final match of the championship flight Monday. It was a memorable play of 36 holes. The gentleman winning the cup three times becomes its absolute owner.

In taking the semi-final honors from Victor Polman eight up and seven to go Sunday morning, Chommie wrested the course record from Kern Olsen by playing a 32. We stroked under par. In the afternoon he played around with Dr. O. F. Melby and made the nine holes in 36. Olsen held the course record of 34, par, only a week.

In his record play Chommie took a par 4 on the first hole, par 4 on the second, third, and fourth; par 3 on the fifth, a birdie 2 on the sixth, par 5 and 4 on the seventh and eighth, and a birdie 3 on the ninth. However, he returned a par 4 on the tenth and around, making a 70 total. The 32 score was divided as follows: 5, 2, 3, 4, 4, 4, 2, 4, 4. The par course had received 72, making another 70.

Par on the nine hole has been reduced from 4 to 3.

Twenty-four players qualified for the tournament. The course is in the best of condition and improved playing was noted.

In the first match of the championship flight Monday Chommie won over Roy Lambert, and Barnard eliminated Dr. Melby. Barnard and Chommie won over Roy Lambert, and Barnard and Chommie "ate" Olsen also by trimming Dahlquist and Palmquist, respectively.

F. L. McCullough finished victor of the first flight by taking the 19th hole in a close match with Ernest Barnes. The first match ended 1-up, followed by Lind, Terry Carlson over Joe Lind fortified in Dewey Hortsprye, E. Barnes beat Paul Carlson, 2 up, and Thos. M. Thronson beat John Barnes.

McCullough defeated Hjermarss and E. Barnes won over Thronson. The victory of the second flight is Fr. Lind, who defeated Ole Wesner Nelson in the finals. In the opening match A. J. Pilmore beat Jacobson, A. Carlson of Middle River to H. M. Olsen, Mrs. Arneson to F. Dolan, and Nelson to James Cahill. Lind took the honors against Olsen and Nelson Larson into camp.

In the consolations the winners are as follows: Championship flight—Andrew over Mostue, K. Olsen over Lambert, and Olsen over Burkee; first flight—Curtis over Lind, Terry Carlson over J. Barnes, Carlson over Curtis; second flight—Pilmore, and character which he has displayed.

Winners of first places in the first and second flights are awarded silver bulb seals while the runners-up in all the flights received over rifle. The three winners of the consolation flights get golf balls each.

LINDBERGH TO VISIT FARGO AUGUST 26TH

Local Citizens Plan to See Young Columbus of the Air at Big Celebration

PROPERTY VALUE IN COUNTY IS RAISED

County Board Raises Assessed Valuation to $386,778, Nearly Same as in 1926

Personal property in Pennington county is given a total assessed valuation of $386,778, following equalization by the county board, it is revealed in the abstract of assessments prepared by Deputy Auditor Axel Risberg and forwarded Saturday to the Minnesota state tax commission which convenes September 6 to equalize assessments throughout the state. The county board raised the total from $384,507, the figures returned by the assessors.

The 1927 valuation is just slightly below the 1926 figure, which was $387,166, the 1923 total being $607,561. It is expected, however, that the state commission will raise this figure total to make it at least equal last year's valuation. The changes made by the commission will not be known for a month or two.

The assessor's figures were raised by the county commissioners and the village of St. Hilaire where the county board affected a small reduction. Following are the totals for the county units not previously published in The Times:

	Co. Board's Totals	Assessor's Totals

DELINQUENT LAND SALE POSTPONED TILL, NOV. 14

The county auditor's act of 1925 added in by the state at the May delinquent tax sale will not be held in August this year, as formerly, the last legislature changing the date to November 14, it is pointed out by Auditor T. J. Anderson.

At this date, the county auditor will offer for sale all lands on which taxes remain unpaid previous to 1926. This will place a large amount of land on the market in many northern Minnesota counties. It is expected that a number of land buyers will take advantage of the provisions of the new law, which has been complained that the measure it supplants, and give the absentee title to the purchaser with less formality than before.

The greatest bargains in real estate sold for taxes are on such tracts as have not had three sold for a number of years. There is delinquent the required number of years, may be bid in for one-fifth of the taxes assessed against them. This applies to lands delinquent prior to 1916. All sales being made the total amount which must be paid to three-fourths of the total delinquent, if the lands have been delinquent only since 1922-23.

FARMER-LABOR ORGANIZE FOR NEXT CAMPAIGN

QUIST DELEGATE TO STATE CONVENTION

Favor Present Basis of Representation; Wefald and Others Speak at Conference

Carl Berg, Erskine farmer, was elected chairman of the Ninth District Farmer-Labor association at a meeting held at the court house in this city Saturday afternoon. Miss Thomasa Vollom, also of Erskine, was elected secretary. Twenty delegates from seven counties were present, the main preventing factor being the busy season conference, which had been called for the purpose of considering the organization of the district and make plans for representation at the state convention in St. Paul September 4-5.

A resolution was passed recommending that the present basis of representation be maintained, but that it is treated inadvisable to do this at the delegates from this district are urged to use their best judgment in preserving harmony and get as fair representation for the rural districts as possible.

Under the present arrangement counties are entitled to representation in the state convention on the basis of one delegate for every thousand votes cast for governor in the preceding election, plus one delegate for each such 1,000 votes over a major fraction thereof, with each county entitled to at least one delegate. Besides the Pennington county three delegates.

Will Hold Second Meet

One matter to come up at the St. Paul meeting this week, according to the call issued by the executive committee of the Minnesota Farmer-Labor association, being one relative to the seats representation. There is agitation for going back to "direct" representation, that is, individual votes for local units and the delegates will be left to their own attitudes.

For years the question has been discussed at length at the meeting here, the sentiment being that the proposed change would result in an overwhelming majority for the present basis. Under the latter plan, compared to the outlying rural centers, Thief River Falls would have a second interest in the movement on the part of the farmer organizations, delegates expressed their appreciation of the work done by the Labor Herald here in the Farmer-Labor movement and stressed the importance of its publication for a long time to come. The statement was made that the sentiment of the farmers and labor are not antagonistic to each other and that they are all working for the same end, city or on the farm.

Walter H. Quist of Thief River Falls, county chairman, was named to represent the district at the state meeting in St. Paul next month, at a county caucus held in Attorney H. O. Berven's office following the meeting. He will cast the vote for a delegation of three. The purpose of the state convention is to promote organization work for the Farmer-Labor party throughout the state. A meeting to endorse candidates will be held in the spring.

Mrs. Josephine Riser, Minneapolis, was re-elected president of the Minnesota Union. It was voted to continue the stand in co-operating with superintendents and teachers in the public schools in the teaching of the effect of stimulants and narcotics. Unified support of the candidates in the county elections was urged.

The national meeting of the W. C. T. U., comprising a membership of 6000,000 women, has been held in Minneapolis the last week.

THE CONSOLIDATION

Newspapers are public servants in perhaps a greater sense than any other private enterprise, and the consolidation of the city's two newspapers is therefore of more than passing interest to the general public. We feel assured that the consolidation of the merging of the local papers will be welcomed by the people of this community, many having expressed their approval of such a move, which will do away with a great deal of wasted effort and outlay in duplication of service.

Many prominent men have expressed the opinion that the publishing of two papers doing in point much the same people and containing to quite an extent the same material exceeding days, was a great wasteful proceeding, and have for a long time hoped that some satisfactory plan could be found for a combination, feel that there was an dissatisfaction with any of the papers or their publishers, but it was felt that the business to be secured in the community does not warrant the outlay necessary for the support of two dailies. That the situation has worked itself out to the entire satisfaction of all concerned is most gratifying to everyone in any manner connected with the papers, as well as the public generally.

With the united support of the business interests of the city and a reading circle comprising the entire community, it will be possible to put out a better paper than ever before. The merger will mean a saving in the advertisers and others who have been called upon to support the two papers in past years, and it is generally conceded that one good newspaper is sufficient for a city of this size under any conditions. There are liable to arise for some years to come.

Amalgamations and consolidations are the order of the day at the present time, not only in the publishing business, but in other lines, as well. Cities such as Bemidji and Sauk Centre have had newspaper consolidations in recent years and Cloquet and Virginia are prospering and serving their respective communities better than ever before. Grand Forks and Fargo each have only one newspaper. High production costs have brought about combinations as an increased rate to the last few years in this and other states. Satisfaction is general in the places where such steps have been taken.

Concerning the future policies of The Times, it may be briefly stated that it will be continued along the same lines as in the past, the principal aim being to publish a fair and unbiased NEWSPAPER. Its policy will be controlled by no private influences of any kind—individual, combination, or clique. Every effort will be made in giving the public a NEWS-PAPER of the community, impartially and reliably.

The Times, during the four years that the present publishers have been in control, has, we would like to say, endeavored for the entire community and has given support to every worthy movement for the betterment and future of this section and have given publicity to the activities of every organization that has stood for the upbuilding of this section. We have also endeavored to be fair to all political parties and candidates, and have given support to the candidates we thought were the best qualified for the offices they sought. We have fallen in the failure of the section and have given evidence of this fact by gradually enlarging our establishment. That the people of the community in a large measure of confidence in the paper is evidenced every week by the splendid patronage extended.

It shall be our constant aim to prove that this confidence has not been misplaced.

Green alfalfa is recommended by A. C. Arny, field crop specialist at University Farm, for the eradication of Canada thistle, which is proving to be a serious pest to the farmers in Minnesota this year, according to Mr. Arny. The alfalfa is cut several times a year and the Canada thistle from going to seed. Either continuous cultivation or the growing of some hay crop such as alfalfa, which will keep the thistle from going to seed by frequent cuttings, is recommended by Mr. Arny to combat the weed.

REUNIONS BECOME FREQUENT

Pennington county is having its share of family reunions this summer. Picnics which bring together several related families living some distance a way become numerous since automobiles and marked and maintained roads have made these reunions possible.

Before the gas and trunk highway age, when the sons and daughters married and moved away from home, it was not an easy task to get them all together at one time. But now they will agree on a day and a central meeting place, during the summer months, and all their folks start in the morning so that they get there before noon, spend the afternoon together and drive home after supper in time for a pleasant day when grandparents, sons and daughters and their wives and families, and all the grandchildren can assemble together.

The drive to the picnic in the morning and the drive home in the evening add to the pleasure of the outing. It is no task to drive fifty, seventy-five or a hundred miles after supper, when the route is marked so that you can not lose your way, and when the roads are maintained so that you can be certain of getting home even if there is a shower. In the early days of the automobile, when the roads were not marked and when you could not be sure that they were used all the way, it was a risky undertaking to start on a fifty mile trip, especially if you had a business that made it necessary for you to be on the job Monday morning.

Another thing that makes these automobile picnics so pleasant is that they are usually largely for the youngsters. In highway travel it is route no more to take five or six in a car, than it costs for a single person to drive.

Sometimes a farm home is selected as the place for the re-union, sometimes it is a village park or a grove central. Or it may be held in connection with a church celebration, a farm bureau picnic or the county fair.

However they are conducted, they are keeping friends and relatives in closer touch with each other than was possible in the past. When the roads were poor, only the rich could afford them, for the average man could not take the risk of delays and break-downs. Now everybody's doing it.

FUNCTIONS OF COMMUNITY

According to a new book, "Principles of Rural Sociology," Gustave A. Sahlquist, department of agriculture, University of Minnesota, and Thomas Carver, Harvard University, there are at least ten important functions which a rural community should perform. The Crookston delegation from the latter and R. Gusrbere, Mr. Vollom presided and Mr. Quist served as secretary.

The meetings sent its greetings to a fisher picnic in St. Paul September 3 to Mr. Wefald, who will address the gathering.

COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS

There may be something to the recent revival of fraternal secret clubs and community organizations, but our observation is that towns which have active and functioning community organizations are forging ahead of those civic programs are hit-or-miss propositions. There are a great many service clubs in the community that can only be effectively accomplished thru an organization like unto the loose ends of community effort. In a period of every enterprise, the smaller cities when "organization" is the watchword offered best-of-all-to straighten their civic energies by failing to centralize their principal interest in one organization where there is a place and work for all.—Northfield News.

county and precinct units and a plan for getting the nomination of the Norwegian newspaper now in discussion. Financing the campaign will be worked out.

That Knut Wefald of Hawley should make the run to regain his seat in congress is the next election is expressed by many of those present, but no official action was taken to endorse him for any particular office, this being too early in the campaign to take definite action. The former congressman arrived late in the afternoon but did not make any statement as to whether or not he would be a candidate, altho it is understood that he will enter the race when called upon.

Tariff Will Be Issue

"The Farmer-Labor party is not at dead as the Republican politicians would want people to believe," said Mr. Wefald. "The progressives have a good chance in the next election. There is much dissension among the Republicans and they can't beat Shipstead for the Senate."

The speaker expressed the opinion that some farm relief legislation can be passed in the next congress, but he did not believe the President would sign any measure of real help. The farm bloc—organized intelligence—is the greatest factor in the McNary-Haugen bill, he said.

Mr. Wefald predicted that the tariff question will be the big issue in the next national election. "It cannot be dodged and should be studied", he said. "Farm products today buy only from-half as much as in 1914, the speaker declared, also citing that although the tariff on butter was 2½ cents in 1914 as compared to 12 cents in 1926, four pounds of butter had as much buying power in 1914 as five pounds now. Mr. Wefald was given rousing applause at the close of his talk.

Senator Laura E. Naplin, who is staying at her parental home at Gatzke, and Representative J. O. Mathy of Ogilvie spoke briefly and expressed their appreciation of the support given them last fall.

Others who spoke at the meeting include Senator A. M. Laudby, Swift; J. W. Erlandson, editor of the People's Press, Hallock; R. M. Benson, Erskine, former representative in the legislature; G. H. Walker and Mr. Berg, Erskine; E. T. Backer, former member of the legislature, N. P. Hanson, Lee and E. T. Hansen, Crookston; O. Quist, Thief River Falls. The Crookston delegation also included Mr. Holmes and R. Gusrbere, Mr. Vollom presided and Mr. Quist served as secretary.

The meeting sent its greetings to a fisher picnic in St. Paul September 3 to Mr. Wefald, who will address the gathering.

Local J. C. Penney Co. Manager Suggests Way to Attract Visitors

"Nearly every town in the country promotes a progressive appearance during the day," says H. E. Nelson, manager of the J. C. Penney company.

"What do we look like after dark?"

"There is where many towns are getting ahead at the present time and making themselves known throughout the country.

"Think of the motor car tourist travel rushing town after the stores are closed. It is the habit of the tourist to drive all day and then to stop at the nearest town at the approach of dusk.

"What buying he does is done in the morning before the start for the next day's run.

"Whether the buying is done in town or is held over for the next town depends on the kind of reception he gets when he drives in.

"Well lighted main streets, store windows that are lighted at least until midnight, all reflect a cheery sort of welcome that invites visitors to stop over for a few hours in the morning.

"Word of mouth advertising of a town spreads fast and far. A tourist who stops here tonight and next day tells someone fifty miles from here, that this is a good town. It is a business builder for local merchants.

"An organization of local merchants and other business men which will make it their business to see that the streets are attractive at night will be doing a real service to the town and building new sales for themselves.

"There are nearly 900 J. C. Penney Co. stores at the present time. These stores are located in every kind of a community. And every manager says that what we do like at night is one of a lot of the best things we do in the daytime."

Mr. Nelson discussed this subject at Tuesday's Rotary club meeting, and the matter was referred to the committee on business methods, of which H. M. Olson is chairman.

ANOTHER RUMOR.

It is being strongly rumored that E. W. Backus will actually open a moose work on his railroad between Lake of the Woods county and Ontario (do we hear a snicker?) and that a considerable stretch of roadbed will be built this next summer. The road is supposed to keep going until it gets to Thief River Falls. We wouldn't bet a nickle on it, but anyway the rumor is in circulation and we are keeping it rumoring.—Bandette Register.

ST. HILAIRE WOMAN TELLS OF MASSACRE

"Grandma" Peterson Reviews Terrors of 65 Years Ago at Old Settlers' Picnic

The Roseau Three-Region of last week gave a resume of an interesting skit given at the Roseau county Old Settlers' picnic held Thursday, August 25, by "Grandma" Peterson, of St. Hilaire, 81-year old orphaned survivor of the Indian massacre at West Lake in Swift county in 1862. The speaker told in a simple way the story of those tragic days, some incidents of which should interest Times readers.

Mrs. Peterson, nee Anna Silma Broberg, immigrated to America with her parents in 1861 and settled at West Lake in Swift county. About two years later a band of Little Crow warriors made a surprise attack on the settlement while the whites were attending religious services. Thirteen of the settlers were killed and half as many wounded. Among the dead were her mother, father, two brothers and a little sister.

Mrs. Peterson was a helpless eyewitness to the murder of her parents. After her mother and brothers were shot she took little sister by the hand and tried to get away. One of the warriors overtook them and grabbed her sister, whose cry for help has been ringing in her ears ever since. The little girl was scalped before her very eyes. Her mother, a little wayoff, heard the cry and although fatally wounded, tried to come to the rescue, but fell before she reached them.

Fainting Saved Her

Being a girl of sixteen, the Indians planned to carry her away, but as the scene she witnessed overcame her she fainted away. The Indians, thinking she had been killed, left her. When she left her. The scene of conflict changed and when she came to she found some women refugees, and together they wandered over the prairies into the still-rescue parties came to their assistance.

Granted Pension

With no family ties outside of themselves this girl and her little couch set out to find some such aid as kind friends gave them. Later she married John Broberg married she took the little boy and raised him to be a most influential and respected citizen and business man in New London, Minn. In appreciation of this heroic service the United States government issued a pension to Grandma Peterson.

SHORT COURSE IN COW TESTING WORK SEPT. 19-24

Opening Monday, September 19, and continuing one week, a short course will be held at University Farm for young men who are interested in cow testing work. The first session will open at 9 a. m. in Room 305, Haecker Hall. Young men taking this course must be 20 years of age or older, and have had some dairy farm experience with at least a training through the eighth grade at this high school. No entrance fees to the course will be required; the only expense for those receiving will be railroad fare and board and lodging. Hanson of University Farm, who is in charge of cow testing work in Minnesota, says that many desirable positions will be available for well qualified men.

Webster Ballinger of Washington and the firm of Baldwin, Baldwin, Holmes and Mayall, of Duluth attorneys employed by the Chippewa Indians of Minnesota to prosecute their claims against the United States, have filed five suits in the Court of Claims according to a dispatch to the Bemidji Pioneer from Washington, D. C.

The first suit filed February 28, 1927 and known as No. H-76 seeks to recover from the United States $2,000,000 as the value of the Red Lake Lake reservation together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, for approximately 23 years. The interest amounts to more than the principal. This suit does not adversely affect the interest of the Red Lake Indians, if the suit is successfully maintained, all the Chippewa Indians of Minnesota will receive compensation for the Red Lake reservation and the Red Lake Indians will benefit with the whites were they to win.

The aggregation of the suits filed in the five courts involves $20,000,000 representing the value of the lands and money alleged to have been erroneously disposed of, and for interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, the interest amounting to nearly the value of the property. Indications are that these suits can not be brought to trial for at least a year.

A bill for the division of funds will be presented in the next session of congress.

Forty years ago congress made an appropriation to defray the expenses of the necessary preparations looking to making the allotments, but the department has deferred its commencement of the work. Mr. Ballinger has requested the commissioner to make preparations to allot lands on the Red Lake reservation who desire to have their lands severed.

STATE LEADERS PRAISE

Following are excerpts from letters received by Mrs. J. M. Bishop of Thief River Falls from her two brothers who are president of the Minnesota Legion Auxiliary:

Dr. Helen Hughes Hollocher, first department president: "You are calling on me at a time when I am having the most favorable conditions. The orders for flowers is a wholesale thing, I have yet seen accepted a proposition that will give you have in the hearts of the organization.

"Your work is fine and unappreciative if I did not tell you how much admiration and kindness that you showed me while I was in your midst during the time the administration. It is not often that I have chance to be a guest or remembered so flatteringly by their own people."

Rufus Read, Jr., Minneapolis, past Legion commander: "I read your recent letter with the greatest pride and appreciation, and I am looking forward to the time when I can tell your re-warkers of their splendid work—Republican."

Mrs. Milton Hayes, past department president: "I want to pledge to you my 100% loyalty and support during the coming year. Will you accept my humble services to use as you see fit?"

Phillip O'Toole, editor of the American Legionnaire: Some things are felt so strongly and so deeply by ourselves that we imagine the whole world is aware of our sentiments, particularly the person to whom they are known. That's how your remaining at the Auxiliary has affected me. I am the obviously wise and constructive action of the convention. While I had made notes of all the fine things I did not jot down among folks at Hibbing—and not one name. Consequently know you will have good luck and will bring it with you. You do.

Mrs. Ward's Sister Dies

Funeral services were held Tuesday, August 30, at the First Lutheran church at Stephen for Mrs. Ellen A. Hoveland, aged 40 years, who died Saturday following a several years' illness from tuberculosis. She had been a patient at Oakland Park sanatorium here from February up to two weeks prior to her death. A. E. Hanson conducted the final rites.

Mrs. Agnes Carlson Hoveland was a daughter of Mrs. August Magnuson of Stephen and was born in Sweden, coming to Stephen with her parents in 1886. In 1910 she was married to Mr. Hoveland of Stephen. Surviving are her husband and six children, her mother, six brothers, and three sisters, including Mrs. John Ward of Thief River Falls, all of whom were present at the funeral. POTATO TOUR POINTS THE WAY TO PROFITS

The recent potato tour through part of the Red River valley and of Cavalier county, directed by H. C. Rose of the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota, showed that if Minnesota's seed potatoes are to retain their reputation for quality, growers must give closer attention to—

Seed treating.

Proper plowing and cultivation, plus rotation.

Proper planting.

Spraying for the control both of insects and diseases.

Harvesting.

Storing.

The recent tour was the best in the history of the state. Minnesota has about 6,000 acres of potatoes entered for certification this year, according to A. G. Tolaas, in charge of inspection.

This information should be of special interest to Pennington county farmers at this time when a large potato warehouse is being erected in this city, making potato growing an important phase of farming in this locality.

Minneapolis Man Writes in Defense of Country Banker

John W. Black of Minneapolis, president of the First National bank of this city, writes in the Commercial West, under the caption, "In Defense of the Country Banker", in the issue of August 13, as follows:

A recent issue of an eastern paper contained a big spread article on "What Is the Matter With Our Country Banks?" It is a rehash of phrases used by other writers in which the blame for all closings since 1920 is attributed to too many banks, too few bankers, poor and dishonest management. One of our conservative Twin City dailies editorialized an article on the same subject. These articles all tend to unjustly make the country banker the goat for conditions which grew out of the war.

At the time of the United States entered the war, few of the country banks had ever held bonds—most of their customers had never seen one. Cash Treasurers put the Liberty Bond.

The Liberty Bond issues were allotted on an arbitrary basis to every section of the country. In the rural districts this meant that the banker took his community's allotment and in turn distributed the bonds among his customers. Whether they liked it or not, for his bank's account or sold them to his depositors, the result was the same—his cash resources were reduced by the amount of his subscriptions. Many country bankers received subscriptions for Liberty bonds for their customers, taking notes for the par value of the bonds.

At the conclusion of the war, Liberties outlined in bank as I've just stated, and the country banker's bonds, at par, were worth about depreciated prices.

The country banker bought Liberty bonds as a patriotic privilege and as a duty he set the pace for those of his customers.

Deserve Credit for Doing Their Bit

Up to date the failure rate, small and bad has been abnormal. Liquidating good 6 per cent paper in order to get 4¼ per cent Liberty bonds cannot be charged to ignorance or carelessness. They should be given credit for a sincere desire to do one's bit. The country banker who bestirred himself to solicit subscriptions for their full quota were quite frequently assisted out by the suggestion that they would be reported as pro-German.

A word in behalf of the country banker who has had to bear the brunt of more fault than ever before. Prices were guaranteed; available money was tied up in Liberty bonds; exchanges changed hands at rising prices; production rapidly increased; and, said, as a result of judgment of values. If the loan applied production, it was made.

We have had too many banks since 1914. We have had too many of a lot of things. The country banking situation is adjusting itself in a sound and permanent basis as rapidly as the most exacting could ask.

—Management Neither Incessant Nor Dishonest

Many banks have closed since 1920 as a result of operations originating during the war period. The management of these banks was not ignorant nor was it dishonest.

A reading of the records of the bank examiners' department, state and national show to what extent these executive officers have served their depositors and their families in their efforts to save the institutions over which they presided. A case patient at Oakland Park sanatorium here from February up to two weeks prior to her death. A. E. Hanson conducted the final rites.

"Due to a chance meeting with Clinton C. Brainard, president of the McClure Newspaper Syndicate, Mrs. Alvin R. Olson of 604 South 42nd street, has been offered an opportunity to go to New York, where she will be in a screen test," says an item in the July 31 issue of the Omaha World-Herald. Mrs. Olson before her marriage to a brother of Kern Olson, this city, was Miss Mable Johnson of Bemidji and taught in the Washington school in this city seven years ago. If successful, her services will probably be contracted for in the magazine newspaper and moving picture tie-up, it is believed.

The story in the Omaha daily was accompanied by a three-column picture on the front page, showing the former Thief River Falls teacher in costume.

Mrs. Olson while returning from Denver about three weeks ago, noticed she was being closely observed by an elderly, well-dressed man in the observation car," says The World-Herald article. "He did not speak to her, however, until the train reached Omaha. Introducing himself, he asked if she had had any experience on the stage or in pictures, and upon learning that she had not, but was theatrical, asked for her name and address and said she would hear from him. Mrs. Olson is well known here by her personality and charm. Mrs. Olson related.

"Several days later she received a letter, on the stationery of a firm in New York at his expense, for a screen test. He mentioned the success attained by Bebe Daniels, Dorothy Mackaill and others and told how opportunity had come to them.

"This was followed by a telegram, stating that Jesse Lasky, of Famous Players, Omaha, was in the nature of the work to be offered here, and suggesting that Mrs. Olson call for information.

"Mrs. Olson has received a letter in which he said he would give full details of the offer, following his screening, and briefly outlined his plan, which has Mrs. Olson as the lead in a story which is to be written by McClures, and later made into a picture for the foreign, as well as the feature role.

"Mrs. Olson said she would wire today for advance expense money, and would leave for New York at once.

"It is the greatest opportunity I have ever known, and I'm quite sufficiently thrilled over it," she said, "but will screen well. About my historical work, I have had a lot of appreciative comments expressed here and there in connection with it, and have had a number of plays in Denver, and directed, too."

Many New Attractions for 68th Minnesota State Fair

The 68th Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Show, to be held August 28 to 10, will present the biggest entertainment and educational program in the history of the institution, Fred F. Kenger announced today.

Sousa's Band, the greatest band in the world, headed by John Philip Sousa, famous band leaders, will be the feature attraction. This wonderful band of seventy pieces will play the first seven days of the Fair, the largest engagement ever given by any state fair.

The Fair is offering $176,611 in premiums for educational exhibits. Most of this is set aside for livestock; and one of the biggest exhibits of horses, cattle and sheep shows ever held in the middle west is assured. The unusually good crop conditions insure a splendid exhibit of farm crops, fruits, flowers and vegetables.

There will be three days of auto racing, Sept. 5, 7 and 10, and four days of harness and running horse racing, Sept. 6, 8, 9 and 9. Big Bemidji, king of dirt track drivers, heads a field of seventy-nine entries, with purses of $20,000 are offered for horse racing.

"The Fall of Troy" is to be the big fireworks spectacle this year. Two stages of the best pyro-effigy ever in the world have been engaged for the vaudeville show in front of the grandstand. A dozen noted Northwest bands and orchestras will play during the week.

The most liberal railroad rates ever given by Northwest railroads, which make attendance of a half million persons certain.

Prominent Farmer Tells of Victory in Pemington Co. Farm Bought 16 years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Anton are moving from active farming and are moving into this city from their farm southwest of Thief River Falls. They have rented the Frank Jones on Arnold avenue, south of the high school building and will move in a couple of weeks. Their daughter, Helen, is also coming to the city and will attend the local high school.

Mr. Anton is recognized as one of the leading farmers in this territory. He is a prominent Holstein breeder and dairyman and is president of the Pennington (Minn.) Breeders' Association and a director of the Thief River Falls Cooperative Creamery association, besides being active in other farm organizations.

"I have rented all my land to my son," says Mr. Anton, "and they will take over the machinery. Christ and Hans, Jr., are in charge of the home place and N. A. and Lorenz have the north farm. I will stay here and will give my advice in the north, while in town. My good wife and I have what we think is a fine family. Four sons and one daughter."

The retiring farmer was born in Solvesig-Heistein in 1859 and came to this country in 1882. He lived at Meridian, Iowa, for 20 years and was married there. Soon thereafter he came to farm in Benton county, Minnesota, for 18 years.

When Mr. Anton bought his farm there were few improvements on it. In the 16 years that he has owned it he has added to the equipment a barn, a silo, a poultry house and a machine shed. He bought the land for $50 an acre, and it is now considered one of the best farms in the vicinity and worth much more than its purchase price. It raises alfalfa, timothy, a barn and a well were put on the new farm last year, while considerable tiling has been done.

E. H. Sweet, agricultural writer for the Grand Forks Herald, in a recent article about Mr. Anton's farming operations, said: "Mr. Anton is an exceptional farmer who can place himself in such a position financially as to retire on a farm at a time. This may be the result of a lifetime of farming methods, instead of blindly following the customs established by his predecessors. He has taken an active interest in community affairs, and has always believed in co-operating with other farmers for the good of all. He has always been a consistent booster for the co-operative movement at Thief River Falls."

For twelve years Mr. Anton has been a member of the Farmers' Elevator company at Thief River Falls, a number of years he was vice president, then president of the association, and he now continues as a director.

"Mr. Anton is a man greatly in demand for a position of responsibility, and he now continues as a director. He has always been a booster for a community and has always had something of value to pass on to his hearers. As we stood in his pasture field that day we talked in one of his farming methods in a clear and simple manner. Then he sprinkled a sprinkle of glucose on his cigar and lighted it with a match. 'Mr. Anton is a good farmer,' we said to ourselves, 'and a good citizen.'

"The writer, who has visited the Anton farm on the rural Great Northern Falun siding many times, noted the fact that 50 Holstein cows on the two places and 50 acres of alfalfa were doing their bit to keep the thistle off.

"'My land is growing better and better from year to year,' Mr. Anton said, 'and the cattle are doing it evidently. Our cows built the barn which cost $2,000, and they paid cash for it. Cows they have for everything else we have bought. When we have cash for anything, the cows supply it. Even the towns where I trade, they know I have what I like. Anton cows in barn, it means cash.

"'When I bought this farm, I say that I would go in the hole if I kept grain farming the land as it had been for many years, and I was right. So I put on a herd of grade Holsteins.

"Now the cows and white so I could find them in the tall grass,' Mr. Anton continued. 'Then I got pure bred cows. I have a vigorous growth in Pennington county, and the sweet clover is more likely to be taller than the cows that feed on it.

"'Rotation and cultivation will control sow thistle. Precautions must be taken to keep the thistle out once

Air Mindedness

From the beginning the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has given faith and support to the cause of aviation.

It was among the first to develop a satisfactory fuel and lubricant for aviation use and it supplies the range and fuel of these planes was one of the first industrial concerns to own a company airplane.

This Company identified itself early with the pioneers of the air because it held a vision of the "flying age" now in process and believed that by aiding in the development of aviation it was rendering a service and increase its usefulness to the people of the Mid-West.

The American public has a part to play in the development of aviation. It must become "air-minded."

No news is thought of flying in the Eastern Hemisphere that is thought of as a daily train or motor. The whole world is traveling by air. The Germans, the British, the French and the Italians have all opened regular air service ranging from the cities of Europe as far away as Africa and Asia.

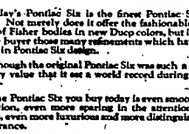
America is being given the airplane to the world and perfected it to its present degree of reliability should be at the front in the development of aviation. America must keep step with its inventors and its aviators.

We are living in stirring times. The whole world has thrilled to the exploits of winged pioneers this year. World records have been broken—new trails blazed—by daring heroes of the air. American monoplanes and American machines have written a proud chapter in aviation history.

These recent glorious deeds fire the imagination and their real importance to the progress of the nation is more than a thrilling adventure. It is a new and relatively safe means of transportation.

Public confidence is needed to stimulate the development of commercial aviation. Certain gains in our aviation history should help us to become "air-minded."

Last year there were only two fatal accidents in the air mail service. That means one casualty to each 1,736,000 miles flown.



Colonel Lindbergh has traveled the equivalent of eight times around the earth without an accident. In his signed story in the New York Times he said, "I have made 7,192 flights, totaling 1,823 hours and 40 minutes on commercial routes. I have flown 1 few 703 hours. In all, I have carried 5,961 passengers without a one to say I have been hurt in an accident, either to them or to myself."

Business men are becoming convinced that the risk has been taken out of aviation. Air-mail is used with no more quesion as to its efficiency than of older forms of postal service.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes in the future of aviation. It is ready to do its part in the cause. By giving publicity to these facts it hopes to help bring about the realization that transportation in the air—over the land—is relatively safe, to aid in the development of the "air-mindedness" essential to progress in this flying age.

NORSE SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING HERE

tioned in this country, we should preserve the Norwegian spirit", Mr. Nelson said.

The speaker urged more study of history to enable the citizen to better judge the trend of conditions. The deep rooting of some of the Norse characteristics which originated in the early Viking days were cleverly traced, showing the resulting influence of Christianity. Respect for law and authority, obedience to parents, honesty, reliability, etc., were pointed to as characteristic virtues. Various phases of the single "folkelivet" were touched upon in showing how these characteristics developed.

President Coolidge's address at the recent American Centennial two years ago was pointed to as of great significance to Norwegian-Americans. Mr. Hetland introduced the resolution making this address a public document and urging everyone to get a printed copy, furnished upon request by any congressman.

Prof. Holvik, who was secretary of the centennial committee and was last year knighted by the king of Norway, gave an able discussion of "The Present and Our Heritage", pleading for better understanding between the old and new people.

"Tendencies of modern life widen the Thief River Falls are on the way. said, "and it is essential that we should have a greater appreciation of our heritage and more faith in ourselves and forefathers. There is a danger that the younger generation may sink with the respect upon their parents their ways." Emulated to have gone from this city Thursday night and Friday morning. The caravan being led by Mr. and Mrs. C. Kennett, secretary of the Manitoba Motor League. Thos A. President Leech and other officials of the state B. P. O. E. declared that they felt that the convention held by the Elks in Thief River Falls was the most successful ever given the organization, and more good will was displayed than at the national meeting in Cincinnati.

"There is more disappointed that we in the tourist Thief River Falls," said Secretary Hume and other officers in commenting upon the fact that the attendance was not up to expectations. This, they are accounted for by the Lindbergh celebrations in the Twin Cities, Little Falls and Fargo, and the severe rains that at the same time as the convention. Many quite unable to make the trip intentions of coming were forced by adverse duty to remain at home.

The Prince of Wales, accompanied by his brother, Prince George, viewed the big parade in the Winnipeg parliament buildings Saturday. The parade had been scheduled for Friday but rain that day necessitated postponement. The scampy drum corps and bands made a decided hit with the Canadians. The principal streets were closed to traffic for the march. The Minnesotans were greeted at the city hall by Mayor R. H. Webb and other officials.

There was dancing on the pavement and at the Royal Alexandra Friday night and Saturday evening a banquet was tendered the state officials by lodge officers at Assiniboine park.

Mr. Johnston was presented to the Kinetish princes at the parliament building, and declares, "They look like real fellows, democratic in their ways and unassuming."

On account of the rain, which marred the festivities, the baseball game between Minneapolis baseball teams played only one of the four games scheduled, that resulting in a 5-3 tie.

Among Thief Riverites who made the trip to Winnipeg are: L. P. Johnson, O. C. Vasbey, A. Lee Brownell, A. H. Dorn, By A. Arnold A. Olson, A. Perry Knecht, J. W. Osborn, A. F. Kompen, Holtkredt, J. O. CITY ELECTION TO BE HELD NOV. 8TH

Terms of All Municipal Offices Expire This Year; Politics Quiet

When President Calvin Coolidge made his statement a few days ago that he did not choose to run again politics began to wax warm, that is as far as national politics are concerned, but when it comes to the local matter one does not even hear a murmur as to the contest for local offices this fall in the city of Thief River Falls. The record of achievements of the local officials, evidently is meeting with the approval of the public generally.

The date for the municipal election is Tuesday, November 8.

This year all of the city officials are to be elected, whereas two years ago the municipal judge and special municipal judge held over, their terms being for four years each. The present roster of elective officials includes:

Mayor, W. W. Prichard, Jr.

Municipal judge, N. W. Tarrant.

Special municipal judge, Scott Laird.

In order to file for a city office it is no longer necessary to submit a petition signed by a certain per cent of the total number of votes cast in the last general election. The 1923 legislature changed the old law requiring an affidavit and a filing fee of $1. Filings must be made not less than 15 days prior to the election.

Al Blackstone, the aerial acrobat who performed his thrilling feats at the recent Pennington county fair, was injured last week at the Kanaloe county fair, when he jumped from a parachute 30 feet from the ground, breaking his leg in two places as he struct the ground. He was cared for there at a hostial until Saturday when he was taken to Minneapolis.

FINE MUSIC IS HEARD APLENTY AT CONVESTION

Minneapolis won first and Mankato second, while in the drum corps contest the St. Paul outfit again won first, but Rochester led Willmar for second place. Prizes were awarded in similar amounts as in Thief River Falls.

The judges in the musical and drill team contests here were L. F. Tuleen of this city, H. L. Smith of Crookston, and E. Tale of Fairmont, band directors in their respective towns.

The assembly at the fairgrounds for the parade was a patriotic finish. Following the parade, resembled a county fair crowd, the grand stand being filled, with a large number unable to get a seat. In addition there were probably hundreds in automobiles parked for days on the highway along the south side of the grounds to watch the fireworks. The road is said to have been blocked by the line of cars.

The parade, which formed at 6:30 o'clock at Seventh street was a rolor-ful event. The streets were lined with interested spectators. Mrs. Hey Lambert, Mrs. B. C. Bernard, and Mrs. M. T. McFarland occupied the judges' stand, but no awards were made for floats, there being no competition between lodges.

The march to the fairgrounds was headed by A. H. Dorn as color bearer, followed by the state officers, the Minneapolis band, the St. Paul drum and bugle corps, and the St. Paul band, Thirteenth, Siam and Hunt, L. F. Healy, E. Barrett, J. H. Lasha Jr. and Mr. Hunt Kroll and two children of Red Lake Falls.

They were followed by Mayor W. W. Alderman Hebert and family and Joe Riewel of St. Boniface, and a car from each of Lake Andrew, Lake Labrosse, and Marchand. A stop was made in every town along the road and a picnic dinner was enjoyed at noon at a beaver dam at St. Anne.

Included in the caravan to Winnipeg, in addition to those already mentioned, were Mayor and Mrs. Webb, president of the local auto club; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Brunwell, Mrs. C. H. Jones and daughter, Miss Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Bjornaraa of Thief River Falls; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Helm, Miss Norah Orr, A. Kingquist, and C. Pauliot of Red Lake Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Carlson of Middle River and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Carlson of Holt.

A. C. E. Eggerth, secretary of the Manitoba Motor League, met the caravan in Thief River Falls and pilot-ed them to Winnipeg, where he also had charge of arrangements whilst they were in the city.

VOLUM WRITES

THANK YOU, FRIENDS

It is with much regret that I leave the editor al columns of The Times and bid goodby to its many readers. During republican five years with this paper, I have become closely attached to this community and its people, and is to comply with hopes of better fitting myself for more effective service that I am making this move.

During my residence here I have worked hard and faithfully to help build up the paper and serve the community to the best of my limited ability. If we feel has not been realized, but the many elements are opposing and help rate that we have met with at least some measure. I express in saying the public has one just worthy of the name.

I have met With, also, to record the University Mine and to express my appreciation, like along it. Here as much I have gained a goodly portion of personal experience.

There are, of course, in the kindest called, I do come to realize numerous shortcomings, at least some of which I hope to be able upon which I am entering which is new and all in all, day and age.

The men who will take over the editorial work of The Times and it's news are one of the newspaper men of long experience whose ability in the direction will assure The Thief River Falls one of the best weeklies in the state. I am only sorry that you will give Mr. P. Ballquist, the new editor and advertising manager, and Scott Laird, the news editor the same co-operation and assistance that you have given me in the past.

The consolidation will no doubt prove to be a beneficial move for the city and community, and I trust that the success of the paper will be worthy support of the businessmen. The community is large enough to support its splendid paper and big weekly, but is not as yet properly constituted to encourage the efforts put in on two papers a year been published in the past.

As editor of the paper under the coming regime of the Mattson Brothers, I have found that the men in charge the people are justified in reposing the utmost confidence. Their aim is to give service to the community which they have chosen for their home. Their pledge is for honest devotion to every cause which makes for a better city, a better state, a better nation. It is are not slackers but workers and builders.

I have made many warm personal friends during my residence here, friends who I expect to leave. But friendships leave me. Many kindnesses have been extended to me for which I want to express my sincere appreciation and hope that I may, in some small way prove worthy of the trust accorded me.

DRENG B BJORNARAA

It is only proper that we take the opportunity to express our sincere regret at Dreng's departure as I know I speak fully our appreciation of his faithful service to The Times and I do not only during the past five years. In his efforts must be attributed to a large part the success that has attended the paper. Handed by him about as a weekly for 6 months as Publication was maintained by his department a class of service which is a credit to any city. We are sorry to see him leave Thief River Falls and wish him success in whatever he undertakes. We are sure that the people of this community will be interested in learning that Mr. Mattson has taken over the publication of the paper.

The program in the afternoon was presided over by Jos. A. Dahl, president of the Nazareth Young Peoples society. Following an open reading and devotion by Rev. Kolstoe of Plummer and singing by the Roland choir an address was given by Rev. M. Gunderson of the city, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Gunderson gave an interesting and instructive talk, showing the necessity of music instruction in the public schools.

Brief remarks were also made by Olaf Reiel and Irene H. Hermanson, of this city, and Olaf Neset, also of Thief River Falls, entertained with a few musical numbers. Refreshments were served by Miss Ellen Kelsey and Mrs. Plummer, which were received with much favor. A number of laughter provoking selections by Hoare Twitchell, of Warren, whose Norwegian folk recitations were especially enjoyed, and a vocal solo by Mr. Dahl. The audience numbered about 200 and members from the Roland choir. Nearly $100 was netted from the sale of refreshments for the Young People's society and the Ladies aid, the money to be used for the benefit of the Nazareth church.

Among the activities who attended are Mr. and Mrs. Neset and children, Mr. and Mr. Gunderson and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Reiel and Mr. and Mrs. Hans Brandt of Falk, Minn.

Council Adopts Supplemental Paving Assessment

The adjourned meeting of the city council set for Tuesday night to dispose of the matter of supplemental paving assessments was attended by only two benefited property owners, both of whom were satisfied with the amounts as fixed in the roll as prepared by the engineer. Accordingly the council, all of whom were present with the exception of Alderman Ovrey Paulson and T. A. Fiesum, adopted the assessment roll, leaving the matter of the time for making payments to be settled at the regular meeting of the council next Tuesday night. HAIL AND WINDSTORM AT NEWFOLDEN AND ANGUS

The electrical storm early Monday morning was not very severe in this immediate vicinity, but farther west the storm was quite general extending over a large portion of the northwest as far eastward as Fosston. From the vicinity of Crookston, 60 miles to the west, reports are coming in of a general destruction.

At Angus it was stated there was considerable hail and rain, accompanied by a heavy fall of hail. At Newfolden the hail was heavier and it was reported that it also fell in several places in the north, the hail lasting for a short time before disappearing. Several buildings were damaged by the hail in the path of the storm, but crops in that section were not generally damaged, having been mostly cut and housed.

The rainfall here was only two hundredths of an inch, according to J. M. Ryrie, official weather observer.

Body by Fisher

When Buick improves upon Buick—the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms—as harmoniously colored—and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are low-swung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set.

Local Woman Injured in Auto Collision

Mrs. Christena Brown, residing at 209 Duluth avenue south, was badly bruised in being thrown thru a windshield, and her 12-year old grandson, Roy Brown of Fosston, suffered a broken nose Saturday evening, August 27, when the Ford sedan driven by Mrs. M. O. Brown of Hibbing and a Buick driven by E. J. Wanke of Wanke, collided with terrific force on trunk highway No. 65, two miles east of Terrebonne. Harold Steele of Wanke was thrown thru the windshield in the Wanke car and was cut, but not dangerously injured.

Mrs. M. O. Brown was enroute from Hibbing to Thief River Falls, accompanied by her children. Roy, Jack, and Lorraine, and her mother-in-law, who had been visiting at Hibbing. Mr. Wanke, his operative a store, with his son, Earl, Mr. Steele, Boyd and Clara Ness were returning to Wanke.

Aside from the three mentioned, the other members of the parties were uninjured, altho severely shaken up. This fact is surprising in view of the terrific impact of the cars. The latter was brought to Red Lake Falls for repairs and was a sorry wreck, having been struck on the left front fender and front axel were bent, the steering gear broken, and other damage done. The Ford, driven by Mrs. Brown was not badly damaged.

Mrs. Brown received another car in Red Lake Falls to take them to Thief River Falls, while the other party proceeded to their destination in the Buick. The injured children expect to remain in this city with Mr. Brown's parents for a week or two before returning to Hibbing to their home.

Mrs. Brown received word on a detailed card, via airmail "50 p m.," and is believed to have been written at Bemidji. Before failing to gauge the distance and turn out far enough to avoid the Wanke car, Mrs. Brown is said to have started to have been going at a high speed.

Sheriff Charles Pellman and Deputy Sheriff Ole Wells were called to the scene immediately after the accident, the same night.

FORMER PLUMMER DR. FACES DEPORTATION

Dr. Joseph U. Jodfrain, a former physician at Argyle and Plummer, was taken into custody and placed in jail at Duluth by federal officers on deportation charges. Jodfrain applied for admission to the United States from Canada, but did not inform the immigration officers that he had been convicted of a criminal charge and given a heavy jail sentence. He was paroled in 1927, and was allowed to enter the United States after the latter had served a year and a half of the sentence.

GOPHER LEGION GANG SAILING FOR FRANCE

Mrs. Bishop Heads Auxiliary Group Which Left Tuesday for Paris Convention

With thousands of Northwest buddies and their ladies, including 400 from Minnesota, the steamer "Minnekahda" sails down the St. Lawrence from Quebec this week, enroute for Antwerp, Belgium, where they will arrive Sept. 17. Two special trains loads of Minnesota Legion and Auxiliary members left the Twin Cities Tuesday, via Burlington and Soo Line. Stops at points like Niagara Falls were scheduled, as were receptions by Canadian Legion posters.

At Quebec, in addition to sight-seeing planned by the Canadian Yellowcab Company, the Gopher Gang held a banquet with Canadian Legionnaires, and tomorrow will climb aboard their liner for the ocean voyage. Scarcely a buddy failed to bring a mouth organ, flute, accordion or some other musical instrument. From Antwerp they were to go to Brussels, where is the memorial to the grave of Belgium's Unknown Soldier.

Arriving in Paris, September 19, parade in the Monday, September 19, parade, the first to pass thru the Arch of Triumph since the Armistice, they will, as they pass the grave of the Unknown Soldier, pause while a wreath will drop thereon in honor of their departed pals who died in France. Following the convention, which will be held in Paris, Legion and Auxiliary members will take short battlefield trips and then return to Antwerp, where a banquet is arranged for more extensive tours.

Willis Stiles, Minneapolis Legionnaire, now Past Department Commander, is in charge of the party, and as chief host of the Minnesota delegation. Mrs. Bishop is in charge of the Auxiliary members. Mrs. Bishop is also chairman of the Minnesota Auxiliary Foreign Relations committee and State Adjutant Elmer I. Dodd is secretary. Both Stiles and Bishop are of Thief River Falls, Minnesota Auxiliary vice-president and Miss Blanche M. Sheldon, state secretary, are with the party, as is National War Commander Edward King and Mr. Milton Spencer of Winona, national national executive committeeman.

Minnesota's contingent, down to the last member, departed with the solemn pledge that by no word nor act would they discredit the country of their French people; rather, they hope to kindle the flame of comradeship which existed during the great war between the countries of Washington and Lafayette.

W. L. Sanderson and James Wilde of Red Lake Falls are members of the Legion party.

A new Auxiliary unit was formed at Bemidji last Friday evening with the outing of the Indian Legion post on Red Lake Sunday. Among those attending were several who had prospects of admitting their wives to membership. Mrs. Bishop, Department president, and Mrs. Blodgett, national committeewoman, were present, and by their presence, and talks on preparedness, I want to insure peace, not with the view to bringing on war but rather to prevent the United States from becoming entangled in a war by the same fact that

Average Automobile License Fee is Less

The average license fee paid for motor vehicles registered in Minnesota from Jan. 1 to July 31 is 27 cents less than in the same period in 1926. The 629,681 machines registered in seven months paid a total of $2,853,405 to-wards Minnesota's permanent highway fund, or an average of $15.84 per car. Last year in the same months the average was $16.11, and the total $9,547,267.

Price cuts by manufacturers are responsible, as the fee is based on the H. P. G. price. The cuts do not affect older machines, as the fee is based on this year's price of the same model. Cars are assessed 10 per cent higher for age. License receipts for the month of July were $116,305, compared to $233,993 in July, 1926. Receipts during the first quarter were $241,948 less than last year.

Unless there is a large increase in the buying of automobiles this fall, highway revenues will be little if any better than in 1926. New machines registered after August 1 pay only half the normal rate.

Miss Poppins Selected

Because the resolutions made by Minnesota's disabled veterans under Legion auspices, now in session at Boston Block, Minneapolis were considered by the national president, Mrs. Adam Kramer, of Minneapolis, to be worthy of fall, they were chosen to form a resolution which will be made by the mouth of America's Unknown Soldier. Miss Poppins will go to Washington, D. C., and from there to France. Following the convention, Miss Poppins will be taken to Belgium's Unknown Soldier. In Paris disabled veterans are now busy making paper crepe poppies for Memorial day celebration. An order for 40000 was recently received by Minneapolis. Payment for same will be rendered by October 24.

T. R. F. WOMAN WRITES ABOUT INDIA FLOODS

10 INCHES RAIN IN 3 DAYS DEVASTATES AREA

Marooned by Floods on Return to School From Mission Committee Meeting

The Times editor has received the following interesting letter from Miss Clara Bjoland, that River Falls woman who is engaged in missionary work at the Girls' Boarding School, Kalra, India.

Kalra, Kalra Dist India,
Aug. 8, 1927

Dear Mr. Bjoland:

I rather have written a chapter for "the Times" & Bulletin" than a short sentence, of the recent flood which has left so many of our Parents bereft of their children, and of which you have no doubt read in the daily papers. I will not attempt to give details of the flood. I am right in the affected area, but I thought it might be of interest to friends to know something of it. Before I left Kalra I was with some of them, and I can give you a first hand description of their work, its situation as it was, and its progress. I would take a snap shot, but I happened to be away at the time that the flood broke, having gone to Kalra Station to meet the Mission Committee which was coming from Bombay by train. It would have been on some of the property owners who happened to own more than one lot. These gentlemen, also stated that if other low-lying property owners were willing to pay all the labor in shorter sections these would be done. There was nothing in general that was not harmonious. In fact, they pointed out, each had been done by everyone in the community and there was no immediate hope of any kind may be going on. The train was stationed stopped.

Actual figures are not available but a half-dozen-and-a-eight. Food had to just run, but suffice it to say that he sent to Bombay for more and Bassorah on the west of the line. The rain continued to pour hour and poorly clothes. He had driven with no sign of letting up.

Finally the railway authorities, in side sight, with dry clothes and wash-ed, fed, clothed, housed, and cared for in more abroad, and that we would of all kinds. Many of the people have to go back to Bengal to attend to property other way in all directions.

The way back for Bengal Province, then back of can but this year it will be way up north to Ajmere, and then to Bombay, about 1400 miles from Kalra. In Ahmedabad it was decided, in most time of the year, to go by Bombay, and then by another route of the road. Ahmedabad is about 400 miles from Bombay, and the train journey takes about 12 hours. Very comfortable, the day of starting and Bombay and Ahmedabad together I was a day getting home. I had lots of books, writing to do, and the time flew by. Ahmedabad is a Mohammedan town just the east on Mount Abu, which is a summer resort for Europeans. Mount Abu is about 4000 feet above the sea level, and is reached by a narrow gauge railway from Abu Road Station. I found that the hotels there were full, and that the best accommodation was to be had in the Dak Bungalow, which is a rest house for travellers. I had a very comfortable room, lodging and food for Rs. 12 per day. The total rainfall during the time I was there was 10 inches.

"The Kalra district villagers, who had taken refuge on the village Church, were for four and a half days without food and surrounded by waters. The villagers who had climbed trees had as their companions in this precarious refuge reptiles who also had climbed the trees to escape the fury of the waters. Both men and serpents refrained from injuring each other during the period of their common peril.

"Harrowing tales of the terrible condition in the flooded area, and thrilling stories of rescue work are contained in the Bombay newspaper articles accompanying the letter.

Seed Corn Situation Very Serious in 1927

Plant seed corn will be scarcer next year than it has been for many years, says P. G. Holden, field director for the agricultural extension department of the University of Minnesota, after a survey of the situation in different parts of the state.

The outlook now with the corn crop is no corn belt from two to four weeks later and food likely to freeze before it matures. Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

ON POLICIES

The Editorial column of a rural weekly newspaper is the combination workshop and playground of the editor, and in assuming the responsibility for this department of The Times we experience a mingled feeling of apprehension and hope. The apprehensions are caused by a to intimate knowledge of our own shortcomings. Our hopes are founded on the generally accepted theory that by application and experience one might expect to improve. Until the dawn of that fine day that finds our hopes realized we submit the generous disposition of a good natured public.

Many people have asked us what the editorial policy of the new paper will be. It is a natural question and is asked in good faith. The natural answer to this natural question is "Independent," or at any rate claims to be. The most reactionary and the most radical, fifties papers which are most hopelessly loast and prejudiced, are the loudest in accclaiming their "Independence." So we decided this would not do. A better word appealed to us—a word that still has a meaning. We decided to answer this question, "Constructive." The editorial policy of The Times will be "Constructive."

This is about as far as we feel we should limit ourselves. There are plenty of other limitations imposed by nature. In this column we may supposed to express our ideas and we do not peiceve with an abundance of ideas in any one field that we can post "no trespassing" signs in other fields. The best we can hope to do will be to ramble around wherever fancy or inclination might lead us and present to our readers such observations as we feel might be, interesting. We will try to make these observations constructive.

To adopt our "independence" in this column we will encourage as much as possible the use of the "Public Forum" columns by the readers of the paper. We also promise to keep our opinion out of the news columns. News is news and will be handled as such, impartially. That should be fair enough.

Of course we realize that we will be judged by what we do and not by what we resolve to do, so our resolutions now are not particularly material. Our purpose will be to give this community as good a paper as is humanly possible. All we ask is that we be judged by human standards.

TENANTS BECOMING OWNERS

M. F. Murphy of Grand Forks, in a statement issued through the Greater North Dakota Association, presents several reasons why this is a good time for tenant farmers to become land owners. He cites as his first reason the fact that there are no more "crops of land" in the United States. The day of "free land" is practically past which, with a gradually increasing population will mean, under normal conditions, a gradual increase in the demand for farm products and incidentally gradually increased land values. His second reason is that farm land values are lower now than they have been for many years, and that an increase in value is now starting. Other reasons of less significance, as the general improvement of economic conditions among farmers during the last few years and the prospect of "going it on a shoestring" in the present market, are given.

It is true to say that in this community and in fact in most farming districts land owners in the last years. And this type of land owner is a real asset to a community. The qualities which enabled them to succeed to a degree are assurance that they will succeed in future. They are familiar with the peculiar conditions of the country, a knowledge which sometimes comes expensive to the immigrant from a distant state. There are yet many tenants in Pennington County who are in a position to buy a farm and who doubtless are waiting to "grab a share." Just what is the right time to buy is a difficult thing to say, but it will not require a very big move up to cause a sharp advance from the present low levels and there are some who will wait too late.

HIGHER TARIFF PLEA

In an article "Farmers Called To Tariff Help," the September issue of The Country Gentleman advances the present tariff on farm products and its effect on agriculture. One of the interesting things that is emphasized in this article is the fact that our high freight rates act as a greater barrier to the products of Central West farmers in the seaboard markets than are the present tariffs to the farmers of other countries. The article argues that tariff must be made higher to overcome the low labor cost of foreign countries and also the low cost of transportation by water. It concludes:

"Everywhere sound facts stand out clearly in the present situation. One is the need of a general system of tariff rates on a considerable number of agricultural commodities. Another is that full or adequate aid must be allowed in the tariff for the differences that high railroad freight rates have made in distributing costs within the country. The welfare of the nation will not permit the seaboard sections to become overdependent on foreign producers than upon their fellow Americans in the interior regions.

"And another inescapable fact is that the so-called flexible tariff act lacks the facility required for emergency relief. No such act is impaired by the necessity of making investigations of doubtful value, but the limit of possible relief that is obtainable through it—a 50 per cent increase of the existing tariff rates—is not always enough.

"American farmers are almost altogether buyers of American-made goods. In turn, they should be enabled, through the operation of the tariff, to occupy the home markets to the full extent of their capacity."

CONSTITUTION DAY

Next Saturday, September 17, marks the 140th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, the most famous of all written constitutions, and declared by Gladstone to be the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given moment by the brain and purpose of man. This constitution is not perfect. It is perfect only in so far as it recognizes the right of the people to change it from time to time as a majority of the people should see fit. We, the citizens of this country, should study our Constitution in order to understand the basic principles of our government, how it was created, how it operates, and how it may be made to further promote human happiness."

In a proclamation calling upon the people of his state to observe "Constitution Day," Governor Sorlie of North Dakota, makes the following statement:

"The Constitution is the supreme law of our land. It is the shield of liberty and the guarantee to American citizens of their inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuits of happiness. Based upon unchangeable fundamental principles, the Constitution stands today as soundly adapted to our plan of federal government and our needs, as it was on the day it was ratified, notwithstanding the tremendous expansion in territory and population that has taken place in the United States since that time."

A FINANCIER'S ADVICE

In his last will and testament the late Judge Gary bequeathed to his wife and children something which all of us can share equally in. It was merely a few words of advice, but the fact that that expert in business and financial matters considered the advice of sufficient importance to have it written into his will would indicate that he felt there was real need for it. The two paragraphs following are worthy of consideration:

"I earnestly request my wife and my children and descendants that they steadfastly decline to sign any bonds or obligations of any kind as surety for other persons or parties, that they refrain from anticipating their income in any respect, that they refuse to make any loans except upon bonds of first-class, well-known securities and that they invariably decline to invest in any other doubtful securities or property or enterprise or business.

"They should reject any representations or opinions of others if involved in any doubt. They will be approached frequently, with requests for investment that are not entitled to be relied upon from a business standpoint."

The one clause in this statement which appeals to us as being particularly interesting is that which urges "that they refrain from anticipating their income in any respect." He doesn't want them to contract any debts which they may not be able to pay. It is not probable that a man who has used credit as extensively as Judge Gary must have used it, would be opposed to its use in all forms. It is very evident however, that he wishes his heirs to use it sparingly. In other words, if they wish to gamble, he advises them to pay cash. If they can't pay cash, don't gamble. Don't risk the other fellows money.

The other evening as we were seated on the front porch trying to become accustomed to the finely heavy meal we had just consumed our attention was attracted by the gang of kids who make their headquarters on the lawn. What aroused our interest was the new game they were playing. It was a combination tag-can and traffic cop proposition. It didn't take long to discover that the entire game was built up around a new and particularly shrill whistle one of the boys had acquired. The wagons and most of the other equipment that were used have been abandoned for several weeks. The whistle provided a new use for them, and the resulting traffic on the sidewalk provided more problems for the pedestrians than would be encountered in crossing New York's Broadway during the noon rush.

The adaptability of children is a remarkable thing. They possess powers of magic which would put Aladin to the blush. Without trouble—once in a while to any mysterious lamp or wand they convert an ordinary stick into a flying carpet, a barking broncho or a bloody broadsword. A discarded box becomes a castle or a garage. A wash tub—hand maker, an excellent airplane and a spool is better than a floating racer. Soon, sticks who have never been farther away from home than a dog's pounce in the family Ford can give an accurate imposition of a Sopwith fighting plane in the top story of a New York tenement or an Alaskan miner making his camp on the snow covered banks of the Yukon. And these games played in the land of make-believe are every bit as serious as the grim struggle of reality which they represent.

A friend invited us into his cellar the other day. He said he had something down there that he was very proud of, and, our curiosity being aroused, we accepted his invitation. We had noticed several times previous to this that he was in unusually good humor and we suspected to be shown the cause of his light heartedness. We were not disappointed. His bin was filled to the brim with coal. It was a wonderful sight to behold—but somehow it didn't effect us as it did him. The more he gazed at this bin full of coal the merrier he became. As we gazed upon it a strange feeling of melancholy came over us. Had it been our coal bin it might have been otherwise. As we stood there growing more and more melancholy we made a great resolve. We resolved that if we ever became wealthy and owned a ton full of coal on the first of September we would keep it a secret. We would not gloat over it in public. We would not invite the neighbors in to see it. We decided that displaying a bin full of coal at this season of the year is a vulgar display of wealth.

ROAD TO SUCCESS

In the attempt to solve well-founded success there has been found no substitute for honest labor with the hands or mind. The ages have recognized this as an immutable truism, yet every age, including the present, has had its skeptics, its unbelievers, its seekers after fame and fortune without paying the price in work.

Some sage has said that to attain success one half as much effort as not would avert in attempting to seek success without work. There is much wisdom in the axiom that it takes less mental effort to climb to legitimate success than to climb to an illegitimate success. Legitimate achievement requires no fortifications, no protection. Illegitimate achievement demands more in its retirement than in its attainment.

It is a gross injustice to humanity to say that if there is any one thing more than another, that enlists very much of the attention, time and effort of the people it is in coherence and planning to get something of value for nothing. The number of society's parasites is large but the number of honest, hard-working supporting pillars of society is preponderously larger. Hemidt Sentinel.

COMMENTS ON THE CONSOLIDATION

The consolidation of the Thief River Falls Times and Tribune has undoubtedly followed the trend of the times in newspaper circles. The Times will be in a position to serve Thief River Falls more adequately. Both the city and publishers are to be congratulated.—Nauk Centre Herald.

The two newspapers of Thief River Falls, the Times and Tribune, have consolidated. Thief River Falls is a city of 5,000 people and will hereafter forth have but one newspaper. This is the tendency of the times in the production of newspapers throout the country.—Mahnomen Pioneer.

The Thief River Falls Tribune and Times consolidated last week and the Tribune is no more. The Times is incorporating and the Merrick boys will head that corporation. Mr. Dahlquist employed at the Tribune, has joined the new firm and will be its business manager and editor. The Mattson boys and Dahlquist are experienced newspaper men in every department and will give Thief River Falls an even higher class of newspaper service than before.—Karlstad Advocate.

With the issue of the last week, the Thief River Falls Tribune passed out of existance, its business being consolidated with that of the Times of that city. Mattson Bros., owners of the Times, and W. T. Dahlquist, owner of the Tribune, are forming a new corporation to be known as the Thief River Falls Publishing Co., which will continue publication of the latter paper.

This consolidation will be of much benefit to Thief River Falls as it will eliminate the expense of operating two newspapers in a city of that size. The visiting paper will be able to better cover a field that is not large enough for two papers.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Thief River Falls now has but one newspaper, the Thief River Falls Times, which is the result of the consolidation last week of the Times and the Tribune, the former obtaining the latter.

Under the new arrangement, the paper will be conducted by Messrs. A. E. and C. W. Mattson, publishers of the Times for the past seven years, and Wm. Dahlquist, editor of the Tribune for the last two years, who will form a corporation of which A. E. Mattson will be business manager, Wm. Dahlquist editor and Mrs. Lang manager; and C. W. Mattson shop foreman.

This will make a strong combination and result in giving the community a newspaper which will cover its territory in a capable manner and eliminate the duplication heretofore existing.

In forming this consolidated corporation, the publishers have set a mark for Thief River Falls but doing what has been done in many other county seats.

We prophesy increased success for the new and bigger publication at Thief River Falls.—Crookston Times.

Thief River Falls will enjoy better newspaper service without any duplication than the consolidation of the Times and Tribune at that place. We speak from experience, as Wadena business people and the surrounding territory have been much more satisfied following the joining of the two Wadena papers which occurred October 1st last year. A paper has been made in the right direction, allowing for a more complete coverage of the field and a bigger and better newspaper service than ever for Thief River Falls. We offer congratulations.

In days of yore it was customary for the average little country town to have two or more papers. That worked a hardship upon the advertising end of the business because if one of them. For a number of years Wadena was afflicted with two papers—then Perham came to the rescue and established a real live one newspaper. Now there is but one paper in the city and the advertisers are agreed that the field is better served under the present arrangement than at any previous period. The paper is bigger and better in every way because it is now fully supported and our readers and advertisers are reaping the benefit.—Wadena Pioneer Journal

A WISE MOVE

Bemidji Sentinel

For two or three days now we see the light are now located under one ownership, there was a decided change in the appearance of an extra load and looking as if possible to give the subscribers a better and more worthwhile paper. The time and efforts of Thief River Falls will hereafter be found in one paper, retaining the name of The Thief River Falls Times. Though perfect harmony has existed between the two plants it was evident to both that a successful newspaper could not be conducted under such duplication of effort and expense. Arrangements have been completed therefore for the sale of the Tribune to the owners of the Times, Mr. Rue confining his operations for the present to his paper in southern Minnesota.

An interesting feature of the consolidation is the return to active newspaper work of Scott Laird who was connected with the papers in Thief River Falls many years ago and who possesses a splendid background for active journalism. A. E. Mattson is to be business manager of the consolidated publication, C. W. Mattson mechanical superintendent, Wm. Dahlquist, formerly with the Tribune, editor and advertising manager, and Mr. Laird, news editor.

The combined paper should receive the heartiest kind of support from the business men of this community as the benefits of the consolidation will become apparent from the start and under proper management, such as we feel sure will be possible, there should be no danger of future competition.

FARMERS ELEVATOR COSTS SURVEYED BY UNIVERSITY

Wide Variation in Operating Expenses Revealed by Extended Study.

The varying success with which farmers' elevators are operated has led the division of economics of the department of agriculture, University of Minnesota, to make an extended study of efficient operation of elevators.

This study has disclosed that the costs of operating such elevators are widely distributed. Among the 50 farmers' elevators studied, the range in cost was from 2 cents to 12 cents per bushel for the grain handled, a difference of 650 percent. The results have been published in a small bulletin, "The Efficient Operation of Local Elevators."

This bulletin, after stating the facts as disclosed by the study, contains a short list of suggestions for stabilizing the income of elevators. No attempt is made to cover all of the possibilities in this direction. A few, however, are given.

In the first place, the bulletin says, the management must decide what income will be adequate to the successful operation of the concern. Having decided, this, the next thing is to adopt measures that will provide such an income. It involves a determination of the margins which must be allowed for the handling of each kind of grain. This having been determined, the elevator should be prepared to protect its margin by accurate "hedging."

This again requires the keeping of a daily "long and short" account. The bulletin says that many elevators ultimately get into such accounts

The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the winter's coal supply, the bids to be opened at the regular meeting of the council next Monday evening. TRIP TO AUSTRALIA BY LOCAL TEACHERS QUITE INTERESTING

Miss Ruggles and Miss Martin Remember Friends While Crossing Pacific.

There are undoubtedly quite a number of local people who will be interested in a letter written by Miss Louise Ruggles, who taught in the Thief River schools last year, and who accepted a position in the schools of Australia last spring, as did also Miss Ruth Martin, another teacher here. The two teachers are making the trip on the Steamship Sonoma, and when part way across the Pacific they wrote Mrs. Ed. Hill of this city, under date of July 28, saying in part:

"The whole week on the Briny Deep and although very much on the left the lake. A week from today we expect to drop anchor at Sydney. We've had a little slightly rough sea. That's all it takes for me to "feed the fish." But for the most part Father Neptune has been very meek and well behaved and the voyage a pleasant one. Honolulu came, after a week of only sea and sky Honolulu looked very good to us and nearly a week later Pago Pago still better. Perhaps we expected too much at Honolulu.

"We stopped at Honolulu in the morning and afternoon, getting there at 8 o'clock in the morning and leaving at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. We had eight hours, so saw much during that time—the drive around the island, which is 30 miles in circumference, and a visit to the Pali—a cliff 1,200 feet high, where the wind is so terrific that you lean against it and are held there. The view at the top is beautiful; it seems the whole valley below was spread out for us, and several Australian passengers aboard the same boat with us had never been there—they had been on board for months. I have a little difficulty understanding Australian English, however. It's not much learning anything they say."

Miss Ruth Martin, who is making the trip with Miss Ruggles, added a few lines, which are also of interest to her friends here. She says in part:

"Oh, but we are having a wonderful time. It's rather fine ten years of my life than have missed this. I would like to have stayed in Honolulu longer, but when I saw Samoa I forgot all about it. Wish we took in the future, won't you? We'll never forget Thief River Falls, tho, and are lonesome for it now."

Members of the Zion Lutheran church and friend, will be pleased to learn that Rev. Wistero, who was ill and confined to his bed for nearly a year, is now able, with the aid of crutches, to be up and about.

Miss Mildred Heiden, graduate of the local high school, whose parents reside at Alexandria, is entering the Michael Reese hospital in Chicago for a nurse s training.

Miss Katherine Hodgson of Crookston, known to many here, left Friday for Wayne, Neb., where she will join the Wright Players, Inc., and will spend the winter playing in stock. She is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hodgson.

Walter Larson, who was graduated from the local high school last spring will attend the North Dakota Agricultural College at Fargo the coming year.

People Are Interesting.

The women dress much as we do; the most of them had on rather a short dress with a long skirt underneath. The men for the most part wear only a cloth, like a dish towel, of various colors, draped about their hips.

"Shortly after the arrival of the boat, natives began flocking from every direction to the public market where they squatted among their wares on rugs, mats, baskets, trays, their carved kava bowls, implements of warfare, toy boats, heads of needs, and shells, for the passengers to buy. "Just before we left there natives gave some hula dances on deck, and a native band played for us. It was certainly good. We have a four-piece orchestra on board but they are only mediocre.

"On Friday—Two Thursdays.

"Tomorrow we come to Apia, Fiji Islands, which should be immensely interesting. Have written a letter and three me at Adelaide, South Australia, c. G. P. O., until I send you my address. The postage will be five cents.

"This is my first week without a Friday, due to re-crossing the I. D. line. We get a little slightly rough sea and the passengers then and two Thursdays this week.

New Constellations.

"Now that we have crossed the equator we look for new constellations in the evening, instead of the Dipper and the North star.

"I had some American money changed to Australian at the boat. I know I'll have a hard time with it, as it is so confusing. Have had some interesting experiences before we got to the Australian boat. Have met the captain and several Australian passengers aboard the same boat with us had never been there—they had been on board for months. No Chalk Lines Must Prevent Customer Satisfaction

Maeterlink once told a story about an ant that actually starved rather than cross an imaginary chalk line circle drawn about it.

We have never observed the habits of ants very carefully, so cannot vouch for the story, but we do know that there are many "chalk lines" in the management of a retail store that hinder the perfect accomplishment of customer-satisfaction.

Rules, of course, are essential, but it is astonishing how much can be done when two people are honestly trying to accomplish the same end. The next time you have a problem that seems a bit out of the ordinary, or requires something special in the way of service, talk to our manager about it. Often he can suggest a way out of the difficulty.

We don't want the chalk line of "it never has been done" to become a barrier between ourselves and our customers.

SURPLUS CROP CONTROL NEED OF FARMERS

Congressman Selvig Visits Rushford Where He Was Born and Raised.

WAS GUEST OF HONOR AT COMMERCIAL CLUB FETE

Altho an effective surplus control law is necessary to put agriculture on a basis with industry, the personal efficiency of each farmer must be brought to successful farming, according to Congressman Selvig of Crookston, who was the speaker of the evening last week Wednesday at Rushford, in south eastern Minnesota, where he was born and raised.

Following a banquet tendered in honor of the Congressional visitor at the community building, the banquet having been staged in honor by the Commercial club of that city.

Asked to comment on the agricultural situation in Minnesota, Selvig in an was stated that there were many causes of unprofitableness along certain lines, especially dairying. In the Red River valley, his district, larger beet growing was encouraged, and Sheep production is also increasing.

"Tariff protection is effective for the dairy farmer, for products of wool, flax and sugar, and Mr Selvig explained the same in regard to changes in adjusting other tariff schedules, specifically pertaining to certain surplus crops, and the effect on the prices depressing influence of the surplus.

Farmer Must Be Efficent

"The farmer personal efficiency counts heavily in a successful agriculture," the speaker declared. "He, therefore, should be organized so that they, too, may speak with a united voice. The farmer in his manner agriculture can be brought up to a parity with industry which must be done to maintain a sufficient and fluent.

The speaker referred to the evil debts position the farmers of the United States occupy in their higher standards of living, as compared with many other countries. The farmer is interested, he declared, in a high degree of industrial activity and good wages for the urban population, as that means an increased purchasing power for buying the farmers' product. That this high level exists, the speaker showed by the fact that the income to the U. S. Bureau of Labor the average daily wage for labor in the United States was $5.60 a day, as compared with $2.00 in England, $1.25 in Germany, $1.20 in Belgium, $1.00 in France and $.90 in Italy. The paramount problem in this country is to afford protection to the American farmer, Mr Selvig asserted. Congress has struggled with this problem for 8 years and will be found, he confidently predicted.

Her mother missed her shortly afterward and on glancing at the river saw the wagon upside down on the surface. It was nearly three hours before the body was recovered.

PLANS TO KEEP HIGHWAYS OPEN COMING WINTER

State Highway Department is Ordering 200 Miles of Snow Fencing Now

The state highway department of Minnesota is preparing for the storms of next winter, and is ordering snow fence in unusually large quantities. Not less than it did last year, altho none of the fence ordered will be put up in the northern counties, specializing in the southern and southeastern parts of the state where the snow came before the heavy storms of winter. The ordering of the snow was to a more or less extent responsible for the heavy snows last winter.

Two hundred additional miles of snow fence are being ordered at this time, bringing the total up to 500 miles, 200 being placed last year. The fence will be distributed among the various maintenance departments in charge of each county road for additional protection.

EDITORIAL

Just as in the popular song-hit, "moonlight" goes hand-in-hand with "roses" so also do "sunshine and studies" form a matrimonial agreement. The entire past week has been nothing but a succession of glorious, sunshiny days—for that, we are the only ones who can enjoy the "great open spaces". No feeble pen can quite reaches the horror of those first days of physical imprisonment in those famous institutes, of learning! the mind must settle advanced forms of reality, within, and "rithmetic while the body would "gambol on the green" to be quite. Just as "mom" perspire, and women get in a glow, thus, are we preparing and glowing students, accustomed to our annual chafing under the bonds of instruction. What we need is a little nature has a mean streak somewhere up her back—but after all nobody there! fourths of Thief River Falls can boast the—best—in the—country—in three-fourths of railroads and electrics, to open up with a week of real weather for—school. Within—reach, we have, like Bonaparte Napoleon met our Waterloo; now let the battle wage.

HELP BOOST THE PROGRESS

Do you not take a good deal of pride in doing something for the enjoyment and profit of your school? You, who participate in dramatics, athletics and musical organizations, thus are doing your share to make the name Lincoln stand out among the local We, of the Progress staff, are also trying our best to express our loyalty to our school in the form of a whole paper to it. Progress instead of about half a paper, as heretofore. In some very good material has to be excluded due to the lack of space. And this isn't fair to many of the students and teachers.

It seems to many of us that a school as large as Lincoln ought to be entitled to a better representation of what's going on within it. School activities are the things that count deep in the heart of each of us, there is a lot of tender feeling for some school or another, and no matter how much you pretend to dislike it

We owe our school the utmost respect; why not show that we are capable of accomplishing a task a little the more difficult with greater results? Get busy and boost for the whole paper, Progress! at once

SENIOR CLASS HOLDS ITS ANNUAL ELECTION

Financial Report of Class Treasurer Shows Fine Condition Exists

The regular election of officers for the Senior class was conducted Wednesday of last week, at which Friend, Paul H. C. Hand, adviser for the graduates of 1927, was unanimously elected to that office for the present session. The officers, headed by Chester Myron, the success Harriet Fuller, are as follows: vice-president, Margaret Hjerkenn; secretary, Roy Oren; treasurer, Esther Ness; sergeant-at-arms, Frederick Wingler and Earl Beasler.

At the close of last term, the treasurer's report showed a cash balance of $792.02. Since the bell system was put in full by the preceding class, the outlook for the class of '28, which has an enrollment of ninety-five members, is comparatively good. A fine class play is promised, and many financial help will be given to the Frontier and Progress this year.

It is expected that the class will soon be completed for the annual Senior-Faculty reception. After this, the most important of the immediate seniors' duties will be the election of the 1927 Frontier staff, class rings having been selected last year.

Four New Typewriters for Commercial Class

Results Last Spring Were Not Made Public in Last Issue of Progress

Although an account of May and June commercial winners has not been published in the columns of the "Progress" Issue last spring, a large number of students were awarded pins and certificates in each of the contests reached by Miss Minnie Krueger.

Eight advanced shorthand students received certificates for "taking seventy minutes test". They were: Bernice Erlandson, Rosa Erlandson, Ethel Myrin, Margaret Johnson, Thelma Dahl, Marguerite Johnson, Agnes Angell, Frances Knutson, Esther Holden. This test was optional, and those who are taking advanced shorthand this year may take the members test.

Of the typing students, certificates of Proficiency were awarded to the following, who made a speed rate of sixty words a minute for forty minutes: Judith Swenson, Elinor Carlson, Gordon Johnson, Esther Ireland, Mona Hilden Anderson, Gabrielle Remmen, Gladys Halverson, Raymond Larson, Esther Ness, Martha Jelle, and Bernice Struble.

Bronze pins awarded to Ethel Burns, Frances Jonstaun, Rita Fiterman, Leonard Knaffle, Alvina Knaffle, Lena Anson, Frances Knutson, and Frederick Wengeler, who made between forty and sixty words; received a silver pin, while Marion Reynolds received a gold pin besides a leather bill fold for a speed between sixty and seventy words a minute on the Royal typewriter.

SLIDE ON KNOX GROUNDS

A Shoot the Shoot slide has been installed on the Knox school grounds, and has been very popular since the school opened. Despite the fact that a small son of Mr and Mrs. H. Berg-trom broke his arm accidentally while playing there.

EASY TO FIND FAULT

The simplest and easiest thing in the world to do is to find fault. The weakness of humanity are in agreement that no special talent is needed to criticize.

It is easy and generally only necessary to know nothing about a subject to be most severe in the public schools and then complain about the way the schools are managed.

It is easy to find fault with the boys from the janitors erection out and look at the critic's face about the pupils officials.

The path of the least resistance is to find fault all day or spend Sunday seeking a mistake and then write letters to parents because it does not drain the pen.

The least possible activity is to sit back on the sidelines and refuse to encourage the community activities and then growl about the way public affairs are conducted.

It is the easiest thing in the world to "knock" and the most despicable thing, self-centered and, chronic grouch.

Every community, regardless of its size, has its discontented citizens who never find anything but bad in anything and who delight in complaining about it.

A constant number will always exist, but it is a horrible example for those who make honest effort to be helpful and progressive citizens. Perhaps they are of a type that, after all, because they are a constant warning of what present tendencies people want to avoid becoming.

Industrial Training Appeals

Thirty-six pupils are entered in Shop I, or freshman Industrial Training, in comparison with the thirty-nine of last year, according to C. W. Pape, instructor. The total number registered for Industrial Training II is only twelve, while last term there were eighteen. Mr. Pape states that the comparatively low enrollment is due to a lack of interest in the subject but to the late harvest season which is keeping many boys from school

FRESHMEN NIGHT

NOT SO STRENUOUS

"Gee, whiz, that initiation wasn't so bad after all," remarked Freddy Freshmen, after a strenuous night. "We expected about ten times worse. Why, we didn't mind this a bit! The drill was was just right—water warm and everything. In fact, we could have played in all night if the Sophs hadn't gotten us out. And then the night air was so 'aghh' that it didn't hurt us when we did come out. As for the paddle wheel, it was a featherbed. Of course, some of us got it in the neck—pardon me, the seat—but I'll bet Freshmen are supposed to bear unheard-of-hardships without a murmur, we'll let that go. The evening joy ride, of course, was well chosen, it was just what we needed—a little exercise; according to a Freshmen dietary, a person should walk five miles a day any way. The only thing I didn't like was the suggestion made by a Junior who said that we ought to pay for the ride out. But, gee, the initiation wasn't half as bad as the law we're going to put across next fall!

CERTIFICATES AND PRIZES TO MANY STUDENTS

MRS. FROEHLICH SUBSTITUTES

Mrs. H. W. Froehlich substituted the past several days for Miss Mabel Severson, who was the only teacher not reporting for duty the opening day of school, she having taken up nursing. She was unable to begin duties for Thief River Falls from Blue Earth.

Chevrolet Production Gains.

Shattering the previous production records for the manufacture of gear shift cars for the eighth consecutive month this year, the Chevrolet Motor Company in August completed 91,453 units for its greatest month in history, according to figures released this week. This new record brings the total output during the first eight months of this year to 765,247 units as against 513,807 units during the same period last year and 782,117 units during the entire year of 1926. Kiwanis. The 1926 output was passed this year on August 12.

4-H CLUB WORK

Government figures show that about eleven million boys and girls are on the farms of America. This means approximately half of them are engaged in some form of club work which will enable them to become better farmers and better farmers when they reach maturity.

It also means that there is a real expansion of this type of work among young people on the farm. It is the best form of work for farm boys and girls on the farm because it is the most practical and helps them better practice on the farms in the home or the community.

Typical lines of club work are: Growing an acre of corn or potatoes according to directions, raising a dairy or beef calf, a sheep or a sow and litter of pigs according to local situation, growing fruit and vegetables in accordance with the dietary needs of the family, canning the surplus fruit and vegetables they grow, other phases of farm and home work that especially appeal to young people.

The particular value of club work is that it gets hold of ground every while their minds are plastic and gives them guidance while young, it teaches them some of the inspiring things in agriculture, and gives them some of the possibilities as a life job, it provides opportunity for them to take home responsibility in dealing with their ability and gives them a part in solving the problems of rural communities. It influences the farm and home practices of the members' families. It develops rural leadership.

In short, 4-H club boys and girls are doers. They are taught high ideals and standards. They meet together, play together, cooperate, achieve. They play the game fairly. They demonstrate, work, earn money, and acquire property. They learn and teach the better way on the farm, in the home, and in the community. They build up their bodies and their health through right living. They train their hands to be useful, their minds to think clearly, and their hearts to be kind.

ABOMINABLE, SUFFOCATING, UNBEARABLE

Sarcastic Communication to Weather Bureau From Student Body

Not all the material in this paper is assigned and written by the staff, there is a contribution from the student at times—truthful and, in this case, refining the thought of one of our editorials.

We print by request the undersigned:

September's Hottest Day

Weather Bureau,
"Progress" Editors,

Gentlemen: If we may correctly call yesterday such, we would like to register a protest against the weather. We regret very much to state the fact that we have been forced to endure what has been abominable, atrocious, suffocating, unbearable. We have no excuse to explain nor, but for the early frosts in September, when unbearable, suffocating climate to which we are opposed and unaccustomed. If this September's weather is surely hasn't been the best we have experienced, but we feel we must protest against it, and we hereby register our protest here and direct the words of our protest effectively to those somewhat abated. Yours for a cool breeze.

ENCOURAGING TALK MADE BY PRINCIPAL H. C. HAND

High school reopened Tuesday morning of last week after long summer vacation. At the opening assembly, the students sang "How do you do?" to each of the members of the faculty as they were introduced by Superintendent Morris. Dye followed with a welcome to the faculty, student body, and normal department; giving a special welcome to the new freshmen. This was succeeded by an instructive talk by Mr. Hand, high school principal, in which he stated that he hoped the students would achieve much this coming year in sports, music, public speaking and daily lessons.

After each student had received his enrollment card, bought the textbooks and had been assigned his seat he was excused. Regular classes began Tuesday afternoon.

A WELCOME TO THE FACULTY

To the faculty members of Lincoln High a most sincere and hearty welcome from all students is extended through the editorial column. For the benefit of those of our readers in which studies have been revolved by Superintendent Morris, the new faculty members are mentioned, together with the subjects they will teach, or working, as circumstances dictated, the grades in which they will work with the people. But the faces which we are to see daily belong to: Miss Ruth Mickelson, whom we like best to associate, are the following:

With the exception of Miss Gerber, who will teach Spanish and Latin, all the new faculty members are of necessary physical education, all the teachers forever our minds for num ber of years of work in the high. In the future, be better equipped to counsel high school pupils in their choice of courses, and guide them to the best vocations.

Upon entering the profession of teaching, it is the duty of each teacher to show them better practice on the profession in the home or the community.

Typical lines of club work are: Growing an acre of corn or potatoes according to directions, raising a dairy or beef calf, a sheep or a sow and litter of pigs according to local situation, growing fruit and vegetables in accordance with the dietary needs of the family, canning the surplus fruit and vegetables they grow, other phases of farm and home work that especially appeal to young people.

11 ELEVATORS HANDLED MUCH GRAIN IN 1926

Comprehensive Report Has Been Filed With State Tax Commission.

INFORMATION COMPILED FROM ASSESSOR ROLLS

Oats Led All Grains in Pennington, Wheat and Flax Coming Next

Altho the crop conditions were not of the best a year ago in this vicinity, yet the elevators of Pennington county handled quite a volume of grain, according to figures compiled by Deputy County Auditor Axel Risberg for the state tax commission, the data taken from the various reports of assessors. A total of 19,485 bushels of all kinds of grain entered the elevators located at Thief River Falls, Silverton, Plaisly, Two Strikge, St. Hilaire and Huot.

Oats in First Place

Oats was the crop most in evidence, according to the figures, a total of 10,256 is stated. Of this grain having been handled, about equally divided between the two city institutions and the seven outside the city, the returns showing 69,192 bushels in the former and 60,941 in the latter.

Wheat was the second largest crop handled, the report showing a total of 37,931 bushels for all elevators, the four concerns in this city taking care of 26,295 bushels as compared to 10,-720 bushels by the other seven elevators.

Flax trailed closely behind wheat, registering a total of 29,245 bushels, the bulk of which, 25,000 bushels, was also elevators, three companies reporting a total of 29,245, while the four local elevators had a total of only 4,245 bushels.

Little Buckwheat Handled

Rye, barley and buckwheat are the other three grains embodied in the report sent in, the total of rye being given as 46,312 bushels, barley as 4,-066 bushels, and buckwheat with only 4,698 bushels, three fifths of the rye crop was handled by the elevators of Warren and two fifths in the city. These proportions are not the same, however, when it comes to barley for just a little over half was handled outside the city. Over half of the barley handled was classified as feed, and 862 at St. Hilaire, while the elevators here take care of the remaining 2,946 bushels.

MINNESOTA GAINS IN COW TESTING WORK

With the organization of six new cow testing associations in Minnesota and 30,000 dairy cows on test, the Four more will be set in operation before the end of the year, according to C. H. Eckles, who represent the agricultural extension service of the university in carrying on the work, forecast a total of 100 such associations by November 1st. The great abundance of hay and other feed produced in the state this year is the principal reason, why interest in cow testing is making such advances, they say.

States leading in cow testing work are Minnesota with 160 associations, Michigan with 110, Minnesota with 92, and Iowa with 90. There is a chance that Minnesota will close the gap with Michigan and take second place, but lower that may be, the number of cows in Michigan's 110 associations is far less than in which of the number and the cows in the 92 associations in Minnesota.

Blasting Will Settle Many Highway Sinkholes

A method of settling sink holes by blasting, which will save the expense, danger and delay which usually are had with grading through peat and muck, has been devised by Minnesota highway engineers, according to a bulletin from the department.

On one project near New Brighton which has been under construction this summer there were several short fills across swamps in which soundings showed that the solid bottom was from five to thirty feet below the surface. A grade built on top of this surface would be subject to settlement for several years.

A dump was started out over the swamp and built from one to six feet higher than required by the plans. Then holes were bored through this and material thirty feet apart and about each hole loaded with from 50 to 150 pounds of 40 per cent gelatine, and charged down on solid bottom. Sometimes it was necessary to shoot a series of charges near the shoulders.

In all, places where mud and cobbles were prevented, the blasting was done before any solid material had been placed on the grade. Holes were bored through the entire fill and a foot apart, along the center line, two sticks of dynamite placed in each, and a long string blasted at one time. This made a trench five or six feet wide and twenty feet wide at the top. Further blasting was done along the sides of the fill and the holes tamped, but less powder was needed.

Besides being cheaper than having a pile driving outfit to work, the holes, perhaps several times more extensive than there is every likelihood that a fills made by the method described enough to carry concrete almost any trees.

Tourists Will Appreciate Improvements of Highways

Autoists who have occasion to go to Fargo will be interested in learning that the pouring of concrete on the Arkansas trunk highway, No. 10, from Hawley to Moorhead was completed this week, and that the entire project would be filled in within the next two weeks, permitting the opening of the paved 20 mile section by the close of the month.

The grading of trunk highway No. 30 through Callaway will also be completed this week, thus shortening a distance from Thief River Falls to Fargo. This particular section of road has been a hazardous one for the past few years after heavy rains, or the improvement will be greatly appreciated.

It is also stated that the trunk highway eastward from Detroit to and Wadena will have been partially improved by the close of the present year, which will make a similar time past.

With a new system of drainage and several low places filled in with sand, the road leading into the Grygla country following the ridge west of the Red Lakes is now passable for autos, it is stated by Highway Engineer W. H. Johnson of Beltrami county at Bemidji.

Four culverts have been installed and are taking care of the surplus water, which has prevented travel at times over part of the road just north of the outlet, while in two several holes in which many autoists have been trapped immediately north of the outlet sand has been used as a fake to put the thoroughfare in a much better condition, according to the engineer.

Charging to Re-connect a Telephone Keeps Down Your Rates

Your rates for telephone service are kept low because you would otherwise be required, because a charge is made to help pay the cost of re-connecting a telephone.

If we didn't make this charge, the entire cost of re-connecting a telephone would have to be included in the rates charged all of our subscribers.

It is only fair to the subscribers who seldom or never service, that a part of the expense of connecting a telephone should be paid by those who move frequently.

Even though a telephone is already in place, much work is required before service can be given over it. Wiring has to be done in the central office and inter-office, operating and other records must be changed. This costs money.

FIRE LOSSES IN THIS CITY LAST YEAR $5,477.00

State Insurance Department Figures Show Improvement in Local Condition

DECREASE IN LOSSES IS GENERAL THRUOUT STATE

Insurance Premiums Paid Are Practically Double the Amount of Losses

The showing of Thief River Falls as compared to other cities of the state standing up favorably at the time losses among our good citizens for the year ending June 30, 1927, is the state insurance department, just issued by Commissioner Schmahl, in which the losses and premiums paid out for the year amounted to $5,477.00 and $9,905.68 respectively, a total of the amounts paid in premiums in the state, and the amount of losses sustained by fire, the premiums were paid by companies doing business in the state.

Losses Decrease

Thruout the state as a whole, there was a decrease in losses for the year total for the preceding year by nearly $1,000,000 at the same time premiums received by companies doing business in the state, and the application of laws enacted by the legislature of 1925 and 1927 are beginning to show results, according to Commissioner Schmahl, who made recommendations to the legislature of 1925 and 1927 as to what should be taken to correct the various automatic fires in the children.

Although not it is believed it is such good will result from this state and unlawful fires, if laws are not enacted in the future.

Some were so seriously crippled that they had to be assisted to the office, others with only minor discomforts, many of them coming to long distance to attend the examinations and advice offered.

That 24 of those examined have conditions which are so impaire in life or completely cure or impaire is information contained in a report just received from the Minnesota Public Health Association, which sponsored the clinic. Twelve of these had never had the advantage of an eye to examination before, and did not know that they could be helped.

THE BIG PARADE IS INFINITELY MORE THAN WAR PLAY

New York Critic Says Play Is Packed Full of Wit, Humor and Pathos

When the metropolitan newspapers such as the New York World, speak out in glowing terms of a play splendid, it certainly must have in it something worth while. And that is the manner in which the above mentioned paper describes The Big Parade which will be the feature picture for three nights beginning last night, two performances Wednesday and Saturday matinees Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. The World's critic says:

"The Big Parade is splendid. It is packed full of wit, humor, pathos and heart-grips like the undertow. It is one of those rare achievements in the picture world which is not only good, great, powerful, but is also entertaining. It is a picture that will go into city after city and state after state and make money. It is a picture that will be seen by humanity as war, the big fearful war. It is utterly free from sentimentalism and bokum, but full of sentiment. It is a different picture war play that there is

Mr. Humphrey was well satisfied with local conditions, which, he stated were in good accord as he had seen in other parts of Minnesota and also Iowa. Particularly was he pleased with the showing of alfalfa in Pennington county.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION MEET

Two Valuable Electric Lamps Are Property of Water & Light Dept.

A freak in the way of electric light globes, or rather two freaks, may be seen in the office of City Clerk F. G. Desrosiers, where two of the old style Edmonds lamps are in use, being of the 150 watt size.

They were purchased nearly ten years ago when the building was occupied by the Red Owl store was erected by Albert Lindeman for a clothing store, the city water and light department securing them from the General Electric company. The lights were installed in the building when completed and remained there during its occupancy by Mr. Lindeman and later by John Morgan, after which they were removed to the auditorium for use by the city itself.

Representatives of the General Electric company have on several occasions called at the office of the city clerk and requested that the lamps be returned to their place of manufacture, but they have stayed put, following the fact that much of it is loose to such an extent that it is to be used.

The water has been standing in the pipe of late and the taste of water is now noticeable. Extra pipe lines have been put in, but the old wooden portion of the dam, therefore being a permanent affair, and over the spillway constructed piece of the dam will shortly be replaced with concrete.

The excellent stage of water is greatly appreciated by the water and light department, for the power house is being used to advantage every day lately to accomplish the effect of the reduced water level, being a material saving in oil used in the Diesel engines which furnish the power. Undoubtedly the old plant will be used a great deal during the winter as an auxiliary plant.

Work is Inspected

J. C. Jacobson of the Jacobson Engineering company, Minneapolis, was in this city Wednesday for an inspection of the work and to look over the plans in connection with the manner in which the construction was being pushed. L. H. Erickson, the county engineer, also inspection trip sometime next week.

The new concrete spillway, the water wheels has been notified to have a representative here to assist in the installation of the new generators.

Working on Mill Race

The east concrete wall for the new mill race has been completed and the work of excavating for the west wall will be started as soon as the excavation of the race has proceeded far enough to permit the framework to be installed, into which the concrete will be poured.

Two trucks were busy yesterday hauling away the black dirt being excavated from this race, it being placed on the low ground in the city park where it can later be used as a top dressing for the park and also for the filling in of the old power house basin. It has been our pleasure to see the work being pushed by the state, desirable dirt, including the

2,300 ACRE GAIN MADE IN ALFALFA

Township and Sweepstake Prizes Proved Very Attractive To Many Farmers

There will be an increase of approximately 2,300 acres in alfalfa in Pennington county this season, according to County Agent J. J. McCann, as the result of the township alfalfa acreage contest staged by the committee this summer.

Fifteen pounds of alfalfa seed as a first prize, and ten pounds as a second prize, together with a sweepstakes prize of 30 pounds for the largest acreage in the county, were spurred on not only those who have been making alfalfa, but also others who wished to try raising this money-making crop.

The prizes were based on the size of the farm, so that the man with the small farm has the same chance of winning as the man with a large acreage.

It is expected that additional reports of acreage will be received by Mr. McCann this week, or early next week, in which case the list of the winners will be published in The Times next Thursday. Each grower who has secured a good acreage has also increased the acreage for 1927, if he wishes to compete for the prizes.

NORTHWESTERN BANKERS TO MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

The annual fall meeting of the bankers of the four northwestern counties of Minnesota will be held in Warren next Wednesday, Sept. 28,

A COUNTY FAIR HAS NOTHING ON TIMES WINDOW

People Responding Readily to Request for Samples of What Soil Produces

Bang, bang, bang. That's the way the Times office was assailed last Friday afternoon when Mrs. C. T. Heinse, residing south of the city, came in with a display window of three specimens of garden truck she had raised. The first item to be weighed 9 and 10 pounds each, and the rabbage 14 pounds, and the potatoes 3 pounds. They are all good specimens of what can be raised on the soil that underlies this section.

On Saturday we were presented with an 18 inch beet, and while it has been our pleasure to see beets of this size before, we have never seen one that was 18 inches in diameter, and the rabbage was a real one, being of the nature of a "freak" than anything else. This was brought in by Donovan Matteon, 503 Arnold Avenue.

The first of this week Mrs. P. Wendt, a resident of the east side, brought in a few fine tomatoes and five bean pods. One of the tomatoes closely resembles a pumpkin, another looks like the toiffers on Uncle Sam's head, while the third could readily be mistaken for a bulb that had recently been placed in a bowl of water.

By far the largest variety of produce in the display brought in by J. Lemky residing on the F. J. Stefan farm, 6½ miles southeast of town. There are snake cucumbers of immense proportions, long peas, pear shaped yellow tomatoes, citrons, summer squash and Hubbard squash, cantaloupes, and the pumpkins.

Half a dozen fine apples were brought in Wednesday morning by Math Barnes, who raised them on the Ole Lee farm in the park on Riverside avenue for several years. The apples are of good size and flavor, and are wonderful samples of what can be raised here in the line of fruit.

Ripe black raspberries on stalks from the garden of Andy South also testify to the productivity of the sandy property adjoining.

The display window of The Times is a veritable feast on county fair week, and will undoubtedly see other fine samples brought in for display, and they will be given suitable space and are spacious.

CONSTRUCTION AT DAM PROGRESSES SATISFACTORILY

Walls of New Power House Will Be Completed by Close of the Week

ENGINEERS IN CHARGE HERE INSPECTING WORK

Men to Install Machinery Are Expected to Arrive in Few Days

A visit to the hydro electric plant at the dam this week will reveal quite a change from that of a week ago, for the continued favorable weather conditions has permitted almost constant work to proceed at all of the places where crews can work without interfering with each other.

The walls of the new power house are rapidly nearing the top, and will be put on within a few days, per mitting the lumps for the roof to be put in, after which will come the installation of the large generators.

Ditch No. 15, which runs directly south of the Hoil Owen cemetery, is quite to handle the water on the west side of the city, and will be completed this week, the result being that there will be no flooding of the basements in the park.

The original specifications are just as they were drawn up, and the contractor is determined to put the plan thru and will not change it. Mr. McCann, who is the engineer in charge, says that he is satisfied with the work done by the contractor, and that he expects to finish the job in good shape.

Will Benefit Low Prices

Speaking of the ditch the last issue of the Hoil Owen says:

"Ditch No. 15, which runs directly south of the Hoil Owen cemetery, is quite to handle the water on the west side of the city, and will be completed this week, the result being that there will be no flooding of the basements in the park.

LUTHER LEAGUE OF T.R.F. CIRCUIT TO HOLD MEETING

CHOIR OF 150 VOICES WILL BE AN ATTRACTION

Rev. Tullakson of This City Will Be Liturgist and Deliver An Address

The seventh annual Young People's Luther League convention of the Thief River Falls circuit, comprising the territory between Baudette and St. Hilaire, will be held in Middle River Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 24 and 25, according to announcement made by the First Lutheran church of that place. A program of interest has been prepared and every effort is being made to make the meeting a success in every way.

The sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Hoil Owen school, one of which is declined this year for the best of the lake wagon as the large boats are taking the grain.

Sunday Session

On Saturday, Sept. 17, a total of 1,000 cars of oats were inspected during the day, this number being 200 more than were inspected at the local elevators on the previous day, while the first two weeks of the month have been running about 500 cars per day, the total for the first half of the month being 17,316 cars, or an average of 1,154 cars per day, while wheat receipts alone for the first two weeks of the month amounted to 1,000,000 bushels, or over 16,000,000 bushels.

The largest train of grain ever sent out of the local yards was that going to Duluth last Saturday, Sept. 17, when a total of 72 cars of the heavy grade rushes of the Duluth Minneapolis and Duluth—the three terminals—were valued at 29,805,000 bushels. This is the largest train to have any single day's receipts in the history of the station.

Conservative estimates of grain brokers and others connected with grain shipments from the northwest state this year will be over 200,000,000 bushels, or the greatest shipment in a short space of time.

Combined Method Marketing

Use of the combine, a combination harvesting and threshing machine, is also handling the tremendous shipments of grain that have been testing the facilities of the railroads the past fortnight.

Each combine has been harvesting and threshing better than 45 acres of grain a day, and it is estimated that there are more than 200 combines working in the northern half of South Dakota.

Reports to officials of the various railroads here in Duluth show that the small grains are being diverted to the Head of the Lakes in greater volume than ever before.

The slow progress of the harvesters into North Dakota is not a new one promise that the bulk of wheat and other small grains would flow steadily for at least another two weeks, with the peak to be reached by the close of the present month, or early in October.

RE-DISCOUNT RATE IN CUT BY FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD

The Ninth District Federal Reserve bank directors have announced a reduction in re-discount rates from four to three and a half percent. This is the lowest re-discount rate that has prevailed in this district for four years, and places the ninth district on the same basis as the other districts thruout the country.

MARSHALL COUNTY'S NEW DITCH STIRS UP MUCH CONTROVERSY

Thirty-Five Farmers Near Argyle Hold Meetings in Opposition

Marshall county is made in a recent issue of the Argyle Journal which tells of the controversy that has arisen in Marshall county, starting at a point near Argyle, being extended and completing into the Middle River at a point near New Solum.

A petition therefor was circulated and quite generally signed by tillers of the soil in the territory affected, but lately some land owners have come to the conclusion that their lands would be flooded by the waters flow, and meetings have been held to fight the proposed ditch. One of these meetings was held 24 Argyle last week, the result being that there will be a "finish fight against the ditch."

The following is from the Argyle Journal:

"Reports to officials of the various railroads here in Duluth show that the small grains are being diverted to the Head of the Lakes in greater volume than ever before.

The slow progress of the harvesters into North Dakota is not a new one promise that the bulk of wheat and other small grains would flow steadily for at least another two weeks, with the peak to be reached by the close of the present month, or early in October.

Governor Christianson, Commander Zumwalde and Auxiliary President Boost

I am pleased to add my hearty endorsement to the program.

Gov. Christianson says: For the boys who made the supreme sacrifice, we can do nothing but honor their memory and the glory in which they rest. But for those who are with us, let us patriotically respond to the call for their welfare.

State Commander Zumwalde further says: Let us help by saying "Mindful of the efficient service rendered by the D. A. V. in the past, I purchase the sale, and hope it meets with a generous response from the public on Saturday, Sept. 24.

Published Every Thursday

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

The best news it has been our privilege to publish for a long time was the story carried last week to the effect that school taxes in this city would be reduced approximately nine mills next year, bringing the levy for this department of our government down to about forty-five mills. Figures of this kind speak eloquently of the progress being made in this community. They advertise to the rest of the world that we have definitely turned the corner on public expenditures and are doubling back on the road to low taxes. They encourage local property owners by the knowledge that we are traveling in the right direction.

WE ARE REPRESENTED

If a Thief River Falls team won a district championship in football and went into competition for the state championship the community would be up on its toes boasting for victory. The team would feel its backing and that its efforts would be watched with intense interest by the folks back home. It doesn't happen to be football this time but the situation is the same in other respects. The Womans Club chorus of this city won the championship of the district at the convention held here last May and now they are to represent the district in the state contest to be held at Crookston early in October. Singing is not as spectacular a pastime as football and the same enthusiasm that a football game would arouse could not be expected. The honors to be gained, however, are equally great and in this contest the chorus deserves the support, if not as enthusiastic, at least as fervent, which a good football team would inspire.

FORGET-ME-NOT

Ten years ago millions of America's boys marched away to war. Thousands of them made the supreme sacrifice. Hundreds of thousands of them are still making a sacrifice—the sacrifice of a lingering death. To them the war has not yet ended.

Our nation, as a government, has done and is doing all that a government can do for these men. But the government is a cold and impersonal machine. Congressional appropriations, paid from tax levies, do not represent any particular sentiment of the public. The voluntary sacrifice of a dime represents more individual sentiment than the involuntary sacrifice of a dollar paid in taxation. The individual purchase of a Forget-Me-Not next Saturday is a more blessed offering than a million dollar congressional appropriation, for it reminds the man who is still fighting that war that he is not forgotten by those of us who were more fortunate that he. Buy a Forget-Me-Not Saturday.

A FREE FAIR

The "Free Fair" experiment conducted in Steel County this year has attracted considerable attention and all of the published comment we have seen has been favorable. The results were very satisfactory from the standpoint of the fair itself. This, however, does not indicate that the results would continue to be satisfactory year in and year out. The fair this year had the advantage of the novelty of its offering and the widespread advance publicity which this novelty secured for it. If this policy were continued the novelty would wear off, publicity would cease, and then, and not until then, would the idea live or die on its own merits.

The theory of the free fair is good. Under the arrangement tried at the Steel County fair the public is admitted free to the exhibits. A charge is made for admission into the amusement park and an extra charge is made for admission to the grandstand or bleachers. By this method the cost of maintaining these departments is paid by those who are interested in these departments and those who are interested only in viewing the exhibits pay nothing. The arrangement works out very satisfactorily for that small group which is interested only in the educational features and does not care for the entertainment. With the exception of this change the idea is not altered. The fair rests just as much as it did before and the net thereafter earned a profit indicates that the public spent just as much money as it did before. The advantage, as we see it, lies solely in the more equitable distribution of the cost. The progress of the Steel County fair during the next few years will deserve the attention of other fair managers in this district and the state.

FORTUNE IS FICKLE

"From poverty to riches" forms the theme of many dramatic careers in the field of commerce. Success stories are always popular. The public, and especially such never tires of reading the details of the struggle of the poor boy who achieves wealth and position. It is more unusual to read "from riches to poverty" stories, not because of any lack of material for such stories but rather because those who travel the path downward are out of sight and are forgotten while those who rise to the heights are very much in the public mind. The star that shines brightly arouses our interest.

The decline of J. Ogden Armour from wealth to poverty attracts attention because the decline was rapid. Armour was still an important figure in the public mind at the time of his death and it was difficult for the public to realize that he died comparatively a poor man. For a hundred and thirty-one days during the deflation period of 1920 and 1921 he is said to have lost a million dollars a day. In 1901 Armour inherited his father's fortune, estimated at ten time at a hundred million dollars. The value of the Armour estate today is estimated at twenty thousand dollars.

When we consider the ability of wealth to increase itself we wonder sometimes if all wealth will not gradually gravitate to the control of one individual or one group of individuals. The record of history, however, proves that such fears are not well founded. There are other forces constantly at work which make such an accumulation impossible. The mills of the Gods grind slowly but they do grind. The natural laws of compensation which adjust minor inequalities do not neglect the greater irregularities of chance and circumstance.

America offers opportunities to win great wealth, but the keen vision, constant alertness and real ability which are required to maintain such fortunes are gifts which nature bestows sparingly and very seldom to more than one generation of a single family.

ON REPORTING CROPS

One of the things that has contributed most generously to our unhappiness during the past few months is the optimism of the Twin City newspapers in their crop reports. According to our metropolitan brethren the rural sections of the Northwest are wallowing in wealth and the only real problem of the farmer today is avoiding excess profits taxes. There is a reason for everything however, and we have tried to find a reasonable explanation for the unreasonable reports which have caused us so much irritation. We have satisfied ourselves that the city papers are not deliberately vicious in these reports. We have come to the conclusion that they are merely criminally hopeful. To a large extent we believe those rural communities which suffer most from these reports are themselves responsible, for, after all is said and done, the newspapers merely print the reports which they receive. The real villain in this tragedy is the too zealous community booster who operates on the theory that the prosperity of his community is dependent on the opinion of the rest of the world and who is willing to stretch the truth in what he believes to be the interests of the community. The newspapers of the cities assist in the villainy by adding color to the already colored reports of their correspondents and by the careless use of glaring headlines.

It is a peculiar thing how crops effect the human mind. The growing and harvesting of grain is the pursuit of all ages and under its spell even the practical minds of hard headed people lose all sense of proportion. Farming is like roulette. The sowing of the fields in the spring is the turning of the wheel of chance. Through the summer months the wheel turns, and as it gradually slows down for the final verdict of the fall the excitement of the game leads both players and spectators into strange gestures. The exaggerated crop reports are a part of the general dementia.

If you ask a farmer how the crops are coming he will tell you of those crops which are doing well and will often neglect to tell of those which are not doing so well. This same tendency follows down the line. The community correspondents to the large city papers tell the good news but pass quickly over that which is not so good. In the Northwest as a whole there are always some communities that have bumper crops and there are always some communities which have crop failures. The city papers hear only of the big yields. The failures are locked away in the community closet with the other community skeletons.

Practically all of us are guilty directly or indirectly in this folly and practically all of us pay directly or indirectly the cost of our folly. Wilson urged moderation tempered by enthusiasm rather than be driven by necessity. He wasn't referring to crop reports. In crop reports the contrary advice might be more in order. Rather be driven by necessity than fail by enthusiasm.

There is just one more thing along this line that we want to urge and that is that the Department of Agriculture confine the activities of its bureau of statistics to guessing the distance between the sun and the moon. The department, also, is operated by human beings, who labor under the same shortcomings as all the rest of us. Their enthusiasm is refreshing but we believe they would accomplish more good, and certainly less harm, if they abandoned the field of crop guessing at least until farm prosperity becomes more acute, and devoted their entire energy to the distribution of flower seeds for apartment houses.

It is probable that the value of crops over an entire season are governed by the law of supply and demand, but this adjustment is not effected until the tail end of the season when the supply and the demand are definitely charted. When the millennium arrives and the supply is exaggerated, the result is lower prices, and the lower prices come at a time when most of the crop is sold by the producer.

MINNESOTA'S FINANCES

Governor Theodore Christianson, State Treasurer Julius A. Schmahl has issued a report on Minnesota's finances that is worthy of careful study by every taxpayer in the state. The report for the year ending June 30th is quite gratifying in many instances. It shows the permanent school fund at approximately $20,000,000. The share of the state in the unclaimed trust funds of all the states lying east of the Mississippi river. The bonding of all the trust funds belonging to the state represents $5,652,276.61. Added that amount there is considerable effect, however, the total of these obligations amount to $7,110,956.61 of which $1,000,000 are in soldiers' bonus bonds, which are being retired at the rate of about two millions per annum. Then there is outstanding county reimbursement bonds to the amount of $435,000, less $15,000 carried in the sinking fund, also rural credit bonds of nearly $1,000,000, the latter being secured by first mortgage loans on improved farms within the state. All in all it is a good statement and compares very favorably with the financial statement of other eastern states, and for that matter, with the financial condition of any state in the union. The report shows conclusively that Minnesota is a long way from being bankrupt.

"No one ever discovered gold in other people's cracks," says a paragrapher. There is some truth in this but more of untruth. Most of the gold that is discovered, literally and figuratively is found in the cracks of millions who have gone about their way. A new mechanical device is invented; a new principle in science is discovered, or a new idea is expressed. But the admiration which these gold nuggets inspire, when first found, passes rapidly and we find ourselves wondering why they were not found centuries earlier by some one of the millions who passed them by.

"All loyalty is based on gratitude, and all gratitude is founded on understanding and appreciation of the other fellow, the other class, the other institution, nation, or race. We owe the good for the efficiency they have bestowed on us. We owe the unborn some consideration for the complex problems we cannot escape leaving them.

"Such a wide and fine morality is too great a strain on mere sympathy and imagination, and even on daily thoughtfulness. We must have some abbreviated human way of doing right by all the world. To do this we must have recourse to principles. Principles cover all men and situations. They are abstract and impersonal, and yet the greatest guarantors of personal consideration. A man cannot be a man of honor until he has become a man of principle."—Dr. Henry P. Crowell.

A Brother's Tribute To Mrs. Lorena

The following tribute to Mrs. E. H. Lorena who died recently, was read by her brother-in-law, J. H. Shoemyer, Dr. of the funeral service held at Dayton, Ohio.

God is a Surgeon who never repents himself. He does not need to. He is here present on a tree, by whose bodies of grains in the field, or two persons, of all the millions born are just alike. When God makes a life he breaks the mould and no other is fashioned after that pattern. So it was when on June 2, 1896, at Philadelphia, Dorothy Earp Groff was called into being. Her—in these babies are convincing evidence that Dorothy was a goodly child. Against the handicaps of loss of mother when but a child of fifteen months and the loss of father at the early age of ten, and all that that entails, she grew into the physical womanhood with charms possessed by few.

Though the schools are not the only places of true education, she found them as well as nature and nature's God her associates. The graduated from the High school at Albany, New York, at the head of her class, receiving a State scholarship of high rank. Her college training was undertaken at Vassar College where in course she graduated with honor. For one full year in the high school at Crozet, Virginia, she experienced the joys of teaching childhood. Then the joys of caring for the babies, minds and souls of maturing youth. Then she came the call listened for by every normal woman since the days of Eve, those when the right chord within is struck.

In perfect normal fashion she stepped from youth into the strange new world of womanhood, with all its yearning and aspiring. She, too, would have that love Providence had in for finding her life in another graft. The normal woman is not satisfied until she has mounted the throne of motherhood. Then comes the real call to her, the call to wife-hood and motherhood. That divine future was entered through the doorway of wedlock. To Dorothy Earp Groff that was by the hand of one of the truest, most devoted, most lovely, and most clever women, Edward Henry Lorena. That wedding day, January 6, 1916 united the lives of two people, a civilian, an officer in the United States army, adhering from then on in the excitement of the game beautiful, charming in its simplicity, and winsome. How well her life and love gave full measure to the meaning of the words wife, a weaver. Into all this thoughtful plans were woven. Home, for her until they were one, indeed. The old log house in Randolph County, Virginia's palace by the magic hand of holy love. Home is not the house but the spirit and good fellowship within, where the friends find the company

REPORTER FINDS F. CERNOUSEK REMINISCENT

Resigning as Postmaster of Tabor was not so Easily Accomplished He Found

IT COST NEARLY A DOLLAR TO COLLECT CENT DUE HIM

Was Excused from Jury Duty; Judge Received Word of Birth of Baby Boy

Since the publication of the Golden wedding article in the Times recently, Frank Cernousek has become quite reminiscent and in conversation yesterday with one of the representatives of the paper stated that he, as a father dear honor, that of acting as postmaster at Tabor, when that office was first opened.

At that time the postmaster had to carry the mail on foot from Fort Angus, nine miles distant. Team were not available at that time and the pay was only 20 cents. The salary was only what Mr. Cernousek got out of cancellations, and not very many of them.

Recalls P. O. Expenses.

When he moved to Thief River Falls in 1903 Mr. Cernousek had an assistant at Tabor, and in recalling of this fiscal report there was an error of one cent too much due him. Three different sets of papers were sent regarding the matter, each to be signed before a notary public at a cost of 25 cents. There was a fall, year after the resignation of Mr. Before it was finally accepted, and a post office money order sent to Mr. Cernousek for one-cent. He is sorry now that he cashed it.

It was also recalled that Hallvor Stenerson as running against Frank M. Ebby at the time of the change, and that he was a party of applicants for the job of postmaster at Tabor.

Released While in Jury

Referring to the jury duty mentioned a week ago Mr. Cernousek stated that it was at the June term of court in Crookston where he had been on. As she was stopping in the Germania hotel, and a bad storm came up in the evening. The hotel sign was blown down and he found himself lying in the water-filled gutter across the street after the accident. His coat and shirt were soaked, and having any change of clothing he found himself in a bad plight. Colley Attorney John Lee took pity on him and loaned him a white suit.

The following morning when court was sitting a telegram was brought to Judge H. C. McKusick, who quietly called H. Cernousek to his desk and informed him that a baby boy had been born at home. The judge excused him from further duty while he went home, leaving the other 11 men to finish the case. After staying at home two days Mr. Cernousek returned to Crookston and resumed his seat in the jury box. He was on jury duty that time for four weeks, while at one of the winter terms he served on similar duty for seven weeks.

Legion and Auxiliary Members Reach Paris

Despatches from abroad tell of the safe arrival in Paris of the various American contingents of the American Legion and the auxiliary, among whom is Mrs. J. M. Bishop of this city, president of the state auxiliary.

Reports state that elaborate programs have been carried out since the arrival of the visitors, all of whom are enjoying the hospitality of the French hosts.

Mrs. Bishop was accorded place of honor at the states dinner, the principal social event of the national convention of the American Legion auxiliary which was held Tuesday, Wednesday each state were arranged, that of Minnesota featuring a large floral airplane, with a sign, "Minnesota Finds Home State" over it. Small airplanes were used as favors, while miniature gophers, four inches high, done in gold and maroon were the place cards. At one end of the table was a large pyramids of two flour sacks, and at the other a wood iron mine, constructed of real iron ore.

TRAFFIC ON T. H. GROWS 12 PER CENT THIS YEAR

Summary of Annual Travel Census Has Just Been Issued by Highway Department

TOURIST TRAFFIC SHOWED 15.6 PER CENT INCREASE

Tourist and "B" Cars, Together With Light Trucks Also on Increase

Traffic on Minnesota trunk highways has increased 12 per cent in a week according to an analysis of the recent traffic census made public this week by Commissioner C. M. Babcock. Tourist traffic increased 15.6 per cent.

The traffic census was taken during the week of August 8 to 14, at 2250 points on trunk highways and 6,000 on county roads. Counts were made at 200 points, where a check was made in 1926, and of these 149 showed an increase over 1926 and decrease, construction and other local conditions causing anything of traffic in many places but the average increase of 12 per cent at points where a count was made both years is believed to be a fair index of the growth in travel on the highways.

Minnesota, Light	261	246
Minnesota, Heavy	504	451

Where Traffic is Greatest

The six points showing the highest average per day were as follows: No. 12, west of Hopkins, 8895; No. 10, east of Wayzata, 8418; No. 2, north of Robbinsdale, 8,263; No. 1 south of White Bear, 8,252; No. 16, at Lake Elmo, 8,232; No. 56, north of Junction with Nos. 5 and 52, 4,601, Hope-Drawn; No. 67, new roadway north of Junction No. 14, 166 per day; No. 35, north of Aurora, 156 per day; and No. 14, south of Ivyland, 154 per day.

Of the 275 counts made this year, 39 were on paved highways and these showed an average daily traffic of 2,454 vehicles, while 236 counts made on unpaved roads showed a daily average of 622 cars. There were, however, eighteen points on unpaved roads showing traffic from 1,000 to 1,200 per day; 6 points from 1,200 to 1,500 four points showing 1,500 to 1,800 per day, four from 1,800 to 2,000 and one unpaved stretch, No. 12 from Minneapolis to Excelsior, showing 8,895 average. On Sunday Aug. 14, 19,922 rigs passed this point.

Paving Is Economic

"It is generally admitted that it is economical to pave any road carrying more than 500 vehicles per day," said Commissioner Babcock. "There were only 92 points showing that number, while there were 144 points on unpaved roads where the traffic was more than 500 per day and thirty of these showed averages from 1,000 to 8,895 per day.

"Since the census taken in 1925 which was the first of its kind, this shows that we have 2,000 miles of improved road which should be paved and 900 miles on which paving is very urgent. A road carrying 200 to 1,500 cars per day can be kept in fair to good condition for a short part of the year although the cost, in the long run, is greater than paving. But where the traffic exceeds 1,500 per day, it is difficult to keep the road in good condition any time of the year and the difference in cost, as compared with pavement, becomes very marked.

Plan for the Future

"We must also prepare for the probable growth in traffic in the future. There has been an increase of 10 per cent or more each year since we took the first census in 1920. At most states it is now more than double what it was then. There is a car for every fourth person, but many farmers are buying two cars, and county roads will probably be called upon to carry much of the increase. Minnesota has shown a large increase in the last year or two, and this will probably continue until all except the smallest farms have trucks.

"In planning roads for the future, this growth must be considered. It is not necessary to pave the entire trunk highway system at once, but Illinois has done and many other states are doing, but it would be good business economy to pave at least half of it at the earliest possible date."

WOLVES AND COYOTES PREY ON SHEEP AND CHICKENS

Reports from Grygla indicate that wolves and coyotes of late have been ravaging the sheep and chickens in that vicinity due to the fact that they have been unable to catch as much wild rabbits as formerly, a fatal disease making inroads on the rabbits this past spring and summer.

Thief River and Vicinity Not Visited by Any Frost

Jack Frost, who was scheduled to make an appearance here at about this season of the year, has failed to do any painting the past four nights—and disappointed nobody. Particularly glad were the farmers and truck gardens men, who require a short time more to garner their late crops which would suffer if first bitten.

The mercury hovered close to the freezing mark Sunday and Monday nights, with the lowest mark recorded being 33½ degrees above zero here and there. The temperature each day this week has shown a slight rise over the morning reading, the maximum since last Saturday being 69, a decided contrast to the sweltering heat of a week ago Wednesday when the highest point was reached, that being 102 degrees, according to the observations of L. M. Rayson, official weather observer here.

Many homes are already using their coal furnaces, and the supply of coal in the furnaces and stoves where they have been set up, thereby taking the chill off their homes.

Sincerity Is The Keynote Of Our Advertising

President Wilson once said, "You cannot sell a thing that is not what you represent it to be without your customer ultimately finding out."

Nothing truer was ever spoken. Square dealing, keeping faith with your customers, are sure and lasting foundations on which to build the future of your business, whether it is a large corporation or a cross-roads store.

That is why we regard the promises made in our advertisements so very seriously. The future of 885 stores is at stake.

We try to make them interesting, too, for they should be just as newsy as the rest of your paper and far more vital to you, because they concern your life and its daily needs and the comfort of your home.

But even more important than their news-element is their sincerity. Back of everything we say stands the promise of a great Company—a promise that our printed word is as good as our bond.

YEARLY COST OF STATE WARDS IS NINE MILLIONS

Judge Lars Backe Returned from Series of Meetings at University Farm

MANY CRIPPLED CHILDREN ARE RESTORED TO HEALTH

State Has Saved $2,000,000 By Deporting Wards to Respective States

Minnesota is spending thru its state government alone nearly $10,000,000 annually for its handicapped wards, said Judge Lars Backe of the Pennington county probate court on his return from St. Paul where he attended the annual conference of the rural work at the University Farm school, the statement above being credited to C. J. Sarenson, chairman of the state board of control who addressed the meeting one day last week.

Improvements Made

Rapid growth of this work has marked the past two decades, the speaker is reported to have said, pointing to the increase from 8,651 persons in 12,676 persons, who are being cared for in state institutions, in his service of 16 years with the state board of control. During that time the board has spent $156,676,000 to administer its work, he said.

Meanwhile improvements in the care of unfortunates have come and today the state has found ways of returning many persons, normal or psychiatry in, to health. Occupational therapy at state institutions has helped many who were mentally sick to giving them work, which gradually restored them to their powers of control.

Minnesota has saved more than $2,000,000, he Swensen estimated, by deporting wards to their home states after it had been proved that they were not entitled to help as residents of Minnesota. In all, 3,264 persons have been deported, he said, enough to fill two ordinary institutions.

Many Restored to Health

He declared that work being carried on by the Gillette state hospital for crippled children, St. Paul, was resulting in the return of dozens of children to lives of normal health. Seventy-five per cent of the inmates of the training schools for boys at Red Wing, and for girls at Sauk Center, have made good on their release, he said.

A survey of the lives of 6,000 former inmates of Minnesota institutions, he declared, reveals that 70 per cent are making good, 20 per cent, fairly good, while 10 per cent are classed as failures, Mr. Swensen pointed out.

KARLSTAD GRANARY MOVED EIGHT FEET OFF FOUNDATION

The large granary of Martin Hedrum near Karlstad was moved eight feet off its foundation one night last week when the wind was at its worst. It was a matter of interest to the world, but was a straight hike, and presented one of the heaviest jobs of the season in that vicinity, according to the Karlstad Advance.

Peat From Nearby Fields Shipped to Iowa for Experimental Purpose

Success of Venture May Be Start of New Industry in This Vicinity

Another chapter in the resources of Minnesota is about to be written, for a sample shipment of five carloads of ordinary peat—of which the state has an almost inexhaustible supply, especially in the northern half—is being made in Iowa to be used by the largest poultry raisers there, four cars going to Oskaloosa and one to Des Moines.

About a year ago Iowa poultry enthusiasts began looking around for a substitute for gravel to be used in the scratch pens of baby chicks and also for older poultry, and accidently discovered that common peat was even better. They learned that eastern chicken fanciers had been using this kind of dirt, and so ordered some from New York state, and later getting a shipment from Holland.

Five Carloads to Iowa

Accidently a Minnesota man learned of this new use of peat, and having first hand information as to many of the excellent beds of peat in this section, he at once saw the facilities would greatly assist if the project grew to any size. He sent a sample to the poultry farmers, and last month was rewarded with an order for five carloads as already mentioned.

If these five carloads which have been shipped, according to W. J. Mc-Gillvery, local real estate man, prove satisfactory to the buyers, he has promised future orders running into the hundreds of carloads if available, and the Soo Line railway has indicated that it will install sidings at Mc-Gillvery's station so that it can be turned in with white quantities.

The peat used is that of a type of bog, peat formed by the growth of sphagnum moss, which when shorted dries very readily shorty any great amount of moisture and which in this dry state becomes an excellent scratch pads for young and old chicks.

Use of Peat is Needs

Peat is commonly used in Sweden as a mulching in heavy clay soils and as barnyard manures for fertilizer, according to Mr. Gustafson, local implement dealer, who recently returned from a trip to that country. Large quantities are used in this manner, he says, greatly improving the texture of the soil, particularly for a heavy, yellowish clay which it hinders into small particles and places the bags for ship-ping. Even when shorted peat will not readily absorb any great amount of moisture, and when this dry state becomes an excellent scratch pads for young and old chicks.

Use of Peat is Needs

Peat is commonly used in Sweden as a mulching in heavy clay soils and as barnyard manures for fertilizer, according to Mr. Gustafson, local implement dealer, who recently returned from a trip to that country. Large quantities are used in this manner, he says, greatly improving the texture of the soil, particularly for a heavy, yellowish clay which it hinders into small particles and places the bags for ship-ping. Even when shorted peat will not readily absorb any great amount of moisture, and when this dry state becomes an excellent scratch pads for young and old chicks.

Pennington county farmers would do well to adopt some of the Swedish methods, Mr. Gustafson declared. "I shall be pleased to tell about their use of peat to anyone interested", he says.

STATE AND DISTRICT COUNTY AGENT LEADERS HERE

F. E. Balmer, county agent leader for Minnesota, and F. E. McNeilly, district county agent leader, were in the city on Tuesday conferring with County Agent J. J. McLean regarding the farm conditions. They were well satisfied with the work of the local representative, being hopeful that his work will continue to find favor with a stably increasing number here.

Mr. Balmer stated to a Times representative that a few of the counties which previously had county agents, but within the past few years had dropped them, are again falling into line and employing fully accredited agents.

Compare Iso-Vis!
It Stands All Tests
The best way to judge an oil is to try it. See how it works. Compare it with other oils. All who have tested Iso-Vis in this way are enthusiastic—and they are courteously writing to tell us about it in letters like the one below:

Att. Mr. L. W. Cameron, Mgr.
Gentlemen: We would like to have you know just how we feel about Iso-Vis after using it for four months.
We are now using Iso-Vis Oils in our Model W Reo Motors, and Iso-Vis Lubricants for chassis lubrication. After exhaustive comparative tests we have come to the conclusion that Iso-Vis is as perfect an oil as is found on the market today.
We believe that we were as skeptical as the average bus operator in adopting a new oil. We had heard the usual condemnation of a new and untried product, and naturally were very cautious in trying Iso-Vis.
We are SOLD on Iso-Vis.
Very sincerely,
Cannon Ball Coach Line, Inc.
Bertha M. Orr, President
Motorists should be cautious about the oil they use. Only the best is good enough for an expensive engine. Only the best is able to protect it properly.
Iso-Vis—unlike the old type oil—maintains a practically constant viscosity—cushioning the moving parts with a tough oil film—making the motor run smoothly and wear well. After a long trip the body of the oil is the same as when you put it in! Check your oil every 100 miles and keep the crank case at least three fourths full and you can run at least 1000 miles without draining. If your motor is new and equipped with oil filtering devices it is not necessary to drain your crank case oftener than once every 2,000 miles.
But try it yourself—that's the way to judge! 30c per quart.

Court's Fines and Fees Reveal Spirited Jump

It is nearly 15 years since the receipts in any one month in the municipal court, according to Judge N. Tarnat, have equalled those of the month of August, when a total of $2453.30 in fines and costs was collected, as shown in the report made to the city council last week Tuesday. Of this sum $123 went to Pennington county, the remainder going into the city coffers.

Judge Tarnat stated to a representative of The Times that it reminded him of the days when saloons were in existence in the city. At that time, however, he said, the fines were not so large as these last month, when several were in the amount of $25. In the olden days the fines generally ranged around $5 or $10 at the most.

FARM BUREAU HEAD SEES FARMER AID IN RESERVE BANK

Speaking at the Crookston county fair at Barnum, Friday, September 16, President J. D. Miller of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation, declared that a crisis has developed in the Federal Reserve System, as a result of the action of the Federal Reserve board in forcing member banks to reduce its rediscount rate from four per cent to three and one half per cent.

"The issue is squarely joined," declared Mr. Reed. "Has the Reserve board the authority to fix rates for the Federal banks? This, however, has been done in the past, and we believe it is within the legal interpretation of the bank immediately concerned."

Will Help in Crop Movement

The Federal Reserve Act specifically provides that emergency shall be fixed with a view of accommodating commerce and business. These rates were fixed in 1921 at such a figure that discounts were made prohibitive, and threw agriculture into such a cond

FOOTBALL

Football season is here again! Is in the air—the wind breathes it as it whistles thru the dying trees. The ray roll blasts that sweep the city, the hard, barren ground—these are the things that associate themselves with football. Ask any football man, and he will tell you that conditions like this make the players do their best.

His heavy clothing grows hot and uncomfortable in warm weather, but in the autumnal season that precise actual snow the outfit is just right—and this,according to make him fight to keep warm."

The team is a willing, red-blooded bunch of Lincoln's choice athletes—not to cover themselves and their school with glory." The school is behind them! We are behind our boys and can't coach! The game shall be better attended this year, for football, the sport of Fall, grows yearly in popularity as a real contest of brains and strength.

ON OBSTACLES

A mistake commonly made is to consider an obstacle as "an immovable obstruction," while it is just a difficulty which left to overcome by a little perseverance and intelligence. Viewed in this light, obstacles are to be welcomed, for they develop our strength and character. If everything is smooth and easy-going, calling for no special effort on our part, we would not hope to make the most of our lives and develop our capacities and talents. It is opposition that calls out our reserve forces, carrying us on to victory.

LET'S WORK!

Realizing the futility of urging the student body to get down to work during those few days when the sun ruled the city last week, studies were laid aside and put upon its own opening interested in things, and starting in one's self is not too far away for either to act about them.

And following interest and observance of anything come other aspects and everything which will give our school a better name. First of all, let us each day prepare our lessons honestly and earnestly, in order to attain the scholastic standard desired.

Next, to do our bit toward winning football games, and following out the cheer leaders at pep meetings, and raising our voices in loud applause. Pitfalls during the games, so that our hops may not doubt that we are interested. Third, prepare ourselves to cheer for, if not to take part in every event of the future.

Operetta "Peter Rabbit" To Be Presented at Convention

Musical organizations of all schools under the supervision of Miss Marie Johnson with assistance from the grade teachers, have started on the first big project for the Northwest M. E. A. convention to be held in this city on October 6-7. This project takes the form of an all grade operetta, "Peter Rabbit", the main characters of which will be chosen from the Junior High School. The high school orchestra, which rehearsed Wednesday, will make its opening appearance of the season at this entertainment. Details of the operetta and the cast will appear in following issues of the "Progress."

Although the personnel of the Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs is not complete, the present members are already working on convention duties, the large enrollment of the Girls' Glee Club, according to Miss Marie Johnson, supervisor, makes it necessary to divide it into two groups.

MIND MEASURE

Has anyone ever measured your mind?

You can't expect to be much of a success, or get anywhere in general without brains. Without them, you are no more use than a ship without a rudder, and often more trouble. Your brain effectively has to be developed just as definitely as the athlete's body is, for a curve in baseball, or ride a horse.

The "mental" boy is the boy who is always thinking, who reads good books, serves automobile, and remembers where he left the hammer, and plans ahead for many days.

No matter how much you know, it's character unless character is backed with knowledge. The information that school gives you is useful in furnishing your mind, but it is the power of observation, the power of concentration, the power of thinking, your power of observation, your attention is much more effective.

You notice things much more clearly, and remember them better. If you find that it's extremely important for mental development, to be interested in as many things as possible.

Nothing increases mental development like a hobby. Hobbies are interesting, and starting in one's self is not too far away for either to act about them.

And following interest and observance of anything come other aspects and everything which will give our school a better name. First of all, let us each day prepare our lessons honestly and earnestly, in order to attain the scholastic standard desired.

Next, to do our bit toward winning football games, and following out the cheer leaders at pep meetings, and raising our voices in loud applause. Pitfalls during the games, so that our hops may not doubt that we are interested. Third, prepare ourselves to cheer for, if not to take part in every event of the future.

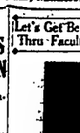
NUMEROUS CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES FOR COMING SEASON

New Rulings of Conference Committee Would Eliminate Injuries to Players

At a conference of the Football Committee, which met this past winter, numerous changes were made in the rules used in 1926. One drastic change is that concerning the goal posts. All goal posts must be moved back ten yards from the goal line. Since the many injuries resulting from colliding with the posts will be eliminated, it is also thought that, because of this rule, football teams will devise more accurate scoring touchdowns rather than field goals. Drop-kickers, who can kick for thirty or forty yards will be at a premium on football teams this fall.

OUT OF BOUNDS PUNT IS DEAD! According to the new rules, a punt landing out of bounds is dead, going to the team whose ball last touched it. In previous years, an out-of-bounds kick was a "live" ball, resulting, of course, in a mad scramble for the ball under tacklers and into grandstands. Such action often resulted in serious injuries to players and spectators as well.

A fumbled punt is a "dead" ball as soon as recovered, whereas in former years a player could recover a punt and run with it.



These are given in order that fans may not mistake a referee as unfair because he is trying to follow the new rules. Penalties are more charges only for consideration of the benefit of those in competition with prefers instructions to the referee.

Lineup of Grid Fighters Ready To Beat Grafton

The Lincoln High grid artists will play their first game this season on Friday, the 23, when they meet the Grafton team at Grafton, N. Dak. According to reports, Grafton boasts of a team that is strong this year, if not stronger, and are brimming over with pep to give the locals plenty of fight.

Last year the Grafmenites gave a defeat of 12 to 0 at the hands of the Lincoln players. The year previous Thief River Falls took the low end of a 7 to 6 score. This year Grafton expects to turn the tables, but if locals are ready to prevent any such consolation. After practicing a few weeks of strenuous practice under Coach Dey, the Lincolnites are rounding into shape for all-comers.

TEN MINUTES TO GO

Principal Hand announced that the afternoon session of the school would start at 1:05 instead of 1:15.

The additional ten minutes afforded by the change can be utilized to good advantage by those who have students here from Warren—Johnny will have time to eat his strawberry pie without swallowing it whole. Elsie may now place 561 more grains of rouge upon her cheeks. Gertrude can tell Inga how that new hat looks on her without fear of being accused of jealousy. Bill can by systematic hurrying get assignments in three subjects instead of two in the ten minutes between 1:15 and 1:25.

The additional time amounting to ninety minutes per day, 5 days per week 4 weeks per month, 9 months per year, this time amounts to 27 hours and 20 minutes! After subtracting holidays, (being a little liberal, really) 29 9-11 pages of Caesar can be studied; 92 41-100 problems of higher algebra can be solved; 92 41-100 themes can be stated while 13 9-5 chapters of history can be completed. Or, if the other 27 hours and 20 minutes, not to mention the fact that 1247 Freshmen will be promptly initiated in the time. No wonder the students of Thief River Falls School welcome start ing at 1:05.

Normal Notes

At a meeting of the Teacher-training Club held at the Normal last week, it was selected to lead the club this year, with Lillian Stephenson, vice-president; Ruth Hanson, secretary and Oliver Asp, treasurer. The remaining officers are other interested students.

A business meeting will be held next week for the purpose of electing a committee.

Dr. Lindquist of Minneapolis, president of the state board of education, visited the Normal department and school Thursday.

APPARENTLY POTATO BUGS ARE BECOMING DELICATESSEN

Several such men were calling in the store cussing and discussing potato bugs.

"Your buns don't come up to ours. Down our way, I used to climb in the store. Well, every spring the bugs used to come into the store and look over the looks to see who had bought seed."

Japan has shipped a variety of products peculiar to Japan to the United States Department of Agriculture to prey upon the Asiatic beetle.

"Cliff" Wikel, Paul Melby 1927-28 Cheer Leaders

At the first real pep fest of the season conducted by Principal H. C. Hand, Clifford Wikel and Paul Melby were elected "Rooter Kings."

Any student who so desired could try out for this honorable position before the entire assembly. Nobody "voluntarily" thried—in other words, the cheering friends forced the individual to contest. Of the seven contestants, four: Clifford Wikel, Paul Melby, Chester Strom, and "Jimmie" Warner, showed their spirit by leading the student body in the final test.

The "kings" who succeed "Begy" Johnson and "Bimbo" Hoppe, will first do their stuff at the Grafton game which means all soon.

Obey the Traffic Laws; Help Prevent Accidents

Parking on Highways

"No person shall park or leave standing any vehicle, whether attended or unattended, upon the paved or improved or main traveled portion of any highway outside of a municipality, when it is practicable to park or leave such vehicle standing off such paved or improved or main traveled portion of such highway; provided, however, that this section shall not apply to the driver of any vehicle, upon any highway when it is disabled in such manner and to such extent that it is impossible to avoid stopping and temporarily leaving such vehicle on such portion of such highway."

Violation of this section of the law not only causes danger and inconvenience to others, but is also a serious damage to yourself or your car.

Hogging Rides and Hitching

While on the subject of safety of school children, it also pays to be warning against hogging rides, hitching and jumping on.

The state law prohibits standing or riding on bumpers and running boards without the consent of the driver. It also prohibits any bicycle, tobacco or other rider from hitching to any vehicle on the highway.

These practices are all dangerous. Children, for their own safety and that of others, parents, teachers and school authorities will do well to warn all children against these practices.

HOG SHOWS ITS VALUE AGAIN IN BOOSTING FARM PROFITS

The hog again proved himself a highly dependable source of farm profits when the advance in the present hog market carried pork to the 8 cent point in four or five months or more than ten million dollars to seven low point early in July.

Intensified market prices place on this milk, alfalfa and corn. Hogs and hog fat skim milk, a by-product of cream production, and home grown feeds cured cut a type of farming that is known as diversification which everywhere in the United States is being prosperity to the individual farmer and to the community.

Hog production always is a highly dependable source of farm profits when enterprise is well managed and a fairly uniform number of pigs are raised each year.

The best pork farm-related in the world is the Danish dairy farm, where the experiment is 10 months. Real or near-real dairying is lacking in the first. Here that keep on laying up to that date practically worth keeping. Then they are sold.

Hog production is a highly profitable part of all farming in the United States and in the Northwest. The amateur rules will usually find a poor predictor betraying himself by sporting a yellow beak, vent and shanks. Likely pig will be well mated. Hard working, good producingness wear their plumage brightly. Slackers, among the layers are usually wearing the dingiest coats of plumage by October first.

GOITRE TREATED SUCCESSFULLY

At Home Minneapolis Lady Uses a Simple Method

Mrs. K. Rue, 201 E. Franklin Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes: "I had goitre and was treated by a doctor who gave me several medicines but they did not help me. I then read about Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and how it relieved the stomach and goitre. I procured a bottle and before I had taken it all the lump in my throat was gone. I have taken three bottles in all and my health is perfect. I have gained 15 pounds in weight and my friends say I look the picture of health. I cannot praise Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy too highly."

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is sold at Curtis Drug Store.

Little boy blue, come blow your horn,
The sheep are in the meadow—

There is no use finishing the rhyme, so familiar to us all, for Christ Engen, residing northeast of this city believed in modern methods, and has stated that The Times could quickly find his missing calves. Last week he inserted the following ad in the paper:

STRAYED—Seven calves, 6 red and one black. Finder please notify Christ Engen. Phone 17-F-5. 2p

The papers went out on the rural routes the following morning and in a little while the phone rang and John Skomedahl, east of Stemer, informed Mr. Engen that his calves had wandered to that neighborhood.

CORRECT PLAN OF FEEDING CATTLE IS PARAMOUNT

With Apparent Shortage of Various Crops Farmers Should Be Careful

SILOS, LIFE SAVERS OF CORN, MORE IN DEMAND

Many Factors at Present in Upward Trend of Prices of Farm Products

A marked shortage in the grain crops fed to farm animals is shown in a survey on the feed situation just completed by a creamery institute of Chicago. This coming year because most of the grain shortage is likely to be fed before making the improvements.

During the next twelve months he who feeds the most will profit most. For the outlook for corn is the worst feature in this situation. The acreage has been cut materially. Most of the planting was from two to four weeks late and the weather has traded to retard its growth. The crop had a poor start from in 1925, when only 2,209,850,000 bushels were produced. The last final crop was reported this year is 2,700,000,000 bushels. That would be the smallest crop since 1901. Date and hasler are five to seven per cent under the ten year average, but about as good as last year. Barley will probably will be under last year's figures. Hay pasture crops however, are better.

Feed Situation Reviewed

In its summary of the feed crop situation of the country the institute points to the following salient features:

Grain crops promise to be smaller especially corn.

Carryovers of grain are light.

The small crop, high prices of feed grains and stronger demand from restored feed manufacturers will result in higher prices for protein feeds than last year.

Supplies of hay and other roughfeeds may be ample.

The decrease of 207,627,000 head cattle and 5,600,000 horses on farms compared with a year ago, will be counterbalanced by the increase of 14,000,000 hogs and 2,045,000 sheep. As hogs are great corn consumers, the shortage of the crop will be further accentuated.

Silos Good Asset

There are other factors which tend to put the price of feed grain higher in the next twelve months than they have been in the past year, according to the institute. Surveys show that stocks of concentrate feeds are much smaller than last year, especially in the wheat surplus states. The visible supply of wheat reached record proportions in the winter have been greatly reduced. The new crop situation is the worst in the seven years, with most of the wheat in the farmers' hands.

Fortunately for the dairy farmers there should be enough corn in most cases to last long, this feature being emphasized in the same laws as are of the most effective solution of the shortage of roughage. Heretofore big game losses have included the hunting of bear, but one bear is enough for the institute to dispose of the "star boarders," it closed this year. Bear licenses cost $2, but none have been issued so far in Pennington county.

Dairymen and stock growers who have surplus corn on the institute is that was done as the deer season is strictly, and will be greatly appreciated by those who have occasion to travel that road.

Graveling of Nos. 8 from the Clearwater county line west on a five mile stretch was completed recently, while graveling is progressing rapidly on the same highway from three miles east of Bagley to Solway on the new, 9-contracted road.

These two pieces of state highway construction have been badly needed for some time past, but the appropriation could not be made available until during average crop years.

MAYOR WEBB SEEKS TOURIST HOTEL ON LAKE OF THE WOODS

If Deal Goes Thru Boat Line Undoubtedly Would Be Established Later

Mayor Ralph Webb of Winnipeg, well known in this city, has applied to the Canadian government for a lease on a piece of land on the south side of Kenora located on the north side of the lake of the Woods.

According to the Bandelle-Region, Mayor Webb is about to secure title to the property and will then endeavor to get a good boat to ply the good roads have been built much closer to the lake, making this point one of the most accessible on the American side to Kenora. Either car settlements of Ingersoll, Ont., and Mr. Webb would run from Ingersoll to Port Arthur, Ont., via Kenora, or it might run from Kenora to Winnipeg, Man., via Warroad to Kenora, or it might run from Kenora to Fort Frances on the north shore of the lake.

STATE FAIR ATTENDANCE HELD FOR PAST 7 YEARS.

With the best attendance since 1920, the 1927 annual Minnesota State Fair going to be one of the most successful in the history of the institution, if the admissions were recorded. Over 400,000 admissions were recorded at the gates to the 1927 exposition.

The attendance is phenomenal considering the fact that the fair was held during the hottest week of the year. Rain fell on three days—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—and cooler weather, with the exception of the last day, were experienced with threat of rain. Despite the inclement weather on the first three days of the fair, the attendance was greater on the closing days of the exposition than on the opening days. Saturday, one of the biggest days of the fair, was the first day of the Grygla Harvest Jubilee, and the closing Saturday, are members of the Thief River Valley Poultry and Egg association, and last year 40,000 more than attended on the corresponding day last year.

Of course, the receipts were considerably diminished this year by the fact that the grandstand seats, which are the big source of revenue for the fair, were not available, but even with that organization, the receipts were considerably greater than last year, especially in the other free attractions at the fair. Progressiveness of Grygla Told in Interesting Article in Farmer

Co-Operative Enterprises Not the Least in Activities of Inland Town

Grygla, the inland town in eastern Marshall county, 40 miles northeast of Thief River Falls, came in for a bit of publicity in the August 20 issue of the Farmer, St. Paul, in an article written by Don P. Shannon, staff writer. The story was placed the very first in that issue and was accompanied by three photographs—of the creamery, the community hospital, and the A. J. Cuneo farm home.

"It is 20 miles from the end of the railroad to the inland village of Grygla," writes Mr. Shannon, "but my curiosity had been aroused by the stories that I had heard about its co-operative creamery, its community hospital, and other co-operative organizations and most confess, also, that I had a considerable curiosity as to its inhabitants and find out how people live in this country and standing in city hall I reached the little village, set in the midst of a newly developed farming district.

Passing Thru Transformation

"As I drove the 20 miles to Grygla, although a low, flat country where water from recent rains stood in lakes, and where fields had been abandoned because they were rain flooded in both 1925 and 1926, deep ditches through the country and standing water and I reached the little village, set in the midst of a newly developed farming district.

Has Fine Creamery

Grygla's modern creamery, which is owned by the farmers, is a big factor in the community's progress. It has been operating for the past two years and has a large shipping distance to market. Last year it made 1,000,000 pounds of butter and returned to its patrons almost $100,000. Six years ago, according to H. M. Magnuson, creamery operator, the output was 100,000 pounds. It is a member of the Land O' Lakes Creameries Association and about 60 per cent of the butter on the average is of Land O' Lakes quality. Most of the Grygla farmers are members of the Thief River Valley Poultry and Egg association, and last year 40,000 more than attended on the corresponding day last year.

Of course, the receipts were considerably diminished this year by the fact that the grandstand seats, which are the big source of revenue for the fair, were not available, but even with that organization, the receipts were considerably greater than last year, especially in the other free attractions at the fair. Chase Urges Dairy Cow As New State Emblem

Dairymen of this section of the state will hail with much satisfaction the suggestion of State Auditor Ray P. Chase that the state emblem of the Gopher be changed to a Cow Jade to a gathering of dairymen at New Richland last week in connection with the Dairy Days celebration held there.

Essentially the Gopher is a destructive animal, and a nuisance, Mr. Chase asserted. Far better and more appropriate would be a dairy cow, Mr. Chase said, which saw it might be chosen.

The dairy cow, the speaker continued, has earned recognition for it is a constructive force in the state and always will be.

Caretaker's Residence Just Inside Fair Grounds Gates

The residence recently purchased by the fair board and removed from the land south of the Great Northern depot to the fair grounds has been permanently set upon a good foundation immediately north of the entrance to the grounds.

A caretaker for the fair board will be hired shortly to complete details as to services of a caretaker and the compensation for the care of the various buildings on the grounds.

With a caretaker on the premises it will be the policy of the board to ask a rental of the various buildings during off seasons, while a plan will be devised to offset the loss in admittance receipts to the grand stand during the off season by the proper sources of income still help to make the plan feasible.

NO ACCIDENT AT GREAT NORTHERN CROSSING

A persistent rumor was in circulation last week that a car had been wrecked at the Great Northern crossing, however, Sheriff Ben Hultgren has revealed the fact that a stranger who thought it possible to cross the tracks at that point, mistook the wheel was a ditch on the south side of the track and, as a result, the car was ditched and a wrecker from a local garage had to be called to the aid of the driver after a few hours delay.

Speeding at Warren Expensive

It cost Luther Engelstad of Clearbrook the tidy sum of $45.50 as the result of speeding on the streets of Warren one day last week. For the offense Engelstad was given a warning but to speed up, according to the officers that he was cheap, so Judge Schmidtbauer fined the defendant in court, handing him a bill of $45.50 which were added the costs of $4.50

24 Meet Death At State Crossings Thus Far in 1927

Fortunately no lives have been lost locally thru automobile or other accidents at railroad crossings so far this year, but 24 have already lost their lives thruout the state thus far this year. Twelve more Minnesotans are due to meet death in that manner during the remainder of the year, it is predicted by Commissioner Frank W. Matson, Railroad & Warehouse commissioner, warned this week.

Injuries from these mishaps are well under the number for the same period last year—but deaths are mounting at a higher rate. He also theorizes is safe, will be a wise one to keep in mind, Colonel Matson said.

In 61 accidents at grade crossings this year, 24 lives have been lost, 64 injuries have resulted. At this rate 50 will be killed and 78 injured, Colonel Matson estimates.

Last year 120 were killed and 167 injured, the death rate from grade crossing accidents was also a reduction over a few previous years.

Charging to Re-connect a Telephone Keeps Down Your Rates

Your rates for telephone service are kept lower than would otherwise be required, because a charge is made to help pay the cost of re-connecting a telephone.

If we didn't make this charge, the entire cost of re-connecting a telephone would have to be included in the rates charged all of our subscribers.

It is only fair to the subscribers who seldom or never move, that a part of the expense of connecting a telephone should be met by those who move frequently.

Even though a telephone is already in place, much work is required before service can be given over it. Wiring has to be done in the central office and information, accounting and other records must be changed. This costs money.

CONTINUING BY CONSOLIDATION THE THIEF RIVER FALLS TRIBUNE

Volume 17. Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota. Thursday, Sept. 29, 1927 Number 35

PENNINGTON'S SCHOOL SYSTEM WORTH WHILE

TOTAL ASSETS NEARLY DOUBLE INDEBTEDNESS

Cost of Operating 80 Schools Was $205,550 With Receipts of $234,133.

The 80 school districts of Pennington county, according to the annual statement of County Supt. Geo. M. Gunderson just completed, have sites and buildings thereon worth nearly twice their total indebtedness. The sites and buildings are valued at $215,000 and the bonded indebtedness is $115,267.76, or a total of $330,267.76, which with cash on hand makes the total assets, $362,230.14, while there are only $206,550.00 of outstanding warrants against the public treasury, the sum of $101,013.74 as the net worth of these valuable municipal institutions of learning.

Cost of Operation

The total cost of operating the three quarter of a million dollar industry during the year was $205,550 with receipts a trifle greater, being $234,133.66, according to the statement of Mr. Gunderson. The cost in the high school grades, however, is a little more than double that of the grade schools.

Schools in five of the 80 districts maintain school for nine months out of the year, while 20 districts have seven months open for eight months, and 32 districts have but a seven months school year is sufficient for their needs.

Attendance and Transportation

Two or less pupils were enrolled in 17 of the country schools, it is revealed by the report, while in 23 of them there are from 11 to 19 scholars attending. In the remaining forty districts the enrollment is over 20 per county which transport their pupils. During the district's numbered 45, 151 and 220, there being a number of pupils in each of these districts, and the officers find it was cheaper for to do this than to maintain an school, employing a teacher. The Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire also have busses for transporting pupils.

School Libraries

There are 77 school districts, furnishing free text books in the original elementary schools, while in three furnishing the free texts in the graded elementary schools, while the texts are also furnished in one district maintaining a high school. The annual cost in these little groups for such texts and libraries last year, as shown by the report, was given at $27,52, $861.92 and $178.50 respectively.

The eight high and graded elementary school buildings which are located in Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire are valued at $200,200, while the remaining 77 un graded districts are valued at the sum-ch $140,850, making the aggregate value $326,250.

Flames Consume Speeding Car as Men Jump for Lives

Jumping to save his life, his speeding car in a mass of flames, A. M. Hegness, local representative of the Woodworth Elevator company of Minneapolis, accompanied by Peter Cassire, one of the men from the Woodworth office at Minneapolis, narrowly escaped being burned to death in a fiery wreck on Main street of Solway, Monday last week.

WELL WORTH KNOWING
"Whenever a child drinks good fresh milk:
He never he eats ice cream,
He adds a brick to his House of Health,
And then he adds a beam.
And every saucer of good cream soup
With vegetables blended well
Keep the House all right and sound span and neat
And every pat is garnished well."
This verse by Winnifred Starr Gibbs, editor of the American Food Journal, contains the Cream of Nutrition facts—a verse which is easily remembered by both mother and child.

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

The World War is unique in that it failed to develop a popular hero. This probably can be accounted for by the fact that the world was heartily sick of war when the end finally came. There were many individuals who distinguished themselves in the service of their country, but all of the laurels are being laid on the grave of the "Unknown Soldier". It is a beautiful tribute to the real heros of the war.

The local co-operative creamery has done as much business during the first nine months of this year as it did all last year, and Manager Joe Holte estimates that this year's volume will exceed last year's by $50,000. Another thing to feel good about in the big increase in alfalfa acreage in this county during the past year. According to County Agent J. J. McCann we had 8,000 acres in this crop in 1926. During the large amount that was winter killed this total went down to 7,000 last year. This year it climbed to the 10,000 mark, an increase of nearly 2,500 acres in one year. Pennington county is still the leading alfalfa county in Minnesota and still can boast of being "The Home of Alfalfa".

WELCOME THE WAREHOUSE.

In spite of the fact that the market on potatoes is hovering around the forty-five cent mark it is not difficult to become enthusiastic over the new potato warehouse. With the price low and the yield below normal potatoes are not going to make the community rich this year—but it is this kind of a year that a warehouse really proves itself valuable to the community, for without a warehouse it is hard to find room for no market at all. Farmers have experienced such a condition in previous years, hauling their potatoes to town and losing many hauling their potatoes to town and being unable to find a place to dump them at any price.

To a large extent raising potatoes means either a feast or a famine to the grower. It is only over a period of years that the crop proves itself profitable, and the records show that to raise this crop successfully the grower must continue with about the same acreage from year to year. This crop will become a valuable asset to our community if it is kept on an even keel and the proper methods of seed selection and cultivation are followed. The warehouse and the organization which operates it, will be an influential factor in bringing these conditions about. We join in welcoming Leonard, Crusset & Tiffes and their welcoming Leonard, Crusset & Tiffes and their potato warehouse to this community. Their potato warehouse here means the establishment of a market which in turn will mean increased diversification of farming and increased prosperity for all of us.

THE FIGHT AND THE FIGHTERS.

We had planned to draw a few conclusions this week on the Tunney-Dempsey fight, showing that success is dependent upon effort and victory is the reward of virtue and a few such things like that, but after several attempts, in which the typewriter absolutely refused to operate beyond a certain point, we decided we were on the wrong track. We decided that the big fight didn't prove a thing except that Tunney is a better man than Dempsey. The gate receipts proved that what Barnum said here years ago is still true.

Dempsey's career as a fighter has been interesting. He has displayed a few virtues. He was a great fighter. When he entered the ring he was possessed of but one idea—to accomplish his purpose. It happens that the purpose in the line of business is to beat the opponent into unconsciousness, and there no doubt is a question in the mind's of many as to whether or not such a purpose is worthy. It must be said to his credit, however, that he did not waver from his purpose. His success was due, more than anything else, to his unwavering determination to accomplish his purpose, and this, in itself, as a fine quality. It may be that his defeat was due partly to folly and to follow. Brawner men than Dempsey have stubbed their toe on the hard rock of soft living. But in discussing Dempsey we are talking about prize fighters, and no prize fighter go he has been a fairly decent individual. On his gravestone should be inscribed the words, "He was a great fighter".

Gene Tunney is also an interesting figure. He doesn't seem to be the killer type that Dempsey is, and for this reason he probably never will be as popular with fight fans as Dempsey was. According to press reports Gene can read and write, eats pie with a fork, and in many ways indicates that his head was not designed solely for use as a punching bag. He seems to be slightly out of character. A prize fighter who doesn't look like the missing link is like a dog that hasn't got fleas, and a dog without fleas is like a man who uses perfume. Gene has many handicaps to overcome. But, somehow, in spite of these handicaps, we think well of him and wish him further success in his pursuit of million dollar purses. We doubt very much that he will effect any permanent improvements in the fight game but we do believe that he will elevate it temporarily a little closer to the surface.

PUBLIC OPINION AND WIND.

Public opinion is a peculiar institution. In many respects it resembles the winds. At times it is as mild as a summer zephyr. At other times it is fretful. Sometimes it blows steadily in one direction for a long time, and occasionally it gets itself all worked up into a real tornado. It has another characteristic in common with the winds. If properly harnessed it will drive, but it will never be driven. It is an unreliable force, fickle and inconstant. But even as a skillful sailor can navigate against the wind, so can a skillful statesman direct the ship of state directly into the wind of public opinion by the force of that public opinion itself.

Progress isn't made at sea by the sailor who always sails with the wind. Such a sailor might come to the right port by chance, but it is doubtful. And progress isn't made by the organization which always drifts with public opinion. The individual or the organization who would succeed should select a certain port as a destination, but before they embark on the trip they should learn something of the art of navigating against the wind.

MEMORIZE THIS ONE.

The following article, reprinted from the American Banker's Magazine, appealed to us as being a real gem of wisdom. The last time we were advised that the total of our checks exceeded the total of our deposits we just about gave up hope of ever being on friendly terms with a banker but we will forgive them all the inconvenience they have caused us for this one little boost. If there are any merchants who would like to have this article enlarged and framed, for use in their office, we will make them very reasonable rates for the work.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business—general stores, dry goods, groceries, furniture dealers, manufacturing establishments, automobile dealers, mechanics, professional men, druggists, and in fact all classes of business men. This does not mean that you should have a whole or half or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in the town by looking at the business mention in the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town but refuses to advertise his own is a valuable addition to any town. The life and the snap of a town depend upon the wide-awake, liberal advertising men. It's the truth."

CAMPAIGN COMING.

One election is just out of the way and another one is already started, which leads some people to feel had because congressmen no sooner complete one campaigning for election than they are forced to start campaigning all over again. We feel badly about it too, although our sympathies are not extended in the direction of the congressmen. We sympathize with ourselves as a part of the public who must listen to the endless campaigning. When we consider that we are about to have another campaign indicated then we are inclined to believe that there is some truth in what Mencken says about government in general. Mencken declares:

"The aim of all governments, whatever their names or forms, are precisely the same, at all times and everywhere. The first and foremost of them is simply to maintain the men constituting the government in their positions of power that they may live gleefully at the expense of the people they govern, and enjoy all the honors and emoluments that go therewith. There may be other purposes in them from time to time, but these are perquisites and transient, and most of them are impostors. Good government, whether Democratic or otherwise, is no more than a bone thrown to the dogs of all government; the motives behind it are not philanthropic or altruistic, but lie in enlightened self-interest. The universal tendency of every government is to grow steadily worse—that is, to grow more exploiting to those who constitute it and less satisfactory to those who support it. When it moves in the other direction it is no more than a sign that it has been successfully overthrown and abolished—that its functionaries, actually demoralized to the dearest and interests of those upon whom it preys."

Mencken is a satirist, and his picture of government is not an accurate portrait. A little of his satire, however, is a refreshing stimulant and will counteract some of the flood of political bunk that is about to be loosed upon us.

BARSON'S ADVICE.

Roger Babson, who is widely quoted as a business authority, gave the following advice to the sons and daughters of his clients:

"The son of life is in growing rather than possessing. Early successful men will tell you this. We really enjoy only the things which we ourselves make or earn.

"When you get married be content to start in a small way, as your parents did. Don't try to start where your parents are now.

"Plan on success not only in the big jobs, but in the foundations of civilization.

"Live the same moral code when you are making it.

"Keep at it. Early successes in anything but good character, health, and peace are seldom lasting.

Every time the closet of your neighbor is opened it will strain a tendon or neck and peek, then afterwards strain your neck in talking about it? Do you ever stop to think that some day a tragedy may take up its abode in your home. Can't you get it into your head that some day the tongue of slander may cut you like a sharp sword and the whispers of your neighbor be as vinegar on your wounds? Misfortune and disease may have overtaken your neighbor, but it does not become you to get out on the housetop and shout it out to the world. You will not be called upon to pay for or answer for any of the sins of your neighbor. You have all you can tend to to pay for your own desecration.

Some day some one near and dear to you may fall—by person walls may open to the ears of the scarlet letter of eternity blight a daughter. When a home is in mourning over a tragedy the best thing you can do is to keep your mouth shut unless you can say something that will come as a rift in the clouds. The reason you know you may be no better than your neighbor. The only difference is that your neighbor was caught, and you, up to date, have kept the sunlight away. Be charitable, my friend, you know not the day nor the hour when the light will appear in your sacred circle."

The best method of feeding salt to dairy cows is to mix 1 to 2 pounds of salt per 100 pounds of grain, or from 20 to 40 pounds of salt per ton of grain. In addition, have salt available so that the cows can get more if they desire.

The nightHawk, formerly wantonly shot for sport, is really one of the most useful of birds, and an insect catcher of great value. These birds swoop their prey out of the air on the wing. Biological Survey experts have examined stomachs of nighthawks and have found more than 30 different kinds of insects, representing thousands of individuals in a single stomach.

The longer a broody hen is allowed to sit on the nest the longer it requires to get her back into laying condition, and consequently the greater the loss in egg production. To break the hen from sitting put her in a broody coop where she can be properly fed and watered. The coop should have a slat bottom in order that the air may circulate from beneath. Use kerosene freely to keep hen cooler, thereby tending to break up the hen's broodiness.

Forests reduce erosion. Any vegetation cover tends to check erosion, but forests usually perform this function more effectively and permanently than any other type of vegetation. This is because of the thick mulch of leaf litter and branches found in forests, especially and binding its mineral constituents.

The total number of cattle in tuberculosis exceeds 1,885,000. The work of tuberculosis eradication is going forward systematically in all states. During the last month of the fiscal year the inspectors engaged in tuberculin testing applied the test to more than 900,000 cattle, of which approximately 24,000 were found to be affected with the disease, followed by slaughter of diseased animals under Federal inspection, is gradually freeing the country of tuberculosis throughout the country and benefiting both the livestock industry and public health.

SLIGHTING COUNTY PUBLISHER

(From Hibbing Daily Mews.)

A Saint Paul printing house has been rail against the board of commissioners of Rice county for payment of a bill the county official claim never was delivered. If these and other county officials, and all public officials, were to patronize their home print shops, as they should do—and would if they, the officials, were anywhere near right—there wouldn't be any such opportunity offered for adding the costs of a law suit to the other causes the people have to pay.

The law, as it now is, sometimes is that the big city print shops do work at a slightly reduced figure, but that isn't any excuse. They do nothing whatever to the benefit of the community where their printing is delivered—simply take the money out of the town and put it where they live.

There are too many public bodies encumbered this and other states that seem to think it is economy to pass up the home printer—that when they are giving the very best that's in him for his home people, who makes his money there, that he can turn the spender it there.

Too many communities do not realize what the little country weekly newspaper means to the well-being of the town. If they did they would elect more to public office who would see to it that the publisher of their gets everything that is coming to him and more properly.

Stopping School Horses

It may be timely to repeat the provision of the law which requires any vehicle carrying school children to come to a complete stop before crossing a railroad track at an electric railway crossing. This applies whether the crossing has a flagman or not. Many accidents resulting from collisions between trains and school busses are among the most tragic of accidents and every possible precaution should be taken to prevent them.

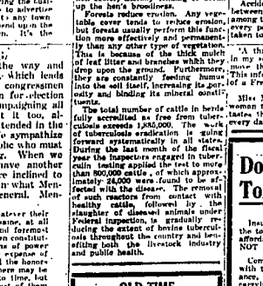
LOCAL AUTOS RED TAGGED BY STATE INSPECTOR HERE

H. J. Cater of St. Cloud, representing the state highway department, was in the city this week checking up on the registrations of cars being operated in Pennington county. While he was here he tagged over 20 autos for minor irregularities, the owners being required to report to Chief of Police A. W. Crown. Three were already reported and were able to produce their missing auto license plates. Other irregularities include wrong license plate on trucks, tail lights out, etc. At Deputy Mr. Cater tagged 12 cars.



The English word "Coward" is derived from the old French word meaning tail, derived from the Latin "cauda". Its meaning comes from the habit of animals dropping their tails between their legs when frightened.

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

An Open Letter to the Editor

From the President of General Motors

LAST SPRING I wrote you that my belief in the country newspaper had led us in General Motors to decide to advertise our products together in the small-city press of the country.

The returns from the series of the messages recently published have justified that faith; and we shall continue to advertise in your community through your newspaper this fall.

It occurs to me, however, that some of your readers may be asking: "What is General Motors?" and "Why is General Motors?" These are fair questions and I should like to answer them as frankly as I can.

General Motors was organized some years ago on the theory that a group of large companies, working together, could render a better service than they could separately. In this we simply applied to industry a principle that is as old as civilization as, regards the human family and human progress.

Original members of the General Motors family were Buick, Cadillac-Chevrolet-Oakland and Oldsmobile, together with the Delco-Light Company and other well-known companies manufacturing automotive equipment. By joining together their resources, we were able to establish great Research Laboratories, a 1245-acre Proving Ground and the GMAC Plan of credit purchase; to effect vast economies in purchase and manufacture, and distribution; to assure and maintain the quality of every product in the General Motors family.

Has the General Motors family principle proved itself in practice?

The best answer, I think, is to compare the Chevrolet, Buick, Cadillac, Oldsmobile and Oakland of today with the models of five or ten years ago.

Then add Pontiac, a General Motors creation. Add LaSalle, another General Motors creation. And then consider how General Motors has developed these cars into a complete line, within which any family may find a suitable quality car at the price it plans to pay: "A Car for Every Purse and Purpose."

Another example is Frigidaire, the electric refrigerator. General Motors had the resources to spend millions to develop a satisfactory refrigerator, and then to apply to its manufacture the same processes which have increased the utility and lowered the cost of the automobile.

We believe that this record justifies General Motors as an economic institution. Its products are quality products, first of all. Their prices represent the economies of united effort—passed on to the purchaser. In the last year one in each three automobiles chosen by the public has been a General Motors car. The service of Delco-Light electric plants has extended to more than a quarter million homes, while Frigidaire has become the world's largest selling convenience of its kind.

We believe also that the values now offered in the current General Motors products (which are listed below) prove anew that "many minds are better than one", and that a family of companies, working together, can produce results which are decidedly in the public interest and of increasing benefit to the individual family.

Very truly yours,

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President
General Motors Corporation

In behalf of this city I wish to extend my best wishes to this organization, and thank them for the confidence they have expressed in this community by the building of a large potato warehouse in this city.

ANNOUNCING

the Opening of Our Potato Warehouse

THE OPENING of our potato warehouse in this city adds an important link to our chain of warehouses in the Northwest and an important unit to our marketing organization which extends throughout the entire nation. We operate on a large scale as distributors of potatoes, buying direct from the farmers and selling direct to retailers. Our success naturally must depend on our ability to serve well both those from whom we buy and those to whom we sell. The fact that we have hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in warehouses in this section of the Northwest makes it not only advisable, but necessary, that we operate our business, not as a transient buyer who can operate in a new field each year, but as an organization whose success depends upon the efficiency of its service to the growers of a community from year to year, through big crops and through poor crops; through high prices and through low prices.

Our decision to build a large warehouse in this city was prompted by those natural conditions of soil and climate which make this an ideal community for the growing of high grade seed stock; by the excellent railroad facilities which make this city the logical assembling and distributing center for a large territory; by the fine spirit of progress of the farmers and business men of this community which is demonstrated in the long strides already made in other fields of diversified farming. Our warehouse here has a storage capacity of more than eighty carloads and is one of the most modern plants of its kind in every respect in the Northwest. We feel that it is concrete evidence of our faith in the community and that it should justify the faith of the community in us.

In recent years as we have done business with many of the farmers of this community and this business, considering the handicaps of poor handling facilities, has been very satisfactory. It is our purpose to so conduct our business that potato raising in this community will become better established from year to year and with it, from year to year, the better establishment of our business.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation to the community for the many courtesies extended our representatives in the past, and the earnest hope that our relations in the future may be mutually pleasant and mutually profitable.

As We Grow Older

Proper Kidney Action Is More Than Ever Important.

As we grow older, there is apt to be a gradual slowing up of kidney function. The kidneys are the blood filters. If their action becomes sluggish they do not thoroughly cleanse the blood of poisonous wastes. The result is nights worried and sore, with often nagging backache, drowsy headaches and dizziness. A common symptom of imperfect kidney action is scanty or burning excretions. Elderly people recommend Doan's Pills. This tested diuretic is endorsed the country over. Ask your neighbor!

OBEY TRAFFIC LAWS; PREVENT ACCIDENTS

On Hills, Keep Right

"The driver of a motor vehicle upon steep grades shall hold such motor vehicle under control and as near the right hand side of the highway as is possible."

Common sense would seem to dictate that a driver on a steep grade shall keep his motor under control. But according to the old saying, law is common sense applied, so this common sense rule was put into the law.

The rule of keeping to the right is for the protection of other traffic. If you are on the left side and you lose control of your car and hit someone you may face a heavy damage suit, besides the loss of life, limb or property. If you stay on the right, you at least avoid the damage suit. And if you keep the car under control, you avoid the accident also.

The One Light Danger

The law requires every motor vehicle using the highways at night to have lighted headlights from one half hour after sunset to one half hour before sunrise and at any other time when there is not enough light so a person can be seen 200 feet away.

Motor cycles, road rollers, road machines or farm tractors may have one or two, but ordinary passenger cars must have "two head lamps, no more no less, at the front and at approximate sides of the motor vehicle."

Auxiliary lights are permitted, with certain limitations, but the requirement that tracks and pleasure cars have two lighted headlamps at night is definite and specific.

Many counties and municipalities are enforcing the rule rigidly, still there are scores of cars on the road at night with only one light.

The rule requiring two lighted headlamps at night is one that it is dangerous to violate, even if there is not a traffic officer within a hundred miles. Failure to observe this rule has led to many serious accidents. Carry a spare bulb, or get a new one at the first corner.

Parking at Certain Places

The state law prohibits parking or permitting a vehicle to stand, whether attended or not, in front of a private driveway or within fifteen feet of a fire hydrant or within twenty-five feet of a public crosswalk at an intersection nor within twenty-five feet of the intersection of curb lines, or if none, then within fifteen feet of the intersection of property lines at an intersection of highways.

These rules are both for the safety of traffic and the safety of the public in general. Parking too close to a fire station or a hydrant might cause serious delay in putting out a fire. Parking too close to a crosswalk obstructs the view and may cause serious traffic accidents.

Slowing Down at School Houses

Now, that schools are opening in all parts of the state, it is well for motorists to note the new section in the state law which fixes fifteen miles per hour as a reasonable speed when passing a school during school recess or while children are going to or leaving school during opening or closing hours."

Besides other great regulations in the Minnesota law, this is now a fixed limit. Every driver must observe a speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having due regard to the traffic, the surface and width of the highway, and any other conditions then existing.

This means that near school houses he must have the vehicle under control so that he can slow down to five or ten miles, or stop, if necessary. On the other hand, he may go faster than 15 miles if conditions are such that it is safe, but in case of an accident or arrest during the hours named, the burden of proof would be on him to show that the speed was not unreasonable.

Democracy Defined

"Democracy is institutionalized self respect," says William Allen White in an article in Harper's Magazine of last March.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is one of the most democratic organizations in American industry in a working example of Mr. White's definition of democracy.

In the old European scheme of things, self-respect was possible only to the favored few. Powerful landlords and independent tradesmen knew it. But the average worker was a serf without opportunity to advance, forever bound to the sad lot he inherited at birth.

"Since the beginning man has been striving for just one thing—the right to be his own and not another's for the thing called equality, or opportunity," the article quoted goes on to say.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is one of the large industrial units that have helped to institutionalize self respect in America by providing equality of opportunity for all.

All employes in this Company have the same chance to "get ahead" as is achieved by hard work and ability. Those who start at the bottom often reach the top—and the records of the Company on the Board of Directors offer thrilling illustrations of this fact.

Equality of opportunity gives incentive to efficiency. Every employe of this Company takes pride in his own particular job, knowing that his efforts are recognized and appreciated, serving the unlimited opportunities for progress ahead.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) encourages employes to buy stock by means of helpful Stock Purchasing Plans and thousands have taken advantage of the opportunity, working with increased pride in the Company of which they are part owners.

Self respect is thus institutionalized in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Every individual in this Company knows the satisfaction of filling a useful place in this busy world—of earning the pleasures and privileges he enjoys. Every individual knows the self respect which William Allen White describes as a fruit of American democracy.

"Granted all its enemies say of it—still America, more than any other section of the earth, does guarantee to each human being according to his capacity for industry, courage and intelligence, a right to look squarely into the face of his peers, dream his own dreams, follow his own visions, live his own life, with such abundance—with such loyalty—and with such joy as his own heart may contain."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is an American institution that guarantees these principles of democracy to every individual in its organization of 20,000.

The day before the hard freeze the past few days there was brought into The Times office for display in the window a branch of lilacs in bloom, just as the it was spring time instead of fall. The display was from the yard of Mrs. Fred Dohls, in Nordan township. Mrs. Dohls also brought in for display in the miniature county fair exhibit three fine specimens of red and yellow Z carrots.

Wonderful Grapes

Another outstanding specimen of what may be produced in the yard of the state was the display of Alpha grapes, grown in the yard of Math Bergen on Riverside avenue. The Bergen grapes have been producing regularly for nearly ten years, each year showing a gain over that of the preceding year. Mr. Bergen stated that he had gathered over five bushels of grapes this fall.

Apples in Plenty

Excellent samples of hardy apples were also on display. Many varieties have been producing regularly for nearly ten years, each year showing a gain over that of the preceding year. Mr. Bergen stated that he had gathered over five bushels of grapes this fall.

Potatoes Grown from Seed

Potatoes grown from seed also brought from Sweden were another sample of goodness attracting attention, not being familiary known. These were from the garden of Mrs. O. Erickson in the Horseshoe bend, she also sending in cucumbers, gourds and squash.

The Great-it Freak

The great-it freak sent-in for display was a small carrot which had grown downward thru an iron nut. Half of the carrot being above the nut and the other half protruding below, it was furnished by Palmer Thompson of the Eastern side brought the excellent sample of Bermuda onions seen by him this summer. This is the first year that Bermuda onion sets were generally available in the city, and a number availing themselves of the opportunity to try them out. The sample brought in weighed 19 ounces. H. W. Althoff, living near the Red river, brought in some fine specimens of lilacs in bloom, and roses, also. Mrs. Althoff, just as the it was spring time instead of fall. NUTRITION UNITS TO DEMONSTRATE VALUE OF FOODS

Exhibits to Be Staged Oct. 21 in Auditorium Will Show Food Values.

FREE LUNCH AT NOON FOLLOWED BY PROGRAM

Planned to Make Achievement Day One of Outstanding Events of Season.

Achievement day for the Pennington county nutrition project will be held in the auditorium Friday, Oct. 21, and judged by the efforts being put forth by the various committees in charge of the affair will be one of the outstanding events of the season.

Nutrition Exhibits

The 21 units in the county, 9 each in Thief River Falls and St. Hilaire, two at Goodridge and 1 at Mavie, will assemble striking exhibits along the various lines of nutrition work showing the importance of correct eating and the proper selection of food.

These exhibits will be open to the general public about ten o'clock in the forenoon and remain on display till about five p. m. Booths will be erected for the displays, which will be arranged in different localities in the Thief River Falls and Red Lake Falls districts, according to the different projects as studied during the past year.

Lunch at Noon

At noon a free lunch will be served in the basement of the auditorium, the lunch will be free, however, only to the members in the various nutrition groups and their immediate friends. The lunch committee has prepared a healthful menu, based on the various ideas taught in the classes, every thing being with the idea of carrying out the lessons. The menu is as follows:

Baked Beans
Vegetable Salad
Light and dark bread and butter sandwiches
Pickles
Cake
Coffee, for the grown-ups
Milk, for children

Excellent Program

After lunch a program will be given by the unit members, staged in the auditorium, in which some original stunts will be put on, a moving picture reel on postures being shown in conclusion.

The whole affair will be worth while attending and will be for men and women as well as children. People are asked to come and to bring their families, so they can learn the value of such projects, which is important as the livestock on the farm or the automobile in the city. Balanced feeding is the keynote of the whole affair.

Committees in Charge

There are five committees at work on the achievement day program these being as follows:

HAS ARM BROKEN WHILE CRANKING CATERPILLAR

While attempting to crank a caterpillar tractor used in road construction work here Wylie last Saturday Andrew Rasmussen had the misfortune to have his arm broken when the engine backfired. The injured man was brought in this city at once for hospital attention and is reported by Dr. Swedenburg as resting comfortably.

Steel to Wheat Trail Given Boost in Range Section

Each successive year has brought forth a bigger crop of wheat, each year bring a real Steel to Wheat Highway across the northern part of Minnesota, passing from the iron range to the wheat fields of the Red River valley, which would include Thief River Falls on its route.

A few days ago a caravan of autos from the far eastern end of the proposed route, started a tour along the highway as decided, leaving Ely and Cook and headed for Northome, which is located on highway No. 4 from Bemidji to International Falls.

Two Tentative Routes

This, much of the route will cover about half of the distance across the part of the state, and for Northome two routes are available one across the peninsula separating the Red Lake from the Lake of the Woods, Thief River Falls and the Dakota Wheat fields, the other skirting the southern shore of the lower Red Lake, and these by way of Thief River Falls.

The tour was a success in every way, according to those who made the iron range and undoubtedly when the route is definitely decided on, it will not be one of the most interesting scenic highways in the state.

CHEESE SCORES HIGH

The cheese factory at Terrebonne for years has been noted for the excellent quality of its product, and Miss Adeline Robidoux, daughter of Proprietor Frederic Robidoux, has sent a sample to the state fair for exhibition purposes. Her father was sick and unable to supervise the making of the cheese at that time. The cheese won a high score of 95, and the friends of the young lady are congratulating her on her success.

DR. MELBY MAKES TALK

The subject of detective vision and also the defective child was handled in an enlightened manner by Dr. O. F. Melby at the teachers' institute last week. Local problems were submitted by the teachers present and he explained the relationship of the eye to such children, the doctor being a member of the state board of health.

MURDERER OF PETERSON REPORTED AS CAPTURED

It will be recalled that about a year ago H. N. Peterson of Wheelock, N. Dak., was shot during a bank robbery, the assailant making good his escape. Mr. Peterson will be remembered by older residents of this city as having been employed in the old First state bank when it was located where the Motor Inn cafe is now housed, on the corner of Second and Main.

Dispatches this week tell of the capture of Lester Barge at Minot, who is being held on the charge of murder, and it is reported that he has confessed the slaying of Peterson.

NO SOO STRIKE

The threatened strike of Soo Line employees scheduled for last Saturday was amicably settled that afternoon when the men and the company officials agreed to leave the matter in dispute to the board of arbitration. The meeting in Minneapolis was attended by T. G. Lange of this city, representing the union men on this division of the road.

Child Dies From Burns Received When Kettle of Scalding Tomatoes Falls

Janet Marie, the fourteen months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Glen C. Anderson of Minneapolis, and granddaughter of County Auditor and Mrs. T. F. Anderson of this city, died Monday night from burns received when she tipped a kettle of scalding hot tomatoes over her head.

Mrs. Anderson was canning tomatoes, the kettle standing rather close to the edge of the stove, when the little child reached up to take hold of it, the scalding contents pouring over her head and back. She was rushed to a hospital immediately and for several days no hope was held out for her recovery. According to word received the last of the week, however, the little child seemed to be gradually improving, but suffered a relapse on Monday.

FUR RANCHES IN STATE HAVE GROWN RAPIDLY

Fur ranching in Minnesota has become a large increase during the past five years, according to fur breeders. In contrast to five years ago when possibilities were considered fair farming in the state and winter quarters there should be no trouble in getting the necessary help. A full house cleaning is necessary, of course. But, the houses should also be well stored away carefully to make sure that faults noticed in former years do not overcome this year. Many houses are too high. This fault can be corrected by means of straw left at a very slight expense. Perhaps the ventilation system is inadequate, perhaps the floor needs attention.

Other defects also are given by Cora E. Cooley, poultry specialist of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Minnesota:

1. Roosts not round. Allow three square feet of floor space per bird for the light breeds and four square feet per bird for the dual purpose breeds.

2. Roosts not level. Allow three square feet of floor space per bird for the light breeds and four square feet per bird for the dual purpose breeds.

3. The average height should be 2½ feet, or only high enough to provide comfort for the species.

Mrs. Smith Bought 26,442 Pairs of Our Silk Hosiery

The Smiths are pretty good customers of ours. Statisticians tell us that they number 1,304,300 in the United States, which means, according to the law of averages, that we sold Mrs. Smith 26,442 pairs of silk hosiery. Mr. Smith bought 56,640 pairs of overalls, and both of them together used 60,448 pairs of shoes from our stores.

But we must not forget the Johnsons. They too are good customers and number 1,024,200, while the Browns come third with 730,500 and the Williams family number 684,700.

Figures, however, would mean little, if it were not for the story behind them. Back of the statement that we sold 2,000,000 pairs of hose in 1926 is an untold story of honest quality and conscientious workmanship. Back of the 4,800,000 pairs of overalls sold the American workingman is the story of a pleased customer — a customer whom we can look straight in the eye and say "howdy."

ROSEAU TO ENFORCE CURFEW

The village council and the board of education at Roseau have announced their belief that the curfew ordinance will be enforced there from now on, and all children found "on the streets after the hour of nine o'clock in the evening will be reported to their parents informed to see that the children are kept off the streets unless accompanied by their parents or others entrusted with their care.

Exceptions to Parking Rule

Another exception to the law is provided that the rule against parking on the main traveled portion of the highway shall not apply to any vehicle which is disabled while on the highway in such manner and to such extent that it is impossible to avoid stopping and temporarily leaving such vehicle in such position.

This paragraph is as strong in what it does not say, as in what it says. It makes it clear that it is not lawful to stop and make repairs on the roadway if it is possible to move the vehicle to the side of the road. Unless there is a broken wheel, most vehicles can be moved to the side of the road by the use of the starting motor for a few yards. For safety sake, it should be done as soon as possible.

79-YEAR OLD AUCTION BILL REFLECTS CHANGING TIMES

Many newspapers have been reprinting an auction bill taken from the Lafayette, Missouri, Herald, for a sale on March 1st, 1849. The master sold seventy-nine years ago listed a lot of property which would look mighty startling on an auction bill now.

For instance, "At the same time I will sell my negro man Jim, about thirty-five and fifty years old; two negro children, one about two, the other six years old. Will also sell my negro girl Jane and child, Mary. Also, one yoke of oxen, one cart and one wagon. Also, one set of blacksmith tools. Also, one set of cooper's tools. Also, one set of tinner's tools. Leif Erickson Discovers America

Leif Erickson was a Scandinavian who long heard a great deal about AMERICA by reading NEW YORK Times. He later decided to give Leif land in full details of every dog store policy east of Oshkosh. In fact, he had so much information about this land of soda pops and hot even tomboy, that he decided to see it for himself.

Now, at the same time he started to see it, Leif Ericsson, he got a boat by outboard he lodged across Atlantic ocean. Upon his arrival he came to disappointed because only two additional dairy queen were built in Leif's absence. Further disappointment followed when he failed to see SUITING HALL building around a corner. Failing to produce upon a poor traveler, Leif decided that this country was not what it was bragged up to be, so Leif went to his bank, drew out his money, bought a steerage ticket and sailed for home.

EAGLE GIVES TO SCHOOL

A fine specimen of a large American eagle died some 15 years ago in the vicinity of Stranahan and was mounted in 1907 by Mr. Ed Stranahan, who is now a taxidermist in Detroit. Mr. Stranahan has generously donated the bird to the Lincoln high school.

The eagle had a spread of 7½ feet and is quite handsome. Mr. Stranahan has the gift in remembrance of the days when his boys went there the local schools.

"Well", remarked Mr. Jordahl after examining his friend's new Flat, "I wish I could afford a place like this."

"Yes, said Mr. Ostby, "You married men may have better halves, but we bachelors usually have better quarters."

FIRST GRID GAME OF SEASON IS TIE

Lincoln Play Stand but Only Keep Score In Goodwin With Grafton.

In a game brimming full of thrills, pulls, and had breaks the Lincoln High football team held the Grafton High boys to a 6-6 tie in the season's opening game Friday, September 23.

Twice during the first half the locals forced the ball to within one foot of the Grafton's goal line, but were given upside to place the pigskin over the line line, fumbling matters and then losing the ball on downs.

The Grafton Rangers are a fighting bunch of boys who put up a very strong defensive game, only in the shadow of their goal posts. Neither team scored a touch down during the first half, both being so evenly matched that no great progress was made. Both teams were forced to punt on several occasions, Westgate and Erickson, local ends, showed up very well in tackling the Grafton receiver in his tracks.

During the second half the spectators were given a real thrill when Ronald Erickson intercepted a pass on his own goal line and broke away for a beautiful run back through a parade of Grafton's goal-line lineup before he was tackled by a Grafton player coming up behind him. Captain Reed then plunged over for a touch down, but was unable then to kick the extra point failed when Erickson, about to receive a pass, was tackled before he had time to aim and missed the ball.

When Grafton sent out hole of the ball they proceeded, by a series of successful forks and end runs to place the ball over the goal line. They failed to kick the extra point, the point leaving the score a tie.

Then began a seesaw duel to score again before the line keepers, which resulted in neither team's getting any very small percentage of the passes, of both teams were successful, the majority of them being intercepted or knocked down by defending halfbacks. Thief River's backfield was excelled that of Grafton in open field running while Grafton gained consistently through the line. The Nodak backfield took care of most of the ball tackling done for their team, nailing the local ball carriers for losses consistently all of the time they were in the scrimmages.

The game was a rough, hard fought contest from start to finish, but it was all good clean football. Only a few injuries were suffered although a few players were rather painfully bruised and bumped.

The lineup, were:

Thief River Falls	Grafton
Fred Wengerter	LE, Sig Thurston
Earl Dressler	LT, Ralph Hall
Alfred Cloutier	LG, Merle Overland
Ronald Erickson	C, Torgerson
Richard Dahlow	RG, Kellum
Gordon Dahlow	RT, Robert Erickson
Robert Erickson	RE, Meyers
Selmer Swanson	QB, Ewald Bostad
Ray Orn	FB, Arngard

Substitutes: Thief River Falls—Donald Snyder for Erickson; Erickson for Ewald Bostad; George Williamson for Dahlow.

Grid Training to Trim Warren Saturday

After holding Grafton in a draw last Friday, Coach Boe and his seven of six men will start out early in the morning all their time to trimming Warren next Saturday, Oct. 1. A few more plays have been taken up, and weaknesses discovered in the Grafton encounter have been corrected.

Fans are looking forward with a great deal of anticipation to the coming game. Last year the cancelling of the game with Warren caused quite a gap in the schedule. As the two teams have always been rivals in football and basketball for several years, their respective teams should stage quite a demonstration in an effort to establish a precedent. The game is played at Warren, quite a large delegation of local fans is expected to make the journey.

MUSICAL ASSEMBLY MUCH APPRECIATED

Herman Bischoff Pleases With Vocal and Saxophone Concert Last Friday.

Herman Bischoff, son of Mr. W. B. Fuller of this city, entertained the students of high Friday morning with a thirty-five minute musical program. The gifted gentleman is a graduate of the Fairbault school for the blind, and has studied under John Sauser, voice and Robert Fullerton of the Macphail School of Music for two years.

Following a brief introduction by Miss Ruth Bischoff, who has appeared formerly before the high school students, Mr. Bischoff opened number "Invictus", accompanied by Miss Jessie G. Johnson. Irving Berlin's "Russian Rag" was next given by the vocalist, and both arms and legs amputated, after which, although he was suffering from an incurable disease, he rendered this masterpiece, "Dinah". The Latin word meaning unconquered. Mingled applause and laughter was the second number which again brought out Mr. Bischoff's well-trained and deeply-appealing voice. The words of the third song: "Ships that Pass in the Night", are indeed fitting but the music is that of Stephenson. Mr. Bischoff's last number was "Pale Moon" was the next much enjoyed selection.

Mr. Bischoff's encore request, Mr. Bischoff sang "On the Road to Mandalay", which was given as the encore number. His accompaniment, his pupil Miss Johnson, was also highly appreciated by the students. As an encore to the saxophone selection, Mr. Bischoff was sung. That Mr. Bischoff has been called the "Flapper Boy" because of his wonderful Scotch imitation is interesting to know.

Although interest during the songs was at the highest pitch, the saxophone selection by Mr. Bischoff took out his saxophone and began to play the tune predominated in the saxophone solo. "My Buried Love", a beautiful selection with grace, notes and thrills, in both of which the musician was accompanied by his sister, Miss Harriet Fuller. Mr. Bischoff sang a vocal solo to which the entertainer was ably supported by Miss Johnson, accompanist, after also playing the accompaniment. Lack of the time, prevented Mr. Bischoff from playing a few selections, to the disappointment of the student body, who would have not want during the entire program.

Captain: "What are you scratching your head for, Hawkins?"
Captain: "Well, why don't you get rid of them?"
Colored Private: "Dat's cooties."
Captain: "What do they have to do with arithmetic?"
Colored Private: "Well, sah, dey add to mah misery; dey subtract from mah comfort; dey multiply mah itching and dey multiply like everything."

Mr. Ogheim: "What does 'serfdom' mean to you, Lucille?"
Lucille: "It doesn't mean anything to me yet."

Mr. Tuleen was peeling an Orange as he crossed a bridge. Meeting one of the young and good looking women teachers he, absent-mindedly threw his hat in the river and tiped the orange peeling.

Further Activities of Alumni Noted in Letter

In reply to our call for additional information or correction about alumni activities, the Class of 1926 has sent in the following letter which was received:

Krukka, Minn.
Sept. 23, 1927

Editor of Progress Staff,
Lincoln High School
Dear Sir:

In reading over the "High School Progress" I noticed the statement of your appreciation of any information concerning those receiving alumni of 1927. Here is so much of it I know. Myrtle Johnson is attending the Macphail State Teacher's College; Evelyn Wood is taking nurse's training at the Fairview Hospital and Training Home at Minneapolis; Lorraine Lavrado is attending the Northern Business College at Duluth; Ruth Johnson who taught school west of Thief River Falls is now here and received his elementary education at the local schools. Last winter he was employed at wood work at Warroad. He remained part of the summer with his home folks until July 4th when he entered the employ of the March farm implement firm at Warren, as a salesman. He is quite successful and a good worker, he seldom loses out on the annual assessments of the young folks, but expects to go to Chicago and was generally liked.

To return as his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bloom, and his brother, Lloyd Anderson and Lorraine Hanson, Thief River Falls friends.

Sincerely,
Leah Bullick

The following corrections are also noted: Selma Gunderson is now employed at the Borg Company; instead of Verona Fuller, Viola Lundgren is attending the Macphail School of Music; Mildred Hedren is attending the Alice Hospital of St. Paul instead of the Michael Reese Hospital of Chicago; Edna Stageberg is visiting at Kikkerv, N. Dak., and is not taking normal course at Grand Forks.

The "Progress" is willing to make any corrections that the alumni and people are interested in the activities of the graduates.

Alexander Ramsey traveled 33 days, by stage and boat, to reach his rousing "mansion" in Minnesota territory. He found a wilderness and built a state. Junior Band Notes

The formation of a second junior band is well under way, announces bandmaster, Tuleen. Thirty-six new candidates reported for the meeting last Monday at the city auditorium.

Most of the musical instruments are furnished by the city, although many of the boys own their own, a great number of the beginners have been practicing on the different pieces than the piano.

The first Juvenile band is also making remarkable progress. Several new members have been added since the opening of school. The group passed at the last meeting that new music be secured. The present music having been learned and completed by the two bands will contain a few snappy marches. It is thought that in the future the two Junior bands will be combined to get better results.

It is planned that the junior band play at all local football and basketball games, the band left for Duluth last fall to play pleased that the junior band accompany the team to the near-by cities.

Local stalks of corn, thoroughly representative of the many years of production in this section, are superior to corn from southern Minnesota, Northwestern Dent and Minn. 10 obtained at various distances from Thief River Falls, in their judging following that local strains are rather superior to those from central and southern Minnesota.

The Crookston strain of Northwestern Dent produced at the Northwest Station ranked fifth place. The Minn. 10 is the same variety produced in Pennington county. The Haney strain of Minn. 13 produced at the International Harvester Co. Farm at Grand Forks, ranked 11 days earlier than Minn. 13 from Albert Lea, Freeborn county.

NORTHWESTERN TELEPHONE CO. IMPROVEMENTS

New Line Will Be Constructed on Bridge Street in Very Near Future.

CITY WILL ALSO USE POLES WHEN ERECTED

One Set of Poles Will Also Be Removed on West Sixth Street.

Mention was made in these columns last week of new poles being set in the alley between Lalibre and Hebert's garage and on Eighth street east by the water and light department, to be used jointly by the city and the telephone company. In an interview with Manager Geo. Burrell of the Northwestern Telephone Exch. Co. a representative of The Times was advised that the phone company has contracted for a number of 40 foot poles to be used in rebuilding the main line of that company on Bridge street to conform with the city.

Two years ago the eastern part of the phone line running out of the city on Bride street was restrung from Third to Fifth streets. It is the intention now to erect these heavier poles from that point to the bridge, the city setting the new poles for which the telephone company is to use as the latter's permanent poles for its other line described last week. These heavier poles will be used in the future in carrying the heaviest load for both the city and the telephone company.

Another improvement by the Northwestern Telephone Exchange company authorized in the city council following the consolidation of the two companies last April is the placing of the present lighting system all of the main lines will be taken off the street, and placed in the alleys, all of the poles being used jointly by the two units. Each side has entered into a contract with the other to lease a portion of their poles at a nominal rental of $2 a year which will thus pay the installation cost in a ten year period on the average. Maintenance charges are also taken care of individually by the two parties to the contract which runs for some time to come.

To effect better service the telephone company is contemplating rewiring of certain business blocks, using cable installation instead of the open wires.

ST. HILAIRE PHONE SYSTEM IS SOLD TO RED LAKE FALLS CO.

Dr. G. W. Hooper Established System 20 Years Ago Starting in Small Way.

The telephone exchange and farm lines in and about St. Hilaire have been sold by Dr. G. W. Hooper to the Red Lake Falls telephone company according to an announcement in the St. Hilaire Gazette last week. Mr. Hooper established the exchange in 1907, starting with a few subscribers and gradually extending the system till recently the city service was put on a par with the central office. The exchange has been conducted by Dr. Hooper and Mrs. Hooper, and neither will remain for the present in the city.

Dr. and Mrs. Hooper do not intend to remove from St. Hilaire, and will continue to operate their farms which are now in the village. They have left many friends, but will undoubtedly find pleasure in the closer attention to the harvesting of the latter.

Dan L. Kennedy, owner of the Red Lake Falls exchange, does not intend to make any radical changes in the system at this time, but will make improvements as soon as the rates permit. It comes it will be likely meant to give the people here the splendid long distance patronage enjoyed in the past.

Only 4 Bushels of Oats From 2 Loads in Dakota

Reuben Orr returned last week from a trip into the Dakota harvest fields near Ardmore, making the trip by auto and investigating along the route the condition in general of the crop. Mr. Orr stated to a Times reporter that the yield per acre ahead of many that he saw on the trip.

At one farm where he inquired the man had just completed threshing two large loads of oats at a cost of $7.50 and all the man had to show for the labor on the coal was four scrawny bushels.

But wheat usually has badly damaged most of the crops and they were poor on the whole, although in a few places some excellent yields were reported, threshing just being fairly well started in the northern part of the state.

CLOVER SEED IS VALUABLE

Are you following reports from the Lake of the Woods section clover seed is being shipped out of that section to eastbound points, three cars having been slated last week destined for southern Minnesota points. Each car was worth $11,500, and the three carloads in the one shipment had a value of close to $35,000, all of it being of the alsike variety. It is stated that this is but a moderate shipment, the seed being brought in in constantly greater amounts daily.

Little Wood, However, Available at This Time With Prices Somewhat Higher.

QUOTATIONS ON COAL SHOW SLIGHT INCREASE

The advent of colder weather has brought with it the usual rush for fuel by those who have not put in their winter's supply during the summer months, which is more frequently the case in larger cities of the state than in Thief River Falls.

Fuel dealers report plenty of coal available but there is a scarcity of wood, the heavy stocks of last winter making it practically impossible to get any at this time or in fact it is plain where it could be located unto cars is consequently prices for wood will continue to be somewhat higher this year than for some time past.

Into of Coal at Duluth

The coal trade at the Lake Superior ports is reported to be 10 per cent greater than last year, and fair to good weather speaks up in the northern part of the state for a heavy movement, will offer a response of shipments during the next month or two. Duluth, Superior and Two Harbors are the principal coal dealers stated to-day.

Indications are that the central coal-producing states will not be able to meet the demand in advance of expansion because exhausted in July.

Production for the month of July was 39,000,000 tons of bituminous, and about 7,000,000 tons of anthracite, a partial list of the principal stocks and capacities of the Duluth docks within the Gladstone Lumber company's No. 1 mill at Hermantown is operating, it being stripped and sawing. The fifth ten power unit that was in the mill was valued at $18,000 while the mill was running, but recently was sold to a logging company of Duluth for $3,500. It is estimated that over 1,000 tons of stone will be salvaged from the two mills.

It was alleged that Mr. Cline had not attended meetings of the weed inspectors called by county officers, but he did not receive the law in the district under his jurisdiction, and in addition permitted weeds to grow on the lands he owned.

Minnesota Leads States in Potato Production

According to a recent bulletin issued by the United States Department of Agriculture Minnesota leads the country in potato production. The raising of potatoes in this immediate vicinity is steadily increasing, but not to the extent that it is in the state at large, or even up the state as a whole. For the average for Minnesota for the years from 1920 to 1926 was 41,000,000 bushels of 600 bushels each.

The average for the same period, while Maine and Michigan each had a little over 34,000 cars. Wisconsin came next with 27,000 while Nebraska had less than 17,000 on the average.

However, Maine shipped more potatoes than did Minnesota, the former while the latter was 31,542 carloads. The large difference between the two states's average production of 69,000,000 bushels of potatoes and the average shipments of 28,000 carloads is accounted for by the fact that Minnesota's potatoes are largely shipped by truck and potatoes used for industrial purposes or in livestock feeding.

HIGHWAY DEPT. TO LET JOBS FOR 1928 AT MEEING OCT. 18

The Minnesota Highway department, following its policy of planning its work far in advance, is now letting contracts for work to be done in the summer of 1928. Commissioner C. M. Babcock announces that bids will be received Oct. 18, on 55.5 miles of paving and 72 miles of new grading to be done next year. By letting contracts in the fall, the department gets better prices and contractors are able to get ready and start early in the spring.

The Hay Institute's one grading job next year, which will involve moving 741,000 cubic yards of dirt. The other jobs, in various parts of the state, contemplate moving a total of a million yards more.

The paving advertised will complete the gap from the present pavement south of Shakopee to 31 miles to the north, on No. 5 and from Shakopee to Belle Plaine on No. 5 to St. Peter. Both these roads were graded on new location in 1926, and are now awaiting the surfacing. From both St. Paul and Minneapolis to all points in Southwestern Minnesota. The old state road, No. 5 and No. 2 have been among the most expensive and difficult the department has had to maintain. Traffic will continue to use the old roads until the new one is completed.

Bids are asked on grading four miles that have been graded this summer, and abandoning one stretch of new pavement.

PAVING OF BONDS

The Erskine school board is following the example of the local board of education and has decided to pave its bonds on hand to take up its outstanding bonds not yet due, and when additional funds become available to retire four more bonds of a similar nature.

Collection of motor vehicle taxes passed the $10,000,000 mark last week, the first time in the history of the state that receipts have touched the 10 million point in a single year.

Mike Holm, secretary of state, reported total receipts last Friday of $10,000,248.68, with $35,992 vehicles unregistered. This comparison with 1926 was $9,-545,767, the final collection last year.

ALFALFA VARIETIES

In a comparison of Grimm and Cossack alfalfa grown on the farm for years, the average yield of the Grimm was 3.16 tons. No difference in quality hay or winter hardiness has been apparent.

In trials to determine the best date of seeding alfalfa, best stands were obtained from seeding alone on June 15, July 16, and August 1 last year. Ordinarily July 1 has been as successful as any of these three dates, but last year, a drouth at that time delayed germination. Seeding with wheat on April 15 last year was unsuccessful, but not so in other years.

Results of other years have shown successful stands with wheat, but more successful planting from June 15 to July 15.

SCARCITY OF PLUMS AS CAUSE OF FALL FRUIT STATE

Quite a few people in this vicinity are wondering at the scarcity of plums this fall, altho there are quite a few exceptions. This condition is not a local one, however, but is true throughout the state, the scarcity being due to the unfavorable weather during the spring season. There were also showers throughout the state about the time the trees were in bloom and before the bees had an opportunity to carry the pollen.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY EXHIBITS ARE WORTHY

A step behind scenes, as it were, was afforded a representative of The Times today when he sought out some news regarding the Achievement day features to be staged Friday, Oct. 21, in the auditorium. He was greeted with surprise after surprise, to the only way in which the affair can be described.

The first inkling of what might be expected was the display in the window of the First National bank, wherein is arranged the same exhibit as was made at the county fair last summer. In the window will be seen the vegetable children who have been the delight of those who have study supply their particular nutritive project.

The Vegetable Children

It was impossible for all the vegetable children to get in the First National bank in time for George Wendtlein to admit them to the show window, but those who have arrived include Carrie Carrot, Bennie Beet, Alfonzie Spinach, Pompadour Celery, Peter Pumpkin, Curly Cabbage and Cauli Cauliflower.

Among those who have somewhat tardy, yet who are expected to arrive in time for the doings at the auditorium on Achievement day are a number of well-behaved tots and leaders. Included in this list of children are Asparagus Gus, Tommy Tomato, Susie Crookneck, Sonny Boy Onion, and Bobbie Bean.

These are a few other vegetable children often seen in the gardens and in the homes of the latter but who were not invited to this Achievement day exhibit for the reason that they are not of the kind that make strength and nourishment.

Good and Ill Health Homes

A glance at the window of the First National bank will also reveal the Home of Good Health, built of fruits, with a fruit cellar, or roof, on which is perched a carrot chimney, and bordered by a wall of whole grain cereals, and a row of whole grain cereals, and a row of potato and garden in connection therewith presents a display of "greens" together with wholesome vegetables and a bunch of carrots. Directly facing it is this House of Good Health are happy, carefree, and healthful citizens with plenty of civic pride.

In the other house, known as the Home of Ill Health, is more than a misguided, ill-informed persons who grasp at anything that looks as if it will appeal to the eye, whether it will give them strength or health matters not. This house is built of lard, candy, and what-not for a lot of passers-by to see. Under the chimney is a cucumber, and the walk, of lard candy, and the roof of rock candy, and also they would be worth eating after baking or frying.

Other Garden Treats

Winter onions, both red and white, from the garden, will be on hand, as rather tempting, as are also some other garden treats sent in by Mrs. E. Sayer, 322 Arnold Ave N., the largest cucumber weighing 2 pounds 4 ounces—the largest one brought in so far. Swanson, living south of Goodridge, has also promised to bring over 22 pounds, and which before the top was cut off tipped the scales at 30 pounds.

Some Freaks

Among the freaks brought in for display there is a tomato that looks like a Mallard duck all ready to be roasted, while a rock shaped like a human foot, with even the protrusion on the toe end, was furnished by Dan Iverson, living 8 miles east of Thief River Falls.

Mention was made last week of a lily that had been in bloom before the hard frost, and Mrs. Nee has called to the mind of Harry Roberts that he had picked some violets just across the Mallard creek just a few weeks ago. They were blooming just as the first spring bud arrived.

ZUMWINKLE AND KAISER MAKE BRIEF STOP HERE

State Commander L. E. Zumwinkle of Fergus Falls and District Commander Roscoe Kaiser of Bagley were here a short time the first of the week on their way from Warren to Red Lake Falls, at which place a rousing meeting was held last night attended by about thirty-five local Legionnaires.

The sub-district rally announced last week for Oct. 7, has been indefinitely postponed as it will not be possible for the state commander to be present at that time.

Apples and Potatoes of Excellent Size and Appearance Attract Attention.

The color weather foreboding the near approach of winter has turned the attention of fruit and potato growers to garnering their crops. They also have remembered The Times minutes county fair exhibit and some splendid specimens have been brought in this past week.

Apples and Potatoes

A display that has been catching the eye of passers-by is that of William Yonke, living a mile south of Thief River Falls on the east side of the river. He brought in some luscious looking apples, and also some nice winter apples, and small and medium sized potatoes. Other potatoes and apples were brought in by Holzkneecht, who resides on Riverside avenue.

Potatoes, that are proving a worth while crop on the Fred Copp and Sons farm, six miles northeast of Thief River Falls, were brought in to be excellent that nearly a dozen large samples were brought in to town—and are now occupying a prominent place in the window display. They are of the California Burbank variety, and some fine Real New Yorkers raised by S. P. Anderson, also on the Copp farm, also look as tho they would be worth eating after baking or frying.

Mrs. R. Arnold Appears in Crookston Dramatic Recital

Mrs. Gretel Love Arnold, wife of Dr. R. Arnold of this city, who is accompanist as a dramatic reader, appeared in a recital at Crookston Friday night, held at the Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the Womens Federated Clubs of Crookston. An appreciative and enthusiastic audience greeted the reader, who gave a delightful program of dramatic interpretation of "Harold Bell Wright's 'Master of the Old House,'" which, she herself had arranged. Mrs. Arnold was assisted in her recital by Mrs. Rose Chesspar of Barbadoes, of Crookston, soloist, and Laverne Custiss Larson of Crookston accompanist. The following extracts regarding the recital appeared in the Crookston Times:

"Mrs. Arnold is no stranger here, her selection of Harold Bell Wright's 'Master of the Old House' gave ample opportunity to demonstrate her ability as an impersonator. She held the keen attention of the audience throughout, her voice, portrayal of 'The Interpreter' and the many other characters of Vogt and Ward, enjoyed by all. Mrs. Arnold has been heard in 'The Melting Pot' and 'War Brides,' and other dramatic readings, and each time has been highly enjoyed by her audiences. Her impersonations are vivid that without change of costume she is able to make one feel the characters."

Official Paper of the City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

The city is honored this week by the presence of several hundred teachers attending the Northwestern Educational Association convention. Several of the visitors to this convention have distinguished themselves in educational work, and are recognized nationally as authorities in their respective fields. We welcome these visitors to our city and trust that they stay here may be as pleasant as their deliberations will be beneficial.

EXTEND THE LINE

Citizens of the Grygla community are continuing their efforts to secure a railroad. Discouraged with the delays, year after year, in the extension of the electric line from Goodridge, they have turned to the business men of Bemidji and asked them to assist in getting a branch out of that city. It would seem that a branch line from Bemidji would be highly improbable. Considering the fact however that the citizens of Grygla have already waited many years for the Thief River Falls line they probably feel that waiting for a line from Bemidji will lend a little variety to the wait.

The railroad to Grygla proposition deserves more serious attention by the business men of this city than they have given it. This extension of the electric line seventeen miles over a flat country certainly is not an impossibility. The cost of building a suitable grade for this short distance would not be great and for the immediate needs of the service old rails would serve the purpose. As railroad construction costs go, this seventeen miles should be put in at a very slight cost. And as far as operating costs are concerned the present car equipment of the company should be adequate for the time being, and with the addition of one depot agent the present personnel of the company should be able to handle the business. Certainly the additional territory served would produce enough additional business to justify this slight increase in cost. Much of the business in that territory is now being done by trucks and much is going to points on the Great Northern and north of here.

This proposition is of sufficient importance to this city to justify a careful survey of the Grygla territory by local business men. With definite facts on the population of that community and its present acreage, and an intelligent estimate on the amount of increased business the extension of the line would mean, it should be possible to secure favorable action by the road officials. The railroads are not interested in this community or any other community from a sentimental standpoint. They are interested in earning money, and before they build extensions they must be satisfied that their investment will bring satisfactory returns financially. Therefore definite information, not of future prospects but of present conditions, must be in their hands before they will consider the matter. The sooner this information is secured the sooner will come that consideration. And right now is the proper time to gather the information.

WE WERE VERY ENTHUSIASTIC.

We have always felt very kindly toward the Chinese. Our good will toward them is probably prompted by sympathy. We have always had a feeling that the world powers have taken advantage of the Chinamen. And so when a native of China spoke at the Commercial Club last week, and in discussing the affairs of China, stated that his nation was not receiving fair treatment from the world powers, we accepted his conclusions enthusiastically. When he declared that the American people were being misinformed on the developments in China we were inclined to agree with him and when he proved his assertion by announcing that British interests owned the only cable that connected China with this country it was as if a flash of light had suddenly shot through the darkness. We were absolutely convinced that our suspicions had been well founded, and we applauded violently when he had completed his talk. We left the room with a gratifying feeling of righteousness. We felt very virtuous in being able to sympathize with the downtrodden.

Once removed from the delightful spell of this oratory however, we began to doubt some of the conclusions. We began to doubt the statement that Americans know only one side of the story of conditions in China. Several American magazines of wide circulation have published detailed stories of conditions in China from the standpoint of China herself. It occurred to us that the speaker himself did not tell us anything of conditions in the Orient that we have not already read in American magazines and newspapers. Thousands of missionaries have returned to this country from China and many of them are frankly pro-China in their views. Their views have been given general circulation. And the inference of the speaker, that British ownership of the cable meant biased reports, aroused considerable resentment within us when we stopped to analyze his statement. When we considered that cablegrams can be and often are sent in secret code, and realized how unfair the criticism was, and how serious the consequences of such criticism might be, we boiled internally. The net result of the speech so far as we are concerned is that we are now less sympathetic to the Chinese than we were before we heard the speech. We are convinced that the speaker was merely another propagandist.

Perhaps our greatest cause for resentment in this particular case was the discovery of our own weakness under the subtle influence of a clever speaker. We resolved that from now on, henceforth and forevermore, we are going to be absolutely again every speaker whose opening remarks are to the effect that we have been misinformed but that if we will erase all former impressions and listen to him, we then will learn the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Speaking of China, we would feel good if this government would withdraw from the Orient and the Philipines while the withdrawing is good. Frankly, we don't care a hoot about the Chinese, but it is an awful long ways to go to get into trouble. If we must have trouble let's find some closer to home. It is kind of funny though, to hear some of the boys point with long faces to the aggression of the wicked world powers over there, when right here at home we keep the native Americans penned up on reservations.

The Woman's Club Chorus of this city will represent this district in the competition at Crookston this evening for the state championship. A large number of Thief River Falls citizens in the audience will not detract from their chances of winning. There's a gravel road running both ways. Why not make the trip?

The Thief River Falls football team plays its first home game of the season tomorrow afternoon. Not because it's an unusually good team but because it is the Thief River Falls Team, does it deserve the support of this community. The fact that it is a mighty good team makes attendance an enjoyable duty. The game starts at four o'clock.

4,000 CIRCULATION.

Four thousand copies of the Times are now printed and distributed each week, placing it well up toward the top, if not at the top, of the list among community weekly newspapers in point of circulation. That's a lot of circulation. That's a lot of readers to check up on our mistakes too.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of our beloved daughter and sister, Esther, who left us one year ago today, Oct. 6, 1926.

One year has passed, Our hearts still sore, As time rolls on we miss her more, Her ready smile, her loving face, It seems that none can fill her place, When evening shades are falling, When with our thoughts we are alone, To our hearts there comes a longing, Oh! if she only could come home. No one knows the silent heartache, Only those who have lost can tell. If the grief that is borne in silence, For the one we loved so well. In peace we leave her, in quiet and rest, For the parting was painful. God knows best.

Mr. and Mrs. Kellberg and family.

You Need Never Change Your Oil if You Own a Buick

Last year Buick said: "Change your oil only four times a year." Buick tests at that time had shown that oil changes would never be necessary, with the Oil Filter to remove impurities, and with the Crankcase Ventilator, Thermostatic Circulation Control and Automatic Heat Control to prevent oil dilution.

Now, more than a year has passed, and Buick owners in every section of the world—under every climatic condition—have also proved that you never need change your oil if you own a Buick—replenishment and inspection of the Buick Oil Filter only are required.

Lewis Alby and Art Thompson arrived here last week from Starkweather, N. Dak., where they have been employed this summer and fall. Ted Thompson and Ronnie Ramun are still working in that vicinity.

Arnold Nakken came home Friday from Nakuna, N. Dak., where he has been employed during threshing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henning Backlund and children motored here from Strathcona Wednesday to attend the funeral of Newell Anderson and to visit with the Mellem families.

A carload of tile was shipped in here on Monday and will be used for tiling along Marshall county road "D" and Grygla and thru the sand ridge by Jens Mattson.

Gasoline Low Priced

"Despite that domestic consumption has multiplied by more than one-third since 1919, production is strong enough to be, by comparison with the general price level, relatively lower than in that year."

"Taking 100 as the 1913 index figure for commodity prices, the 1926 index figure was 151, according to the U. S. Department of Labor statistics. Then we have the present index figure of about 147 per cent. Various groups, however, have been above and below.

THE paragraphs quoted are from an article by Judson C. Welliver appearing in the August issue of the American Review of Reviews.

This unique record of the petroleum industry stands as a tribute to science and efficiency.

In making gasoline the least expensive of commodities, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has done its share. Many of the economies and processes have been developed in its scientific laboratories. Waste has been eliminated and efficiency promoted by its constant search for improvements.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) exists to serve the people of the Middle West and it has never wavered from that purpose. This faithfulness to an abiding trust has earned for it the confidence of those whom it serves.

Every day gasoline of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) fuels millions of cars. The motorist is confident that the gasoline which he buys today from a Standard Oil Company (Indiana) pump will "deliver the goods" because it always is uniform in quality.

He has learned to trust the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) for he has found its name a guarantee of quality. He knows that every gallon of gasoline it sells must carry on its reputation for integrity.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has helped to make gasoline not only one of the lowest priced commodities, as Mr. Welliver has shown it to be, but one of the most dependable.

No one can tell how it will work in a car by looking at it. But everyone knows how it will work in a car if it is the product of Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The interest and responsibility of this Company does not stop with the sale of the gasoline.

It is a part of the service of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to provide the people of the Middle West with a gasoline whose performance they can depend upon—at the lowest possible price.

No. 42 OCTOBER 6, 1927 Vol. 1

Our flour lamps make nice presents. We have them in all sizes and colors.

We heard yesterday of the young monkey who was invited out to dine just before his exterminator got on the job positively at the table, but didn't eat. He never eat before I believe an address.

He explained. After the address that everyone, the host went up to him and said, "Well, you might just as well of et."

With a Maytag washer you can do a big washing in an hour. Think of it!

The past year or so has seen a phenomenal increase in the demand for the Sanduras rug. There is a reason for that. Sanduras rugs deliver more service for the money invested than any floor covering we know of.

Have you noticed that the days are getting shorter and the nights longer? Sign of winter coming on. We will burn a good heater. We sell them.

One of the best ways to keep the children quiet while telling them the stairs is to equip it with stair carpet. It not only deadens the sound but it's easier on their spines.

Taxes are high We know they are. But, look what we get for them. Personally we wouldn't want to live in a country that had no taxes.

We have some real honest-to-goodness values in kitchen tables. They're plain and practical.

Do you have an extra bed for your company? You know we sell Dufold davenports!

We've always noted that when you start out at five o'clock in the morning you escape the dust of everybody except those who started out at five o'clock to escape the dust.

Ever hear this one? A negro preacher pestered his bishop so much with appeals for help that the bishop finally told him in no uncertain terms not to send any more appeals. The following week came another letter, as follows: "This is not an appeal, this is a report. I have no pants."

1928 Features put Whippet still Further in the Lead

EVERY recent new car announcement serves to emphasize the Whippet's leadership in engineering design. Introduced 17 months ago, it changed all previous standards of light car performance. And constant improvement forecasts its continued success.

The Whippet carries the enthusiastic endorsement of more than 125,000 owners who have put this modern car to the acid test of more than 400,000,000 miles of service. Such proved superiority makes the Whippet the logical choice of anyone.

Other manufacturers must inevitably follow the Whippet's lead with greater gasoline mileage, higher speed, faster pickup, the safety of BIG 4-wheel brakes, low center of gravity, more leg room, full-vision bodies and modern appearance.

You can buy the Whippet now, assured that a year from now it will still be the most modern car in its field—with resale value correspondingly high.

BIBLICAL LECTURE

J. A. BORNET

will lecture at the City Auditorium Tuesday and Wednesday,

Oct. 17 and 18

7:30 each evening.

SUBJECT:

"Many Coming Back From Hell Soon"

The speaker will undertake to prove this assertion from the Bible. He claims that the old idea that hell is a place of fire and brimstone is false—is unscriptural—is unreasonable—but altogether contrary to the teachings of the Bible. In his lecture he will point out what hell really is and that the time is near when those who are there will come out. He will show further what will be done with hell when it is completely emptied and also why those who have spent hundreds, or even thousands, of years in hell are coming back to earth.

Just One Minute!

You can read this in one minute!

By the time you reach the last line, property worth $1,064 will have been destroyed by fire somewhere in the United States.

Minute after minute, day after day, on the average, this appalling pace keeps up, to a grand yearly total of $560,000,000.

That, at least, was the record in 1926. What the showing will be this year, and in the years to come, depends, in large measure, on YOU.

Ninety per cent. of all fires are preventable, for they are due to carelessness.

Take a look in your cellar, your attic, that closet.—Clear out the rubbish—the old stuff stored away because "maybe some day you'll find a use for it." Many fires about the house are born in trash piles.

While insurance marks the difference between protection and destitution, every American home has its treasured possessions whose worth cannot be computed in terms of money and can never be replaced.

A minute's thought now may save the patient accumulation of a lifetime from the ravages of fire.

After all, it's chiefly a matter of protecting your own dwelling and those whose presence there makes it HOME.

Isn't it worth a minute to you?

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This week is being observed throughout the country as Fire Prevention Week, and efforts are being made to impress upon the public the fact that millions of dollars worth of property is needlessly destroyed by fire every year. The tragedy of fire is that it is almost entirely preventable. There are, of course, natural causes for conflagrations that cannot be helped, but these are a very small percentage of the total. The greatest damage is caused by carelessness and ignorance. And this loss is not borne alone by those who are careless. It is shared, directly or indirectly, by every citizen and taxpayer. The problem of fire prevention deserves the serious consideration and co-operation of every citizen.

THIRTY-ONE YEARS AGO

This issue of the Times contains a column of news briefs which appeared in the Thief River Falls Press thirty-one years ago. They are reprinted from the files of the Thief River Falls News-Press for the year 1915 at which time they were presented in a "Nineteen Years Ago" column. This column was not a regular feature of the News Press and it is doubtful if will not be able to run it as a regular feature of the Times. We will re-publish it as often as possible in the corresponding issues as it appeared in the News-Press.

The fire in January of 1920 which destroyed the Times plant, also destroyed practically all of the old newspaper files of the city, and in some respects this was the most serious loss resulting from that conflagration. Newspaper files are accurate records of community events and are valuable as historical documents. Appreciating this fact, we are arranging for two bound volumes of the Times each year, one to be kept as our own permanent record, as in previous years, and the other to be presented to the Public Library for preservation as a community history. The bound volumes of the Tribune, now discontinued, will also be presented to the Library for preservation. Thirty years from now these files will be interesting.

FOOLS AND THEIR MONEY

One of the tasks that is a part of our daily routine is the reading of the many contributions of propaganda which are mailed to us in the hope that some of the material may slip through and get into the paper. The average run of this material is easily identified. Occasionally it is well camouflaged and difficult to distinguish from legitimate news.

One of the more crude attempts to secure free publicity for the promotion of a private money-making scheme was received this week. It was a mimeographed form letter, patterned in style after government bulletins, telling of wonderful opportunities to get rich by raising muskrats. Public officials and government reports were quoted at length. All in all it was a very nice tie-up with the attempt now being made in this part of the state to induce the public to invest money in muskrat farms.

We have felt at times that more rigid laws should be adopted for the protection of the public from "get rich quick" schemes. At other times we become so thoroughly disgusted with a public that insists on being bamboed that we feel all restraint should be removed and save the schemers the necessity of changing their methods to conform with the laws. By doing this the overhead expense connected with preying on the fools of society might be materially reduced and the cost of flim-flammery to the ultimate consumer cut down proportionately. As long as there are people gullible enough to seriously hope a stranger is willing to share with them the inside track on a "sure thing" there will be promoters who will offer to share with strangers the inside track on a "sure thing". If a person feels that he should buy stock in muskrat farms because Ford stock made a few millionaires, why should the rest of the world worry?

THE DIRECT PRIMARY

One of the problems of politics which has been discussed with much heat in recent years is the Primary. The convention system which it replaced, was not satisfactory with the public, and there is reason to believe that the direct primary has not been entirely satisfactory. Jim Morrison of the Morris Tribune, in discussing this question, points out that the weakness of the primary is that it gives the people the choice only between the self seekers who present themselves. It provide no machinery for the calling of men to public service. This point is well taken. Perhaps a system can be devised in which will be incorporated the best features of both methods.

We experience real difficulty in restraining our sobs at the picture shows when sad scenes are flashed on the screen. When the audience is supposed to cry it requires a real effort on our part to keep from leading in the weeping. This isn't a tribute to our own tender hearted-ness but rather is a testimonial to the fine art of the film actors. When they want tears they get them. In order to test their ability to draw tears and evoke our sympathy to suppress them, we have attended the same show twice on several occasions. On these second appearances we have found the actresses aware of the situation. We have been able to yawn while those about us wept. If you want to enjoy a delightful feeling of superiority attend a sad show two nights in succession. On the second night you will hold all those about you in contempt.

We appreciate very much the many fine fruits and vegetables that have been brought in to us for display in our miniature county fair window. The plan has worked out very satisfactorily. As soon as we get a little more food we are going to invite the fuel dealers to bring in samples of their coal. Then, with our vegetable cellars and coal bins taken care of, we can turn the window over to local merchants for a display of flannel shirts and woolen underwear. These northern winters aren't half bad.

Merchants who keep their store windows lighted during the evening not only benefit themselves but give the business section of the city a life-like appearance. There are many people passing through here during the evening whose only impression of the city is what they see.

Will Rogers can't figure out why the prohibition question should be made a politicnl issue in this country. He says the dirys ought to be satisfied as long as the country is dry and the wets ought to be satisfied as long as it's wet. He can't see where either side has anything to complain about.

The American Bell Telephone Co. has extended its telephone service to Mexico City. The Mexicans doubtless will welcome the convenience of the telephone. Trees are scarce in many of the arid regions of that country. We venture to predict that it will not be an uncommon sight to see a Mexican hanging on the line.

According to an authority on the subject, the Indian name for blueberry pie is "Ilah tayneme kash-ke me nah see gun eah quay she-gun". We understand now why blueberry pie a la made never really became a popular dish among the natives.

Announcement was made last week of the consolidation of two Ortonville newspapers.

Camel

The cigarette that leads by billions

Just to state a great truth in another way—Camel is so exactly what so many smokers want that no other brand is even a close second.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

Results Obtained From Fire Prevention Week

Posters on State highways and in show windows of Thief River Falls and other cities and towns herald this fire Prevention week. The school children in the schools will be told of the prevention work, and their co-operation sought as well as that of the older people.

Spurred on by decreased fire losses in almost every line thruout the state during 1926, and low loss totals during the early months of 1927, state fire officials are conducting a widespread fire prevention campaign this week.

The fire loss as noted in The Times recently shows a decline in Thief River Falls in common with that of the state. In this city the total losses were approximately $1,000,000 less than in 1926.

The fire loss thruout the state this year will be the lowest on record if the remaining months follow the trend thus far, state fire marshalls declared. No only is this true of the state but also of this city, according to Paul Hildebrigh, chief of the Thief River Falls fire department.

A number of young people from Thief River Falls will attend the Sunday for Crookston to attend the Northwest School of Agriculture. Among those being Marie Dahler, Viola Jurigrard, Justina Sannes, Palma Hornseth, Clayton Starkjohl, Lenor Asse, Lynn Williams, and August Thorkelson, the last four of whom are from Gatzke.

There Are Plenty Of Worlds Left To Discover

We celebrate this week, not so much the Discovery of a New World, as the courage and vision of a man who sailed away across unknown seas because he had the courage of his convictions.

The world is growing kinder every year to the prophets of the new and untried ways. In England the first man to carry an umbrella was mobbed; the first bathtub installed in Philadelphia caused the arrest of its owner and when Jim Penney started a store with a "no sale" policy there were many who felt that he was bound straight for bankruptcy.

Umbrellas and bathtubs, however, have persisted in our midst, and the 685 stores of the J. C. Penney Company are ample proof of the acceptance of the "no sale" policy by the American people.

Today we need to discover, not new worlds, but men. Men with the courage and vision of a Columbus and the faith of the pioneer to point out the new worlds all about us—worlds which will bring greater comfort to the lives of all.

10,000 ACRES OF ALFALFA NOW IN PENNINGTON CO.

Thirty-One Percent Increase Has Been Made This Year, According to Records.

RIVER FALLS TOWNSHIP HAS UNIQUE RECORD

Nearly Every Farm Has Some Alfalfa, Thus Leading Remaining Townships.

Over 2,500 acres of alfalfa have been planted this year in Pennington county, bringing the total acreage up to over ten thousand acres, according to County Agent J. J. McCann.

These figures are arrived at by a compilation of reports sent in during the past few months, since the announcement last spring by a special Commercial club committee of $250 worth of alfalfa seed would be given in prizes to the farmers in each township showing the greatest percentage of increase based on the previous acreage and size of the farm. A sweepstakes prize for the whole county was included in the same amount.

31% Acreage Increase

The total acreage in Pennington county last year was placed at 7,500 with a safe estimate of winter killed acreage of 2,700.

The increase over last year will be about 31 percent—a very satisfactory showing, and will safely enable the county to retain its title of the leading alfalfa county in Minnesota.

River Falls Has Record

An interesting fact is revealed in the reports of River Falls Township, in which near every farmer has his acreage alfalfa on his farm this year, thus leading all other townships in the county.

There are quite a number of farmers in Pennington county who had reported to County Agent J. J. McCann that they had planted alfalfa last spring with the intention of ploughing one of the prizes offered for the best percentage of increase in acreage this year. This is brought to light by various farmers either coming in to see Mr. McCann or phoning him as to their plantings.

Many Large Plantings

Among the larger acreages put in this year and not mentioned in the article appearing in The Times two weeks ago are the following: Syvert Hansen, 50 acres; I. E. Wilson, 60 acres; J. E. Larson, 40 acres; Sam Kennedy, 30 acres; E. J. Stevens, 35 acres; Wm. Yonke, 30 acres; W. V. Wilson, 20 acres; Oscar Peterson, 25 acres; Herman Jepson, 20 acres; John A. Sjoberg, 36 acres; C. A. Swanson, 22 acres; P. P. Sandberg, 40 acres; Arne Vik, 35 acres; H. Eliason, 25 acres; W. Hedges, 45 acres; Alfred Mammenstein, 20 acres; and S. T. Hunt, 35 acres.

Send In Reports

The committee having in charge this alfalfa acreage contest do not wish to be overlooked and it is hoped that the next week or so will see all of the reports in so that the contest may be brought to a close and the awards announced. The entrance blank was not filled in last spring reports can still be made.

The fire started in the hall over Sjoberg's store where a dance the previous evening, the blaze being first discovered about 2:30 a. m.

SALE OF FOUR FARMS IN PENNINGTON WAS REPORTED IN 2 WEEKS

Several Pieces of City Property Also Reported Having Been Transferred.

Real Estate in Pennington county is changing hands more freely of late than for some time past, transfers of four farms having been recorded in the office of the register of deeds, Fred Lorentson, during the past two weeks.

A quarter in section 28, town of Highlanding was transferred from Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Larson to Will Vollmers for $6,200, and an 80 acre farm in section 12 of Sanders township is shown as being transferred from Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Yonke to Ernest Yonke, the consideration being given as $5,000.

The northwest quarter in section 14, town of Diamond, changed hands, the records showing that Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schmitz of Plummer transferred the property to Mrs. Julia M. Gaitzey for $1 and other considerations.

Albert Larson disposed of the northwest quarter of the north east quarter of section 23 in Rocksbury to Lee Umstead at a consideration of $1,500.

Increased Revenue for This Year From Fish Tags

Figures presented by the office of the state game and fish commissioner, J. F. Gould, indicate that nearly 300,000 persons will avail themselves of fishing with a hook and line in Minnesota waters this year. Enough more are in to make it safe to say that the state will receive an increased revenue from the sale of licenses.

In Pennington county, the sales so far reported by County Auditor T. F. Anderson to the state department have totalled 400 of the individual licenses, 85 of the family permits, with three non-resident authorizations. Individuals living in the state paid $2 cents per license, those who bought family permits paid a dollar each, while non-resident fishermen paid $3 each.

Much Needed Drainage on No. 32 Completed

The state highway department three maintenance crew has completed a much needed improvement along the north side of the Pennington county fair grounds, which it is hoped will avoid a repetition of the customary soft condition of the road highway there.

Each spring has seen a bad mudhole that could not be dried up till the water along the roadside had sunk down. Now a drainage ditch has been dug, which will permit the spring water to flow westerly into the county ditch no. 70 at the northwest corner of the fair grounds.

The same crew has also put the finishing touches on the curve where No. 32 turns north at the northwest corner of the fair grounds, re-shaping and spreading gravel on the road condition. The work was done under the direction of County Highway Engineer Bert Umland.

Hours of added pleasure then  is made for you.

Once More Tests

The first six weeks always are the hardest for both teacher and pupil. During this time the pupil has to learn how to study effectively for a summer of recreation, or usually a physical work. At the end of this period a teacher grades and is graded; he can tell which students study or bluff for "report will out" in a test. In a like manner, with but a little more seriousness, the principal and superintendent judge their choice to be his or her ability to instruct.

Considering all this, the tests are not causing undue emotion on the part of either faction. They are to be stabilized that their presence is observed only by extra study on the subjects during the week and content, or what you will?

Student Opinion

More hearts pine away in secret anguish for the want of kindness from those who should be their comforters, than for any other calamity. That is what we Sophomores felt a year ago when we were "freshies." We looked with awe and admiration upon the higher classmen and were always waiting for some act of kindness from them to cheer us. Now, however, we have passed that stage. We are beginning to look upon Freshmen in a while and recognize us as their equals. Not that we have any resentment. Therefore this year, we as Sophomores, will try our utmost to treat with more human kindness toward the Freshmen than the Sophomores did toward us last year.

Cavalier Team Meets Defeat by Locals in First Home Game

Before one of the largest crowds ever gathered on Lincoln field the Thief River Falls football team downed the Cavalier, Mr. Dak., team by a score of 13 to 6 in the first home game of the season. The former team, against which the Hooters were scattered all along the sidelines gave evidence of the results of the advance training into which the Hooters and Rich and Moderts of Lincoln High. All the former players of the city eleven from four until five o'clock to give even an opportunity to see the game.

The North Dakota boys were a scrappy outfit, having plenty of fight and pep. Although Cavalier has only about eight talented inhabitants, they have certainly turned out a strong football team. Contrary to the expectations of many, the game was a mighty long ways from being a walk-away for Thief River.

In the first quarter things were going for Thief River. They managed to fight their way up to within the five yards of Cavalier's goal line, but as they were kicking the line for what might have been a touchdown, the ball was fumbled. A Cavalier back scooped up the ball on the dead run and was off down the field before the locals knew what had happened. The ball being fumbled in the southwest corner of the field, the Cavalier man had practically the whole field before him. He cut for the north side of the field and made a beautiful run of the recovery almost before the Thief River gang did strung out between the man with the ball and the goal. Upon such a manner as to make it impossible for the locals to overtake the man with the ball. This was the first touchdown made by an opposing team on Lincoln field in the two years that it has been in use. Cavalier was unsuccessful in their try for the extra point, leaving the score 6-0 against Thief River.

When Thief River again got the ball they started a march down the field to make a touchdown. Cavalier's defense offered considerable trouble as three backfield players played the line of scrimmage and rushed in the time they thought it was taken necessary to get the ball. In this way not only the Thief River backfield men but also the passer had a great deal of trouble in getting his passes off in time.

Thief River succeeded in getting to about Cavalier's 45 yard line on the third down. Davis quarterback, then chose to punt. Recently Erickson, who was playing as well as ever, was playing one of the wing positions of the Thief River, picked the most beautiful punt of the game, the ball fell behind the Cavalier safety man, who, in the attempt to recover it on the run, accidentally kicked it with a few yards of the goal line. Bailey, who had replaced Swanson at tackle in the receiver, fell on the ball for the touchdown. Erickson's punt was good, making it third down and goal to go. Cavalier was given an opportunity to see the game.

The Thief River lineups were:

Socially Speaking

That business men of the city are taking an interest in Lincoln High's football team is indicated by the fact that "Jim" Calkin, proprietor of the Soda Grill, united the entire squad to come up to his place of business Friday evening after the game. The squad turned out en masse and were treated to "hallow" lunch by the generous "Jim" Calkin, also treated the boys to various refreshments.

Biology Room Boasts Rare Specie Collection

One of the most interesting places in Lincoln high school is the Biology room. From this place we hear all kinds of queer noises, such as cackling, chirping, and cricketts and grasshopper-y singing.

If you are brave enough to venture into the room, you will find an aquarium, which contains a large bull-frog, one lonesome gold-fish, a very vicious looking snake, a few turtles, a few chameleons, and water plants of various descriptions. If you have patience and a little bit of courage you may see many interesting things happen. The other day the battle declined that he would like to have something to eat, so he ate the front part of the frog! There are various battles going on constantly.

A tiny, beautiful, water snake is also now living in this queer room. Other than Miss Odita, but it would be better for each to discover these for herself.

COMMITTEES CHOSEN

Several important issues were discussed at the last meeting of the Senior class, held Wednesday evening of last week. A class-due campaign was organized, divided into two teams, Toby Bailey as chairman of the first half of the class, has as her assistants Hazel Fuller, Marguerite Johnson, Elsie Carlson, Lillian Erickson, while Esther Weeks has these: Esther Ness, Dorothy Sullivan, Agnes Quinlan, and Edith Moller. A date line for the collection was placed at two weeks from today, a party to be given by the losing side for the winning side of the Seniors on that date. "I'll bet I'll make more calls than you," terror"!

These committees were chosen for the Senior Faculty Reception, which will occur on Friday, October 14. Receiving committees, refreshments, and clean-up committees have been selected. Lucille Hermanson, Katherine Melby, Ethel Moller, Prentice Chesney Myers, Bly Orr, Margaret Blake man, Esther Ness, Earl Hessler, Fred Berger, Decoration, Harriet Fuller, Lucille Sundahl, Fred Frederick son, Marguerite Johnson, Margaret Bacon, Chester Bakken, Louise Lofstrom, Clifford Wikel, Bonnie Kingham, and Reception, all of the class officers named for the Program committee.

A committee of five, Harold Will, Ethel Moller, Chester Myrann, Lennon Lofstrom and Lucille Sundahl met with the advisor Tuesday evening to choose three members for each position on the Crusader Staff. These nominations will be voted on by the class at their next meeting and announced in an early issue.

Agnes Tabberg, who coached the present Senior class in their Junior, Sixteen" last year, was re elected to serve in this capacity for the Senior play.

Before final adjournment, Mr. Hand got in a plea on behalf of the Progress Staff for a donation from the Senior Class for payment due, or a cost of ten cents per capita, which will total a dollar less. This money will be used for cartoon-cuts of the students and teachers similar to that which appeared last week of Coach Roe Cuts like this add much to the general make-up of a school paper, and as Mr. Hand quoted, "A picture is worth a thousand words."

MINNESOTA DEBTS CUT TO $9,440,858 DURING SIX YEARS

State, However, Has $16,562,597 in Treasury, Julius Schmahl Announces.

Obligations of the state of Minnesota total $26,003,539—but it owes most of this to itself so that the actual outstanding indebtedness is as small as any state in the union can boast, according to State Treasurer Julius A. Schmahl.

Direct obligations—so called—because they are to be paid thru money raised by a tax—total $9,440,858, he said.

Rural Credit and Road Bonds

The biggest single indebtedness consists of rural credit bonds amounting to $8,500,000 which have been issued, but which cannot be considered a debt, for the bonds are secured by a mortgage of the state to banks for loans to farmers, and the bonds for the most part are held by state trust funds.

County re-imbursement and road bonds form the other large obligations, totalling $3,135,100 for the re-Itrement of which $7,222,727 has been raised by the State Highway department sinking fund.

Big Reduction in 6 Years

Since 1921, the direct obligations of the state have been reduced more than 50 percent, June 30, 1921, the total state indebtedness for the redemption of which a tax on all property of the state was made, was $21,-922,800, while now it is only $9,440,-858.

"Minnesota is fortunate in the smallness of her debt when one compares it with the tremendous obligations of many states," Mr. Schmahl said. He pointed out that the balances of the state treasury today totaling $16,562,597—would be nearly twice adequate to smother the present direct debt with a single stroke.

"In the meanwhile, the state has gone ahead in accumulating sufficient trust funds which now have a total strength of more than $63,-000,000. We are not piling up debts for the future generations to pay, but instead it would seem we are favoring them with endowments which should make the going for them easier."

FELDSPAR DEPOSITS IN NORTHWEST ANGLE

The first shipment of feldspar from a mine in the Northwest Angle is almost ready to be mined, and one or two more shipments this fall will undoubtedly be made.

Feldspar is a white rock, which is ty, arrived in this city the past week, mined into a white field and used in the enamel. The main supply for the United States is obtained from North Carolina.

Assays of the supply in the Northwest Angle, according to the Warroad Pioneer, place it as of the best quality for the manufacturing of white ware.

500 Boys and Girls Enter Stock in Great Junior Show

The tenth annual Junior Livestock show, which will be held in the livestock pavilion at the South St. Paul stock yards, November 7 to 10 inclusive, undoubtedly will be the finest of its kind ever held in the Northwest.

J. R. Montgomery, of the Central Cooperative Livestock Association, general manager of the show, this week announced that close to five hundred Minnesota farm boys and girls will exhibit baby lambs, lambs, fat barrows, cockerels, geese, ducks and pigeons at the show. Practically every county in the state will be represented in the long entry list.

To date, entries in the show total 171 calves, 76 fat barrows, 97 lambs in the single, 27 lambs in the pens of three class, and 41 entries in the poultry classes.

SNOW FENCING ARRIVES FOR STATE HIGHWAYS

DISTRICT COURT IN SESSION HERE TWO DAYS LAST WEEK

Minnesota Wheat Growers Fight Attempt to Collect Commission and Salary.

A special term of the Pennington county district court was held in the court rooms last Thursday and Friday, Oct. 6 and 7, Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren presiding, at which time five cases on the calendar were disposed of.

Several officers of the Minnesota Wheat Grower's Co-Operative Marketing association were before from Minneapolis for the case a Wm. Kinsel vs. the association.

Mr. Kinsel was suing the association for a fifty cent commission on membership turned into the state organization after he was placed in charge of the various field organizers of the association. Previous to that appointment, it was stated, he had been receiving a commission of 50 cents on each member he secured. The company set up a claim that he was only entitled to a weekly salary of $50 and expenses, while the plaintiff sought to collect on all the practically 9,000 members in Minnesota secured after his appointment as chief organizer.

The case occupied the time of the court for part of the two days, at the conclusion the plaintiff being given 30 days to file a brief, after which the plaintiff will have an additional 20 days to reply.

The case of Sl. Lee vs. Phil Zeh and Helen Johnson was reported to the court as having been settled.

The third case was that of the Farmer's State bank of Oklee which was suing Ed Brendahl to collect a $200 note dated Aug. 27, 1923, and the court, after hearing the evidence, found in favor of the bank, requiring the defendant to pay the note, together with interest at 6 percent and costs.

There were two other cases, these being suits instituted by the Farmers & Merchants State bank of St. Hilaire vs. Fred Dickson and C. M. Erickson, both being dismissed on request of attorneys.

Pennington County Schools Enter Health Poster Contest

Pennington county schools, in common with the other schools of Minnesota, have been invited to enter from the Minnesota Public Health association to take part in the second annual health poster contest, a feature of the Christmas seal education-al work for 1927-1928.

In the rural schools of this county the work will be under the supervision of the health committee, composed of four county nurses, Miss Ruth Olson, district No. 193, president; Miss Agnes No. 11, vice president; Jessie Joyce, No. 69, secretary; and Lillian Knight, No. 1, treasurer. This committee will receive entries for announcement of the local plans.

Headed by two valuable 4H gatherings, a playground slide and swing, and a school set valued at more than 150 articles for school-use are offered as awards, these also being roughly estimated at $2,000. Each of the prizes will go to the school's and none to individuals.

The schools will participate in the contest during the month of November, the date of the announcement of the winners coming during the holiday season, it is expected, according to Supt. Ely.

LANCASTER RECENTLY MADE PORT OF ENTRY BY U. S.

Dispatches from Washington state that Lancaster has been created a port of entry by executive order. It will be in collections district No. 24, with headquarters at Pembina, N. Dak. The order issued by the U. S. Treasury department becomes effective Oct. 20.

RURAL SCHOOL CENSUS REPORTS NOT COMPLETE

Quite a number of school district clerks have failed to file their reports with County Superintendent Gundersen, consequently he has not been able to make his report to state headquarters as yet. The clerks are also required to hand in a list of children legally entitled to the various school funds. Both reports are required by law.

Rev. Wilcox Made Moderator

At the regular fall session of the Adams Presbytery held at Brooks Rev. C.E. Wilcox of Brooks was elected moderator, succeeding Rev. F. W. Hauser of Red Lake Falls.

If U. S. stamps used in the United States in one year were placed end to end, they would extend 250,000 miles, or ten times the circumference of the globe at the Equator.

Highway Department Explains Meaning of Its Standard Terms

When is a road "good?" Many people disagree, but the Minnesota highway department has prepared definitions of "good," "fair," and "poor" roads that ought to make it easier to classify the unpaved highways. The new definitions are probably the first attempt in any state to standardize the terms used in road conditions.

In the weekly conditions reports issued by the Minnesota Highway department, the more commonly used terms will hereafter be defined as follows:

"Dry-well": No further description is needed on the hard surfaced roads, except in winter when they may be "snow blocked," or "rough."

"Good." Any road where it is possible to travel at uniform high speed (30 miles per hour) with safety and reasonable comfort, or any standard make of car in good average condition.

"Fair." Any road which is rather rough, muddy, sandy or having any other condition which makes it necessary to go slow, but possible to continue driving at a reasonable speed, make of car in good average condition.

"Poor." Any road where it is necessary for cars of any standard make to travel at low speed, during the spring thaw, etc., which makes necessary to go slow or shift, do not make a road "poor" if the condition is otherwise.

"Impassable" is self-explanatory. Any road may be classified by the majority of cars get through on their own power, but any seasonal road upon which stock is listed as "poor" but not impassable.

WOMAN COMMISSIONER VISITS INDIAN RESERVES

Mrs. Flora Warren, the only woman member of the board of Indian commissioners, is completing a survey of the Chippewa reservations of Minnesota.

The Red Lake, Nett Lake, Leech Lake, Pond Du Lac and Mille Lacs reservations have recently been visited, it is learned, by her duty to make a report on the conditions prevailing on the reservations to the board, which meets soon at Mohawk, N. Y.

TRAFFIC BUTTONS INSTALLED

The Traffic buttons installed on street intersections in this city evidently have made a good impression on city officials, at Red Lake Falls, for the council there has just ordered fifty similar buttons installed on downtown corners of that city.

The Red Lake Falls Gazette commenting on the action of the council there state that the method at Thief River Falls was very successful, permitting a much more efficient traffic movement than when a central post is used.

Nutrition Study Helpful

All farm people as well as citizens of Thief River Falls are urged to attend this free demonstration of nutrition work. That the lessons so far given during the year have had results is evident from a letter by Miss Hobart, written by Mrs. J. R. Gauthier, which is published herewith.

Dear Fellow-Workers:

I wonder if our nutrition project has helped you as much as it has me? Undoubtedly, of you have kept faithfully every day as I, you have reaped your rewards.

May I state how it has helped me?

For years I had been troubled with stiffness in my joints. Every home in my body seemed to ache after effort, but I was not troubled with the stiffness in the morning especially. Now, since I have been a member of our Happy Chas. club, I have been exercising every morning doing what is suggested by our nutrition project, and wonderful results were obtained.

I also exercised out of doors every day and have greatly benefited by so doing. I feel as the shelter belts I ever had the last five or ten years. Due to my membership in our nutrition club, my children are more interested in the foods, and also I have even our ushers and visitors remark about our healthful wholesome meals.

I always have been somewhat of a vegetarian, but never before have I found an important place in our daily menus.

Our club has also benefited materially—many enjoyable hours—our neighbors have spent together, exchanging helpful hints on housekeeping.

In conclusion let me add: There others for our nutrition club let's continue the good work next summer, as it is a great factor in our community, physically, mentally and socially.

Yours for better health,
Mrs. J. K. Gauthier,
Minnesota.

YOUNG PEOPLES FEDERATION TO CONVENE HERE

Four Day Session Opens in City Auditorium Next Thursday Evening

BETWEEN 200 AND 400 VISITORS EXPECTED

Registration, Choir Rehearsals and Group Meetings in Zion Free Church

Between three and four hundred delegates and church people are expected from outside of Thief River Falls in attendance at the seventh annual convention of the Young People's federation of the Lutheran free church to be held in this city next week, Oct. 27-30, inclusive. The general meetings will be held in the auditorium, while the Zion church will be used for smaller meetings, other activities, registration and group meetings, being located in the church.

Rev. J. A. Houkom, Blanchardville, Wis., is president of the federation. He has announced the general theme of the convention as "Be Strong." Keys being the passages in the scriptural passage: Daniel 11:32.

Thursday Night's Program

The regular sessions start Thursday evening, Oct. 27, at 7:45 o'clock, which time Rev. Leslie Olson of Superior, Wis., will give the opening sermon, taking as his topic: "Strength Becometh Youth." The address of welcome will then be given by Rev. E. A. Tungseth of this city, Rev. Houkom giving the response.

Three Sessions Friday

Mayor W. W. Prichard, Jr., will welcome the visitors to the city at the morning devotional service, after which the business session will be transacted and will be forwarded to Governor Christianson, shortly county Auditor A. D. Johnson stated.

In view of the fact that the legislature is not scheduled for session until the first Monday in January, 1929, the board feels that a special session is needed to take up the matter of drainage bonds and tax delinquencies.

For some time the theory has been advanced—that the $16 thousand indebtedness is a matter for the state to take over, in view of the fact that the lands assessed are not paying the assessments. The new county is being called upon for levies which are becoming the already high tax rate and making little or no headway in retiring the ditch debt.

Duck Hunters From Cities and Southern Minnesota Seen Here on Streets Daily

Altho the weather has been rather cold and disagreeable, ducks are reported as going south in steadily increasing numbers, and the sport of shooting them will soon be at its best, for the coastle fowl are now beginning to be more scattered than those which frequent the lakes of northern Minnesota throughout the year.

Anticipating the peak of the fall flight, hundreds of hunters have been, Twin Citys and southern Minnesota duck hunters are now coming to the northern lakes, and each day autos may be seen on the streets of Thief River Falls with hunters in quest of other fowl. Some of the hunters bring their dogs with them, while others rely on securing a supply of their decoys here.

Trailers in the rear of some of the autos carry specially built boats or canoes, and these are launched by local hunters whenever stops are made in the business districts for supplies.

Purposes of Rotary Club Concisely Told by Flynn

The Rotary club meeting Tuesday noon at the Lutheran church was one of the most enjoyable affairs put on by the organization in the year and its inception two years ago, Eddie Flynn, former district governor, giving one of his characteristic inspiration-al talks. In a clear, concise road five minutes, Flynn told the banquet crys just what the Rotary stands for and why.

Altho the outside attendance was not quite up to expectations yet the banquet room of the hotel was well filled, nearly every seat at the two long tables being occupied by local members and their guests. Among those present were Chas. Burchfiel, Grand Forks; Dr. Ed Lake, Red Lake Falls; Dr. C. S. Watlan, Dr. C. A. Rasmussen, Dr. O. J. Evenstad and A. N. Ekstrom from Warren.

Following the banquet talks by Mayor W. W. Prichard, Jr., of this city, and Messrs. Wattam and Ekstrom of Warren, a vocal solo was given by Jas. G. Caldis, and Effinger's Entertainers furnished music at intervals during the evening's program.

Part Time Work Wanted

There are several high school students who would like to do odd jobs to help defray expenses of their education and any person who can use such services are requested to notify Mr. Hand, phone 225.

Heads Organization Which Convenes Here

of Blanchardville, Wisconsin, president of the Young Peoples' federation of the Lutheran Free Church, who will preside at the convention of the annual convention of that organization which will be held in this city four days next week, commencing Thursday. Four hundred delegates and visitors from many points in the Northwest are expected to be present.

COMPARATIVE JUDGING FOR POULTRY SHOW

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE IN ON FIRST DAY OF SHOW

Breeders' Directory in Premium List To Be Revised, Omitting Non-Members

W. E. Stanfield of St. Paul will again judge the annual poultry show to be held in this city Jan. 4, 5 and 6, using the comparative method instead of the score card as was done for several years. The action on the part of President Dave Gustafson and Secretary J. J. McCann was also approved at the meeting of the poultry association directors last Thursday evening, which was held in the room composed of Dave Gustafson, Fred Bjorge, W. A. Hazen, Ben Fuller, W. J. Janda, Harry Woolsen and J. J. McCann.

New Rules Adopted

It was definitely decided that all entries be in on the first day of the show, and that judging of the classes, that is, the awarding of prizes, be on that day. It was also decided that birds worthy of the prizes offered, but getting any prize money, should be awarded a ribbon of merit. The judge will also be required to award specials.

Premium List Revised

The breeders' directory in the premium list will be revised so that it includes only members of the association. They will also be an adult class for turkey hens, the same as for mole hens. The association will also have an opportunity to donate specials to winners. The directors frowned upon the idea of holding a poultry show in connection with the poultry show under the auspices of a booster association, but the directors, however, were willing to have some booster organization sponsor such an attraction.

Educational Talks

Each evening of the show there will be a set of educational meeting in connection with the show, at which Judge Stanfield will preside and explain educational features in the judging of the various classes of birds. He will also be glad to give reasons why birds were placed as they were, and poultry owners will only should have been scratched prior.

MINNEAPOLIS BANKER HERE INTERESTED WITH CONDITIONS

J. W. Black, of Minneapolis, president of the First National bank of this city, and other bankers interested in the section, spent a day in this city and vicinity last week, inquaintances and investigating local conditions. He expressed himself as being well satisfied with the situation and believed that conditions here are as good as could be found anywhere in the country this year.

Special Session of State Legislature Is Asked at Bemidji

Governor Christianson is being asked by the county board of commissioners of Beltrami county, where the ditch bond situation is being brought to court action. A resolution adopted by the county board is being revamped and will be forwarded to Governor Christianson, shortly county Auditor A. D. Johnson stated.

In view of the fact that the legislature is not scheduled for session until the first Monday in January, 1929, the board feels that a special session is needed to take up the matter of drainage bonds and tax delinquencies.

For some time the theory has been advanced—that the $16 thousand indebtedness is a matter for the state to take over, in view of the fact that the lands assessed are not paying the assessments. Norwegian Lutherans Who Attended Big Colleges to Gather in This City

OLD COLLEGE SPIRIT IS TO BE REVIVED

Big Banquet, Brief Addresses, Plenty of Music, and Buskers Boss on Program

A joint rally and banquet for the men and women of the northwestern part of Minnesota who have attended either Luther college, Decorah, Iowa, St. Olaf college at Northfield, or Concordia college at Moorhead, will be held in this city next Monday evening, Nov. 7, at the Lutheran church of this city on Friday evening, Nov. 4.

A general committee on arrangements consisting of Dr. O. F. Melby, H. O. Stenslie, Morris Hvass, Robert Lund, and Rev. R. E. Tallakson, has been named, Sunday, Nov. 6, will be Founder's day, but it was deemed expedient to hold the celebration on the Friday preceding as that will be the most convenient date, and therefore avoiding having the affair on a Sunday.

Many Outsiders Coming

It is expected that more than one hundred outsiders will be in attendance, as many men and women who have attended various Norwegian Lutheran church schools elsewhere are invited to participate in this Founder's day observance.

The banquet will be served in the spacious church parlors in the basement by the ladies society, starting at five o'clock, following which will be a series of brief addresses, story telling, singing of college songs, interspersed with vocal and instrumental solos. It will be a revival of the "old college spirit" for three hours, in charge of Robert Lund, who will officiate as toastmaster.

Public Invited in Evening

The public in general is invited to participate in the program starting at 8:15 p. m. in the church auditorium, at which time there will be two or three brief addresses by outside speakers of note. These men will stress the importance of the Lutheran church college for the church, the state, and society. Fine musical numbers by a male chorus and by orchestra will vary the program of speeches.

Sociability and Business

Following the adjournment of the evening program in the church auditorium, the basement will be the scene of a sociable time, the ladies having charge of the refreshments which will be served.

During that time potatoes have been moving out of Moorhead, Hawley and other Red River valley points by the solid train load and deal, are now complimenting the new county officials for the remarkably efficient manner in which the installed state tax from outsiders are invited. Those who have not completed their business with the county auditor, will find it to their advantage to do so before the start of the banquet, as there is no competition should start a big traffic jam.

State Highway Department Asked to Improve Road from Holt to Greenbush in 1928

A committee composed of H. A. Brunsund, Anton Vagve and Daniel Shaw was named by President Theodore Quale of the Commercial club, following the regular meeting of the club last Thursday, at which time it was suggested that pressure be brought to bear if possible on the state highway department to improve the road north of this city, particularly that portion between Holt and Greenbush.

The committee met Monday afternoon and decided to ask the county commissioners of Marshall and Roseau counties to pass resolutions similar to one passed by Pennington county commissioners last Saturday, asking that the state highway department let a contract for the above described improvement, this winter if possible.

POTATO HARVESTING IN THIS VICINITY NEARLY COMPLETED

Prices Hold Fairly Steady in Face of Heaviest "Dumping" Ever Seen in R. R. Valley

Potato harvesting in the vicinity of Thief River Falls is 90 per cent complete, according to estimates of local buyers, who state that another week or ten days will see the latest crop harvested.

While the potato crop in this vicinity has not been as large as expected when the plants were in bloom last summer, yet the crop throughout northwestern Minnesota and North Dakota in the Red River valley is going to be as good as in previous years. It is now piled into potato warehouses, or cellars, or railroad cars for shipment to the markets of the nations.

The Peterson Beidler warehouse is filled and the new warehouse of the Farmers Elevator, Grocers & Realty Co., is rapidly being filled, over 50 cars being stored therein at present. Both companies have already shipped several carloads from Thief River Falls to various points in the north and south and east. Several carloads have also been shipped by the Red River Valley Potato Growers association, as noted in these columns recently.

Potato Warehouses Jammed

Dispatches from Fargo state that Red River valley is almost jammed to the roof, or rapidly approaching that stage, while the terminals have been pushed to the limit of their capacity to handle the peak load, which they have now been carrying for about two weeks.

During the past few days the potato crop has been moving out of Moorhead, Hawley and other Red River valley points by the solid train load and deal, are now complimenting the new county officials for the remarkably efficient manner in which the installed state tax from outsiders are invited. Those who have not completed their business with the county auditor, will find it to their advantage to do so before the start of the banquet, as there is no competition should start a big traffic jam.

Pennington County Farmers Have One More Opportunity To Get Additional Pyrotol

Pennington county farmers this past season have used many thousands pounds of pyrotol with excellent results in the clearing of their land, and if they wish to secure it, they must act without delay as the supply is limited. Before the close of the year it is practically exhausted and none will be available when this is gone.

The last allotment of this wonderful explosive was made to Minnesota early in the summer, according to Ed Lundeen, county agent, and consisted of 1,200,000 pounds. This must be distributed before March 1, the period when Thief River Falls will again have an opportunity to contribute to the wants of the farmers of the state.

This seemingly large amount of pyrotol was made available because of the success of the state based on their previous consumption, and any of the counties now not having received their allotment within a short time will be called to forfeit any remaining for other counties, that quickly dispose of their share. The present allotment will stand till Dec. 1, 1927, only not in less than five farmers to put in their requests early.

Indian Summer Weather Enjoyed Past Few Days

Thief River Falls for several days past has enjoyed perfect Indian Summer weather. It has been unusually warm thruout the days, with perfectly clear sky. Last Sunday picnic parties were to be seen along the river banks, and in the city parks, in the "good old summertime."

The temperature Wednesday rose to 77, which was the warmest since Sept. 15, which was two days after the hottest day of the year. At night time the thermometer has gone down around freezing point, getting as low as 23 above save last Sunday morning, the coldest morning since Oct. 9, when it dropped to 24.

NO FILING MADE YET FOR MUNICIPAL BALLOTS

The uptown municipal campaign in Thief River Falls is drawing to a close with not a single candidate as yet having filed for office with City Clerk F. G. Peterson, who states that filings may be made up to the close of his office Saturday afternoon, Oct. 22.

A mayor, one alderman from each ward and two at large, a city treasurer, judge and special judge will be up for election at the election on Nov. 8.

AT BUYERS CONVENTION

H. M. Olson of the Oen Mercantile company left last Saturday night for Minneapolis to attend a convention of the Northwest Buyers' association, expecting to return today or tomorrow, after an absence of several days.

LOCAL ARTISTS TO ASSIST MRS. ARNOLD IN RECITAL

Arrangements are being completed this week for rendering one of the most interesting dramatic events of the season, Dyke Drexel Lowe's Arnold in her presentation of "Helen of the Old House" at the Soo-of Norway building Monday evening, Oct. 24, at eight o'clock.

"Helen of the Old House" is a great industrial story, written by the well known author, Harold Bell Wright. The story is interesting, making a splendid reading. The theme appeals to the best instincts and has an uplifting influence not often portrayed in features of this kind. Mrs. Arnold has arranged her dramatization to bring out the high ideals of the author and presents eleven of the most important characters. The dramatic arrangement of such a novel for a reading is a literary feat in itself and combined with Mrs. Arnold's ability as an impersonator proves to be very exceptional. She has traveled several months at this production and is now donating her efforts for the benefit of the Methodist church and of which organization she is a member.

Mrs. Arnold has been fortunate in securing two well known and favorite local artists to assist her in her recital, Mrs. Doris Halverson Pope, pianist, and Mrs. Dora Holmes Granum, soloist, both of whom will present several of their best selections for the occasion.

THE COUNTY AGENT QUESTION.

Otto Rehm of Hazel discusses the "county agent" question in an article published in the Public Forum column of this issue. His article is based on the request made last week of the county board for financial aid to help carry on the work that is now being done in the county by D.J. McCann. The Board members expressed themselves as being in favor of an appropriation for this work providing a majority of the farmers of the county wanted it, and advised that petitions be circulated among the farmers to learn their attitude on the subject. Mr. Rehm urges that the farmers consider the question carefully and go on record either for or against an appropriation.

There is no question but that there has been a sharp difference of opinion on this subject in the past. The fact that there has been no appropriation from the county in the past testifies to the fact that there has been strong feeling against the county agent idea. The fact that a county agent has been maintained here during the last nine years testifies to the fact that there has been much enthusiasm among individuals for the county agent idea. As nearly as we can figure it out those are enthusiastic for the county agent idea who have come in contact with the work of the agent. The opposition to the idea comes chiefly from those who have not come in contact with his work. The arguments of the opposition can be divided into four groups, as follows:

The most general reason for the opposition is the expense. Many feel that an appropriation to help carry on this work would not be justified because of the tendency to increase taxes. Another reason, advanced chiefly among those who live some distance from the city, is that the work of the agent is limited to the territory immediately surrounding Thief River Falls and is not sufficiently general thruout the county to justify a county appropriation. A third reason is a feeling of resentment based on the belief that the county agent idea is being thrust upon the farmers by merchants of Thief River Falls. The fourth reason is a hangover of the bitterness generated a few years ago when the Farm Bureau and the Nonpartisan League were at swords points.

Of these reasons the question of finances is most important. At the present time the income of the county agent to cover salary and all expenses is $2,100. Of this amount the state pays, from money collected in direct taxes, the sum of $1,140, and the Federal government pays, from money collected by indirect taxes, the sum of $655. $305 is paid to the county agent by the local fair association for services as secretary, making the total $2,100. Up to a year ago the agent received $200 a month from the commercial club for services as secretary of that organization and to help carry on the general work. Last fall the agent resigned from this position because he felt his connection with the club was a factor in keeping the county board from making an appropriation for the work. The board is now being asked for an appropriation of $2,000 which would provide a total of $4,100 for this work a year. At the present time the city of Thief River Falls is furnishing free office space, heat and lights, and there is no reason to believe that this will not be continued.

The people of this county are now paying their share of the state and federal appropriations through taxes, and will continue to pay them whether the county has an agent or not. It is a question of the $2,000. If this appropriation is made and is spread over the county in taxes, one third of this money will be paid by the tax payers of the city of Thief River Falls. Another large slice of it will be paid by the non-resident property owners of the county. The actual cost of this appropriation to the farmers of the county would be very slight, and the benefits of county agent work would not have to be very great to justify this cost. These points should be weighed when the question of finances is considered.

The argument that the agent's work is limited to a small part of the county is perhaps justified to some extent. This is a thing that can be remedied however. If the agent's work has been beneficial in the territory that has been served, then that service should be extended. The one big thing that keeps this service more or less limited is the lack of money.

The feeling that this service is being thrust upon the farmers is also justified to some extent and we can appreciate how such a feeling would breed resentment whether or not resentment was justified. Business men of this city have been active supporters of the county agent idea. It has been suggested to us by farmers that the business men would resent very much any effort on the part of the farmers to meddle in the affairs of the city. This is correct. The result would be an explosion. The two cases are not entirely parallel, however. For one thing it is not the intention of the business men to meddle in the affairs of the farmer but rather to assist the farmer in building up a better farming community by the introduction of better farming methods. The business man is not inspired by altruistic motives in such activities. He is inspired by the hope of gain. Business will be better when farmers are more prosperous. His activity in these matters should not be discouraged. His support is better than his indifference. His activity in behalf of county agent work should be encouraged if the work itself and the idea behind that work is right. This argument is not worthy of much consideration.

The bitterness which developed a few years ago between the Nonpartisan League and the Farm Bureau, if it still exists, should be forgotten as far as the present issue is concerned because the county agent idea is entirely independent of the Farm Bureau. The Farm Bureau is a private organization maintained by individual memberships. The county agent is a public institution, maintained by federal, state and local taxes. The two organizations are similar in some respects and for a time they were closely related in their activities. For instance in this county the agent was hired through the local Farm Bureau organization. That organization no longer exists locally, and for several years the local agent has had no connection whatsoever with either the state or federal organization of the Farm Bureau. If the county board makes an appropriation for county agent work then the county board, under the present law, must assume a part of the responsibility of the management of the affairs of the agent. The agent then would be hired and his activities directed by a board of seven members consisting of the chairman of the board of county commissioners, one other member of the board of county commissioners, the county auditor, and four members of any local farmers organization which is working for the agricultural development of the county. The work under this plan is absolutely controlled by the farmers themselves and the county board.

This covers the situation as we see it, and the issue certainly justifies the serious consideration of every farmer in the county. We are in favor of the county agent idea. We believe McCann has done an excellent piece of work in this county and that his services, or the services of a man just as good or better than he is, are necessary to the further development of the county. More than seventy counties of the state have county agents or have made definite arrangements to get one, and Pennington cannot afford to let this important work go by default. If work in the past has not been satisfactory, let's improve the work and bring it up to the standard we want. If the work in the past has not been sufficiently extensive, let's make it more extensive. Or if we decide that $2,000 is too much money to spend for this work at the present time, let's cut the amount of the appropriation down and raise the rest by personal subscription. We venture to say that a thousand dollars can be raised for this work in the city of Thief River Falls alone if it is necessary to raise it in this way to keep the work going. Under no circumstances should this work be permitted to go by default.

PAY OR DIE

Four doctors of Pelican Rapids have agreed they will not respond to any professional call or render any service to anyone who has a delinquent account on which satisfactory payments have not been made within a year. An unpaid and neglected bill with one doctor will outlaw the claim of all of the doctors. It is a preamble to their agreement the cause for this action is stated as follows:

"The necessity of enforcing these provisions is determined by changed conditions and the prevailing present day practices, particularly those which refer to all forms of payme-n-t-time devices, installment buying plans, and every other method which seeks security for the future payment of debts. Obligations thus entered into are usually met, whereas those incurred for services rendered to secure the restoration of health and earning power are too often forgotten and neglected. This, then, is the new situation which we are facing and propose to relieve."

While we sympathize with the doctors in their losses through bad accounts, we do not believe that the action of the Pelican Rapids practitioners is proper. In the first place it is very evident that the agreement is merely a gesture. Everyone realizes that the doctors of Pelican Rapids are going to continue to serve any and all who call on them for professional services of an urgent nature. It is safe to say that there will be no noticeable increase in the death rate of the dead-beats of that fair city. In other words the bluff will not scare those whom it is designed to warny. It may, on the other hand, cause honest people, who are in debt, to hesitate too long before seeking necessary attention. If there is any increase in the death rate it will be among people who come under his classification. The gesture is improper therefore because it will not improve that condition which it was designed to remedy.

It is also improper because it lowers the standards of the profession to a commercial basis, and is therefore unethical. While there undoubtedly are many who practice solely for financial gain, they are a small minority in the field as a whole. It is to the credit of the profession that with the majority of doctors, money is a secondary consideration.

We witnessed a fine example of the spirit of the profession a few years ago. A doctor, who had a well established practice, was present at a social gathering. It was on one of those winter nights when Minnesota is at its worst—bitterly cold and a blizzard. At along about eleven o'clock he received a telephone call from twelve miles out in the country. A stork is one bird whose progress is not retarded by a Minnesota blizzard and Doc started the race with the odds heavily against him, but he won. It was the next evening before he was able to make his way back to town and we happened to be in the office when he made the entry in his ledger. He showed us the page. It was the third baby he had ushered into the world for that family, besides several other minor services. There were no entries on the credit side of the ledger. When we asked him if he expected he would ever be able to collect that account he replied that it was extremely doubtful. Our opinion of Doc as a business man fell off considerably, but our respect for him as a doctor and for the profession as a whole went up many points.

A doctor who is worthy of the title will serve when his services are needed. After such services have been performed he is entitled to a fee, and in justice to himself and to his creditors, he should take such steps as common sense or the law prescribe for the collection of an account. But by putting their profession on a cash basis and turning a deaf ear to the needs of those who may not pay cash, the doctors of Pelican Rapids not only injure themselves but prove themselves unworthy of that profession which they represent.

According to department of labor statistics the average American man spends $71.33 a year for clothing while the average woman spends $93.55. Well, at any rate we won't have to lie after this when we tell our wives they are far above the average.

Commander Byrd says that the real plane eventually will be a liner with ten motors, going five hundred miles an hour, and able to fly five days without stopping. Why stop at the end of five days?

Public Forum

Twenty-seven years ago we started this paper from a small beginning. It has proven itself the best investment the city ever made. Progress begets Progress and with the new power plant that will soon be in operation this city might be able to offer inducements to worthy concerns that may wish to locate with us, by granting attractive rates for power and light.

Another matter not to loose sight of is that our electric light plant looks like a big plum to high line corporations. They have had an eye on it for years and not so long ago they made an effort to get a foothold. It is only thru the city owning that outsiders could get any privilege whatsoever. The light plant and the water-power is too important a matter in our city to leave in the hands of men not to be trusted absolutely.

Our present council and mayor have proven themselves loyal to my city's best interests and I hope they will be reelected one and all.

—Discusses County Agent

Hazel, Minnesota.

Editor Times:

It has come to my attention that a proposition is on foot to have Pennington county, make an appropriation for the carrying on of county agent work in this county. It is reported that petitions are to be circulated among the farmers to secure their approval of the plan.

I would like to call the attention of the farmers of the county to this proposition thru the columns of your paper. It is a matter that we farmers should consider carefully before we give it our approval. For as far as farmers can see any substantial advantage to us by county agent work, we should have a county agent, if the county can afford the expense at this time.

The first question is whether or not the farmers want an agent, or if they care for county agent work? If we feel that the services of a county agent are worth while under the present plan of operation? At long as the county agent is not a regularly elected, and independent county official we want one at all?

In the second place, is it advisable to add to the financial burdens of our county right now? Taxes are high, and the demand of the times is economy. It will necessarily require something to support a county agent, or help to support one. Are we willing to pay the extra cost to our county that still result?

It is only more than fair that both sides should be heard on this matter, it should be thoroly considered. If petitions are circulated in favor of the idea, those who are opposed to the plan might with equal propriety circulate petitions against it. The petitions could then be presented to our county board, and they would know just where the farmers stand. Both sides could appear before committees present their sides to the board. In fairness both sides should be heard and considered, as long as both have to pay.

Let us get down to hard farmer sense of this and decide what we want. If the county can afford the added expense right now, the farmers should have what they want and are willing to help pay for.

Yours truly,
Otto Rehm.

Editor Times:

On November 8 we will be called on to select a new city council for another two year term. I have always been interested in the affairs of this town, and hope I may be excused for voicing a few words in favor of our present council.

Men at the head of public business should be judged by what they accomplish for the good of our city and I wish to give our present council credit for doing things that are of real benefit. Most of our streets have been graveled and if the present council is retained, we may hope to see a systematic plan of boulevarding and curbing at least in the principal residence part of the city.

The building of the new power plant, I am quite sure, has met with the approval of all our people who wish for progress in our city. It remains now, as we all know, for the rest when we were always planning to improve and to expand.

Twenty years ago we started this paper from a small beginning. It has proven itself the best investment the city ever made. Only Buick has an engine Vibrationless beyond belief

Built by Fisher

BUICK'S remarkable freedom from vibration is due primarily to three vitally important factors. First—the inherent smoothness of the Buick Valve-in-Head six-cylinder engine. Second—rubber engine mountings, front and rear. And third—the scientific and almost perfect balance of the entire Buick crankshaft assembly.

Only Buick enjoys these advantages. And only Buick provides the silken performance—the unnerving smoothness at all speeds—the longer life and greater serviceability of an engine vibrationless beyond belief.

TWO LINE DISCONTINUED

IN PRICE TRANSIT FIGHT

According to dispatches from the Twin Cities, Minneapolis & Pacific Line was a victory Tuesday in a skirmish at the Interstate Commerce commission's hearings on rates on grain rates, when a witness for the North Dakota state mill and elevator testified that the mill's demand for free transit milling privileges at Grand Forks, North Dakota, on wheat does not apply to grain milled in the Red Line from its North Dakota stations into other states.

The Red Line serves several districts in North Dakota and hauls the bulk of the wheat tonnage into Minneapolis for re-shipment eastward, either as grain or flour. Duluth receives a large quantity of grain from the Red line stations, altho less than that consigned to Minneapolis, a large part of it going thru Thief River Falls.

IN PRICE TRANSIT FIGHT

According to dispatches from the Twin Cities, Minneapolis & Pacific Line was a victory Tuesday in a skirmish at the Interstate Commerce commission's hearings on rates on grain rates, when a witness for the North Dakota state mill and elevator testified that the mill's demand for free transit milling privileges at Grand Forks, North Dakota, on wheat does not apply to grain milled in the Red Line from its North Dakota stations into other states.

The Red Line serves several districts in North Dakota and hauls the bulk of the wheat tonnage into Minneapolis for re-shipment eastward, either as grain or flour. Duluth receives a large quantity of grain from the Red line stations, altho less than that consigned to Minneapolis, a large part of it going thru Thief River Falls.

SURE RELIEF FOR SORE THROAT

Quicker than Gargling

With outer pain, seem to call comfort while waiting for slow acting kindly to act, when a pleasant to take liquid called Pinex is recommended to relieve in 1 to 2 minutes. Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine Extract, Syrup and Tar, and the balance on time.

A continuous target of hills runs that part of Clearwater county, and the opinion has been expressed that it may be a continuation of the large country ore producing lands cropping out at that place.

"How best can I trade in my present car for a new car?"

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

1 Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

2 Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

5 First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

6 Remember that you are making a purchase—not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

WE publish this message, believing that the public is entitled to have all the facts. And we invite you to send for the facts about General Motors products by using the coupon below.

More Land O'Lakes Butter Needed

The name "Land O'Lakes" has made many new markets for co-operative creamery butter in this country. People are asking for it by name in eighty of the leading cities of the United States.

While Land O'Lakes Creameries will sell over eighty million pounds of butter this year, it is not enough to fill the demand created by good butter and the Land O'Lakes system of manufacturing and marketing.

The 425 member creameries of Land O'Lakes Creamery Association have pooled together to offer guarantees. They have met with splendid success because the member creameries have been successful in their creamery work for an average of over twenty-five years.

The further co-operative marketing of their butter is only a natural step in their progress.

Through co-operating together with one standard for manufacturing and marketing, a higher average price has been received for butter based on market quotations than was ever before paid by co-operative creameries during any one year of time before Land O'Lakes was organized.

Through a wider and more systematic distribution the general price level of butter has been raised.

Land O'Lakes Creameries need more Land O'Lakes butter—100 more co-operative creameries should join Land O'Lakes this coming year. Their butter is needed for the increased demand.

Creamery Boards or anyone desiring information Land O'Lakes' methods, are invited to visit Land O'Lakes headquarters in Minneapolis and see the way the butter is handled, graded by the government creamery tester—the print room turning out as high as seven carloads of print butter a day. It's a splendid demonstration of what farmers can do by working together. Give your patrons free hand organization before their next annual creamery meeting. Land O'Lakes Creameries is pleased to have the farmers vote on whether their creamery shall become a member.

The record of Land O'Lakes Creameries covering six years' work is an open book for any creamery board or farmer who wishes to see the results of co-operative marketing on a large scale.

SPECIAL HONOR WAS ACCORDED TO MINNESOTA

HOLLAND WINDMILLS AND BEAUTIFUL BELGIUM SEEN

War Torn France and American Cemeteries Attract Legionnaires and Auxiliars.

The trip from the Twin Cities to Montreal, and thence across the ocean was vividly described by Mrs. C. M. Bishop in her letter published two weeks ago in The Times, and letter will be found highlights on the well-come accorded the visitors, together with a description of the many scenes visited.

The sailing Friday was most interesting; we saw the white walls of England, Dover castle, and soon the shore of France and Calais. We sailed through the spot made famous by the Scottish Queen and her where Gertrude Ekzels swam across. A pilot came to at Plush and we landed for the high tide to come, so we could go on to Antwerp. Frank C. Hilton, writer for the Saturday Evening Post) died on board that night. Our Executive Committee met in the Children's room on ship, and I often visited with his little girl, Jo Ann.

Picturesque Belgium

We saw Holland windmills and other interesting sights when landed at Antwerp. Everyone exclaimed about the beautiful Belgian homes, narrow streets, trucks with small horses, in front and large ones in back. The houses are all of brick, stone or cement—no wood. There was not room for wood. Many of them had what we took a sigh seeing trip through Brussels, saw the Royal Palace of Justice which Germans had stripped of all metal. Brussels is now as resplendent hoping to save their colonnade and other magnificent buildings.

Loves Wooden Shoes

We were met at Lost Chapelle by the French Red Cross Englishman told us they made their own pay for shoes we gave treats for us. We passed through Ham, fought around it on our way to Paris, Meaux, and San Quentin. We saw our first real wrecked buildings, shell holes and trees shot off. We saw the trenches now known all over the world—like this, cut in two and turned up inside down, is the reel cast steel. Many graves—pretty and beautifully trimmed trees were seen.

Welcomed by Plazes

The reception in France has been royal—nothing more to be desired. They love our boys, and we felt welcome, had spared no effort to entertain us. No royalty could have been more elaborately welcomed. Not only to entertain, but to guard and protect, escorted their theatre. The best they have was given us on every hand. Law seems to be strictly enforced. There are few fights, automobile accidents, robberies or cases of drunkenness apparently. A kindly spirit was shown on every hand.

Minnesota Especially Honored

The parade was the most marvelous spectacle even in France since the Allied marched back through the Arch of Triumph. It was a National holiday. We seemed to march thru the solid ranks, formed by what was estimated to be two and one-half million Paris residents, watching the parade. Lindberg's state attracted much attention when our state has marched by "Vive Lindbergh", interspersed "Vive L'Amerique." In the Minnesota delegation to the parade Minneapolis Central parade school system, including the state teachers' colleges and the University of Minnesota.

Our Little Corner

Many an unsuspecting pig each has been fooled on our colorlined walnut chests. They look like the height of efficiency in no-waste-room on the outside and utility on the inside. How do you feel about it?

We personally know 1147 Ford owners and each one of them thinks he has the best car. Henry ever put out.

Honest, folks, we had no idea beauty and comfort could be so combined in furniture as they are in the pedigreed chairs we've been showing the star spangled banner. We have had three or four days now since the Lowest closed—at Mother Hubbard. Better get out to Vorland, you know, for any room in the house.

There are two phases of the "tobacco" decoration" drip in your dining room if Thief River Falls cooks will take care of one, our walnut dining room suites will tend to the other. They certainly look nice.

A man who lives in the country near here, brought his wife to a missionary meeting the other day and then drove home without her. Can anybody beat that for absent-mindedness?

When you get tired of one side of the cushion on Levin's quilt "pet" you have reversed. You not only have a new piece of furniture, but lots more to wear.

We read somewhere about a tropical bug

Why don't some of you men who have to bend over at housecleaning time, request Sambora rugs to the wife. You don't have to scrub them off. We have them on the floor now.

There isn't a thing wrong with this weather.

Minnesota Drops from 8th to 26th Place in Fast Five Years In Auto and Gas Tax Rank

Minnesota has dropped from eighth rank among the states, in 1922, to twenty-sixth place, in 1926, in the amount of license fees and gas taxes per motor vehicle. Many other states have advanced much more rapidly in the amount of contributions to good roads, according to figures compiled for the American association of State Highway officials by the secretary W. C. Markham, at the annual convention in Denver this month.

The average contributions per vehicle for the ten leading states in 1922 were shown as follows:

New Hampshire, $25.73; Oregon, $24.16; Connecticut, $21.82; New Jersey, $18.26; Vermont, $17.82; Delaware, $17.56; Rhode Island, $17.24; Minnesota, $17.10; Louisiana, $17.17; West Virginia, $17.16.

Minnesota adopted the gas tax in 1923, and the average per car in 1926, the first full year it was in effect was $7.82. A cut in the license rate, combined with cuts in automobile prices, brought the average license fee down to $15.83 as that big item, and the total was only $23.45. In the meantime many other states had made large increases either in the license fee, or in the gas tax, or both, so that in 1926 the five states having the largest receipts per car were as follows:

Florida, $26.32; North Carolina, $44.63; Oregon, $40.03; South Carolina, $30.60; Arkansas, $29.61.

The license rate in the states in Minnesota are less than five per cent of the cost of operating the average car, including depreciation.

The figures are for only actual cash payments by motorists, and do not include receipts from local taxes.

Federal property-license taxes are not included in the figures. In Minnesota and a few other states the tax is nominal is in lieu of the ad valorem tax, but in most states car owners must pay both kinds of taxes.

NEW REGISTRATION RECORD

A compilation of registration at the University of Minnesota showed an attendance this year of 10,459 students, or five per cent more than those registered last year.

DETAILS OF FORD CAR MADE PUBLIC BY LOCAL AGENT

Engine to Have More Power; Changes Will Feature New Model.

Reports are current that the new model Ford, about which there is considerable speculation, both in the automobile world and out of it, will be on display in dealer's showrooms around the country before the end of the present month.

Local agent Griff Baldeen states that the exact date the new car will arrive has not as yet been determined, but it is expected to be within the next two weeks.

An eastern financial publication, reputed to have positive information concerning the new car, says:

It has been difficult to obtain positive information regarding the new Ford Motor Co. models because of changes resulting from constant experiments by Ford engineers. The new Ford has, however, taken final shape.

It is a high-speed four cylinder, selective transmission, practically all-steel vehicle, with smaller, four wheel brakes and numerous other refinements. Other details follow:

Motor—Larger than L-head type used in old model. Bore and stroke are increased, former 3.75-4 instead of 3.25-4, and stroke approximately a half-inch longer. Pistons and valves will be the same, and all parts are machined and held to the closest possible limits. Taxis have shown net capacity of 40 horsepower and 65 miles an hour. Motor is designed and rated at 40 horsepower against 22 horsepower rating of model T.

New Motor has been worked out with aircraft principles in mind, including two-bladed fan in place of customary four-blade. It has babbit silver bearings, with large surfaces for durability, and three-bearing counterbalanced crank of extremely heavy construction.

Flywheel—Much heavier.

Generator—Entirely new design of dynamo type. Furnishes light and equipped with oil-less, self-lubricating bearings, old Ford starter will be used. In addition to water pump, there will be an oil pump and improved Ford-design carburetor.

Transmission—Selective type, of an improved steel, practically a duplication of that used in Lincoln-type clutch, famous for its durability and quick engaging, will be duplicated and smaller size.

Timing Gears—Special composition with pressed cotton, said to be much tougher than steel, as chief material.

Rear axle—Integral with shafting eliminating possibility of breakage. Rear end will be equipped with Timken-type steel.

Front axel—Heavier.

Chassis—Designed to safety-type principles, heavier and wider. Full body width is maintained in rear and tapered in front. It has a low center of gravity.

Springs—Cross or transverse design, as used on many high priced cars, will be flattened out, made softer and equipped with additional leaves.

Wheels Wire, as standard equipment, will be considerably smaller than old model, and equipped with full balloon tires.

Hubs—Larger with full roller bearings in all wheels.

Brakes — Four-wheel mechanical, internal expanding. This is Henry Ford's own design. There are two-piece brake shoes on each drum. Braking surface is about 144 inches, and emergency is in the rear wheels.

Instrument board—Complete set of instruments.

Gas tank—Built into body under cowl.

Car will be equipped with snubbers and have irreversible steering gear.

In appearance the new car is no longer a Ford, as term is used, retained radiator of attractive design. Spanish-type, streamline body, improved head-lights, trim, and extra body room, all are features of new car. It weights a little more than the model T.

Mr. Sanders stated to a representative of The Times that the price of the car had not yet been announced by the Ford company, but it is expected that it will remain about the same as the Model T. Mr. Ford's engineers and dealers stated that the car would continue in the low priced, high car field.

Returning to Thief River Before Making Eastern Trip

Olle I Skrailthult is almost a household word among the Swedish people in the United States from coast to coast. With his company of nine people, he invaded New York gave his first performance there the week-end ball on the 20th of March. A writer on the New York Times was sent by the editor to give a first hand impression of this artist, although he is having a Yankee from the Mayflower days) does not understand the Swedish language, he could judge from the action of the audience that here must be a phenomenon of the entertainment line. The big hall rocked with the joy and applause from the 1800 persons that crowded the place, and it must be admitted that the performers, rendered by the orchestra, was novel, to say the least.

Olle himself occupied the spotlight a couple of times, and he had a hard time to get away—so insistent was the audience to have encore upon encore. A charming village maid with the name of Olga Peterson captivated her hearers with her grace in rendering lovely songs. National dances were executed by two couple of skillful steppers.

Olle and his troupe are coming to this city Saturday night, Oct. 29, appearing in the Sons of Norway hall. Those who have the money will go east to New York and tour the New England states.

Ties are More Dignified; Hosiery is in Harmonious Color Schemes This Fall

It's the "tiered"-lies that's predominant in haberdashery for men this Fall. Brave way is a takeoff on Anita Loos' recent success suggested that "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and it's no whether the gentleman in the case be conscious of it or not. Furthermore are haberdashers the nation over are showing a remarkable and delightful series of blends in shirts, cravats, hose and even "undies."

Where everything was a riot of color last a year ago, men are selecting their ensembles with a meticulous air. Perhaps it's because clothiers are stressing the good taste involved in dressing with an eye toward harmonious color-scheme; perhaps it's because men is becoming more "clothes conscious" in America, after the manner of the well-groomed Englishman. At any rate, haberdashery for the Fall and Winter season shows a marked affect of the "tiered" scheme.

Shirts and cravats are no longer of sounds-points with each other. While there does not mean that hose and handkerchief should be of the same hue and shading, and follow this designs, it does imply that the shirt and tie should blend harmoniously.

Shirts Are Dignified

Speaking of the cravats will suffice to say that this year are of a more dignified and subdued character than has been the case for some time. Solid colors, are very much in vogue, but the monotony of a single color is dispelled by an attractive design in the weave effect, some times also a slight tie-in of the solid color with a handpainted design. Stripes, plaids and checks, however, are exciting scores, and various other motifs.

Widespread candy-stripes, rail barber-pole stripes are still good, as is the regimental stripes in the traditional combinations. Reps and crepes are in the lead with poplins following. Small designs continue to hold the good graces of many smart men, while neat effects, unique figures and pastel shades are well represented.

Tie's Is Byrnes

The younger men, particularly some college boys, are trying their luck, regardless of Lord Byron and the contemporary John Barrymore. The conservative dresser however, prefers a small, trim knot, secured, perhaps, with a pin or collar-clasp.

The preference for Fall hose leans toward the lightweight woolen variety with little also in big demand. Silks, however, are not so strongly favored, according to hosiery authorities. Jacquard ideas, clocks, diamonds, checks, plaids, and overplaid are shown in colorful array. Ribbed hose in solid colors still secure the attention of the particular.

The Blend is Here

In keeping with the blend idea, hose are in harmonious color schemes, grays and browns in various shades holding the center of interest. The selected shadings are calculated to give the ensemble the proper effect.

Shirts continue to give the advantage to the collar-attached model, but there are showing wisdom in their treatment changes from the collar-attached shirt to the neckband variety. In this connection the stiff collar bids to make a strong comeback, as fashion followers become more cognizant of the formal air it lends to an informal costume.

The long pointed soft collar is still prevalent with the neckband a trifle higher, measuring one and one-quarter inches in height. Plain whites, oxfords and broadcloths continue to lead the field. White background with blue stripes vet from a half inch to an extreme two inches, apart are also very good.

Sweaters and Golf Hose

Sweaters and hose to match will again feature plaid colors with contrasting stripes about the neck and bottom. Small effects, and small patterns in all garments are also scheduled to become extensive in their appeal. Predictions are for a continuance on the plain black and plain white sweaters, with competition it is interesting to point out that V-necks are leading although crew-necks are a close second.

A new type of opera sweater is much greater favor than ever before displaying, consequently, a greater portion of the attire stitched slippers and brushed wool will be much in evidence. Blacks, blues, grays with patterns blending or contrasting with the background are scheduled.

State Loans to Counties, Schools and Municipalities Are Being Repaid Rapidly

Minnesota's state government has a well-filled purse, Julius A. Schmahl, state treasurer, stated last week in pointing out that his office has on deposit in banks a total of $16,270,961. Of this a total of $7,125,651 is to the credit of the general revenue fund which last year at the same time had a total of $6,044,620. The total bank deposit last year was $13,000,000 at the same date.

Loans made by county, school and municipal governments, at the state trust funds are being repaid rapidly by many, Mr. Schmahl asserted. The movement by the state legislature has taken such a firm hold that in many instances amounts which would not be due until 1930 and even later, are being repaid at once. With repayment these funds are quickly re-invested by the state.

How Much Does The Farmer Spend For His Clothes?

The old idea that farm families spend much less for clothing than their city cousins, has just been exploded by the Bureau of Home Economics at Washington. An intensive market study indicates that the clothier, allowances are practically the same for both groups, except in cases of families having incomes well above the average. To be exact the average city family spends $238 a year on clothing, the farm family $225.

Good roads and the automobile have, of course, played a large part in bringing this about, as there is today little difference in the divisions and social life of the two groups. Some of the credit, however, should be given to better merchandising methods.

We like to feel that the 885 stores of the J. C. Penney Company, scattered thruout 46 states, have played no small part in providing the farmer and his family with Big City comforts and style at a price that is even lower than he formerly paid for inferior merchandise. We feel a responsibility for every cent of that $225.

BUMPER CROP OF CLOVER IN NORTH WOODS

Half Million Dollars Will Be Realized by Farmers Who Raised Clover.

CLOVER FOUND THIS YEAR WHERE NOT SEEN BEFORE

Roseau, Lake of the Woods and Koochiching Counties Have Specially Adapted Soil.

Never before in the history of the three northern Minnesota counties of Roseau, Lake of the Woods and Koochiching has there been such an abundant crop of clover seed as has been garnered this year, according to information gleaned from several sources, it being quite generally conceded that the farmers of the three counties will receive close to half-a-million dollars for their seed.

The surprising thing this year is the appearance of wonderful fields of alsike and red clover in Roseau county in localities where there never has been any clover hitherto. Just how this comes is a matter of conjecture, but undoubtedly the seed has been scattered over the low country by high waters, prevailing from year to year, and the soil conditions being such previously that the hull of the seed did not have the opportunity of responding a growth from the bottom of the lakes until this present season. At least this is the plausible reason advanced by grain dealers who have been operating in the territory.

Grain dealers at Roseau report the shipment of thirteen cars up to last week with several more in sight. This is a big boon to the farmers of that vicinity as their small grain crops were not what has previously been harvested. It is expected that 20 to 30 cars will be shipped from Warroad, and as many more from Baudette.

Recently J. H. Hay, formerly of this city, and now assistant commissioner of agriculture, made a trip to International Falls and the northern portion of the county and in an interview he stated that the clover crop in Koochiching county—the big Fork Little Fork and Rapid river valleys—are returning clover seed harvests almost beyond belief.

When the lumber camps were in vogue in these districts teamsters brought clover hay with them for horse feed. Seeds of alsike clover dropped to the soil, which was particularly adapted for this crop, and the farmers gathered in the seed as they came moved on took up the virgin soil.

This year the raising of alsike clover seed has been taken up on a larger scale, Mr. Hay said, and farmers in the Little Fork alone will realize $150,000 this season. The Minnesota Spooner territory, who settled there a few years ago, will realize at least $100,000 for their seed.

The heavy set of clover this territory is unusually well adapted for raising alsike clover, Mr. Hay pointed out. The yield per acre is said to be from 5 to 6 bushels per acre, while the average for the state is about four bushels. The market price of alsike is now from 12 to 15 cents per pound, Mr. Hay said.

As a by-product of the alsike clover industry farmers, in the three valley districts mentioned, have in large numbers. These are fed the hay left after the seed has been threshed out.

"Alsike clover is a cash crop for the farmers and they are now realizing a profit from the production of what formerly was left by the wayside," Mr. Hay said.

Interest in the clover crop is developing rural officials two weeks ago.

The Minnesota State Highway department has agreed to give its assistance and will take care of the stretch from Fox to the Canadian line this fall, the one will tax and such other ways as are within the powers of the department, thus completing the road within the next two years.

September This Year Was Driest for Past Decade

More than twice as much rain fell the first four days this week as fell during the entire month of September, the total that week being .81 inches. The month of September was the driest September for ten years according to L. H. Rayson, official weather observer, the total rainfall being only .35 inches. This condition was not only prevalent here, but thruout a considerable portion of North Dakota, and has been a very welcome condition, permitting the farmers to complete their fall harvesting and threshing to a greater extent than for several years.

The records for the past ten years as compiled by Mr. Rayson show that two years ago the rainfall in September was the heaviest, a total of 6.54 inches being measured. The figures as announced are:

1917	1.29 inches	1922	5.43 inches
1918	1.56	1923	2.06
1919	1.79	1924	2.17

Bids for Roseau River Valley Dyke on Canadian Side Stirs Kittson and Roseau Settlers

Congressman C. G. Selvig has been appointed by County Agent J. W. Taylor of Roseau, in behalf of the Roseau County Drainage association of which he is secretary, to get first hand information as to rumored steps by the Dominion government, which is reported to have ordered a dyke on the Canadian side of the Roseau river valley.

The Winnipeg papers have been carrying notices asking for bids on the proposed dike, while the Americans have been talking of any action being taken jointly by the two governments. The residents of Roseau and Kittson counties are alarmed over the notice for bids.

Selvig, Selvig took the matter up with Secretary of State Frank Kellogg, who has asked Canadian officials for the information as to what is being done by the Canadian government.

PINE CREEK-PINEY ROUTE TO WINNIPEG IS GIVEN PUBLICITY

The Pine Creek-Piney road to Winnipeg is receiving some favorable publicity every week, several of the newspapers along the route north of the border have been presenting favorable reason advanced by grain dealers who have been operating in the territory.

The month of September was the driest September for ten years according to L. H. Rayson, official weather observer, the total rainfall being only .35 inches. This condition was not only prevalent here, but thruout a considerable portion of North Dakota, and has been a very welcome condition, permitting the farmers to complete their fall harvesting and threshing to a greater extent than for several years.

The records for the past ten years as compiled by Mr. Rayson show that two years ago the rainfall in September was the heaviest, a total of 6.54 inches being measured. The figures as announced are:

1917	1.29 inches	1922	5.43 inches
1918	1.56	1923	2.06
1919	1.79	1924	2.17
1920	1.54	1925	6.54
1921	2.80	1926	1.07

Marshall County May Save $30,000 by Court Decision

Marshall county will be saved practically $30,000 as a result of a district court decision handed down by Judge Andrew Grindeland in the W. W. Walstrom Co. case.

During the years 1923, 1924 and 1925 this company at the annual May sales of delinquent taxes has purchased tax certificates, later suing the county for a return of their money on the ground that the land had been held for taxes unauthorized by law.

County Attorney W. O. Hraas gains held that the company knew the law in the case. Judge Grindeland upheld the county attorney and handed down the verdict that the county was not liable to the plaintiff.

It is likely that the attorneys for the plaintiff will appeal the case to the state supreme court.

French Explorers Visited Red Lakes 300 Years Ago

The Red Lakes, the Mississippi river, Lake Superior, St. Anthony Falls and Mille Lac lake were given interest land-marks of early explorers, lodging from which have been discovered, and which have to do with the very early history of this part of the country.

Many French government archives at Paris, after more than a century of secrecy have yielded new light on early Minnesota history of unusual importance, according to an announcement recently of the Minnesota Historical society.

The superintendent of the society is now translating the acquisition of copies of 500 maps and charts owned by the French government, bearing on the findings of its explorers, who pushed into the state when it was a wilderness, and a hunting ground for Indians.

What Kind of School Would My School Be?

If Everyone Were Just Like ME?

Each of us wants our school to be the one which will attract the favorable attention of similar institutions. What factor can produce this pleasing commentary? The right kind of pupils, of course. If you wonder why your school does not make a good impression or show honor in good impression it does make can be bettered, first analyze yourself. Discover, if possible, your personal characteristics which tend to make your school what it is. You may think that just one person makes no difference in what outsiders think; but after all, your school is made up of hundreds of just one persons, and each one favorably adds to or unfavorably detracts from his school. Therefore, weigh one size yourself up. If every pupil were like you, what good spirit, high scholastic ranks, and splendid physique would prevail? If not, aim to make yourself such a type. —

With this issue the Progress has one of its most valued members, Wendell Bethey, Sophomore, who left yesterday with his parents for Los Angeles, California, has been contributing regularly to the feature department. His last article for paper publication will be found here under the titles of "Hints," which presents humorous side of athletic, and "Dance destroying Physics Professor," another of his efforts in literary endeavor writings. That his articles were appreciated by others appears as a strong indictment is shown by the acknowledgement of his first Modern History feature in "The Centralian" of Grand Forks. We shall miss him from our staff, but can only wish him continued success on some school paper in California.

JOKES

The stingiest man we know of is the one who gave his little girl a nickel one day and told her to run along. She took the nickel away from her while she was asleep, and then returned to give her any breakfast because she lost it.

"Johnny, stop poking little Ellsworth."

"I ain't pokin' him, Ma, I'm countin' his measles."

Bailey: "I didn't see how that would make him have to go to the hospital."

EAST GRAND FORKS TO VIE WITH LOCALS IN GAME TOMORROW

Record of Foreign Team Indicates Strong Opposition May Be Encountered

Next Friday, October 22, the Thief River Falls football team will meet a very formidable rival in East Grand Forks. According to "dopesters" the game will be a very close one. Grand Forks has already played two games and made scores very similar to those registered by our team. In the first game of the season the local team held Grafton 6-6. In her game, East Grand Forks was beaten by Grafton by one point, the score being 7-6 for Grafton. East Grand Forks held Warren 27-0, whereas Thief River held Warren 25-0. These scores should indicate the equality in scoring ability of the two teams, but East Grand Forks still has the bitter taste of last year's defeat in their mouth and will try to right this.

East Grand Forks has several that last year's men back, again among them being Flint, the famous five-yard-runner, now captain of the local aggregation, high scholastic ranks, and splendid physique all around. If not, aim to make yourself such a type. —

Let's Get Better Acquainted Thru Faculty Questionaire

Interview No. 5
What is your full name?
"Arona Genevieve Tandlerz."
Why did you again decide to teach in Thief River Falls?
"Because I liked my work and the student body."
What do you think our school needs most?

"The biggest thing the school needs is more room to work in."

If you were to start over again, would you teach?

"I think if I were to start over again I would choose somewhat along the same line, English work plus dramatics."

Don't you think English teachers are too fastidious about little unnecessary things?

Don't you think that Freshmen English should be changed to a similar plan as that as was given horns could learn twice as much?

"I don't think we have any given horns. The slower students may learn more slowly."

What made you go to St. Olaf College?

"I was influenced by St. Olaf graduates were my teachers during my high school days."

Why does the name George appeal to you?

"For the reason that there are so many George's in the world and the phrase 'let George do it' is so outstanding."

Did you enjoy your trip to the Pacific coast last summer and did you see anybody out there that you will always remember?

"Words cannot express the enjoyment I had on my trip to the coast. People, are, I met many whom I'll always remember."

What is your highest ambition?

"My highest ambition right now is to be an 'A No. 1' teacher!"

If the bobbed hair prevalence were in your hands alone, would you favor bobbed hair or not, why?

"I wear bobbed hair because everyone else does, and because it is convenient, but I think it much individualistic in the dress of long hair."

Why do you think women make better teachers than men?

"I can't say women make better teachers than men, but many women are more conscientious than men are."

What do you think of Miss Leavitt's policy of restricting the students from library pleasure, placing teachers on guard, etc.?

"It is fine! A library is used for a reading room and a study room. Teachers are not there with clubs in their hands."

Do you favor senior-faculty receptions? Why or why not?

"They are all right in a way. For they do point out the senders to the new faculty members and it does show hospitality and good fellowship between students and faculty."

Don't you think that the putting up of blackboards on the football field was a waste, since most of the onlookers stand up most of the time anyway?

"No. The onlookers should keep their seats, in the bleachers and not run out on the field watching the different plays."

"No."

Do you think that there is more or less school spirit this year than last, and do you think that it could be improved and how?

"There is mighty fine school spirit in our high school, perhaps better than last year, and of course there's always room for improvement. As to how, that would have to be carefully planned."

Solomon: "I buy your pardon, but haven't we met before?"

Nic. Cly: "Yes, darling; we were married a little over three months ago."

"Why do the Scotch like basketball?"

"They enjoy the free throws."

Burglar: (to old Scotchman whom he intends to rob) "Your money or your life!"

Scotchman: "Take my life. I'm saving my money for my old age.

Mrs. Casey: "She sister writes me that every glass of jelly in the box we sent her was spilled. Are ye sure you printed 'This side up with care' on it?"

Casey: "O! an' for fear they shouldn't see it on top, O printed it on the bottom as well."

"Bill" Froehlich, Theresa Anson, and Betty Storhoin Have Prominent Parts

The Junior play "And Home Came Ted" as announced last week is now under full swing, several practices have already been conducted.

The cast, being chosen by Miss H. Steenerson, director, appears to be very well selected. Albert Kelly, played by Arthur Angell, is a stanch good-natured boy of about nineteen. He comes from the East side of New York City and has every appearance of a "hard-boiled guy." Theresa Anson, heroine of the play, acts as Diana Garwood an heiress of about twenty years of age. Miss Logan-berry, whose part Marjorie Nicholson has, is a Hiawatha girl maid of forty three. Ira Stone, a chunky villian of about forty is none other than Morris Owen. Aunt Jubilee, a negro mammy, is being acted by Emily Jacobson who is very capable of producing the negro dialect. The man that puts the mystery into the play is Mr. Mann. His part is taken by Gordon Storhoins, who fills the requirements, in being rather tall and good-looking. Jim Rykis' part as a lawyer is being acted by Paul Melby. Jason Bowers he is acting as Mollie Macklin, a vivacious self-reliant, country girl. Helen Crookhilte is acting the part of Henrietta Darby, a striking brunette of twenty-six. A world renowned beauty is Pamela Froehlich Lake, the roles of Elsie and Ted, bride and groom are also well cast. The very pompous and commanding Senator McCorkle is being acted by Richard Mabey.

SCHOOL NOTES

Myron Anderson has left school because his folks moved to Newfolden.

Helen Scholberg, daughter of the Methodist pastor, Rev. H. C. Scholberg, has entered the third grade.

The pupils of the third grade have started spelling grades which each child keeps a record of his own work.

During the last week, all the pupils of the Junior class have been weighed and measured.

All the grades are decorating their respective rooms for Hallowe'en.

Division A of the second grade is having a spelling contest in an endeavor to keep their balloons, which they have moved up and down on a chart to register their marks, up to that of perfection.

An Arithmetic race in the fifth grade, composed of five rows of pupils and covering a period of eight days, resulted in victory for the row of which Reuben Christofferson was captain. The Hustlers, which is explained by Evan Bailey, ranked a close second.

Washington

Lester and Lois Ekren, from Alexandria, have entered the fourth grade.

LOVE THE LETTERS!

Who can remember, when football letters were worn solely by boys?

Long ago, or as the fairy tale would put it, Once upon a time—in the dim of annals of time—says, football was in its infancy as a red-blooded sport. Nevertheless, some thoughtful coach devised this means of rewarding his men in a small way by giving them letters to wear upon their sweaters. How proud those first recipients must have been and how proud present players still are to be able to flaunt such an emblem.

Today it is the girls who play football and basketball, judging by these emblems. All over, the eye rests painfully upon Thief River's athletic initials—emblazoned, on female bosoms. Some girls go so far as to rustle on their prey and sport ten trophies. Is this in any way right? If it should cause the love claim to these letters and refuse the p'rase of their "manmans," with stern will-power. At the rate of present degeneration, it won't be long before grid stars will be requesting their coach for imitation flowers at the season's close, so that their sweethearts may look more femininely charming than in large initials!

HISTORY A LA MODERNE

Ponce de Leon was a mighty professor who should have been a short story writer. From childhood he had always envied a man who could write a sonnet prolifically.

—It so happened in the course of human events that Ponce wrote an essay on How to Eat Grapefruit and was rewarded with a round-trip ticket to Palm Beach.

He had read that Florida was a great health center so he hoped to jump back into his younger years for a while. In other words, to be thereby rejuvenated; that his career wouldn't know him.

In this history tells us, he was unsuccessful. But we know better. Isn't his story over here somewhat vague to our eyes? Who knows but what the fabled Fount of Juvenility wasn't a cleverly guarded trade secret. Thus we are inclined to think of Ponce de Leon as the pilgrim with a purpose.

"I have a suit for every day in the week."

"Yes?"

"This is it."

"How much money did you spend in Paris?"

"Francly, I don't know."

Football Men Look on At Dakota Grid Game

Almost the entire football squad, headed by Coach Boe, motored to Grand Forks Saturday to attend the South Dakota-North Dakota game at the new stadium. The coach announced that the male purpose of the trip was to witness the two universities contests; Grand Forks being so close, the situation was ideal. The game itself was thruly enjoyed by all and much valuable information was gained by watching the players perform.

In addition to looking over the game the men took several visits to some of the university buildings, the campus, and the various gymnasiums erected for the Grand Forks, Central high.

Seniors, Faculty Meet In Friday Reception

The annual Senior-Faculty reception was held last Friday, Oct. 14, in the gayly decorated High school gym. A Senior receiving committee played host at the door, and gave a hearty feel welcome, after which there was a short program.

Dorothy Hanson, Senior class secretary, Chester Myrom, class president, in their addresses gave many humorous readings were given by Sara Byrd, well known in this school for her dramatic abilities. Following the readings, Superintendent Morris Ryan responded to the president's welcome. He expressed the sentiments of a Senior class in the kind of marks she places on the report card, and the importance of the signature of a Senior with his imaginary importance. Mr. Ryan transferred his ideas to the audience in his effective manner characteristic of him.

Vocal solo, by Leonard Knadle and Earl Benson, accompanied by Lucille Lindberg, one of whom played in the orchestra with Alvin Vlatuszek and Robert Severtson concluded the evening's program.

Punch and cake were then put by the teachers, in which Julius Opheim, as cane-master, and Edmund Boe, as punch-master, did much entertaining. Opheim responded with a style show, which was a take off on the present mode, by Mrs. Blanche Konstad and led by Mrs. Maude L. Johnson, wound up the program in the various rooms, where Hallowe'en ice cream and devil-food cake were served.

Opheim: "How are ideas of other people used by students, Ruby?"

Ruby: "Oh—sometimes a person sees a show or reads a book, maybe 3 months ago; then when he has to write the theme he unconsciously uses some ideas that stick in his mind."

Opheim: "Yes, only it's not always such an unconscious process."

Omission of Noonday Assemblies Saves Time

That the latest addition to Lincoln High School's set of rules and regulations is a vast improvement will be admitted by practically all the students. The existence of noonday assemblies is over, the students are dismissed directly from their fifth period classes, and all announcements are made as the close of school in the afternoon, except the very vital ones which are made individually in each class room by the teacher in charge. The saving from 5 to 10 or 15 minutes that were consumed in making announcements at noon are now available and although they are not so large they all make a difference.

STUDENT OPINION

Misunderstood Latin

Too often people have said, "The study of Latin is not worth while. It's a dead language." As a student of Latin I wish to defend it as the most expressive and beautiful language ever articulated.

Those who speak unfavorably of Latin are the ignorant individuals, who do not know the value of Latin. Do they know that more than half of our ordinary every-day English words are derived from Latin? Knowing Latin from Latin I Words have a great deal to do with the spelling of words and consequently it is understood.

Latin is a great help in studying other languages. A student of Spanish finds it comparatively simple, if he knows Latin, because nine-tenths of Spanish is so similar to the "dead" language. For example, "amicus" in Latin and "amigo" in Spanish; "mus" is "home" in Latin and "hombre" in Spanish; "causa" in Latin and "causa," "dolor," grief; and "amor," love are identical in both languages.

A student bookkeeping should find Latin quite helpful for it helps that "credo" is the Latin word for "trust." In botany, biology, science, and medicine, most of the names come from Latin.

Latin is not dry—quite the opposite. Virgil and Cicero expressed large and high ideals more nobly than any of the modern authors or poets.

Latin students may fully appreciate Cicero's fiery thoughts and words in his condemnation of Catiline, which he delivered in the senate denouncing. The mastery of the Latin classics is a worthy goal for any student and ready at all times to defend Latin.

The nominating committee headed by H. C. Hand, submitted three names for the office of editor-in-chief which was Harold Will, present manager of the Progress, elected to guide the publication of the Lincoln annual this year. Lenore Lieberman and Harriet Fuller, contesting candidates for the editorial office, were named associates in a tying vote. Both are capable and efficient, and able to assist in the management of such a venture.

It was found last year that the office of business manager was handled successfully by Phillip Syndahl, was a very important one, as it pertains to the actual financing of the annual. Chester Myrom, assisted by Leslie Syndahl, will lead all the Prowler money making and money spending affairs.

Editing the annual is in a large measure purely literary—the office held by Harold Will and Lenore Weeks will be of much work and importance.

Athletics will be in the hands of a girl for the first time in a number of years. With Margaret Sandvik conversing this department, the various sports will be given their due amount of credit. Fred Wangsler, a participant in athletics, will assist her.

Cover and design are also contributes greatly to the success of an annual. Ruth Jacobson's efforts in making and making possible the panel backgrounds for the individual senior pictures and high school snaps. Bjoline Van Pelt, whose abilities in this line have been noticed since her freshman days just fall will have charge of this department. Ethel Pugh, another artist of outstanding cleverness, will be assistant.

The mechanical material the annual will boast a colored scene custom of Thief River Falls, and numerous other Kodak work this year. Many will have been taken already by Senior Class time, and the snapped that the photograph department has been doing all the time. Elmer Carlson, Ralph Boe, and Katherine Meilby will liven up the snaps.

When votes were counted for the various other important Prowler offices Lucille Lindberg, Ruth Jacobson, and Leonard Knadle were declared assistants.

The Demands of the Hour

Faith in aviation is spreading, but the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes it would be more contagious if the growing safety of routine air transport was known better.

Here are a few facts about regulated commercial flying here and abroad that are worthy of consideration.

American mail planes flew 3,108,720 miles without a casualty in the fourteen months from February 15, 1926, to April 22, 1927.

The Imperial Airways, Ltd., and its predecessors, have flown more than 2,000,000 miles in seven years and carried 44,000 passengers.

Air freight rates from London to Paris is insured in England at 2 shillings per 100 pound sterling. Insurance on the same freight by sea or transport cost 6 shillings and eight pence.

Pioneer days in aviation are past. No longer do men say, "It can't be done." They speculate upon how long it will be before we all will be flying.

From the beginning the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has kept pace with the pioneers of the air. Long ago it showed its faith in aviation by setting to work to develop fuel and oil to meet the special needs of the airplane.

Today it is ready. Its aviation products have been proved. In the first National Air Derby New York to Los Angeles—between the first three Class A planes used in standard Oil Company (Indiana) aviation gasoline and lubricating oil.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has had to be a pioneer, always alive and alert to the changes of a progressive world. It has had to lead the field of an unrushing civilization—to sense its needs and develop products to meet them.

A flexible organization has been developed, capable of supplying changing demands—constantly extending, expanding and improving its service.

At one time kerosene was the major product of petroleum. The automobile came. Gasoline took the leading role. Today gasoline is furnished in various grades by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to millions of motorists.

With the development of aviation a new need has arisen and this Company has extended its service to meet this demand.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has a bigger job than the manufacture of a single standard article. This Company is a service organization—working with a natural resource—producing from it the products the nation needs—meeting the demands of the hour with efficiency and skill.

RESOLUTIONS OF N. W. M. E. A, COVER SEVERAL SUBJECTS

Present Financial Stringency has not Hindered Schools in This Section

The resolutions prepared by the committee of the N. W. Minnesota Educational association, composed of Supt. Arnold Olson, Crookston, chairman; County Supt. Geo. M. Gunderson, Thief River Falls; Principal Elmer R. Kid, East Grand Forks; and Supt. A. C. Pederson, Ada, at the convention held here recently, adopted without debate follow:

For the generous hospitality and the efficient management that have made this meeting of the N. W. M. E. A. a success, we desire to express our gratitude to the people of Thief River Falls, the Commercial club, the faculty and the churches of the city, as well as to the officers of the association.

High Standards of School

We desire to express our appreciation of the intelligent attitude toward the support of public education that has been manifested by the taxpayers, and by the boards of education in this section of the state of Minnesota during the period of economic depression from which we are still passing. The need of economy has been keenly felt on all sides and its urgency has been emphasized by political leaders. It is indeed gratifying that during such a period our schools have not materially suffered. Teachers' salaries have been maintained on a sufficiently high level to attract well trained teachers into the service, and the general standards of the schools have not been lowered by reason of over-retrenchment. We, the teachers and educational administrators of northeastern Minnesota, therefore pledge our co-operation with our patrons in their efforts to eliminate waste, and to practice every economy that is consistent with the efficient management of our schools.

Solution of Enforcement Problem

We desire to express our faith in the physical and health education, which has become a mandatory part of the curriculum of every elementary and secondary school in the state. We believe that instruction relative to the injurious effects of narcotics and alcoholic beverages should become a more important part of the health program of every school. As a recognition of the evil physiological and social effects of alcohol led to the enactment of the Eighteenth amendment, and the Volstead law, making its enforcement legally binding, we are confident that a deeper and wider recognition of this evil will result in building up of a sentiment that will make for a better country to live in. We believe that in the hands of the educational forces of our land lies the solution of the liquor and law enforcement problems, which are matters of the greatest national concern.

Knowledge of Citizenship Worthy

We are in hearty accord with that section of our legislative mandate which requires instruction in citizenship is required in all our schools. We desire to commend the American legion for the interest it has shown in this type of instruction. We recognize the need of a rudimentary knowledge of the structure and operation of our government on the part of the younger generation. More important, however, as objectives in our citizenship programs are the development of sound character, and the fostering of a genuine love of country which expresses themselves in loyal service, and in obedience to law.

Peace and Progress Needed

The modern tendency in the teaching of history, which minimizes the study of military propaganda, and places a greater emphasis upon industrial, social and cultural movements receives our hearty endorsement. As educators we conceive it to be our business to do our utmost to develop a friendly feeling toward every race and nation, and thus to contribute our part in ushering in an era of uninterrupted peace and progress.

Educational Officers Commended

We wish to congratulate the officers of the state association, and the executive committee on their success in bringing to this meeting [illegible] of the National Educational association to our own state. We urge every teacher in this section to enroll in the N. E. A., to take advantage of every opportunity of annual gathering as the convention in Minneapolis next July.

We desire to commend the policy of the executive committee of the M. E. A., in strengthening the sectional meetings by securing generous financial support. It is this liberal policy that has made possible the outstanding program of the present session of this division of the association.

Binder Slashed Body of Polk County Farmer

Anton Torgerson of Andover township, seven miles south of Crookston, was so badly mangled by a binder he was operating that he died shortly after being taken to a Crookston hospital.

No one witnessed the accident, but it was quite apparent that he had stepped in front of the binder and that probably the horses had become scared at something and started to run away.

Mr. Torgerson was presumably knocked down and the sharp blades cut off his legs, and when the horses came around that way again it is believed that the binder again went over the body, slashing it some more.

P. Burkowski of Marshall county.

It will be remembered that the robbery was a daring daylight holdup, with the authorities starting in pursuit shortly after and eventually capturing the two perpetrators of the deed near Hallock. Both pleaded guilty and were given life sentences.

Michigan Cow Breaks United States Record for Butterfat

Michigan dairymen have set a new butter mark for the United States farmers to shoot at. A Wolverine Holstein, Daisy Ormsby Mercedes, has produced a stack of butter during the last year that was far more than the average cow.

She is butter champion over cows of all ages and breeds, producing 34.54 more pounds of butterfat than May Walker Ollie Hengstoel, the Holstein cow that held the championship until Daisy completed her records a few days ago.

1,000 TURKEYS INSPECTED ON TURKEY TOUR

Dr. W. A. Billings Pleased at Showing Made and With Interest Manifested

LOSS IS NEGLIBLE UNDER SEMI CONFINEMENT PLAN

Turkey Raisers in This County Raise 10,000 Turkeys That Should Bring $50,000

The semi confinement plan of raising turkeys at the W. J. Janda, F. T. Bates, Fred Hult and Egbert Malberg farms visited by Dr. W. A. Billings of the state university extension department on his turkey tour the first three days of last week, is considered a success by the owners and was anticipated last spring when the turkey feeders agreed to try the plan. About a hundred interested turkey growers and business men met at the various places visited, pointing out the advantages of the plan, and explaining wherein failure was so easily possible under the old haphazard plan of letting the turkeys range the fields. At the W. J. Janda farm this was very apparent. Mr. Janda had about 150 turkeys in the flock raised the new way, and the neighbors' flocks, five of them less by following the suggestions of Dr. Billings, in the flocks where the turkeys were left to shift for themselves to hatch the eggs and care for the young, making the fields over as one there had been a fifty percent loss.

1,000 Turkeys Inspected

Practically a thousand turkeys were under observation on the four farms visited yesterday on the tour, there being 190 on the Fred Hult farm, 150 each on the W. J. Janda and Egbert Malberg farms, and about 600 on the Bates farm. Dr. Billings looked over all the specimens and brought forth many favorable comments from those making the tour.

Tours Becoming Common

Turkey tours are not already here conducted by Dr. Billings in five counties before coming here, and many more are contemplated before it becomes too late to make them. In Kittson county Tuesday over 300 people made the circuit to the various turkey farms, and gained first hand information in the methods advocated by the originator of the semi-confinement plan. At one of the stops the lady who lives over the hotel in Hallock was offered 47 cents per pound for 50 turkeys, the offer being accepted. This will mean that the lady will receive close to $300 for these birds, for they will probably average 15 or 16 pounds.

Pennington Turkeys Worth $10,000

A careful estimate of the turkeys in Pennington county this year reveals the fact that nearly 10,000 have been raised. This is only ten to a farm, so that the farmers having large flocks readily make up for those having none at all. Based on a minimum value of five dollars per bird, it would mean a $50,000 income to the poultry raisers of the county, if they can market keys as a regular business [illegible]

Dr. Billings stated to a representative of The Times that almost 1,000 [illegible] had been purchased by turkey farms have been operated along the line of that week, there being some in every state in the union, Canada, Mexico and other countries.

Thief River Falls, Crookston, Warren Doctors Meet Here

A meeting of the local section of the ninth district Public Health Educational [illegible] was held in the Evelyn hotel here last Friday evening, attended by local physicians and [illegible] professional [illegible] from Warren and Crookston. A similar meeting was held at Warren recently and is scheduled for Warroad in the near future. The purpose of these meetings is to discuss matters relating to the medical profession.

"Alias the Deacon" Holds Strong Appeal at Lyceum

If you want entertainment of the highest order, pure comedy, real drama, pathos and all the other qualities of all our lives are interwined, don't fail to see "Alias the Deacon," the Universal Jewel production which opens its engagement of two days at the Lyceum theatre Sunday.

Jean Herbert, in the part from which the name of the picture is taken, gives a performance which will live long in our memories. He is a man, and handled with such delicate and restraint, he establishes himself, if he has not already done so before, as one of the very finest actors the screen has.

The rest which plays in support of this brilliant character star is no less capable. Jew Marlowe and Ralph Graves are ideal as the "pal" for whom the available old "deacon" sacrifices so much.

Pussy Willows, Think Spring Is Here—Doff Hard Shells

Lovers of the great outdoors while hunting bitter sweet branches in the dumps of woods on the outskirts of the city on Sunday were surprised to note the appearance of pussy willows in abundance in low places, yet quite common on slightly higher ground.

Pansies and other hardy perennials are in bloom in various flower gardens around the city, even the late frost has made his appearance at various intervals this fall.

Seventh Annual Convention of Lutheran Young People in City To Attract 500 to its Sessions

Sermon Sunday Morning by Rev. Slettin of Minneapolis Will be Main Talk

Everything is in readiness for the seventh annual convention of the Young People's Federation of the Lutheran Free church, membership in which is scattered throughout the northern central states, to be held in the Free church here beginning this evening, Oct. 27. The main sessions of this organization will be held in the Free church auditorium, but conferences and minor meetings will be held in the Zion church where registration will also be carried on. With favorable weather it is expected that 500 delegates and visitors will be in attendance.

Rev. T. J. Negaard, pastor of the local Lutheran Free church, has spent much time and energy toward making the coming meeting a success, in addition to which he has received the support from members of the church and Young People's society. If there is any one thing which has been lacking in some delegates in some extra accommodations are expected to be asked to communicate with Rev. Tungseth.

Meetings will be held every night during the four days the convention is in session, the principal one of the sermon meetings will be held Friday, Saturday and Sunday. In the event that many of the younger people having to remain over with homes in Thief River Falls or school work it will be impossible for them to attend the day sessions, but arrangements are expected are asked to come out to these gatherings. It is hoped that it will be believed that there will be a larger crowd present than in attendance. Of course, on Saturday and Sunday the young people will have ample opportunity to attend all meetings.

Leading Address of Convention

ETERNITY Down in Georgia, near Atlanta, is a mountain of solid rock, called Stone Mountain. A colored preacher wishing to impress upon his congregation the duration of eternity, said: "See that mountain over there? If a humming bird passed over that mountain once every thousand years and just barely touched the tip of his wing on the top of that mountain, that humming bird would have worn that mountain down level with the ground before breakfast time in Heaven."

The real concern of man is neither wealth, appetite nor popularity It is RELIGION. That which deals with the future dwelling place of the soul.

OPEN SEASON ON SQUIRRELS; SHOOTING FORBIDDEN IN CITY

Quite a few squirrels have been seen in the outskirts of the city this fall, but they have been chased by the boys and dogs so much that only a few have remained. The boys have been hunting the squirrels with small rifles, evidently unaware that there has been a closed season on squirrels until last Saturday.

The hunting of squirrels at any time within the corporate limits of any city or village or within a quarter of a mile thereof is forbidden by state laws. Not more than ten gray or fox squirrels may be taken in one day, and it is the possible limit of either, or a mixed bag. Black squirrels are protected at all times.

Christ Restored

"The kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

"Again, is kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls:

"Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it."

Each of these parables contributes something to the history of the Reformer, Luther, and his work. The parables themselves set forth the supreme value of true religion to the finder of it, and they were spoken to those who had already found it—to the disciples and to the hearers. They were intended to show them how wisely they had done in parting with everything else in order to secure this single and supreme possession. The difference between the parables lies mainly in the manner of acquiring it. For the man in the first parable the field, the hidden treasure accidentally, or unexpectedly, as the Samaritan woman did, when she happened on Jesus at Jacob's well and found Him to be the Christ. But the finder of the pearl of great price did not chance up on it, he obtained it only after long and diligent search, as Timothy did, who "from a child knew the Holy Scriptures which are able to make wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus" and precisely this saving Christian faith is the hidden treasure and the priceless pearl.

Just so, Luther, humanly speaking, found this hidden treasure unexpectedly and by accident—at least he found the field in which it was hid—when in more favored than Isaiah, the university library at Erfurt he happened on a complete copy of the Latin Bible; the first he had ever seen. This treasure Book he read and re-read, pouring knowledge of the doctrine of the Gospel and the grace of God, that enriched and warmed and at length he found at last brought the pearl of great price—Jesus and Reformation.

Christ the Just and the Justifier of all who believe in Him. He found that the sinner is justified from his sins not by any doings of his own, but solely through faith in what Christ has done for him, and that therefore being justified by faith he has peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

For joy thereof he went and sold all that he had, and bought that field, bought that pearl. He renounced all family and friendship, scholarship, literary hopes of preferment, beliefs and customs dear to him, life itself, that Christ—as the Church of God who lives and reigns.

He restored the living Christ, for in Luther's day the Lord was far removed from the hearts of men. He restored the living Christ whom the Church herself had supplanted. Latin Bibles she forbade to the world ever continued to be the work which she denounced, in the penances which she imposed, and by the sacraments which she sold.

AUTUMN

Shorter and shorter now the twilight cips
The days, as through the sunset gates they crowd,
And summer from her golden collar slips
And straps it through stubble-fields, and moans aloud,
Save when by fits the warmer air deceives,
And, stealing hopeful to some sheltered lower,
Ehe lies on pillows of the yellow leaves,
—Alice Cary.

TURKEY THIEVES

The season of Turkey Thieves is now at hand. Judging from the sad experience of previous years reports will come in every day during the next month of raids on poultry yards. There is something uncanny about this form of thievery. Large flocks of birds are stolen and disposed of with all the dispatch of an Arabian Night's tale. Who does the stealing and what becomes of the turkeys after they are stolen is a baffling mystery to the authorities, not only of this community but, of nearly every community in the Northwest. Is there a well organized ring operating on a large scale thruout the country or is it merely the work of individuals within the community? There is some reason to believe that it is a combination of both. The expedition with which the work is carried out indicates that it is done by men familiar with local conditions. The fact that thousands of turkeys are smuggled out of the country without leaving any trace whatsoever indicates that a well managed organization directs the marketing of this stolen crop.

Farmers will do well to take extra precautions during the next month to protect their poultry flocks from these two-legged rats. However they might be. A flock of turkeys doesn't have to be very large to warrant an armed guard amund the barnyard at night. It is hoped that any farmer who catches one of these thieves will not shoot to kill, because it will be difficult to get information about the turkey stealing business from a dead thief.

WE LIKE US AS WE ARE

It has been observed that people are usually conservative in those things about which they know the most. We know barbers who are howling radicals about everything but the barber business but hi this line they are rock-ribbed reactionaries. We know lawyers who can point out a dozen things wrong with almost any institution, organization, custom or method, but if you suggest to them that it is high time our legal procedure be given a general overhauling they will stand up on their hind feet and defend the practices of their profession to their last breath. Doctors do the same thing, and merchants and farmers and townspaper men. We are all willing to have reforms providing they do not effect us. In our own matters we prefer the status quo.

Everybody but the bankers knows what is wrong with our present banking system. Everybody but the farmers knows what is wrong with agriculture. A spinster or a bachelor can tell you more about the training of children than any parents who have cared for a family of ten. Any politician can tell you more about railroading in a one hour speech than a railroad president has learned in a lifetime of railroad experience.

Which leads us to believe that this would be a smart world if all of us knew about half as much as we think we know. And if we didn't butt into each other's affairs occasionally would there be any progress? Certainly there would be very little news to publish if we all minded our own affairs. And without news we could have no paper. So let's not change human nature. There's a hard winter ahead of us and we need our job.

AN ERSTWHILE FAKIR

Science has made such rapid progress in recent years that the public is no longer skeptical of the claims of the inventors. We are reading a fantastic story of exploration in the depths of the ocean written by Conan Doyle and published in the Saturday Evening Post. It is weird and utterly impossible-thing and yet it is difficult at times to draw the line between the reality and the make-believe. The following article published in a New York newspaper sixty-one years ago, reminds us that the reality of today was a far-fetched delusion to the world only a short time back.

"A man of about 46 years of age giving the name of Joshua Coppersmith, has been arrested in New York for attempting to extract funds from ignorant and superstitious people by exhibiting a device which he says will convey the human voice any distance over metallic wires so that it will be heard by the listener at the other end. He calls his instrument a 'telephone' which is obviously intended to imitate the word 'telegraph' and get the confidence of those who know of the success of the latter instrument without understanding the principles on which it is based. Well informed people know that it is impossible to transmit the human voice over wires as is done with dots and dashes and signals of the Morse code and that, were it possible to do so, the thing would be of no practical value. The authorities who apprehended the criminal are to be congratulated and it is hoped that his punishment will be prompt and fitting that it may serve as an example to other conscienceless schemers at the expense of their fellow creatures."

MORE DIFFICULTIES FOR WATERWAY

It appears that opposition to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway is developing in eastern Canada and it is the impression of some observers that this opposition may be more difficult to overcome than the difficulties heretofore encountered. Canadian cities on the St. Lawrence river, like, important seaports on the Atlantic coast in this country, are anxious to maintain the advantages they now possess, and will undoubtedly offer stubborn resistance to any project which may detract from their importance as commercial centers. The fight for this waterway is barely begun and it is likely to be a long fight. When the proposition is finally put through, as it will be eventually, several more years will be required for the actual work of construction. In other words, it will probably be a long time before this waterway will be an accomplished fact. Too long to be of any benefit to the Northwest in its present need.

"HICK" TOWNS

(Wisconsin State Journal)

A hick town, say the various owners of this convenient formula, is a place where a backfire is never mistaken for a pistol shot; where bedtime is orthodox; where woodpeckers eat up the depot; where central can tell you whether it was a boy or a girl; where the neighbors will supply you with a conscience if you lack one; where there is no parking problem; where a curfew disturbs the resident's rest; where fine-cut tobacco is no handicap socially, and so on and on.

With no intention of becoming terribly heavy over the matter, we want to add that a hick town is the place where 26 of our 29 presidents were born and where seven out of ten of the immortals in New York's national hall of fame originated. A hick town that didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Editors.

If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to lay the foundation of future greatness.

"It's getting so a man can't afford to be prompt for an appointment or people will think his time isn't worth anything," says a paragrapher. Correct. Be present at an eight o'clock committee meeting at eight o'clock and you waste an hour of your time. If the committee gets down to business at nine o'clock another two hours will be wasted in disposing of a question which should take about ten minutes. We have often felt that the greatest single obstacle to progress in this country is the committee meeting.

Bobby Jones, the best golfer the world has produced, hires an expert to advise him on his game. Babe Ruth, the swat king of baseball, is constantly being coached on how to bat. Gene Tunney hires men to teach him how to fight. The top notchers in athletics, business and agriculture spend lots of money for advice.

We don't know from experience but we are told that we will have considerable more difficulty getting the baby to sleep when she is eighteen years old than we did when she was eighteen months.

Public Forum

Editor, Thief River Falls Times:

I note with a great deal of amusement that the county agent "edits" the public forum this month. I have never been much sold on scientific farmers but after reading some rather costly experiments and watching the results of some very successful farmers who were very contemptuous about farm methods I have repented and am frankinly ready to admit of a county agent prevailing if he don't increase our taxes. In the words of our governor of Agriculture is founded on best thought and strained mission. The trouble with many cases have reached the breaking point. With our children and good roads cross we have driven a good many farmers down to the land. They places have been taken by foreigners who farm stuff and pay us the taxes and they holler their heads off for all the latter trifle. It don't cost them nothing so you can't blame them. If we keep on the way we have for the past few years we will be in the same condition as Ballard county, asking for an extra session of the legislature to lift the load.

Just one little pebble to throw at the editor. He is very progressive, optimistic and young. He wants all these good things but he seldom counts the cost. Practically speaking he is not dry back of the ears. Just why should we appropriate $2,400.00 for the county agent. He only gets $2,150. That is more than the superintendent of schools gets and I don't think he is more busy. Managing 50 or 100 flapper teachers is no sinecure.

But we want the county agent and if he must have $2,000 let's buy him and see if we can't get it. If the county does get there, the material value of the county that would automatically lower the salary of auditor and treasurer. As the county agent is a sort of adjunct to education you would lower the salary of the superintendent of schools. As our most excellent sheriff has caught most of the 18th amendment violators and will not have much to do so he can spend a part of his time farming, you could probably lop off five or six hundred there, and as the county attorney will have less cases to try, his salary could probably lower his salary. A boy in the car of our most excellent county engineer not to build any more wide millitary roads for a while, there may be forty there, that would probably help. Another item of expense that perhaps could be lopped off—who cares how much personal property tax Tom, Dick and Harry pays—it takes several pages in our local papers to tell it and I don't think any of us are financially very hard up and see all along down the line—let us cut till it hurts. Let us cut till the court house ring bolters bloody murder, but for the poor dirt farmers able let us keep the county agent.

Get Your Winter Supply of Iso-Vis Now

Is your car ready for cold weather? Now is the time to look after its oil needs.

The crankcase should be drained and flushed out with Polarine Flushing Oil. This cleansing lubricant is not expensive and there is no service charge. Flushing is important for it removes dirt and grit and particles of metal that collect in every crankcase.

Then have the motor filled up with a fresh supply of clean, new Iso-Vis of proper grade and your car will be "all set" for winter weather. You can save money by buying 5 gallons at once, having your motor filled and taking home the rest for future use.

Iso-Vis—the constant viscosity motor oil—was put on the market last winter. It became famous immediately for its extraordinary performance and has been gaining in popularity ever since.

Motorists who once try Iso-Vis are so enthusiastic they talk to their friends about it—and courteously write us letters of praise and appreciation. Here are a few extracts:

"I am getting more miles per dollar through the use of Iso-Vis"—Mr. George W. Koenig, LeMars, Iowa.

"It (Iso-Vis) was highly satisfactory in every sense and is positively the longest lived lubricant I have ever used"—Mr. J. Chris Schutz, Madison, South Dakota.

"With Iso-Vis oil in my car, the new oil shows 14 and after 500 miles it has a pressure of 15 and on draining the oil it looked too good to throw away so I put it back in the crankcase and ran it another 580 miles, and the pressure gauge varied between 15 and 16 without adding any fresh oil"—Mr. Otto Larson, Wilton, North Dakota.

The thousands of letters we receive are the best "ads" that could be written about Iso-Vis for they report actual records of it in use. Try it and see for yourself what it will do! 30c per quart.

"It has... all the 'punch' in the world... a smart push in the back every time the accelerator pedal is trod upon. Throughout its whole range, the response to throttle seems to be precisely the same. 'Soft spots' are simply not to be found.

"... it will walk away from the traffic signal faster than anything Hudson has ever built... It will step out of line and jump into the lead from any speed without the slightest hesitation.

"But further, all this is accomplished without a vestige of that tinkle-tinkle business under the hood that Englishmen know as 'pinking' and American engineers as the gas knock, or detonation. Apparently this present Hudson engine just isn't going to 'ping' when the throttle is quickly opened, or when the car is driven hard against a hill.

"Under precisely similar conditions most any other modern engine will detonate when running on ordinary fuel...

"The Hudson motor does what it does on any old fuel at all, it is said, and assuredly does it on the run of pump fuel that is sold at base prices every where."

People are going to keep on trying to find the easiest way to get rid of dust and dirt until somebody discovers a way for it.—Armstrong's linoleum is one of the best ways. Just scrub it off.

We've just made an important discovery. Those ladies who are gazing at the display windows of our local stores are not admiring the merchandise. They're looking at their own reflections in the glass. Just watch 'em and see if we're not right.

An end table takes care of books and magazines which would otherwise be strewn about the room. Our mahogany tables have hand rubbed finishes.

Today we have a letter from a New York concern wanting to sell us a book entitled, "How to Keep Your Money and Make It Earn More." We're acting on the first suggestion.

Axel says that our walnut dining room suites look positively appetising. Which is the way a dining room suite should look, isn't it? Are you considering a new dining room suite? We'll be glad to show you our line.

If you don't think this is an age of progress, just notice the line of automobiles parked in front of our high school.

Your clothes keep best in a cedar-lined chest.

My little boy is sick this morning," said Abie.
"Is he?"
"No, They."

A wife to her husband once said, "I regard Monday morning with dread. Those washings, you see, are fast killing me."

There are a lot of little vexing things that happen in the furniture business. Then a customer comes in and says, "I like that range I bought from you," and the vexations are forgotten right away.

The cigarette preferred by experienced smokers

In the remarkable growing popularity of the cigarette many brands have bid for favor, but Camel continues to lead by billions. Quality put it there; quality keeps it there.

If all cigarettes were as good as Camel you wouldn't hear anything about special treatments to make cigarettes good for the throat. Nothing takes the place of choice tobaccos.

Seed Market

TIMOTHY—Market is higher than it was a couple of weeks ago but not much life to it. A big crop was raised in all the producing states. Principal demand at present is for export.

SWEET CLOVER—Market a little higher than last week. Due to large carryover from last year and a big crop this year in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and parts of North Dakota, sweet clover has been selling at a much lower price than last year.

RED CLOVER—Had a good advance last week, then a decline this week of about 40c per bu. Today, market closed steady. Quality of seed in this territory is good this year. After 4 years with a short crop, 1927 is producing a large crop.

ALSIKE CLOVER—The present crop is the largest since 1922 according to the last government report. Yields are running around 500 to 600 lbs. per acre in many places.

ALFALFA—Production in the U. S. is smaller this year but prices have been lower than last year.

AGRICULTURAL OUTLOOK GOOD SAYS DOWELL

Head of Northwest School of Agriculture Speaks at Commercial Club

RED RIVER VALLEY TO ALWAYS RAISE WHEAT

Livestock Prices for First Half Century Show Steady Up and Down Fluctuations

Members of the Commercial club and others present at the regular weekly meeting of the club last Thursday enjoyed a brief sketch of the Northwest school of Agriculture at Crookston as given by Supt. A. C. Dowell, who talked on "Fundamental Agricultural Progress." The speaker stated that the soil of the Red River valley was peculiarly adapted to the growth of wheat, and that little corn and other small grains would always be grown extensively in the valley.

The future outlook of agriculture, Mr. Dowell claimed, was not brighter than it is at the present time. He recognized the present danger from rust, but stated that this was being gradually overcome, at present by crude methods of treating the seed, using grain, but that more effective methods would prevail in a few years, particularly as the bad effects of this crop destroyer [illegible]

Effective Price Charts Used

Mr. Dowell had an exhibition com- charts showing the trend of prices during the past fifty years for horses, beef cattle, sheep and hogs. The periodical rise and fall of prices for these classes of livestock was clearly set forth. This general rise and fall in prices for horses had been experienced only once during the last half century; beef cattle prices had matched the circuit three times; sheep prices had come around four periods; while the hog situation showed more rapid changes than any of the other three.

College Graduates Successful

Mr. Dowell traced the development of the Crookston institution from its start as an agricultural experiment farm in 1905 down to the present day, claiming that today 90 percent of its graduates were in farms and were better farmers for having attended the agricultural college.

In closing he spoke of the wonderful growth in alfalfa production which Pennington county had made, and stated that a continuation there of would mean much for this vicinity.

Lutheran Clergy Present Two Religious Pictures

Thankful for Centuries-old "Martin Luther" films depicting scenes in the religious history of the reformation, two score and more of the Lutheran clergy of this city and all the preachers in the rural districts of their charges would be unanimous in their assertion that the two eight-reel week "Faithful for Centuries—Martin Luther" pictures, which were shown Nov. 2, and "Martin Luther" will be presented at the following evening only, Thursday, Nov. 3.

The Ben Hur post of the American Legion at Middle River is now in readiness with the arrival of that place, will hold an Armistice day celebration on Friday, Nov. 11, following a joint meeting of the two ladies last week in Community Service office.

Only Real Estate Forfeited to State by Non Payment of Taxes Comes under Terms of Big Sale

If the county board, with the approval of the State Tax commission, determines that the value of such lands is less than the aggregate of the total amount of taxes, interest and penalties against it, then the land may be sold for such value as determined.

The Installment Plan

If there is no bidder for such lands for cash for such amount above set forth, then the lands may be so sold to the best bidder for one-tenth (1-10) of such amount in cash, and the balance in not more than nine (9) equal annual installments, with interest at 6 per cent, under the law, bidder is the one who will pay in the shortest possible time.

Any person interested in forfeited lands to be sold may come in and redeem the lands at any time prior to the sale in 1927, by paying in cash not less than one tenth (1-10) of the taxes, and the balance in not more than nine (9) equal annual payments. (Hint way of handling this probably would be to make a contract).

Refund of Discount Rates

In the 1927 forfeited tax sale only certain discounts are available. This is not of general clean up sale; the discounts apply only to the 1927 sale. Forfeited lands at this sale must first be offered for cash or terms as set forth. If there is no bidder for said lands for cash or on terms, as above set forth then, and in that case only, lands coming within the following classifications may be sold for cash only as follows:

Class I

All lands held for the state in 1916, or prior years may be sold for one-fifth (1-5) of the total taxes, as originally assessed. No interest, or penalties to be included, but the original amount of ditch taxes or special assessments must be included in full. It applies only to general taxes, and there is no discount on ditch taxes or special assessments. It includes all taxes up and including taxes for the year 1926, due in 1927.

Class II

All lands not in the first class, but bid in for the state for 1916, or prior years, may be sold for one third (1-3) of the total taxes as originally assessed, as more fully explained in connection with Class I.

Class III

All lands not in the first or second classes, but bid in for the state for 1922, or prior years, may be sold for three-fourths (3-4) of the total taxes as originally assessed, as explained in connection with Class I.

Class IV

Lands are entitled to be placed in the oldest class where they will fit in. Discount applies only to general taxes. No discount on the original amount of ditch or special assessments, except as hereinafter stated.

II

Not less than the original amount of the ditch or special assessments must be included along with the cash payments above set forth unless the county board, or city or village council upon hearing, and 30 days notice, shall fix a reduced amount of such ditch or special taxes to be included.

III

Purchasers at tiered forfeited tax sales get a Certificate of Purchaser from the county auditor, and must then give 60 days notice of expiration of redemption.

IV

Lands becoming delinquent for 1928 taxes, (in 1929) will be sold again in 1928 as provided by law, even though they may have been previously sold for taxes, or bid in for the state. However, the state, or other interest parties, may redeem their lands for prior taxes for year prior to 1926, and the state or others may redeem for 2 years after sale for tax liens.

V

All lands hereafter sold at the annual delinquent tax sale (in May) shall at the end of five years become the absolute property of the state, or purchaser, as the case may be, therefore, but subject to redemption at any time within five years, or to appropriation action—if brought within the five years.

VI

All lands become the property of the state, at the end of the five years, shall be held in trust for each and all of the various taxing districts interested, for all future taxes, agricultural and non agricultural lands. They will then be managed, and sold thereafter by and at the discretion of the county auditor, subject to confirmation by the county board, and other officials, as may be provided by the state.

When A King Had To Borrow A Pair Of Hose

As the American workman looks over our fresh stocks of overalls, shirts, sturdy shoes and other items to complete his "wardrobe" during National Work Clothes Week, he little realizes what a romantic part in history many of these garments played. Delving into the pages of the past we discover that in 17(readers were de an offense against public decency and the morals of the community.

Hose are a common article of attire today but in 1603 James the First was obliged to borrow a pair from the Earl of Mar to wear at his coronation. Equally unbelievable is the fact that in 1594 the King of France owned only five handkerchiefs, and most of these, history records, were full of holes.

Today thanks to our modern system of merchandise distribution, the American workman can actually purchase clothes for his everyday tasks that were beyond the reach of kings and nobles centuries ago.

Gully Man Is Killed at Railroad Crossing

Norvil T. Hansen, 21 years old, a laborer living at Gully, was killed at that place Monday, about 9 a. m., when the Ford car he was driving was struck by a passenger train at a crossing on the Soo line.

At the point where the road crosses railroad tracks the tracks run between two hills. Hansen seeing the approaching train, slowed down for a moment, and then realizing that he could not stop, speeded up his machine, and the car was struck directly in the center. His chest was chrushed and he died almost instantly.

RED RIVER VALLEY SEED POTATOES FOR FARM CROP SHOW

Instructions Issued for Gathering Samples Issued by University Farm

Special emphasis upon high quality Red River valley seed potatoes will be a feature of the annual Farm Crops show under the auspices of the Red River Valley Development Association and Red River Valley Crops and Soils association during Winter Shows week in February. Cash prizes for samples of tubers of standard varieties will be offered, also for exhibits of commercial seed stock.

Growers who plan to exhibit potatoes should select samples at digging time, according to the committee in charge of the show, the following suggestions for selection and care of potatoes for exhibit samples are given by Professor R. C. Rose of the Agricultural Extension division, University Farm, St. Paul:

Dig potatoes carefully to avoid injuring them. The potatoes are not quite mature the skin will be very tender and bruise easily. Immature potatoes should be left lying on the ground until they are thoroughly dry before they are sacked. Do not let the sun toughen the skin.

When the potatoes have dried, select medium large potatoes of good type. Wrap each potato separately in newspaper before placing in the baskets. Select two or three times as many as are needed for exhibit, so that you can go over them later and pick out the best.

Before the potatoes are sent to the fair unwrap and lay them on a table or bench and with an old absorbent towel or soft fabric rub gently, brush off all dirt and scurf. Wrap the tubers separately in newspaper and pack them in a box or a basket for transportation to the fair. If the exhibit is to be stored for a later show, keep it in a cool dark place.

Juniors Have Much at Stake at St. Paul Livestock Show

There are busy anxious times for nearly 500 4-H club juniors who will exhibit baby beeves, fat barrows, fat lambs, and pens of poultry at the Junior Livestock show to be held at South St. Paul November 7 to 10 inclusive. Their animals are blue ribbon winners in county contests and they are now preparing them for the annual state contest.

Every junior is assured of a prize sufficient to pay the transportation charges of stiff, pig or lamb. Their farm traveling expenses are paid by the management of the show out of funds subscribed by Twin City business men. Winners at the Junior Livestock show are always awarded trips to the International Livestock Show in Chicago. Then there is always the chance that they will profit largely by the public auction the final day. No wonder, therefore, that 500 juniors on the farms are excited over the prospect.

Exceptional high prices are paid each year for the junior's steers. The champion lamb in 1925 sold for $4.75 a pound. Prize winning baby beef pigs have sold as high as $1.20 to $1.40 a pound, and the champion pen of poultry for $1.30 a pound.

WHEAT, BARLEY AND FLAX PRODUCTION IN STATE SHOWS GAIN

Fall Plowing Is Well Advanced; Livestock Herds Also in Good Condition

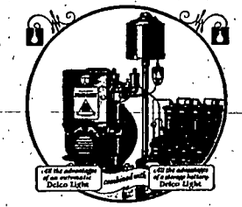
The winter crops of Minnesota—wheat, barley, flax and tame hay, will be about equal to the average crop of the past five years, but oats, corn, spring rye, potatoes and sugar beets will fall considerably below the average, according to the October report issued Thursday by the Minneapolis Crop Reporter.

Threshing is well completed, except in the extreme northern and late counties in northern districts of the state.

Fall plowing is practically complete in some and fully one-half complete in most other counties. The seeding of winter wheat and rye seeded this fall are in generally good condition. Livestock are in good condition and there will be an abundance of rough feed, which will mean a saving to farmers over last year.

RAILROAD AND WAREHOUSE COMMISSION LOSES BOWEN

Resignation of Ian Bowen, Manistique, member of the railroad and warehouse commission, effective January 1, 1928, and the appointment of Christian J. Laurisch of Waukato, to succeed him, was announced last week by Gov Christianson.



Mr. Bowen, who was appointed by former Governor A. O. Preus, May 5, 1921, to fill the place left vacant by the death of Frank Day, was elected to serve for a six year term beginning Jan 1, 1923. He will resume the practice of law in Minneapolis.

Announcement was made today by H. E. Nelson, manager of the local J. C. Penney store of the acquisition by the J. C. Penney company of 20 chain stores operated by the Western Golden Rule Mercantile company. The deal involving the consolidation of the Golden Rule Mercantile company with the J. C. MAJOR DUGAN AND CREW NOW AT LAKE OF WOODS

Major Dugan, who made a survey of the Red Lake river from the Red Lake to this city's low years ago, and who is well remembered by quite a few residents here, is now at Warroad engaged in a survey of the waters of the Lake of the Woods.

There are three separate units also working there. One section has to do with past damages, another with easements, and the third with permanent works to preserve the shore line.

Several other cities throughout the state are also making increases for the coming year. Warren being among those in this part of Minnesota

Rust Resistant Wheat Not Ready for Distribution

Marquille wheat, the new highly rust-resistant variety developed by the Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station, will not be distributed before 1929.

This announcement is made by the Minnesota station to correct an impression that has gone abroad in some quarters, that the seed is already being distributed. That such an impression is abroad is shown by the fact that at the central station and at the branch stations at Morris and Crookston numerous requests for seed have been received.

There is available for seed next year only 25 buskels of this new variety, and the experiment station staff believes that the best results will be obtained if this seed is reserved and again grown on the experiment station farms in 1928, in order to make sure of the preservation of the seed stock and of the production of a sufficient quantity of genuine Marquille wheat that is rust-resistant and good milling quality. The aim is to get it into the hands of careful farmers in 1929 in sufficient quantity for seed purposes so that the seed may be certified and given wide distribution.

ENLARGING ITASCA PARK IS PROGRESSING SATISFACTORILY

Preparations for the purchase of 2,000 acres of land as an addition to Itasca state park have been completed by the state department of conservation, and approval given for the purchase by the state finance committee.

Two tracts are being purchased in accordance with authority of the 1919 legislature, providing for the extension of the west border of the park for two miles, over a boundary line seven miles in length.

With the acquisition of these and several others obtained shortly after the legislative session, only a small amount of land remains to be acquired to complete the extension. Purchase is being made at the rate of $5 per acre.

HICKORY TOWNSHIP MAN FINED BY JUDGE TARRANT

Hasbo Halverson of Hickory township was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $16, by Judge N. W. Tarrant last week when he pleaded guilty to a charge of having racoon skins in his possession, contrary to the state laws.

Game Warden William Munch found Mr. Halverson at his home and made the arrest, bringing in the defendant to this city, the distance making the costs high.

DEPOSITS OF COAL FOUND IN VICINITY OF WARROAD

Mention was made in a recent issue of The Times of the favorable payments from the Northwest Angle, the deposit being declared near the Canadian line has also been made.

WEEDS NEED CUTTING ON RURAL MAIL ROUTES

Immediate action on the part of road superintendents is necessary if the weeds along the rural routes are to be cut before snow falls and lodges in them, for when that happens it generally follows that drifts pile up and hinder the delivery of mail.

Postmaster Daniel Shaw states that as a whole the sides of the roads are kept clear and the carriers travel are well kept, but there are a few places that need attention if the patrons of the route wish to insure delivery of their mail this coming winter.

to Attend Our

Saturday, October 29

Afternoon and Evening

WE don't care about holding anything like a formal reception, but we would like to have all you folks in Thief River Falls and vicinity come in and see what a modern and beautiful place we have just completed.

A good funeral home has become a mighty important matter for the modern funeral director, for more and more people are realizing that the private residence isn't the ideal place in which to hold the services—and that a beautiful, modern funeral home IS the ideal place for mortuary services.

It is a good deal a matter of taste; we serve entirely in accord with the wishes of those who call upon us. We feel, however, that an inspection of our new funeral home will be an interesting and instructive experience, and we cordially invite you to come and bring your friends.

Please accept this as a personal and sincere invitation to drop in next Saturday afternoon or evening.

SOUVENIRS

We will have a pleasing little souvenir for all adults who go through our funeral home during this little informal opening.

Make a mental note of the day and the hour and the place—and come in!

GRATITUDE PROPER

"Thank you for that A, Mr. Ophelia."

Meeting a student express his gratitude for receiving a good mark from the teacher set us to thinking. Is such an attitude right? Should a pupil feel slave-like thankfulness in the getting of a high grade? And upon pussling it out, we decided that no teacher likes this show of feeling.

Abuse comes as easily from the less fortunate as praise from the lucky ones.

The days of favoritism and teacher's pet ended in The Little Red School House. Nowadays an A is given, not because John has worked in bringing an apple to Mr. Ophelia every day, but because he has shown unusual ambition and thoroughness in his work. Not that all students are graded in a meticulous method. It would be absurd for an instructor to say that he has no favorites for certain individuals will, by sheer force of personality and—brains—make themselves outstanding in the school work and outside activities. Grant-ed! However, the final test is by the school's test. halfback doesn't in-fluence him—an A—if in fairness his application to the subject must be as intense as his interest in football to give him a star rank.

Gratitude is all right, and our surprise in a teacher's action, but the sensible way to show it is to "earn the grade" by keeping your nose to the high-water level during the following weeks. Prove to the teacher that you're not an example of misplaced confidence.

On Rain

One of the most disgusting things a football team encounters is rain. Rain may be a blessing for the farmers, but like fire and water, something ought to be done about this.

The direct result of rain is a slippery, treacherous field. On a field of this kind, when a player is tackled, he is not brought to a sudden stop by gentlemen's rule and settles down for a restful field, content on by more interests. And if this unhappy player has been endowed by nature with a physique more or a Hapburg lip, he may plow a clear furrow the length of the field which is very annoying in case a fall-in player feels him.

Or if the unfortunate has a taller than small head, he may be driven into the ground like a spike. Then there is the certain football game played in the East, it was discovered that one team had only eight men at the end of the half. After a short search of the field, a seven digger was called in and the three men were retrieved from the mud.

Thus the average observer may discover that a wet field is a detriment to the good playing of the game. Coaches may also see that harsh measures must be taken to determine this evil. Some steps are enumerated as follows:

1. Harvest rain
2. Petition Jupiter Pluvius
3. Outfit the backfield with
4. Equip players with sticks, overshoes, life preservers, picks, and derricks.
5. Don't play in the rain.

HIGH PERCENTAGES WIN PLACE ON FIRST 6 WEEKS HONOR ROLL

Seniors and Juniors Lead in Competitive Race for Class Honors

Remarkable achievement has been shown the last six weeks by the large number on honor roll. Eight Freshmen won distinction—Linnea Iseli-land, Ilezie Carlson, Eleanor Carlson, Nyal Jokkben, Eugene Hess, Alice Larsen, Virginia Quale, Winifred Berrender. Eight Sophomores likewise qualified—Geneva Allen, Gladys Howard, Eunice Carlson, Wilson Eskelson, Violet Griffen, Thea Gunderson. Junior Prichard, James Warner, Ten Juniors names appear—George Anderson, Hjalmar Bowers, Viola Brickenstad, Elaine Evenson, Estella Hansen, Ingram Hexum, Ruubin Johnson, Herman Lofthsen, Florence Ostrom, Hasten Sponheim. The Seniors lead the list with nineteen—Marguerite Bauer, Chester Dahlen, Harriet Fuller, Marjorie Gunderson, Attila Koglin, Frances Kostial, Lenore Lieberman, Ethel Melton, Chester Myrom, Lillian Olson, Edith Nienseth, Dorothy Sullivan, Ingvald Sundahl, Berdina Van Pelt, Gladys Weeks, Harold Will, Natalie Woodson. Teacher Training Department—Oliver Agerter, Ruth Bjorkquist, Pamelia Swanson, Alice Brady, Stella Salvesen, Lillian Stephens. There are fifty-one students or twelve per cent of the total on the honor roll.

A number of students deserve special mention for their very high standings are: Marguerite Bauer with 4 A's and 1 B, Lenore Lieberman, and Gladys Weeks; each having 5 A's, Eunice Carlson with 4 A's and 2 B's, Ilezie Haddland with 4 A's, and 1 B.

A marked improvement over last year's grades has been found in the fact that a large number of students, of whom Earl Benson, Gordon Nelson, Maggie Lalfree, and Arthur Lofthsen deserve mention, have taken down the entire field, content on by more interests. And if this unhappy player has been endowed by nature with a physique more or a Hapburg lip, he may plow a clear furrow the length of the field which is very annoying in case a fall-in player feels him.

It is seldom if ever this that the Seniors are afraid to tackle and bid out of self-enslavement. They will be able to shift for themselves after graduation next spring if they enter the business and industrial world or if they go on to college.

SENIORS EARN AP-PROXIMATELY $5020 DURING VACATION

Thirty Senior boys earned $2,585 this summer, vacation or $107 each while thirty-six girls earned $1,444.25 or $40.87 a piece, which brought them a total of $3,919.25 or $72.74 each. This leaves just fourteen members of the Senior class without paying jobs during the summer. It was discovered that these were all girls whose help at home was undoubtedly valued as much as the others.

Several boys earned their money during the harvesting months, eight of them by threshing. Two of these, Earl Benson and Gladon Larsen, made $150. Earl also baling clerked, but Bud made his "dough" by sticking to the farm—threshing, haying and shocking. Several general farm hands made close to this figure—Lawrence Almlie, Orville Anderson, Ingvald Sundahl, Harold Melton, Chester Myrom, Lillian Olson, Edith Nienseth, Dorothy Sullivan, Ingvald Sundahl, Berdina Van Pelt, Gladys Weeks, Harold Will, Natalie Woodson. Teacher Training Department—Oliver Agerter, Ruth Bjorkquist, Pamelia Swanson, Alice Brady, Stella Salvesen, Lillian Stephens. There are fifty-one students or twelve per cent of the total on the honor roll.

A number of students deserve special mention for their very high standings are: Marguerite Bauer with 4 A's and 1 B, Lenore Lieberman, and Gladys Weeks; each having 5 A's, Eunice Carlson with 4 A's and 2 B's, Ilezie Haddland with 4 A's, and 1 B.

A marked improvement over last year's grades has been found in the fact that a large number of students, of whom Earl Benson, Gordon Nelson, Maggie Lalfree, and Arthur Lofthsen deserve mention, have taken down the entire field, content on by more interests. And if this unhappy player has been endowed by nature with a physique more or a Hapburg lip, he may plow a clear furrow the length of the field which is very annoying in case a fall-in player feels him.

Or if the unfortunate has a taller than small head, he may be driven into the ground like a spike. There is the certain football game played in the East, it was discovered that one team had only eight men at the end of the half. After a short search of the field, a seven digger was called in and the three men were retrieved from the mud.

Thus the average observer may discover that a wet field is a detriment to the good playing of the game. Coaches may also see that harsh measures must be taken to determine this evil. Some steps are enumerated as follows:

1. Harvest rain
2. Petition Jupiter Pluvius
3. Outfit the backfield with
4. Equip players with sticks, overshoes, life preservers, picks, and derricks.
5. Don't play in the rain.

Thereby excitement of the hunters-ed of three candy bars and swamp water flavored with chips and frogs. The brave hunters discovered that the sultry day, but their thirst for killing was not to be appeased. Big Attendance Promised For Crookston-T. R. F. Game

The Crookston-Thief River football game, which is scheduled for Friday, November 4 at Crookston, will have a large attendance of the high school members and town-people if indications mean anything. At the afternoon assembly Tuesday Principal H. C. Hand proposed the plan of cutting classes six periods, thereby closing school at 2:31 p. m. This, then, will allow a great many more students for those who wish to attend to drive to Crookston. The faculty feels that attendance will be increased by this, as the ice house and in doing general farm work. Harris Swanson reaped his harvest at the barber shop, where he made $120 shining shoes and doing porter work. Ray Cox didn't have to go any distance looking for work, but earned $118.41 in the Thief Mercantile company. William Foran made $110. Last but not least Fred Wengeler made $110 as night porter at the Brunsael Hotel.

Every other boy earned some money, though less than $100, in divers lines of work; mowing, mowing lawns, peddling, bailing, raking, hay, cutting, trimming trees, hauling, waiting on tables at cafes, splitting wood, washing bottles, and cleaning.

Six girls served as waitresses. Besides Katherine Melby made spending money by cancelling hair seven girls were clerks; two were stenographers; one served as private secretary another gave music lessons, and one played minor baseball. Natalie Weskan won $50 as her prize.

We Extend Sympathy to—

Tragedy stalked the laboratory class last week, and the pupils have extended their hands to mourn the passing of a dear friend. The last of the gold-fish went to join his fellow brothers and sisters Thursday night when he was digested as dessert by a giant water-bug. It goes without saying that said water-bug is about as popular in the lab. at present as powerful Katrinka at a dance.

The newest acquisition to the ever increasing collection of valued animal life is a little red squirrel which arrived Monday morning. He seems to be enjoying himself eating acorns which are at least ten years old. Anyone having nothing to do, may pity acorns and bring in to "Whipper" (the newly-Christened squirrel-name.)

Character Stressed In Superintendent's Speech

A. A. Dowell, Superintendent of the Crookston Agricultural college, addressed the high school body at the Wednesday assembly.

Superintendent Dowell began his speech by mentioning the co-operation and good feeling that has long existed between Lincoln high and the Agricultural college. This good feeling has been exhibited in the athletic contests, and will doubtless continue.

Out of this great body of four thousand students, only a few years from now some will be at the top of the ladder of life and others at the bottom, continued Mr. Dowell. The reason why some attain success while others fail is difficult to answer.

The first requirement for success, the speaker believes, is character. Such a quality cannot be developed in a day, but needs constant care and attention. To have a strong character the boy must be determination and perseverance back of it.

A proper athletic team does not try to win every game played, for then it would be competing with inferiors, however, to win at least two-thirds of the games played. Besides making one's self physically fit, sports develop the character in one.

Superintendent Dowell closing remarked that he was thru life you're not going to win every battle; therefore, prepare yourself as best you can. Be fair—and congratulate the winner.

High School Athletic Rules Changed at M. E. A. Meeting

A meeting of representatives from the various high schools interested in athletics in this district, met at Thief River Falls last week. One of the matters to come up was that of the rule making it necessary for high school basket-ball teams to play five games before they are entitled to enter the tournament. This was changed so that in the tournament which is held each high school basketball teams can participate.

A committee was appointed to be in charge of the district tournament and also of the board of appeals on all questions not covered by the constitution of the association. Members of this committee are as follows: A. Ryph of Ilessan, G. Halmquist of Warren and H. Ness of the Thief River Falls.

High schools of this district eligible to the tournament are Warren, Warroad, Baudette, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Argyle, Stephen, Hallock, and Middle River.

The new rule as to the number of games played with conference teams makes it possible for the teams in this district to play the same number of games in the tournament in seasons like last winter when travel between points was possible only by rail. This became prohibitive because of the expense and because of the time factor, and Roseau, Warroad, and Baudette were ruled out.

The tennis court, which was constructed to provide a means of recreation and pastime, is being used extensively by high school students as well as by many townspeople. The court has already proved itself to be a considerable value, tennis being a very good form of physical exercise and an enjoyable sport. Evidence of the interest of the high school students in this sport has been shown by the large number of rackets being carried about the high school.

The Blackbirds were the first to get the ball in their possession, but were unable to gain consistently. Their best gain was made by Ilelen Erickson, who made a run of 15 yards around left end. Ilelen Erickson, Ruth Stenberg, and Ruth Smithers starred for the Blackbirds.

PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION TO ASSIST SCHOOLS

Health With Capital "H" To Take Its Place Beside the Three "R's"

Health with a capital "H" will take its place beside the three "R's" in school work if the Christmas Seal educational campaign gains its point, according to Dr. E. A. Meyerding, executive secretary, Minnesota Public Health association.

Ten thousand teachers' packets, containing eye charts for testing vision, first aid suggestions, health project plans and lists of reference works, posters, and pamphlets are being mailed this week to schools throughout the state.

Other aids in health work which tuberculosis seal sales funds have brought to Minnesota schools include 9,000 reference books; 4,000 first aid kits, 225 scales, and thousands of posters, charts, health habit records, height and weight charts, games, pamphlets, and plays.

"If we want healthy men and women in the future, we must start with the child of today," Dr. Meyerding said in explaining this program. "Annual medical examinations, correction of defects, and drilling in proper health habits should receive as much attention as 'readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic,' if not more so, and every teacher in the nation is her health work."

Three Stacks of Upland Hay on Old Jones' Farm Burned

Three sticks of upland hay, each containing about 20 tons, were destroyed by fire last Friday night, these being located on the old Jones' farm recently vacated by Anton Jensen, dairyman, who moved from the farm on trunk highway No. 32 north of the city to another farm east of town.

Just how the fire started is unknown but it was first observed at the southern corner of the farm in the stubble field, and soon worked its way northward to the place where the stacks were located. The farm of F. O. Greve adjoins the former Jensen place and for a while it looked as the fire would spread to that place.

MARSHALL COUNTY TEACHERS

No. 8; and Treasurer, Miss Hilda Nees of the Viking school. Miss Nees being a resident of Thief River Falls.

WARROAD HARBOR AND HARBOR GET $19,263 APPROPRIATION

According to information received from Washington the War department last week allotted $10,000 from the annual rivers and harbors appropriation as much as readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic,' for maintenance and improvement of 11. It is our hope that every teacher in the harbor at Warroad and the Warroad river in Minnesota.

MINNESOTA MARSHES BEING TRANSFORMED INTO PAYING FARMS

Minnesota within the next few years will be placed at the head of the United States in the production of raw furs, and will supply the largest percentage of pelts demanded by the manufacturers, in the opinion of Charles W. Heske, former assistant state game and fish commissioner.

While assistant commissioner he became so ardent to study the new industry closely and to become informed of its possibilities. The conversion of thousands of acres of muskrat marshes and land heretofore considered worthless in Minnesota is proving a surprising rapidity and lowlands in many farms have suddenly proved an asset instead of a burden to the farmer.

The muskrat was used as a source of income for the boy trappers during the winter months until recently. But it was found that the production of the pelts on a large scale could be made the source of huge profits—somewhat of the rapid production of the animal. Instead of selling pelts at from 5 to 25 cents each, which was the case a few years ago, a prime skin now brings from 75 cents to $1.25.

GOPHER PICKLE OUTPUT FALLS OFF NEARLY HALF

Pickle production in Minnesota this year amounted to 1,327,000 bushels, the department of agriculture announced recently. Last year's pickle production was 101,000 bushels. The 1925 acreage was 1,370 compared to 2,040 in 1926.

Six Young Racoons Secured by Mr. Forder Near Neptune

The six raccons—one old and two half-grown—which have been living in Lovers' Lane are providing quite an attraction, especially to the younger children, several of whom go to the house about rundown every evening to see the animals as they come out to look for food.

The animals were secured by Mr. Forder from a farmer in Star township, living on the north side of the Red Lake river near Terrebonne, who had ten of them, maintaining a raccon farm. The state farm and game Fish commission learning of the farm, which was being run without a license, ordered it closed immediately.

On being informed by Mr. Forder, who went out there in an official capacity, that he would have to give up the farm or take out a license the farmer readily paid the dollar fee and decided to continue the farm. However, Mr. Forder became attached to the animals, of which there were ten at the time of the visit, two of which died and purchased six of the animals, bringing them to town, and placing them in a screened pen in the rear of the house, where they were safe from dogs.

The animals are fond of anything sweet, and they are delighted when Mr. Forder gives them at sun-down several cinnamon rolls and cookies. They are also fond of milk and have been treated to some of Mrs. Forder's delicious home made bread, of which was the case a few years ago, a prime skin now brings from 75 cents to $1.25.

Pennington Co. Farmer Loses Twelve Sheep Killed by Bear

It is not very often that bears bother Pennington county farmers, but a farmer living in the Scandinavian township, a short distance north of the Red Lake river in the Terrebonne district, has recently suffered from the depredations of one or more of these big game animals.

First one sheep was missing, and soon another, while shortly after one night twelve were killed and left in the pasture. The animals had attacked the dead sheep, but thinking it might be asleep, he carried the carcass to the yard, intending to skin them the following day.

Upon returning to his surprise seven of them were missing, and a hunt in the woods nearby revealed the fact that they were carefully placed in a pile as the carried them by some person. The next night the remaining five were likewise placed in a pile as the carried them, and close examination of the ground in the vicinity of the deer, showed the bear tracks, the animal evidently not to come up to the house when it was night time and carried the sheep to animals away in his arms.

The farmer is now placing traps for bears, but a license to shoot them will be procured this fall, as the other big game licenses are not available as it is a closed season. Eugene Tanner, an old time trapper, living near Erie, has secured a license from County Auditor Anderson and is waiting for Mr. Bruin to put in an appearance at the Tanner farm, and if this city has also taken out a bear hunting license, the second so far issued this fall.

Farm Bureau Holds Important Meetings With Co. Groups

Under the leadership of J. S. Jones of St. Paul, executive secretary and organization director of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, an important series of inter-county conferences of state and county officers of the Minnesota Farm bureau are being held throughout the state this fall.

Recently such meetings were held at Preston, Owatonna, Mankato, Worthington, Marshall and Clitton. Officers of twenty-two county farm bureau organizations took part in these all day conferences.

Important plans for the year 1928—with closer cooperation between county and state organizations being entered into—were discussed in detail at these conferences.

IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE PRESIDENT IS DEAD

The cause of Hathaway and our constructive conservation has lost a real friend and supporter in the passing of George H. Selover, prominent Minneapolis attorney and President of the Minnesota division of the Izaak Walton league, according to Dr. J. T. Rosaire, president of the local chapter.

A Minnesota resident for the past 30 years, he had long been actively interested in the promulgation of game and fish laws, and in the general protection of natural beauty spots of the state.

President Calvin Coolidge, in 1926, appointed Mr. Selover one of nine members of the committee to take charge of the annual outdoor recreation conference, he also served as Chairman of Executive Committee, of the National Izaak Walton League during that year.

Golf Suits and Plus Fours Feature Fall Wear for Boys

Again the style dial has swung round on knickerbockers, which, as a regular last spring, are now as definitely passe a, Lord Dauntleroy suits and Buster Brown collars.

The collegiate note is being struck with the full suits and Plus Fours—not to be confused with the nearly extinct knickers. For boys of extreme fashion the Golf suit is prescribed and for the other boys, those of fourteen to eighteen, Plus Fours are the correct mode in trousers.

Of course, boys tall for their age may adopt the styles of an older classification.

Partisans of light colors will not be sorry to learn that by wearing tans and greys they will be following the fashion.

The Autumn materials will be of suede—principally the fancy varieties—stripes, and homespuns. Lady Fashion is inclined to frown upon serges, although the high compression motor, which gives increased gasoline mileage—a direct benefit to the 20 million people of the Middle West.

Long ago this Company anticipated the present rapid development of aviation, and when the need arose for a high anti-knock fuel, it was ready with proved products—used and found good.

The mechanical progress which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has aided and anticipated is only important as it touches human life, for that is the ultimate universal goal of which this Company is always conscious.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) believes that the success of an industrial institution is determined by its contribution to human welfare. It owes its own successful growth to an active creed of service.

In three distinct ways this Company has proved itself an asset to the public welfare. It has provided the steam merchant ships of unstained high quality for the people of the Middle West—when and where needed in any numbers. It has brought to the public the fullest possible advantage the capital of the more than 50,000 stockholders. It has utilized the time and ability of 28,000 employees for the good of all concerned.

Scientific elimination of waste, able management, and the efficiency made possible by quantity production, enable the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to reward satisfactorily stockholders and employees—thousands of whom are also stockholders for their investments of money and labor.

Within the organization this Company has contributed very directly to human welfare, instituting the Profit Sharing Plan, Employees' Pension Plan, Relations Plan and Stock Purchasing Plans for the benefit of its employees.

Thus in ways direct and indirect the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has presented the public welfare and the nation's progress.

While it takes a particular pride in the progress of the past, this Company is not satisfied. It is always stretching forward—reaching on to new achievements. Lately it strives for improvement—is seeking to bring life "nearer to the best's desire" for the vast army of workers, seeking to serve the 30 million people of the Middle West with wider vision and greater skill.

Hayes Was the First President to Have a Telephone

When Rutherford B. Hayes was President, about 45 years ago, a telephone was first placed in the White House. At that time there were only about 30,000 telephones in the world.

Today the President at his desk in Washington can reach any one of the 17,500,000 telephones in the United States.

The telephone is so reliable and the charges so reasonable that its use is almost universal.

Myrtle Helgeland's Death Shocks Entire Community

The community was shocked Sunday night to learn of the sudden death of Myrtle Helgeland, twenty-two year old daughter of P. J. Helgeland and one of the popular members of the city's younger set.

Myrtle was ill just one week with rheumatic fever which settled in her right arm, necessitating an operation. She was taken to the Hospital Sunday afternoon and her arm operated upon, following which a blood clot, forming near the brain caused death to overtake her shortly after eight o'clock that evening. Her father, assistant manager of the Hecla plant at St. Boniface, Manitoba, was sent for Sunday morning, arriving by train, but not in time to see his daughter alive.

Graduating from the local high school in 1923, Myrtle taught school three years in the Newfolden district, her likable personality winning her many friends. Her family passed away in November, 1925, and her father of necessity having to remain at St. Boniface, Myrtle gave up her teaching this year, and was remaining at home, taking care of, and keeping house for her three younger brothers, Leonard, Edwin and Clarence, and her small sister, Vernice.

She was especially active in church work of the Girls Aid society club, and had just recently been elected president of the Dorcas society, one of the largest organizations of the Trinity Lutheran church.

Funeral services were held at the Trinity Lutheran church yesterday afternoon, the building filled to capacity with friends who wished to pay their last respects to the departed. Rev. S. L. Tallakson officiated, and musical selections were rendered by the men's choir, and E. J. Lund, the latter choosing as his selection "Face to Face." In Myrtle's most intimate friends acted as honorary pallbearers, including Lois Cook, Jeanette Offedahl, Marguerite Burns, Sybil Mellem, Elizabeth Keating, and Dorothy Botteleon. The pall-bearers were Milton Larson, Chester Lee, Charles Herron, Leland Knight, Lloyd Lonson and Harry Sullivan. Interment was made in the family lot at Greenwood cemetery.

Out of town people who were present at the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson of Bay St. Louis, Miss. and Mrs. C. E. Ellingson and Mrs. O. Skallet and son, Nels, of the Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Torgerson of Hillsboro, N. Dak., Mr. and Mrs. Peter Erickson of Climax and Mr. and Mrs. James Harrold, Engh of Thompson.

Representatives from the Crookston and St. Boniface Hecla plants were present at the services, including John B. Kiesel, manager of the Crookston plant, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kiesel, Mr. Chas. Kiesel, Rose Greenhalgh, Miss Olive Hoyal and Sweet Lee, all of Crookston, and George Kiesel, manager of the plant at St. Boniface.

Michael Cosgrove

Michael Cosgrove, father of James Cosgrove of this city, died Sunday noon at the home of his son, death resulting from heart failure. He had just returned from church and had seated himself near the stove to take a nap when he passed peacefully away.

Michael Cosgrove was born in Ireland 77 years ago last April, coming to this country when a lad of 18, settling in Iowa, where he was married. He then moved to Minnesota in the employ of the Northern Pacific road for a number of years, later living in Iowa, where the family lived till the death of Mrs. Cosgrove at Ottumwa, about 15 years ago.

Three sons and one daughter are left to mourn his death, namely, John at Ottumwa; Thomas at Hutchinson, Ind.; James of Thief River, and Mrs. A. J. Swarte of Ottumwa, with whom he has made his home most of the time since his wife's death. It is about a year since he came to live with his son James, of this city, and he was contemplating a return to Iowa for the winter.

The remains were sent to Ottumwa, Monday night for burial there, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. James Cosgrove. Funeral services were held there today.

Adolph Amundson

Shortly after his return Monday from Warren Adolph Amundson, general merchant at New Solden, fell dead forenoon in the stairs at his store, sudden death having been due to heart trouble.

Mr. Amundson was born Sept. 22, 1882, and has lived nearly all his life in that locality. He was a single man and leaves a mother to mourn his loss his father having died several years ago. The funeral service was held today from the Bethania church, west of Solden, and interment was made in the cemetery at the church.

THEY WHO WALK IN WANT

The Salvation Army starts its annual drive for funds this week and in an announcement printed elsewhere in this issue, an appeal is made for assistance in the work of caring for those who "walk in want." This organization is handling a difficult problem in a creditable manner and deserves the support of the community. Charity begins at home and no organization is better qualified to relieve distress locally than this organization which maintains a district headquarters here.

McCANN TAKES NEW POST

J. J. McCann, who has served Pennington County in the capacity of county agent for nearly nine years, has accepted a position in Norman county and will take up his duties there next month. This action is not unexpected. During the last few years Mr. McCann has had several opportunities to better himself but has remained here in the hope that the situation locally would improve. Only those who know McCann personally can appreciate the fine spirit with which he has worked here under unfavorable conditions. The average salary paid to county agents in the state is $2,000 a year and he rates among the best of them. During the past few years the total income for his work in this county has been nearly that amount and expenses had to be paid out of it. During the past year the total income has been $2,100. After the expenses were paid the balance was his salary.

This county is now going through what Norman county went through a few years ago. Norman county had a county agent up to four years ago. Then the work was dropped for lack of financial support. After being without an agent for four years they are coming back stronger than ever.

In these arguments as to whether or not it pays to have a county agent both sides are apt to be a little too enthusiastic. Those who favor the idea are apt to give too much credit to the work. Those who are opposed to the idea probably do not give enough credit to the work. Several things are certain and one of them is that we can get along without a county agent. The country isn't going to do to the bow-bows if we don't have an agent. Every fair minded person will agree, however, that a county agent does some good. The question to be decided now by the farmers of this county is whether or not a county agent does enough good to warrant an expenditure of less than a half-a cent an acre in taxes.

We believe this expense would be justified. Much progress has already been made in this county toward the kind of farming that will build a real community. This year, with crops practically a total failure, the community will hold its own, and all because of alfalfa, cows, pigs, sheep, poultry and other items of a diversified farming program. The county agent doesn't deserve credit for all of this but he does deserve credit for some of it. And there is plenty of work for a good man yet to do. We need more boys and girls club work and this work requires a leader. We need more good farmers to build up vacant farms, and a county agent can do much to bring in settlers and help new settlers get started right when they do come. There are any number of things that should be done and that a county agent can do for us.

McCann's departure does not materially alter the situation here. The question of whether or not we should have an agent has never been personal. McCann has been well liked and well thought of even by those who have not been in favor of the work itself. The whole question now, as before, is one of finances, and the owner of a quarter section farm will get big returns on his eighty cents investment if it is decided that this work shall be continued.

SPEAKING OF CHARITY

Speaking of charity, we had an interesting experience a few months ago with an itinerant solicitor who called at regular intervals selling a small pamphlet, the proceeds of which-raise were supposed to be maintaining an orphanage. The pamphlet sold for ten cents and we had contributed our dime at various times. On one occasion we were in a contrary mood when the woman called, and told her we didn't care for a magazine. She was also in a contrary mood evidently, and didn't hesitate to volunteer her opinion of men who wouldn't give a dime to help an orphan. Some of the things she said were very unkind and irritated us considerably for some time after she was gone. When she called again the next month we could not refrain from continuing the conversation, but in a little more tactful manner. We invited her to have a chair and tell us of some of the things the orphanage was doing, and she gave us much interesting information on the fine work that was being done. We then asked her about her particular work and the response she received from the public. Very few refused to buy the pamphlet, she said, and she also admitted that very few read the pamphlet after they bought it. She was very pleasant up to this point but when we inquired about her salary and expenses in travelling from town to town she became somewhat indignant. When we told her we had been informed that she brought these pamphlets at three cents a piece and that seven cents of each sale went to her, and asked her if this was correct, she informed us that we could get full particulars by writing to the orphanage, and she swept out of the office without even saying good-bye. We felt very badly about it. We were left with the impression that the poor orphans received only what was left out of the three cents after the printer's bill was paid, and we certainly hope they paid the printer. The woman hasn't called on us since so we still have this impression. We would also still stop in to see us the next time she is in town so we can get the figures straight.

The people of Chicago did themselves a fine service when they elected their present Mayor. At any rate the attention of the world has been diverted from the gunmen and bootleggers of the city. Bill Thompson does some terrific shadow boxing with King George of England and in fact seems to be fighting everybody but Chicago's bad men. He is an invaluable asset to the windy city.

Ed Howe, famous small town journalist, attributes his happiness to the following formula: "I try to have no plans the failure of which would greatly annoy me. Half the unhappiness in this world is due to the failure of plans which were never reasonable, and often impossible."

Andy Mellon proved that the reduction of taxes on profits increased the revenue of the government from these taxes. The public would think well of Andy if he would apply this principal to freight rates.

Four different men claim they are the rightful heirs to the Mayor's chair in the city of Indianapolis. Why not recognize all of them. Probably only one out of the four will be out of jail at a time anyhow.

A certain Mr. Job established a long distance record for patience a few years ago. But Job wasn't a Ford dealer waiting for a new model.

O. O. McIntyre, who writes funny things about city yaps for the amusement of us country yaps, says there are many city folks who think a silo is a musical instrument.

After reading the figures on how much the women of America spend at the hairdressers each year, one exchange concludes that "Long may it wave" refers to a "permanent."

Of all the Poultry Facts Finds Culling Most Important

Culling operations which increase egg production and reduce the cost of feed are the most important items in the management of the poultry flock, according to Agricultural extension men. Culling the flock thoroughly in August and September and marketing the boarders and loafers at that time will result in greater profits, they say.

"The fall culling season is "fretting over" is to be attributed largely to the conditions through which they pass," says Undersecretary of Agriculture, in charge of the Poultry Husbandry Farm project. It is better to begin culling the pullets "to keep all the pullets regardless of their condition is inviting trouble." Badly broken birds should be marketed at once. Like the 12th hatched pullets will be only an expense and drag on their owners."

The average number of eggs per hen for the month of August is 12.8, which is the high figure of the year. The average production for that month of Tom 22.3 to 14.5 eggs per hen.

Turkeys

Thanksgiving Call for Turkeys, Nov. 8 to 16

It will pay you well to feed corn to the turkeys you intend to market. Corn is a good fattening feed and will give to the turkey that fine yellowish appearance which counts for so much on the market.

Remember Last Year's Return on Turkeys:

Thanksgiving	Net to the Producer	Christmas
No. 1 young toms . . . 40c		No. 1 young toms . . . 42c
No. 1 young hens . . . 37c		No. 1 young hens . . . 38c

Compare above prices with local market prices and you will find that the Co-operative paid on the average of 2c to 4c more per lb. than local buyers. This is not all—in districts where no competition was furnished by Co-ops there was a spread of 5c to 10c. Think this over.

Market Outlook Promising

At present we cannot say just what the turkeys will bring this year, but indications point to a good price, better than last year. If we can deliver well matured birds, properly killed and packed and labeled under the Association's attractive BRAND, namely, LAKE REGION FANCY DRY-PICKED TURKEYS, you will be assured of a good price in comparison with other markets. Also remember, the larger our VOLUME the better the PRICE TO YOU.

Dressing Demonstrations

Dressing demonstrations will be given free of charge in any community where sufficient interest will warrant holding these demonstrations.

Dressing Instructions

Turkeys should be well fed and well watered and then kept from 36 to 40 hours without food before killing. To dry-pick turkeys properly the work should be done while the birds are warm. They should be taken not to break or tear the skin. The secret of success in dry picking is in getting the proper stick when killing. This is done by piercing the nerve centers in the roof of the mouth, which loosens the feathers to such an extent that they are easily picked off. Always leave the head and feet on and do not remove the intestines or crop.

Price Differential on Live and Dressed Turkeys

There will be a difference of seven cents a pound on live and dressed turkeys, but on live turkeys you will receive live weight while on the dressed turkeys, dressed weight will be given.

Bring your turkeys to your nearest receiving station. Barrels furnished upon request to all shippers. For detailed information see your local buttermaker or station man. Regular trucking schedules will be in effect and special trucking schedules will be arranged for where it is needed.

Decide now to market your turkeys through the Co-operative Poultry Association. Non-members may make trial shipments to be convinced. WE WILL PAY CASH OR GIVE LIBERAL ADVANCES AND SETTLE ON POOL LOTS. Our pool settlements pay you the actual value of your product shipped in carload lots to the most favorable markets in the country with only slight deduction for handling expense. You don't gamble on these pools. The advantage is all yours.

Live Poultry Wanted

Deliver your live poultry before the "TURKEY RUSH." Poultry car on track at Thief River Falls every week. Secure coops at your local station and deliver poultry on truck days.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICES WILL BE PAID.

Eggs—Gold Nuggets

Egg prices will be very high in November. Feed your pullets for egg production during the fall months. Remember we can supply Poultry Feeds as follows:

LAKE REGION EGG MASH	$2.65 per 100
OYSTER SHELLS	$1.45 per 100
CHARCOAL	$1.75 per 100
MEAT SCRAPS	$3.00 per 100

MERCHANTS ARE FINED FOR SELLING ASPIRIN

State inspectors are making the rounds of the state checking up on sales of aspirin and in several of the cities have discovered the drug on sale in tablet form in grocery stores, pool rooms, restaurants, hotels and novelty stores, contrary to the act passed by the legislature.

Newspapers through the state for the past two months have been carrying stories about violators being fined $10 for the illegal sale of these aspirin tablets, while in a few instances the fines have been as high as $25. But last week a violator was fined $84.50, including costs, in the municipal court at Montevideo, which is probably the highest fine yet imposed.
